The wedding of Mr. W. H. Alfred of Omaha and Miss Spooner is announced to take place next Thursday, at the home of the bride.

'ine King's Daughters of the Episcopal church will give a social at the residence of Mr. Cook, on Second avenue, on Monday evening, February 9. Mrs. Chris Nelson died yesterday of consumption, aged thirty-four years. The fun-eral will take place from the residence, on Twenty-fourth avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets, this afternoon.

John Smith, a deserter from Fort Omaha, is in the city jail, and will be taken to the fort this morning. He was arrested several days ago in Lincoln, but was turned out by mistake. He drifted to this city and was run in by Ocher West! in by Officer Wyatt.

Ice dealers are rejoiced at the prospect of gathering a good haivest of crystal for next season's trade. It was reported yesterday that the ice on the Mosquito creek had reached a thickness of fourteen inches, and great quantities of it will be put up for packing house purposes.

In accordance with an order from head-guarters at Washington which was published in these columns yesterday, the government building and all the offices connected there-with are to be closed after 12 o'clock to-day, in bonor to the late Secretary Windom, whose funeral occurs this noon.

Hon. L. W. Ross addressed the railroad men's meeting at the Young Men's Christian association rooms yesterday afternoon. The regular 40 clock meeting was led by Rev. G. W. Crofts, the quartet of the Congregational church rendering some beautiful selections. The services were very interesting.

John Anderson, aged eighteen years, died Saturday night of diphtheria. The funeral Balanday night of diphtheria. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the resi-dence, 710 Washington avenue, at 3 o'clock. The deceased was formerly employed at Jeno's. He was a nephew of Rev. H. A. Relequence, who will conduct the services at the grave.

The railroads have agreed to grant reduced rates for the following occasions: Meeting of the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, at Boone, February 10-13, one and one-third fare; second annual con-vention of the State Business Men's associa-tion of Codes Bandle, Echysters 10-90 are tion, at Cedar Rapids, February 24-26, one and one-third fare.

Last evening a car on the Sixteenth street motor line ran off the track and down an embankment several feet high, between avenue A and Broadway. The accident was caused by ice on the track. Fortunately there were no passengers on the car at the time, and the employer of the company were the only ones take scaleron up to be shaken up.

The Sisters of St. Bernard's hospital have given notice that hereafter the only persons who will be admitted to see the inmates of the insane hospital are the relatives of the pelents, the reporters on the city papers and the state and county officers. The visit-ing days for relatives will be the first and last Thursday and the second Sunday of each month.

The city council will hold its regular The city council will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening. The fire committee will present the report of the in-vestigation of the fire department, which it was instructed to make at the last meeting. It is understood that the report will be favor-able to the department, the committee hav-ing failed to find any signs of dissipation among the members.

Dr. Francis Dillon-Egan, the celebrated Irish lecturer, appeared before a good sized audience at Dohany's last night, the subject of the lecture being "Ireland." The interest

Their Country.

The question what to do with Cut-off island has been troubling the city authorities for some time past. An effort was made last summer to get that part of the city more closely under the control of the law, and to do this a police officer was put there to keep order and to make what arrests might be necessary. Months have passed, and no arrests have been made. Thereare half a dozen saloons running there, and not one of them has ever paid a dollar into the city treasury, and the result is that the autherities are beginning to be somewhat disgusted with their attempts to make Cut-off island a law abiding community. Last night Officer Fultz, who has been on duty there, was ordered to report for duty in the city. and from now on there will not be any more police on the island, at least for the present. The failure to collect the fines from the saloonkeepers on the island the same as from those in any other part of the city, is due to an all-around misunderstanding among the powers that be. Whether Cut-off island is a part of Omaha or Council Bluffs is still unsettled, the matter now being in the federal courts. If it is a part of O maha this city has no right to levy fines on the property owners, and any attempt to do so would probably be resisted to the bitter end. In case the marshal tried to collect these monthly fines marshal tried to collect these monthly fines and met with any opposition, the only thing for him to do would be to arrest the offender. But after he had arrested bim, he would be faced by another difficulty; there would be no way to get him to this side of the river except by taking him through the state of Nebraska, and if the prisoner resisted and had to be brought by force he would have a very nice lit-tile case against the officer for kid-napping. This prospect the city marshal does not care to face, and consequently the fines go uncollected. Chief Cary says the idea that the marshal can't bring a prisoner idea that the marshal can't bring a prisoner through Nebraska without a requisition is all bosh. But the marshal says if the chief wants to make arrests in that way he can have all the nonor that is in it. This is not the first case, however, in which the marshal and the chief have disagreed. It is expected that the removal of Officer Fultz from the island will raise a howl from the property owners in that vicinity. The property there is quite valuable and is con-stantly becoming more so. The taxes for last year amounted, it is said, to over $1,400, and the men who pay this amount into the city's treasury will very likely insist on get-ting something in return for it.

Anniversary Sale at the Boston Store, Just two years ago Saturday since the Boston Store, Courcil Bluffs, opened its doors to the public. The proprietors, Fother-ingham, Whitelaw & Co., take this opportunty of thanking their thousands of patrons in Council Bluffs and surrounding country for their very liberal support and patronage. Their aim at all times has been to give the very best value in everything they carry, hardes only one price and down very best value in everything they carry, having only one price and doing a strictly cash business, thereby doing away with the necessity of book-keepers, collectors, etc., etc., also the paying for those who don't pay, curtailing our expenses to a mere noth-ing in comparison to the other method of doing business, cash being king every time. in the address was greatly enhanced by a number of sterceptican views, which served to fix the places in the minds of the audience more effectively than anything else could except an actual visit to them. Dr. Dillon is a very interesting speaker.

Last evening a very interesting service was held at the Congregational church, under the auspices of the Young Peoples' society of Christian Endeavor. An attractive programme was rendered, consisting of read-ings, recitations, etc., most of which were by members of the society. The music was very fine, and furnished by a chorus of mixed voices. At the close of the service a collection was taken, the proceeds of which were devoted to home missions.

A young fellow entered the pakery kent by Mrs. Johanne Wieahann on South Main street yesterday and wanted to sell some cutlery which he had. His actions were sus-picious and the police were notified. Officer Beswick overhauled him in company with four other hard looking characters at the Northwestern depet and arrested the outfit. At the station they gave the names of James Davenport, Albert Kelly, Charles Johnston, Martin Hurly and George Piker, A telegram was received from Des Moines a few days had been burglarized of a large quantity o knives and scissors, and it was thought that possibly the fellow who was trying to sel the knives was one of the gaug of burglars.

Getting Ready For the Fight.

The mayor's proclamation fixing the date of the spring election for the municipal officers has stirred up the aspirants, and notwithstanding the zero weather that is prevailing, the spring campaign has already be gun. The chief desire of the numerous gentlemen who are willing to serve their fellow citizens is to secure the nomination for alderman-at-large and step into the place that will be vacated by Alderman Knepher, whose term expires. There are a number of candidates whose friends think they are desirable but who are handicaped by the fact that they live in the wrong ward. At least three of these gentlemen live in the First ward and as that ward already has one of the two aldermen-at-large there is poor prospect of either of the conventions selecting the candidate from that ward, which would tresult in giving the First three of the eight members of the common council if the candidate should happen to be elected. The name most genersitively will no accept the nominatio from any party. With Wadsworth out of the race there are half a dozen aspirants whose chances are about equally good in the conventions of both parties. The most important vacancy in the council is that created by the completion of the term of Alderman Everett in the Fourth ward, The ward is republican, and Mr. Everett can succeed himself if he desires. The announceis made semi-officially, however, that he will positively not be a candidate. The Fourth is one of the most important wards in the city, and it is very likely a strong fight will be made in the primaries. A dozen names are mentioned, but the campaign has not progressed far enough to warrant their publication. In the Sixth ward Alderman Mikesell's term expires, and he has also given it out cold that he will not be a candidate for re-election. A number of names have been printed in connection with the vacancy, but their owners are anxiously endeavoring to keep their little booms out of sight until the proper time comes, The situation as it appears now indicates the determination of the aspirants to do a good deal of still hunting, and the men who want the places the most and will do the greatest amount of hard work to obtain them will seek the most carnestly to keep the fact from becoming generally known for the next weeker two. The other offices are not much sought after. There are only two of them, One is park commissioner and the other is town-ship clerk. The former has no salary at all attached to it and the other has realized in the past the princely sum of $13 a year. No candidates has come forward to annou.ce themselves for either of them. Buy your coal and wood of C. B. Fuel Co., 539 Broadway. Telephone 13d.

A Small Fire. At 7 o'clock last evening while Mr. J. J.

Johnson and family, who reside at 2220 Farnam street, were enjoying a quiet Sunday evening chat they suddenly heard a rearing and cracking of fire creeping up the partition between the back parlor and the dining room. The smoke soon began to fid the house, and hurrying to the stairs which lead into the furnace room Mr. Johnson saw that a brisk fire was burning along the ceiling of the basement near the furnace The alarm was at once turned in and several of the neighbors rushed in to assist in remov-ing the furniture. When the chemical engine from No. 3 arrived the firemen said they could subdue the flames without danger to the farniture, and the work of emptying the house ceased. The damage could not be estimated with any degree of accuracy, but will probably reach $300 on the building and double that amount by smoke upon the carpets and furniture.

They do not want to kill off the little foxes, the innocent appearing vices right away, but would rather let them run awhile. It is great enjoyment, they think to abset them for several wars. think, to chase them for several years. The particular vices that Rev. Merrill likened to oung foxes were the habit of card young toxes were the habit of card playing, theater-going, dancing and wine drinking. As to card playing, theater-going and dancing, Rev. Merrill said he would not say that they were very wrong of them-selves, but they tend to compromise Chrisserves, but they tend to compromise Chris-tians who practice them and dissipate their influence. He thought that wine drinking was the worst of the four and should not be countenanced by young Christians under any circumstances. These habits not only compromise These habits not only compromise a Christian, but they are absolutely forbid-den by the Methodist church and the Methodists should avoid them and obey the rules they have promised to obey. He referred to his own experience as an example of the wis dom of refraining from a participation in the four so-called vices he enumerated. He had been tempted when a boy at the print-er's trade by all of these things but had refused to piay cards and drink and dance. He had gone to theaters some but became disgusted with the whole category of dance. stage performances. As a result of his refraining from these dissipations he had se-cured an education by the careful saving of his money and the useful employment of his ime; while others who labored at the by his side have gone down to drunkards graves because they gave way to all the all urements of the card table, the theater and the wine room. He neld that the wisest and best men in the Methodist church have always and do today maintain that card play ng, theater going, dancing and wine drink ing theater going, dancing and wine drink-ing are dangerous and sinful habits and all Methodists should strenoously avoid them. The sermon was preached, Rev. Merrill stated, at the request of a member of his congregation who has a large family of children, some of whom seem to be drifting into the meshes of these alluring pastimes.

Several years ago Chamberlain & Co. of Des Moines, Ia, commenced the manufacture of a cough syrup, believing it to be the most prompt and reliable preparation yet produced for coughs, colds and croup; that the public appreciate true merit, and in time it was cer-tain to become popular. Their most sanguine hopes have been more than realized. Over three hundred thousand bottles of Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy are now sold each year and it is recognized as "the best made" wherever known. ### Stole Two Ladies' Cloaks.

Detective Ellis yesterday recovered two adies' cloaks that were stolen at 6 o'clock Saturday evening from Emma Erickson at Twenty-second and Leavenworth streets. The sneak thief entered the hall through the front door while the family was at supper and went through the rooms on the second floor. He overlooked more valuable gar ments and took nothing but the cloaks, valued at $25. They were recovered at two second hand stores at Eleventh and Douglas and Tenth and Dodge, where they were sold for $6.50. A good description was obtained of the thief and the police are looking for him
