

Latest Novelties for Reception and Evening Wear.

In crepe chiffon, mousseline de soie in brocaded, figured, dotted and striped effects. Figured, dotted and striped sheer silk grenadines. Chantilly flouncing and draping nets, all at unusually low prices.

Special Sale of HANDKERCHIEFS.

Ladies' fine hand embroidered, sheer linen lawn handkerchiefs, latest novelties, 60c, 75c, 85c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75. Ladies' fine hand embroidered linen lawn handkerchiefs, choice designs, at 50c, well worth 75c.

LINENS.

Bargains in Lunch Cloths for Monday.

4-4 lunch cloths $1, special and worth $1.40. 5-4 lunch cloths, elegant designs, $1.50, worth $2. 6-4 lunch cloths, special value, $1.25, reduced from $1.65.

ODD LOTS.

Odd Lunch Cloths at About Half Price. Crochet Quilts, $1.25. 1 case extra heavy crochet quilts, large size, which we will sell at $1.25; they are worth $1.50.

Kelley, Stiger & Co

Cor. Farnam and 15th Streets.

COLORED DRESS GOODS

20 Cents. Double width Gray Mixed Flannels and Coburg Suitings worth 30c, at 20c. All Wool Flannels, in mixtures, worth 45c; for this week 29c.

BIG BARGAINS IN Camels' Hair Suitings. Heavy Camels' Hair Suitings at 50, value 75c. Camels' Hair Croise Cloths, 54-in wide, $1 per yard, worth $1.35.

Black Goods. In our Mourning Department on Monday and during the week: Serge, all wool 40-in wide, 60c. Serge, fancy all wool 40-in wide, 67 1/2c.

Henrietta Henrietta. 50c, 55c, 60c, 85c, $1, $1.25 and $1.35. Henrietta, all wool, 38-in wide, imported goods, 50c. Henrietta, perfect dye, imported Henrietta, 38-in wide 55c.

Our Mourning Dept Contains all the Late Styles: Fancy stripes, 67c. New cords, 75c. Silk warm Henrietta, $1.15. Cheviot, $1.25. Brilliantine, 67c. Mohair, 75c. Broadcloth, $1.50.

CLOAK DEPARTMENT.

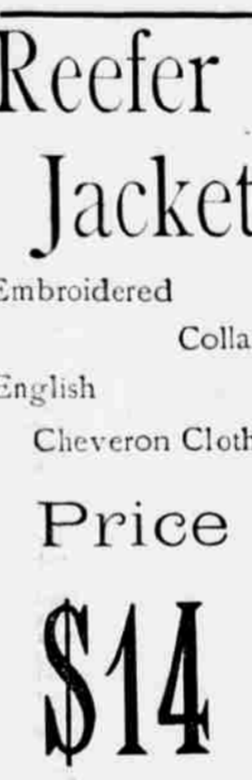

This Department is stocked with the choicest goods in the market, both long and short garments the following are a few cuts of Jackets, the popular wrap this season:

Misses' Jackets 14 to 18 Years. Reefer Trimmed with Tinsel Cord Price $9

VEST Front Jacket Price $11.50

Ladies' Reefers Made of Scotch Cheviot Price $10.50

Reefer Jacket Price $14

KELLEY, STIGER & CO., Corner Farnam and 15th Streets

A GREAT REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Preparations for Thousands at the Coliseum Tomorrow Night.

RICHARDS AND MAJORS WILL SPEAK.

All Arrangements Perfected for Making it the Most Successful Event of the Kind Ever Held in this City.

The grandest and most enthusiastic political demonstration witnessed in Omaha for many years will take place tomorrow night, and the Coliseum has been selected as the place in which to focus the political patriotic fervor.

The occasion is to be the republican rally of the campaign in Omaha, and everything necessary to make the event a stupendous success has been carefully arranged. Flags and banners glittering in the brilliancy of the electric lights will welcome the people there.

Excursion trains will arrive from all parts of the state with delegations of earnest, enthusiastic republicans. The leading speakers for the occasion will be Hon. L. D. Richards, candidate for governor, Hon. Thomas Majors, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Hon. John M. Thurston.

Ninth Ward Republicans. There was a meeting of the Ninth ward republican club last night to consider the best means of attending the great republican rally at the Coliseum tomorrow night.

Republican Central Committee. The new republican county central committee held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting at the Millard hotel yesterday afternoon.

Fourth Ward Republicans. The fourth ward republican club will meet tomorrow night at 7 o'clock at Judge Anderson's office in order to proceed in a body to the grand rally which is to be held at the Coliseum.

First Ward Republicans. The republicans of the First ward will meet at National hall, Thirteenth and Williams streets, Monday evening, October 19, to march in a body, accompanied by the second ward club, to the Coliseum, where a great republican rally will be held.

Samsonet Association. There will be a meeting of the association at their hall, 1821 Douglas street, Monday, October 21, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Democratic Central Committee. The democratic central committee will meet next Wednesday evening at Samsonet hall, 1821 Douglas street.

Fifth Ward Democrats. The democrats of the Fifth ward met last night at the corner of Sixteenth and Nicholas streets.

Second Ward Republicans. A goodly number of the republicans of the Second ward met at Kasper's hall last night. As soon as Chairman O'Donovan called the meeting to order, George M. O'Brien was introduced.

Chris Speech followed with a speech that was full of good things. He believed that by standing by the republicans can elect every man upon the ticket.

J. H. Keyner was called upon for a speech. He said that it was the first time he had ever made a telling speech, pledging himself to work against prohibition in every form.

D. T. Mount in speaking referred to his long residence in the city. He urged upon the club the importance of standing together.

W. S. Strawn said: "There are only two weeks remaining before election, and I believe the best plan is to get out and do some personal work. Appeal to men personally, and when the votes are counted you will see that this wins. I once lived in a great state— Iowa—but I see that it has degenerated, and I feel that it is our duty to try to improve it."

The speaker then referred to the two candidates for congress, Mr. Connel and Mr. Bryan. He urged the voters to vote for Connel, adding, "that while Mr. Bryan might be able to make a fine speech, it is not best to make a mistake for some. Accept Mr. Bryan's free trade doctrine and in a short time the work shops will be closed and wages will be as low as in pampered Europe."

W. S. Strawn said: "There are only two weeks remaining before election, and I believe the best plan is to get out and do some personal work. Appeal to men personally, and when the votes are counted you will see that this wins. I once lived in a great state— Iowa—but I see that it has degenerated, and I feel that it is our duty to try to improve it."

Dates for Thayer and Dorsey. LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 18.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A large audience listened to the anti-prohibition speech by Hon. E. Rosewater in the opera house last evening. In his address he told of his personal observation in the prohibition states and quoted statistics concerning those states with Nebraska. County Treasurer Rossiter, on behalf of the amendment, replied to Mr. Rosewater, maintaining that his statistics were fabrications.

Dr. Birney, nose and throat, Bee bldg. The Sax-Swetnam Case Settled. The records of the district court would indicate that the time worn case of Swetnam vs. Sax has been settled, as an entry in the appearance docket bears the words that defendant's attorney has paid $1,000 in settlement.

Two years ago society was somewhat shaken when Dr. Forest W. Saxe accused Dr. M. Woodman of sending threatening letters to Mrs. Saxe. The doctor was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Saxe, but as Mrs. Saxe failed to appear and prosecute, the case died a natural death, after lingering in police court for some months.

Dr. Birney, nose and throat, Bee bldg. DISOWNED AND REPUDIATED. A Prohibition Sheet Rebuked for Slandering Omaha.

Mr. W. T. Seaman yesterday sent the following card to THE BEE and requested its publication: "To the Citizens of Omaha and to Whom it May Concern:—For the year last past, let me say, I have been a resident of Omaha, and I have been a member of the Omaha Leader, I have stood as its business manager, collecting its income and paying its expenses of issue, regardless of the latter being more than the former. I have done this solely out of sympathy with the principle he sought to maintain. I have had nothing to do with its editorial columns or reading matter. I therefore know nothing of his purpose or idea of attacking 'our census,' in which I, as well as all Omaha citizens have felt a just pride. Upon my return from Chicago Saturday morning I shared in the general surprise."

Dr. Birney, nose and throat, Bee bldg. Off's Blue Book. Off's "Blue Book" has made its appearance. It is intended for a fashionable private address directory and ladies' visiting and shopping guide.

Dr. Birney, nose and throat, Bee bldg. For Stealing a Watch. J. W. Gallagher was arrested last evening for the larceny of a watch from Miss Cora Hopkins of Albright. Gallagher forced his attentions upon the street and she repulsed him. At the same time she missed her watch, and accused Gallagher of stealing it.

Dr. Birney, nose and throat, Bee bldg. Omaha Wheel Club Social. The Omaha wheel club held its monthly social last evening at the Seventeenth street quarters. A carefully prepared musical programme was rendered by the Seventh ward orchestra. A number of the club's members assisted in the entertainment by executing difficult selections on various musical instruments. W. C. Urdane rendered a selection on the piano with artistic skill, and C. A. Adkins of Council Bluffs followed with the mandolin. Among the guests present were C. M. Woodman of the First national bank, Denver, president of the wheel club of 1888, and G. W. Schwarz, secretary of that club. An elegant luncheon was served at midnight to the fifty persons present.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. THE BOSTON STORE. Its Proprietor Claims to Be Unjustly Imputed by "The Boston" Store.

The proprietor of the Boston Store applied for an injunction in the district court against Charles Stonehill, restraining him from imitating the name, signs, tabs, price marks and sidewalk displays of the plaintiff. The plaintiff sets forth in his petition that the defendant painted his store the same color as that of the plaintiff and had imitated the latter's signs, price marks, sidewalk displays, etc., with the purpose of deceiving the public and conveying the idea that the stores were one and the same.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. LABOR PALACE. The Project Beginning to Take Definite Shape. The proposition to erect a labor palace is taking shape, and the opinion prevails among the laboring classes that the building will be erected either this fall or next spring.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. The Seattle-Tacoma Railway. A notable installation is about to be made between Seattle and Tacoma, a distance of forty-two miles. This will be the longest electric railway in the world.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. DUCKS. This season has been favorable to duck culture, and some very fine, large specimens have been raised, says a writer in the Kansas Farmer. Many farmers have gone into duck raising who never before attempted to raise them; some have been successful while others have not.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. Questions and Answers. OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 13.—To the Sporting Editor of THE BEE: Please answer in your paper the following question: Six men are playing a game of draw poker. No. 1 antes and they all go in and each one offers a bet. They all pass around to the man who antes. Which one shall take the money? E. LINDELL, Oakes.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. The Seattle-Tacoma Railway. A notable installation is about to be made between Seattle and Tacoma, a distance of forty-two miles. This will be the longest electric railway in the world. Much has been said and written of late on the probability of electric motors being run on trunk lines before long, and the railway in question is but the inaugural step to some early and extensive developments.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. DUCKS. This season has been favorable to duck culture, and some very fine, large specimens have been raised, says a writer in the Kansas Farmer. Many farmers have gone into duck raising who never before attempted to raise them; some have been successful while others have not. A start in any pursuit should not be abandoned because of failure at the start. In hot weather, such as we have had this past summer, shade is a very essential suited for the giving of large receptions, was very prettily decorated for the occasion. The guests were representative in character, as one would expect at the home of an Omaha capitalist, who has been identified with the interests of the metropolis for years. The law, medicine, the ministry were represented while the business men looked on the variety fair in microcosm. Refreshments were served during the evening, the hospitality of Mrs. Barker being preeminent. Among the guests present were Dean C. H. Gardner, Miss Jackson of Utica, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Caldwell, Mrs. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham, Mrs. E. S. Dundy, Miss Dundy, Miss Luan Dundy, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. George Barker, Lieut. Mallory, U. S. A., Mr. and Mrs. McKenna, Dr. Doloney, Mr. and Mrs. Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. Wessels, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redick, Judge and Mrs. Waseley, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Lander, Mrs. John Horbach, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wallace, General and Mrs. Wheaton, Judge and Mrs. J. C. Cowin.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. Only Four Phonographs in England. In England, I am told, says the London Figaro, there are only four phonographs, including the one in the possession of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley; but they manage things better than this in such places as Mexico. There a phonograph is to be placed in each principal post-office, and those people who can neither read nor write, or are too lazy to do so, simply deliver their message into the phonograph, the cylinder is forwarded to its destination, and due notice having been given him that his presence is required, the receiver of the message attends the office at the other end and the words are spoken off to him. I dare say, if all goes well, we may start the same convenience in England about 1900 A. D.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. BREVITIES. Dr. Harsh's subject for this evening will be "Daniel and Gladstone, Successful Prime Ministers."

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. The Theological society meets every Sunday night at 7:30 at room 328 Shesby block. Wednesday and Saturday evenings the room is open for students. All are invited.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. The United Labor, the weekly labor paper published by Harley, McNaughton & Co., made its second appearance yesterday, brighter than ever. The new publication is devoted entirely to labor matters, is non-political and non-sectarian.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. The case against Jack Muck, Tom Bodison, Henry Horstberger and John Murdock, charged with keeping gambling devices, was dismissed in police court yesterday afternoon at the instance of the county attorney, who stated that he would not prosecute the cases.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. South Tenth street M. E. church, corner of Tenth and Pierce streets, Rev. Alfred Hodgsetta, pastor. Morning services, 10 a. m.; Sunday school at 10:30 a. m.; evening services at 7:30 p. m. The building of the new church does not interfere with the regular services.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. Trinity cathedral, Capital avenue and Eighteenth street, Very Rev. C. N. Gardner, dean. Holy communion 8 a. m., morning prayer and sermon 11 a. m., Sunday school 12:15 p. m., children's service 3:45 p. m., evening prayers and sermon 7:45 p. m. The dean will preach morning and evening.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. The members of the Third ward democratic club will have a great time this afternoon. Jimmy Patterson has sent five barrels of Rockaway claims from New York, and they will be baked on the shores of Lake Erie, near the Cottage. There will be plenty of sweet potatoes, celery and other good things on hand.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and Miss Adams of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barker gave a delightful pleasant reception at their home in Worthington Place. The house which is particularly

Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg. comfort necessary to keep them well and growing. Being more thickly covered than hens, they are more susceptible to the heat on warm days. Sunstroke often causes many to die quickly after a stroll through a hot sun. As ducks sell well in the markets, it should be the aim of the farmer to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are kept. A duck will thrive with only a small trough to splash in, yet if a pond or stream be convenient it is always of benefit to them. It is natural for a duck to hatch as many early broods as possible, getting them into market by the middle of April and May. We think by next season duck culture will be very extensively pursued by many who have entirely devoted their attention to poultry, without being aware of the profit and ease with which ducks are