Harry Troupe was arrested last evening on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Miss Laura Couch entertained a party of her friends at her home yesterday afternoon.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to William Cannahan and Miss Cornelia Davis, both of this city.

A divorce was granted to Bradford L. Burton from his wife, Julia Burton, in the district court yesterday. The cause was desertion.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pottawattamie County Fruit Growers and Gardeners association will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the farmers' room at the county court house.

August Kuhn, a typist of this city, has been served with notice that his wife, Marie Kuhn, will begin suit against him for divorce and the custody of their child at the next term of district court.

Jay Carlisle, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Carlisle, died yesterday morning at the residence, 710 First avenue, of heart failure. The remains will be taken to Missouri Valley this morning for burial.

In the case of the Kilpatrick-Koch dry goods company vs. Blotchy Brothers, the judgment which was rendered yesterday has been ordered cancelled, and the case has been continued until the next term of court by consent of the parties.

J. W. Peterson, a carpenter who has a shop at the corner of Fourth avenue and Twentieth street, was thrown from his wagon on Pearl street Thursday. He fell upon his head violently and was rendered insensible. He recovered in a short time.

The time of the funeral of Palmer Atobson has been changed to Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it will take place from the residence, corner of Avenue F and Sixteenth street, under the auspices of Abo Lincoln post, Grand Army of the Republic.

The fire department has only been called out for duty once since December 26 last, according to one of the members of the department. The last time was in response to a call when the fire had been extinguished some time before the department arrived on the scene.

The Unity guild gave a very pleasant entertainment last evening in Hughes' hall. The first part of the evening was devoted to a musical programme in which some of the prominent musicians of this city and Omaha took part. The musical programme was followed by dancing.

Robert Hethers and a companion entered into a dispute yesterday afternoon on Lower Broadway. In the course of which Hethers was hit on the head with a brick. The man who wielded the brick then took to his heels, but Hethers was grabbed by Officer Hewick and run in on a charge of disturbing the peace.

George F. Boulton began injunction suits in the superior court yesterday against the following out-of-town saloonkeepers: William Farrell and John Wolf, John McDonald of Underwood, and Frank Tabor, Henry Heddon and J. Cupp, John O'Connor, William Cavanaugh and Patrick and Mary Ryan of Neola.

Willard Spencer's company presented "The Little Tycoon" before a very good audience last evening. The various parts were well taken, the main objection being that the orchestra made too much noise by half, the soloists and chorus frequently being almost entirely obscured by the noise of the opera was well presented and its popularity with Council Bluffs theater-goers is still as great as ever.

Low Litch of Omaha has been selected for the position of manager of the opera house under the new administration. Mr. Smith is now engaged in the real estate business in Omaha, but will move to this city at the end of the month and commence his new duties next Monday. He is said to be an energetic young man and it is thought that the opera company will be successfully managed by him. He is to receive a salary, which will be supplemented by a percentage of the profits.

John Crow, who makes a leg at the corner of Avenue A and Broadway a few days ago, states that it was a wooden leg that met with the accident. A defective piece in the sidewalk was responsible for the occurrence. This same piece in the sidewalk, he says, is going to get the city into trouble if something is not done in the near future. He says he knows of twenty people who have tripped and fallen at the same place during the last month. He intends to begin suit against the city for damages next Tuesday if the place is not fixed before that time.

M. M. Steadman began suit in the superior court yesterday against C. W. Snyder upon four notes which were given November 1888, three of them for $2,000 each, due January 1, 1890, and the fourth for $3,000, due January 1, 1891. The plaintiff alleges that an agreement was made by Snyder, Steadman and Mr. Snyder, by which $83,000 worth of stock in the Council Bluffs Nonpart was assigned to Snyder by Steadman, and the payment of the notes and the interest, which is now due and unpaid. She asks for a judgment against the defendant for $6,000 with interest, at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

The railroad department of the Young Men's Christian association, which has been started in this city, is proving to be a more important factor in the work than even its most sanguine friends had hoped. It has been very successful all over the state, as well as here at home. The awakening of the interest in the Y. M. C. A. in the superintendent Ackert of the Iowa Central railroad, who recently subscribed $600 to the work in Marshalltown. C. W. McClure, an engineer, will address the railroad men of this city next Sunday at 2 o'clock. He has devoted considerable time to this kind of work, and everywhere he has been he has met with great success.

The arguments of the attorneys in the $2,000 damage suit of Mucci vs. Dr. F. W. Houghton were heard in the superior court this morning in the superior court, and the jury went out about noon. During the afternoon they came in with a verdict of $500 for the plaintiff, together with attorney fees and costs. Some of those who have watched the trial with the greatest interest say they thought that a verdict would be brought in in favor of the defendant until Houghton's attorney made his argument. Then the looks of the case changed, and Mucci got his $500. Ten minutes after the verdict was pronounced, Houghton's attorneys in which to file a motion for a new trial. If they are not granted a new trial they say they will appeal to the supreme court.

The difficulty between F. M. Ellis and W. S. Mayne over the Methodist church plans is not yet settled, after all, according to Mr. Mayne's story. He states that the trustees are still in his possession, and that he means to keep them until something just as serviceable is furnished him by Mr. Ellis. He does not want the impression to get abroad that any compromise was effected between himself and the architects whereby the suits against himself and son were to be dismissed, because that makes it appear that he thought he was in the wrong, and that the case would go against him if brought to trial. He says he has believed all along that there was no ground for the suit, and he therefore has never taken it into consideration when trying to make a settlement. On the other hand, Mr. Seabrook claims that he has Mayne's word of honor that the trustees are to be returned, and he threatens to begin the suit again over again if he does not live up to his agreement.

THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS.

Dan McGinnis is in No Hurry to Have His Case Heard.

A BANQUET AND BALL FOR THE NEW HOTEL.

Mr. Quick is All Right—The Saloons Are Paying Up—Left by His Children—Notes and Personals.

Dan McGinnis, the alleged embezzler, was brought before Justice Patton yesterday morning for a preliminary examination. Attorney McCabe was present in the courtroom for which McGinnis formerly worked. McGinnis appeared hale and hearty, and seemed to think nothing about the fact that a charge was hanging over him which, if proved, would send him across the state. He said he had not engaged any attorney, and, in fact, he had not thought very much about the case at all. He did not want anything done by the court just yet, and as the Omaha parties were not at all anxious to push the matter, the case was continued indefinitely.

McGinnis' apparent ease in the midst of his trying surroundings has caused a suspicion that possibly he felt tolerably sure that the case would be settled, if he put it off long enough, without ever coming to trial. McGinnis was divorced from his wife some time ago, and what has happened since that time has, it is said, brought very prominent citizens into such relations with McGinnis' domestic affairs that these prominent citizens would rather give quite a sum of money than have the public know just what happened. Attorney Barle was asked yesterday whether any attempt had been made toward effecting a settlement. He replied that so far as he knew the prosecuting attorneys had never considered a proposition for a settlement. That apparently throtles the sensational view of the case, but the scandal lovers will probably go on thinking there is something interesting at the bottom of the affair just the same.

THE LAST DAY'S SALE.

Today Concludes the Anniversary Sale at the Boston Store, Council Bluffs.

The anniversary sale at the Boston store, which has been running of necessity for some time, today it has been fully up to the anticipations of Messrs. Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co., and has been the means of providing thousands of people in Council Bluffs and vicinity with good goods at low prices, lower than they have been able to obtain them elsewhere in the city. They have been waiting upon by clerks who were anxious to please, and they know that no false representations have been made to catch trade. There are no broken stocks in any department of the store, and thousands of people can today find the best bargains in all respects they ever obtained in the city.

On this last day of the sale lower prices than ever will prevail in all departments. There are bargains yet in coats for children, ladies and misses.

There are bargains in black dress goods and all other kinds of dress goods.

There are bargains in hosiery of all descriptions.

There are great bargains in muslins and sheetings.

There are bargains in blankets, comforters, and every department and line in the store.

We thank the people for their appreciation of our efforts to introduce eastern prices and extend a new invitation to come and get greater bargains than ever.

Left by His Children.

At the residence of T. M. Jackson, 621 Twelfth street, there is an old man who has been deserted by his children, and is now left to the tender mercies of the only child out of seven who remains faithful to her father. Mrs. Jackson is the daughter referred to and the father's name is Stewart. The old man was at one time, it is said, worth $85,000, but he married a woman who liked his money better than she did him, and the result was that he is left without a cent to his name, all his property having been used up by his wife and his unfaithful offspring. Mr. Stewart has been anxious for some time to find his children. Traces were found of them in Lincoln, Mo., a few days ago, and he is now in Lincoln, Mo., where he is waiting for the authorities of that city to have them locked up if possible. So far he has not succeeded in getting a reply, and he is still at Mr. Jackson's house. Mr. Stewart is eighty-eight years old, and is very childish; so much so, in fact, that it is difficult to keep him from starting on his own hook for Lincoln. The names of the children who are said to be in Lincoln are Mrs. Anna Scott and Mrs. John Colvin.

How to Break up a Severe Cold.

From the Virginia City, Mont., Madisonian: When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit, we consider it duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. By the use of this we have relieved, in a few hours, several of our friends to whom we have recommended it. It is as it is represented to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by all druggists.

A New Car Coupler.

A company has been formed by a number of men who live in this vicinity to introduce a new and valuable invention known as the E. A. Gallup automatic car coupler. E. A. Gallup, T. H. Jefferson, John McDonald, C. Geiss, Fred W. Geiss and E. C. Peterson are the members of the company, all well known in this part of the state. A picture of the new device is in the hands of Mr. Geiss, and if it looks as well in real life as it does on paper, it is very likely to work a revolution in the car coupling business. It is so arranged that the use of the hands is not necessary. The link slides automatically into an opening and is held there firmly by a pin which drops down from above, and all danger of mangled hands is thus done away with. The capital stock is fixed at $20,000, and a large share of this sum is said on good authority to be mostly in the hands of the incorporators. Indeed, it is said that the company does not expect to erect any plant or to carry on the manufacture of couplers, but to leave the manufacture entirely to the railroads, trusting to the legislatures of the different states to pass laws compelling them to use them on all their cars.

Methodist Printing.

Rev. T. M. Stewart, pastor of the Broadway Methodist Episcopal church, started yesterday morning for Cincinnati to attend the meeting of the Methodist book committee, of which he is a member. The book concern of the Methodist Episcopal church is the largest publishing institution in the world under the direction of a religious denomination. There are two large publishing houses, one in New York, the other in Cincinnati. These represent $8,000,000 worth of property and large book depositories in all the principal cities of the country.

The book committee are the directors of this business and meet annually unless important interests should call them together oftener. There are twenty members of this committee.

Mr. Cox has joined with Cooper & McLean, who have moved their real estate office from the Merriam block to the same place, and the gentlemen have fitted up as pleasantly and nicely arranged offices there as there are in the city, and they will be glad to welcome their friends and the public in their new quarters.

Saloons Paying Up.

Seventy-three saloons have been reported to the chairman of the finance committee in the council subject to the usual $2.10 monthly fine. This is ten more than were assessed last month. The order requiring their owners to pay up in full, before the 10th of the month will be rightly enforced. So far about one-third of them have settled with the city, and the marshal reports all the others to be willing to pay within the required time.

IOWA NEWS.

Miners Organizing. OSKALOOSA, Ia., Feb. 6.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Representatives of Iowa miners are in session here for the purpose of organizing District No. 13 of the United Mine Workers of America. The district comprises the state of Iowa and completes the organization of the national union. The objects are for the mutual protection of members and to establish a uniform scale of wages. They do not encourage strikes, but will resort to them when occasion demands. The national association meets in Columbus, O., March 10, and at that time demands for the eight-hour system and for the weighting of coal on top will be made. The following officers were elected: W. T. Scott of Mystic, master workman of the open session; James Davidson, Oskaloosa, worthy foreman and vice president; Julius Frank, Seymour, secretary and treasurer; John M. Ditch of What Cheer, George Martin of Flagler and Thomas Bower of Cedar Mine, executive committee.

Fatal Cutting Affray. OSKALOOSA, Ia., Feb. 6.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—At Morrisville, a suburb, last evening Jerome Barrett, a man thirty years old, attacked James Brown with a knife, cutting six deep gashes in his body, the combined length of which was over eight feet and required 117 stitches to draw together. He will probably die. Brown is a young man of unsavory character and the affray grew out of his alleged intimacy with Barrett's wife. Brown also used a knife, but without serious effect. Barrett is sober and industrious and has the sympathy of the community. He immediately surrendered.

The Usual Practice. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Feb. 6.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Claim jumpers are annoying settlers on the cedar lands. Many of these settlers have taken advantage of this and are locating new settlers on the claims of the settlers who are temporarily absent. Serious trouble will result.
