

THE DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER Editor. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION...

THE LABORS OF PUBLIC MEN.

The late Secretary Windom, on being congratulated by a personal friend upon resuming the duties of secretary of the treasury, is said to have remarked: "While there is a great deal of glory in it, it means death to me; I should not go out of office this term alive."

taken upon themselves a very unprofitable task. The course of these senators, it is admitted, has averted all danger of an extra session, and this is something upon which the country is to be congratulated.

THE FEELING IN THE LEGISLATURE.

There is every reason to believe that the radicalism in which the present legislature was born has in a large degree worn off with age, and that in the last half of its session it will be disposed to consider important public questions from the standpoint of reason, without prejudice or passion.

An Overwhelming Abolition.

Helen M. Couzar has won up winter quarters at Lincoln, and will work the legislature in the interest of woman suffrage. This is the saddest affliction that has befallen that sadly afflicted body.

Eight Years of Restriction.

The publication in the Examiner a week ago of the complete census returns of California was anticipated some months ago by advance returns that left nothing of importance to be learned so far as totals of population are concerned.

THE TREE REMEDY.

The decision of the federal district court on the bridge case is a practical victory for the Union Pacific. It sustains the action of the company in refusing to comply with the terms of a contract of its own making.

FINALLY DROPPED.

The assurance given by Senator Aldrich to the leading democrats of the senate that no further effort will be made to take up the closure resolution or the elections bill is of course final as to those measures.

Not Heard in Church.

"This word that Father Adam could have caught on Mother Eve; For him in such a wretched mood; One search of conscience will be found; For he was bulled up of clay; The mixture being thick; And any man that's built that way Should surely be a trick!"

So Have Older Ones.

The legislatures of the new states appear to have considerable use for standing committees on bribery.

Impertinence of Politics.

The democrats are all going to run Blaine as the next republican candidate for president, and the republicans are very sure that they can make the democrats run Cleveland, or in any event, prevent them from running Hill. When one party thus relegates its

THE ALLIANCE.

Senator-elect Puffer is a sick man, according to the Atchison Globe, and predictions are made that he cannot live a year. In that event Governor Humphrey will certainly appoint Mr. Ingalls to the vacancy.

A Word to the South.

The best revenge the South can take is to buckle down and make the world's fair an immense success, send an exhibit of all its resources, send the country the products of its soil, its mines, its manufactures, and invite them to see them.

THE ALLIANCE.

Dr. Craig, a well known leader in farmers' alliance circles, says that E. H. Snow, who has just been elected state printer of Kansas, is an anarchist and has presided at anarchist meetings.

THE ALLIANCE.

Some very funny stories are told about members of the alliance in Kansas who have been magnified in the eyes of the public by the success of their movement. One is a farmer from a Kansas man.

PASSING JESTS.

Atchison Globe: Nearly all men lack one of two things: either opportunity, or desire to improve it. "Why do you object to the German opera? It is full of vigor, it braves me right up."

THE LATE SECRETARY.

Milwaukee News: As a financier his ability has been especially conspicuous. The money interests of the country trusted him and had the greatest confidence in his integrity and sagacity.

THE LATE SECRETARY.

St. Paul Globe: He did what he could for the interests of the commonwealth while he represented it in Washington, and in the water and more exacting sphere in which he was engaged.

THE LATE SECRETARY.

St. Paul Globe: He did what he could for the interests of the commonwealth while he represented it in Washington, and in the water and more exacting sphere in which he was engaged.

THE LATE SECRETARY.

St. Paul Globe: He did what he could for the interests of the commonwealth while he represented it in Washington, and in the water and more exacting sphere in which he was engaged.

THE LATE SECRETARY.

St. Paul Globe: He did what he could for the interests of the commonwealth while he represented it in Washington, and in the water and more exacting sphere in which he was engaged.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

Preparations Made for the Lancaster County Fair—Hall Gets Damaged for Malignant Prosecution and False Imprisonment.

TRYING TO FIND A DEAD MAN'S RELATIVES.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 1.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Representative Gale of Brown county is said to be preparing a bill which he will submit soon to the legislature for the erection of a county out of the unorganized territory lying north of Holt county.

HAD RELATIVES NEAR LINCOLN.

George Heltzer, 82 Sulzbeck street, Chicago, writes the following to the chief of police of Lincoln: "I have a relative, a man named G. H. Guntler, some of whom live near your place, of his death January 12, at Rockford, S. D."

THE ALLIANCE.

A very sensational interview with John Livingstone, president of the New York Tribune, among other things he says: "I can see nothing but destruction for the state of Kansas. I would not be surprised if blood were to flow freely within the next few days."

THE ALLIANCE.

During the greenback craze of the early '70s one of the best-known men in this state, or for that matter in the west, was Moses Warren. He was the apostle at whose feet sat some of the best men of that day.

ONE A REFORMER—NOW MONEY-LENDER.

During the greenback craze of the early '70s one of the best-known men in this state, or for that matter in the west, was Moses Warren. He was the apostle at whose feet sat some of the best men of that day.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

feeling pretty blue just now. You see there was a great drop in weather this morning. V—Bless me! You don't mean to tell me that child knows anything about the market. H—Well, perhaps not generally speaking, but you see the particular leather that dropped this morning was his mother's slipper.

eccentricities of Indian Sisters—Lived in Squid Surroundings. CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 1.—For more than sixty years Mary and Lizzie Harper have lived in a tumble-down log hut near the village of New Trenton, Franklin county, Ind., four miles from the Ohio line. They are the most remarkable specimens of female eccentricity in this country, and have been the objects of curiosity for more than half a century.

AS TURBORN NEGRO.

In Fed Twenty-Seven Years, Though Not Physically Disabled. MITCHELL, Ind., Feb. 1.—One of the most remarkable illustrations of the power of the human will is John Bond, a negro about fifty years old, who, although in no way disabled, has had in the past twenty-seven years, when quite a young man, the misfortune of losing both eyes and a leg, and two sisters, nearly on a farm near Paul, Ind. The mother determined to sell the farm and move to Mitchell. This plan met with great opposition from the son, who declared if the farm was sold he would go with it.

THE ALLIANCE.

The Lancaster county agricultural society met at the court house yesterday afternoon. J. D. Woods was elected president. J. H. McNabb vice president. J. H. Westcott, treasurer. A. M. Trimble secretary. The following members of the board were elected: A. G. Green, J. L. Hermance, William Foster, A. S. Williams and L. L. Lyman.

THE ALLIANCE.

During the greenback craze of the early '70s one of the best-known men in this state, or for that matter in the west, was Moses Warren. He was the apostle at whose feet sat some of the best men of that day.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

THE ALLIANCE.

There are striking similarities between Moses Warren and the early Nebraska reformer of the now-with this difference: Warren came along too soon. Then, as now, crop failure, currency contraction, hard times, and actual distress among the farmers gave an impetus to the new party movement.

Ack! Baking ABSOLUTELY PURE. Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.