The House Considers the Sundry Civil Bill in Committee of the Whole.

ADOPTION OF THE WORLD'S FAIR CLAUSE.

Salaries of the Chief Officers Agreed Upon - Phelan's Death Announced -The Eight Hour Bill in the Senate.

Washington, Feb 7 .- In the house today the conference report on ratifying the agreement with the Sac and Fox and Iowa Indians in Oklahoma was agreed to. The report of the Raum investigating committee was ordered printed and recommitted. The house went into committee of the whole, Payson in the chair, on the sundry civil appropriation bill. The pending question was the decision of the chair on Mr. Mason's point of order, raised against Mr. Chambers' amendment yesterday. After a brief debate the chair ruled the amendment out of order as chang ing the existing law. Mr. Sayers of Texas offered an amendment decreasing from $55,000 to $40,000 the appro priation for salaries of officers, clerks, stenographers, etc. with a provision that not exceeding $30,000 be used in the payment of the salaries of president, secretary, director general and the vice enairman of the executive committee.

The chairman overruled the point of .order raised against this amendment by Mr. But-all $20,000.

Mr. Butterworth opposed both propositions, characterizing them as a stab at the exposition and at national honor. They would denationalize the exposition and humiliate it in the eyes of the countries of the world.

Mr. Wilson denied that there was any feel ing among the committee antagonistic to the proposition. Its best friends were those try ing to bring down the expenditures. Mr. Butterworth offered an amendment to the substitute fixing the salary of director

Mr. Washington of Tennessee said the democrats wanted the exposition to be a success, but did not want it to stink in th nostrils of all economical men because its officials drew extravagant salaries.

Mr. Lawler of Illinois regarded the amendments as a repetition of the old fight as to the location of the world's fair. Certaingentlemen had been jealous of Chicago ever since the site was decided upon. He denied that the fair was turning into a political machine, and wished to say as a democrat that Director General Davis was above that class of business, although he was a republi-can. Mr. Lawler had a little tilt with Mr. Buchanar of New Jersey, the latter express-ing disbelief that there was any jealousy, and Mr. Lawler assuring him (Buchanan) that Mr. Lawler assuring him (Buchanan) tha he did not know what he was talking about

Mr. Butterworth's amendment to the subst tute was agreed to-89 to 65-and Mr. W son's substitute, as amended, was adopted. Mr. Biggs of California offered an ment striking out the word "ladies" wherever it occurs and inserting "women.

Mr. Butterworth suggested that there was a strong suspicion that ladies were women and the amendment was ruled out of order. On motion of Mr. Candler the amendment ras adopted striking out the appropriation of $15,000 for the expenses of one meeting of the commission in 1802, On motion of Mr. Frank of Missouri, the amendment was adopted striking out the ap propriation of $15,000 for the expenses of the meeting of lady managers in 1892.

JEFFERSON AND FLORENCE.

They Pay a Pleasant Visit to the Home of The Bee.

Those two influential agencies in the life of the day-the press and the stage-were brought in pleasant juxtaposition last evening when Mr. Joseph Jefferson, Mr William Florence and Mr. Thomas Jefferson paid a visit to THE BEE building, upon invitation of Mr. Rosewater, to witness that most interesting of real dramas-the telling of the history of the world for a day as presented and made up in the modern newspaper, itself the triumph and epitome of the civilization and progress of the world. The relationship between stage and press, between drama and literature, has always been more or less intimate since Richard Brinsley Sheridan or Shakespeare himselfand they are united in both Mr. Jefferson and and they are united in both Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Florence, who, besides being the representative comedians of the American stage, have written two very delightful books, the former, "Jefferson's Autobiography," and the latter, "Florence's Fables," which have enriched the literature of the stage.

It was after the performance—last night of "The Heir at Law" that Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Florence, when hundreds of people were

Mr. Florence, when hundreds of people were still laughing over the comedy that is played too rarely, were shown the building which is the home of The OMARA BEE by the editor imself acting as guide and mentor.

There was nothing that escaped the atten tion of the distinguished guests, and it was easy to see that it is this broad, deep, intense interest in active affairs outside the realm in which they are engaged that has made them the actors they are, and which enable them to strike so many chords of popular approbation. There was not a nook or corner of the edifice from the composing and stereotyping rooms on the sixth floor to the press room on the ground floor that escaped their notice. The court was a wonder to them, the business office t matter of surprise, the press room a revelation that so complete an establishment could exist in a city that twenty-five years ago had hardly five thousand people.

There was nothing quite so delightful as to see Billy Florence walk up to a case in the composing room and commence to name over the boxes, showing that some time during his life he had learned the art of type setting, and his knowledge of stereotyping showed that he was no tyro in that branch of a daily

After the guests had been shown all the workings from the editorial rooms to the ground floor they were given a little dinner n the French restaurant adjoining, Rosewater occupying the head of the table, Mr. Jefferson to his right and Mr. Florence to his left, Mr. Tom Jefferson and the dramatic editor completing the quintette, menu being as follows:

Oysters on Half Shells,
Omelette au Rum,
Sweet-Bre ads with Mushrooms,
Filet Miguon,
Cheese, Fruits.

For an hour the guests discussed the menu and indulged in delightful observations upon many subjects from Voltaire and Shakes-peare and the late war and the part Mr. Rosewater played in it, to the modern drama end its decline. It was so delightful a visit that undoubt edly the guests who were present will revert to it very pleasantly in years to come.

HIS BONDSMEN ARE ALARMED

Andrew Murphy Demands Immediate Action on the Matter of Megeath's Shortage.

DON'T WANT TO BE HELD RESPONSIBLE.

He Files a Complaint With the County Commissioners and the Hearing is Set for February 14.

A ble and very important meeting was heid by the county commissioners yesterday afternoon. All the members of the board were present, which in itself was somewhat extraordinary, while ex-Commissioner Turner, Auditor Evans, County Clerk O'Malley and two or three city councilmen also occupled seats within the railing. The lobby was packed back into the corridor.

The extraordinary interest manifested in the session was due to the fact that several matters of unusual importance and weight were booked and advertised to be acted upon. After the call to order, and before the minutes were read, the city council committee appointed to confer with the board relative to the road fund levy, was heard through Messrs, Cooper and Bechel. They asked that the city be given four-fifths of the road fund of the county to expend in the city.

Commissioner Van Camp said he thought the county board should expend the entire fund.

Commissioner Timme thought the board had no right to turn the money over to the city. He urged that the county had always succeeded in getting road work done much cheaper than the city.

Mr. Cooper could not see the equity or jus tice in expending money on country improve ments that rightfully belonged to improve ments in the business portion of the city.

Mr. Bechel said that it was very secessary that some action in the matter be taken at an early date, and he hoped to see action taken mmediately. Chairman O'Keeffe said there was some question as to whether the board had any right to turn the money over to the city. On motion of Mr. Corrigan it was referred to the committee or roads to report at a meet-ing of the board to be held on Tuesday.

The road fund matter being disposed of and the minutes approved, the clerk read the following under the head of communica-

Before the board of county commissioners Douglas county, Nebraska.

In the matter of the charges against T. A.

Megeath, register of deeds.

Complaint and information of Andrew Murphy, made before the board of county commissioners of the county of Douglas, and of the state of Nebraska, this 7th day of February, 1891, who being first duly sworn his oath says that T. A. Megeath now the acting register of deeds of said county under and by virtue of his elec-tion to said office at the general election held in and for said county on November 5, 1889, and that during the years 1888 and 1889 said T. A. Megenth, register of deeds aforesaid, during the year 1890 collected in his official capacity the sum of $21,017.10; that the salary of the said register of deeds and the salaries and compensation allowed and paid to his deputies and the other legitimate expenditures of the said office, for said year 1800 was $5,565.66, which it became the duty of the said T. A. Megeath at such register of deeds to pay over to the county treasurer of said county on January 8, A. D., 1891. Affiant says that the said T. A. Megeath has willfully neglected his said duty and wil-fully refused and reglected to pay over to the county treasurer of said county the aforesaid sum of $5,565.66 or any part thereof, and that the said T. A. Megeath has wilfully and corraptly appropriated to his own use and bene-fit the sum of $5,565.65 out of the aforesaid sum of $5,565.06.

Affiant further says that during the year

1880 said T. A. Megeath, as register of deeds aforesaid, collected in his official capacity, as fees of his said office, the sum of $23,673,70, and that during the same time the salary the said Megeath as such register of dec and the salaries and expenditures of said deputies and cierks and other expenditures amounted to $16,069.80, leaving a surplus of $7,603.90, which it became the duty of the $7,003.99, which it became the duty of the said T. A. Megeath as such register of deeds to pay over to the county treasurer January 9, 1890, and of which amount said Megeath has paid to the county treasurer only the sum of $3,603,90, and the said T. A. Megeath has neglects to pay over to the county treasurer the remaining $4,000 of said fund, and the said T. A. Megeath has wiffully and cor-ruptly appropriated the whole of said sum of 4,000 to his own use and benefit.

Affiant further says that the said T. A Megeath is ineligible to hold said office of register of deeds for the reason that the said T. A. Megeath, as a collector and custodian of public money of the said county of Douglas, to wit: The sum of $4,002 collected by him in his official capacity during the year 1889 is in default to the said coun in the aforesaid sum of $i,000, and further in default to said coun further in default to said count, in the sum of $5,565.66, money collected by him as custodian and collector of public money of the said county of Douglas during the year 1800 contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the state of Nebraska. Andaew Muneuy.

Mr. Megeath himself was an interested lie tener to the reading.

The complaint being read, Mr. Timme moved that it be placed on file and that Saturday, February 14, at 10 o'clock a.m., be set for hearing the same, and that a summons be issued to the clerk returnable on that date. Mr. Berlin furnished the necessary second and the motion carried, Messrs, Corrigan and Van Camp voting no.

A majority report of the committee on con-struction, signed by Turner, Corrigan and O'Keeffe, on the $2,352.16 bill of extras of S. I. Pope & Co. for steam heating in the new county hospital, recommended that only $122 of the same be paid. Adopted.

The county surveyor was instructed to communicate with the Feuton manufacturing combany and Novelty manufacturing company with a view to obtaining from them bids for refitting the vaults in the offices of treasurer and register of deeds.

Bids for county supplies were let to the following parties: following parties:

T. Sullivan, meat; Cody & Gray, white pine lumber; Charles R. Lee, white oak timber; Raymond Brothers, oak piling; H. J. Penfold, drugs; J. H. Boyd, bread. But one bid was received for groceries and the clerk was ordered to readvertise for same.

The results appropriate sheets were read.

The regular appropriation sheets were read a third time and approved. A large amount of business of a routine order was transacted.
On motion of Van Camp the board pro ceeded to ballot for county physician. There was a long list of candidates, but only Doctors Keogh and Connell were "in it." Mr.

Berlin favored the latter and the rest of the board the former. Dr. Keogh was declared DUBLIN, Feb. 7 .- The McCarthy ites have Mr. Berlin started to read a clipping from organized an opposition meeting at Strabally a local paper, but the board was too tired for anything of that sort and a motion to adjourn Queens county, tomorrow at the same time Harrington and Leamy expect to address the Parnellite meeting. COLONEL MORROW'S DEATH. The Official Announcement Issued by General Brooke. The following general order has been issued by General Brooke with regard to the death of the late Colonel Henry A. Morrow: HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PLATTE OMARIA, Feb. 3, 1891. - With the despest sor row the commanding general announces to the troops serving in this department the death, at the Army and Navy general hos-pital, Hot Springs, Ark. January 31, 1891, of Colonel Henry A. Morrow, Twenty-first infantry.

nel Morrow was born in Virginia, July 10, 1829, and served as a private in company C. District of Columbia and Maryland infan-try, from May 18, 1846, to May 30, 1847. Early during the war of the rebellion he was commissioned colonel of the Twenty-fourth Mich igan infantry, and honorably mustered out of the volunteer service, July 19, 1865. The brevet of brigadier general of volunteers was conferred on him for gallant and distin guished services before Richmond in the campaign of 1864, and brevet of major general of volunteers in that of 1865, for distinguished and conspicuous gal-lautry and good conduct before Petersburg, Va. July 28, 1866, he was commissioned lieu-tenant colonel of the Thirty-sixth United States infantry; March 15, 1869, was trans-ferred to the Thirteenth infantry; April 17, 1879, was promoted to the colonelcy of t Twenty-first infantry, and for some time w acting judge advocate of the department of the Platte. He was brevetted colonel, regu-lar army, March 2, 1867, for gallant and meritorious service in the battle of Hatcher's tun, Va. Colonel Morrow was in the field with the Army of the Potomac from 1862 to 1855, and during this period was three times wounded at Gettysburg. Wilderness and Dabney's Mills. He was on frontier duty in the de-partment of the Platte from 1867 to 1879; on the Pacific coast from 1879 to 1882; com-manded the troops at Cristicia in southern Kansus in 1885, and afterwards was on duty at Fort Sidney, till be went on the sick leave which ended in his death.

The military history of Colonel Morrow shows the zeal and parriotism with which he s rved his country during the war with Mexico, the war of the rebellion and during a trying service of twenty-five years on the frontier. It is a record commended by all who knew him, an example worthy of being followed and having been the pride of his family in the past it will be their comfort in the future. As a mark of respect to his memory the

The third annual masquerade ball of the Schwaben verein was given last evening at Germania hall and was even more of a success than either of its predecessors. There were about one hundred and fifty masquers on the floor and fully twice that number of spectators. The masquers were fantastically attired, ludicrous costumes largely predominating, and some of them were supremely ridiculous. A quintette of the turnverein was present, and their acrobatic evolutions added much to the evening's amusement. Several pantomine tableaux were executed on the stage, among them being the operation of a sausage mill, which evinced a ravenous appetite for dogs, cats, rabbits and rats, and ejected very palatable weiner wurst by the rod. a Chinese doctor, N. Gee Whu, occupied a tent in one corner and did a lucrative business, while menagerie, with a number of the bloodthirsty animals in the world, attracted its full quota of sight-seers, who were treated to a view of bed bugs, fleas and cockroahes, under a powerful glass. It was a particularly large time all round and everybody present enjoyed themselves

A Magnificent Race.

The fifty-mile race between Martin, Reading, Gerwing and Ashinger at the Coliseum last night attracted a large and enthusiastic crowd, despite the strong counter attractions at the up-town theaters. The race was for $100 purse and the entrance fee, the winner to take all. It was a hot race from the jump so hot that the Oklahoma hero quit at the octween Reading, Martin and Gerwing was one of the most thrilling ever witnessed in the building, and was made amidst the thunderous appliause of the excited spectators. Reading, by a superhuman effort, managed to whiri across the tape a bare three inches ahead of young Martin, while the Denver lad came trailing a half dozen wheel lengths in the rear. The riding of Reading and Martin was really phenomenal, and it is hardly probable that there is any two men in the country who can beat them in an endurance race.

Remembered by His Assoc ates.

C. P. Southard, who Friday afternoon retired from the position of chief clerk in the distributing department of the postoffice, was kindly remembered by his old associates. Friday afternoon the gentleman clerks of the postoffice, together with the mail carriers, assembled in the rear of the mail room, after which Postmaster Clarkson stepped to the front and asked Mr. Southard to come to that part of the office. Not knowing what was wanted, he hastened to obey the commands of his chief, who at once presented him with a beautiful gold locket, on one side of which was a horseshoe set with diamonds, and on the other a Masonic emblem. The presenta-tion speech was delivered in Major Clarkson's choicest language, and the fact mentioned that the present was a token of remembrance from the entire office force. The lady clerks, Miss Viola Coffin, Miss Emma Krutle, Miss Beile Scott, Miss L. Nissen, Miss Clara Southard and Mesdames K. Lane. E. Mathison and M. Preston, not to be outdone by their gentleman friends, had made an elegant silk lined smoking jacket. which they took to Mr. Southard's home at 111 South Eighteenth street Friday evening and in a quiet way presented to the retiring chief.

The gentleman was so overcome that it was some minutes before he could thank his appreciative friends. He then tendered them a hearty welcome to his hospitable home, where the evening was spent in a delightful manner, a dainty lunch being served just before midnight.
