A Knotty case Settled. The attention of Justice Barnett's court has been occupied at intervals for the past two months with a civil case that has attracted a good deal of attention and got into a very knotty condition. The case grew out of a landlord and tenant controversy and is of interstate importance in the fact that the plaintiff is an Omaha man and the defendants are Council Bluffs people.

Some time last spring E. J. Taylor, an Omaha real estate dealer and the owner of a number of houses in this city, executed a lease with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heitman for a little cottage in Ferry addition. The lease specified the lot and block number and the number of the house. When the tenants number of the house. When the tenants went to take possession of it they found it already occupied by a family of squatters, who had broken into it and occupied it by vir-tue of their nomadic license. The fact was reported to Taylor and he requested the Heitmans to take another house of the same style and char character located in the same block until he could throw out the intruders. They consented throw out the intruders. They consented and went into the other cottage. Vexatious delays were experienced in ejecting the squat-ters, and when the house was finally vacated the Heitmans concluded to stay where they were, but neglected to pay any rent. They remained there until September, when Tay-lor instituted an attachment suit to secure the delinquent rent by seizing their house-held mether. hold goods. The suit was brought in Barnett's court and the original lease was intro-duced. Heitman employed an attorney and Taylor was also represented by nis legal ad-viser. The claim was for $55. The Council Bluffs attorney quickly discovered the fact that the lease did not cover the property oc-cupied by his client, and moved to dismiss. The case was continued, and when it was recalled the prosecuting attorney filed an amended petition to cure the defect in the The defendant's attorney demurred. lease. and the case rapidly got into such a judicial tangle that both sides finally agreed to submit some of the problems to Judge Macey, and agree to abide by his decision. DUN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Despite the Depression in Stocks, Legitimate Business is the Largest Known.

NO LIKELIHOOD OF SERIOUS RESULTS.

Reports from the Various Centers of Industry and Commerce and a Review of Trade-The Financial Situation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says :

Those who have long expected a severe rection on the stock market have now seen the werage of prices thrown back to a lower point than has been touched at any other ime for more than four years. It remains the fact that the legitimate business throughout the country is the largest ever known, not much inflated or endangered by speculation, and so far sound that complaints in regard to collections have been much fewer than usual. The check now sustained may, not improbably, produce some shrinkage in transactions and diminution of profits, but the industrial and commercial conditions have been so favorable that speculative disturbances are the less likely to affect general business seriously.

Reports from other cities show that at most points the events in Wall street have had little or no effect as yet. At Boston transactions have been somewhat limited and money is firm at high rates. Wool sales are smaller, but more activity is expected with the opening of the heavy goods season in December. Leather is quiet and easy and hides dull and lower, but because bark and other materials are strong. It is thought neither cannot recede much. Boot and shoe manu-facturers are getting the recent advance in prices, with shipments exceeding last year's Lumber is quiet. At Philadelphia money is tight and little commercial paper offered or selling. Wool manufacturers are buying more liberally, with a slight adv.nce in some grades. Leather is strong and the shoe trade larger than last year, though less brisk than of late. At Chicago money is active at 7 per cent, but country banks are sending in funds for investment and eastern disturbances are little felt. Grain and cured meats equal last year's. A slight loss is seen in dressed beef, butter and cheese, and a heavy loss in hides, sed beef. but a liberal gain in wool and lard, while the trade in dry goods, clothing and shoes is much larger with satisfactory collections.

part of its charter. A provision of the ordinance requires the company to file its accept ance of the charter within ten days from its passage. Up to last night the company had not complied with this requirement, but it was understood that they were arranging to go ahead with the work of construction and would begin the erection of their plant by Monday at least.

For a long time past the county board has followed the policy of rejecting all claims for fees on the part of the city marshal, on the ground that he was a salaried officer and had no right to fees. The ex-marshal has suits pending now to recover his fees. Yesterday a small bill for fees claimed by Deputy Mar-shal White came up for allowance. A like objection was made to this on the same grounds. Some of the members of the board seemed inclined to make the same rule in re gard to the deputies as is sought to be enforcen in regard to the marshal.

The school board is still receiving applica tions for the position of superintendent of the city schools. Some of them are from firstclass cranks. The amount of literature, doc uments and other stuff supposed to be of interest to the board in arriving at a conclusion concerning their fitness for the place, sent in by them, has cost several dollars for the pay-ment of additional postage. One fellow sends an immense lot of books and pamphlets he has gathered up and which he wants the oard to kindly look over and realize if possi-le that he has read and studied them all and fitted himself by the arduous labor for the position he seeks.

The article in THE BEE yesterday morning about the frequent appeals of cases to the district court from the police tribunal and there allowed to die for want of prosecution, calls attention to something of a good deal of public interest," said a city official last evening. "There is really no one to blame for it but it seems to be the result of a defect somewhere in our organic law. The majority of the cases are offenses against the state law, like disturbing the peace and such offenses, and it is properly the duty of the county attorney to prosecute them both in the police court and in the dis-trict court when they are appealed, but if he were to attempt to do so he would have no time for anything else. It would occupy about every minute of his time and he would have to neglect the more important cruminal where in our organic law. The majority have to neglect the more important criminal business which he is constituted to look after. Bome of the cases come properly under the city solicitor's care, but he is in the same come a furnace. situation, and cannot give them the attention they sould have without neglecting impor-tant city business. City Attorney Stewart has prosecuted a large number of cases in the justice and police courts, and has arranged to follow up some of the recent appeals and see box in front of the station, and in less than two minutes a stream of water had been turned on the blazing rookery. Companies 1, that they are not dismissed in the district 3 and 4, and the big truck responded. The fire was confined entirely to the lower part of court.
