The Second Chapter in the Shuman-Struble Breach of Promise Case. CARRIE SAYS SHE NEVER LOVED HIM.

Some of the Political Rumors That Are Flying About—Assaulted by His Neighbor—Other Lincoln Jottings.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 31.—[Special to This Issue.]—Chapter second of the Shuman-Struble breach of promise case is now ready for publication. It will be remembered that Miss Struble, after having prepared for her wedding, was discovered by her fiancé, Charles Struble, on the morning of the ceremony...

From the tone of the letter it might be inferred that all that she could do was to ask the police to go to William and it would be forthcoming.

Among the political rumors afloat is one to the effect that Allan Root, the alliance candidate for congress, will come out in a day or two with a letter of withdrawal and will give the alliance to the support of the Third district. It is reported that Thompson will recede by drawing off in favor of Kem.

The police are looking for a farmer named Mike McManamy, who lives eleven miles north of this city, and who if found will be given a taste of jail life. It is reported that day before yesterday a letter was received from him by his oldest daughter, a child of only eleven years. He remained in town all day and overhauled the night visiting the various saloons, while the daughter sat in the driveway for him to get through drinking.

Another warrant was issued today in Foxworthy's case for the arrest of Joseph Achen of Hayes. The name of the complainant is James H. O'Brien, who claims that Achen got $201.25 from him on the strength of being half owner of twenty-two head of cattle, and also owned a half interest in all the horses on William Hughes' farm.

Richard Fitzmaurice, father of the young man who killed William Reed at Waverly March 18, 1889, was arrested today on a warrant sworn out by Robert Fidegan charging him with assault and battery. He was arrested on the farm of a neighbor in North Bluff precinct.

The Commercial state bank of Crawford has filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is $50,000. The incorporators are G. W. Wattles, Sumner Wallace and Leroy Hill.

The funeral of Mrs. Christ Wuethrich took place at 1 p. m. yesterday from the Elkhorn Valley house, Eleventh and Dodge streets. The remains rested in a black cloth-covered casket, near which were arranged a large number of floral offerings contributed by friends.

Word was received by the police today that the notorious Jack Brennan was under arrest at Omaha. Brennan has been missing since March 20, 1888, when he and Peter Cline, who is now in the pen, robbed John and Fred Qualman, owners of the Washington house, of $140 worth of clothing.

Edward Harris has commenced a suit in the district court and seeks to recover $50 damages from Constable Dorsey B. Hauch.

DUNN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK.

An Unprecedented Large Volume of Business Transacted During the Month. GREAT ACTIVITY NOTED IN ALL LINES. Reports as to Collections Throughout the Country Very Satisfactory With Scarcely Any Complaints—A Flattering Outlook.

New York, Oct. 31.—[Special Telegram to This Issue.]—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The approach of the election has caused some slackening of trade at many points, which is obviously temporary.

At the present time and what has been since our law went into effect. We in Iowa are greatly interested in your fight, for we believe the defeat of prohibition in Nebraska will make it easier for us to knock it out at the next session of our legislature.

In this city, about the size of Lincoln, we have 285 open saloons, which are conducted with as great a feeling of security by their owners as yours in Omaha. A "pop" license issued by the city authorities, called a "pop" license, which cost $25 a quarter, etc.

We have three brewereries in full operation here—namely, Hebb's, Schirtzel & Schindler's and Glabb's—and onale brewer, Peabody's. You can perfectly understand from this statement how dead prohibition is with us.

In the town of Dyraville, about thirty miles from here, containing about seventeen hundred inhabitants, E. B. Brooker, who is also a brewer in full blast and there are fourteen open saloons there, besides wholesale liquor houses.

It is hardly necessary to add that the public sentiment of this city is almost unanimously in favor of the repeal of prohibition and the substitution for it of a well considered and effective high license law.

Republicans and democrats alike here will unite in the next election to send men to Des Moines who will repeal our farcical prohibition, which is a standing advertisement of how safe it is to laugh at law and treat it with contempt.

One Hundred Saloons Running Openly in That Kansas Town. WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 31.—[Special to This Issue.]—The word prohibition is a misnomer in this city. One hundred saloons keep a fine $50 a month or $500 a year for the privilege of selling drinks.

Saloons Allowed to Run Openly in Kansas City, Kansas. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31.—[Special Telegram to This Issue.]—Liquor is sold here in twenty-five or more different places by the drink, quart or gallon.
