THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS.

Deputy Sheriff Campbell of Mills County Bags Four Oat Thieves.

A SMALL BOY HURT WHILE COASTING.

A Probability That Eiseman's Store Will Be Responed Permanently -A Candidate for the Reform School.

Deputy Sheriff Campbell of Glenwood has haunted the Bluffs for the past three or four weeks with a persistency that indicated that he wanted something and wanted it bad. When interviewed he always refused to say very much about the object of his visit. Yesterday afternoon the mystery was solved when the deputy rode up to the station, having in tow four men, four mules and two large loads of oats. For some time past the farmers in the vicinity of Glenwood have been the victims of a gang of men who have were in the habit of visiting their granaries when the owners were away, and borrowing oats by the wagonload. Several weeks ago two farmers name William Hill and Tony Gettler lost about a hundred bushels in this manner. About ten hundred bushels in this manner. About ten days ago another similar raid was made, and another load of onts was taken. The farmers thought that kind of business was getting a trifle monotonous, and Mr. Campbell was set to work to find the thieves. They were traced as far as the Bluffs, and here the cine was lost.

Was lost.
Yesterday morning a third visit was made, and a third load was carried away. When Mr. Gettler arose in the morning he at once noticed that the thieves had been there again, noticed that the thieves had been there again, and he started in pursuit, in company with a neighbor, Mr. Isaac Warren. At Glenwood they notified Deputy Sheriff Campbell, who joined the chase. At Island Park, a small station a few miles below the city, they succeeded in running down their prey, who turned out to be W. P. Meadows and his two sons, George and Victor, and Henry Gilmore, all of them Omaha men. They attempted all of them Omaha men. They attempted a resistance, but they were soon toned down by the sight of weapons in the hands of their captors. They were brought up to this city and loaged in the city jail until they could be taken back to Glenwood for trial

It is said that this thieving has been carried on for a long time past by a well organ-ized gang and that there is already evidence enough to capture and convict the whole outlit.

TAKING STOCK,

And Getting Ready for Another Great Run at the Boston Store, Council Bluff ..

The Boston Store people are getting ready for another great run. For the past few days every leisure moment of the clerks has been occupied in the work of taking stock and getting ready for another great sale. There ting ready for another great sale. There will be bargains in all departments for all classes of customers, bigger and better bar-gains of guaranteed goods than you can get in any other store in Council Bluffs. Com-mencing on Monday we will offer bigger bar-gains than ever in ladies', children's and misses' cloaks and wraps. Many of these misses cloaks and wraps. Many of these are just the thing for spring wear, and all are suitable in every way for the weather we will have during the next six weeks.

There are bargains in black dress goods and all other kinds of dress goods.

There are bargains in hoisery of all de-criptions. There are great bargains in muslins and sheetings.

There are bargains in blankets, comforters, and in every department and line in the We thank the people for their appreciation

Down comforts at the Eiseman Sale. $7.75, our price since January 1 only $6.75. Council Bluffs Carpet company.

A New Mercantile Company. there was a rumor affoat that a stock comnany had been organized for the purpose of bidding in the stock and carrying on the business at the old stand. On the day of the sale Benjamin Eiseman, who was on the ground in the interest of the new company, was served with a number of garnishment papers, which, if he had bought up the stock, would have landed him squarely in the mulst of something over a dozen law suits. He concluded not to buy, and from that time to this nothing has been heard from the company. Yesterday articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the county recorder by the "Council Bluffs Mercantile company," the members of which are Benjamin Eise man, G. F. Wright, J. N. Baldwin, J. F. Kimball, George A. Keeline and Samuel Hdas. The capital stock is $100,000. This company is the one which was formed at that time and the articles were drawn up and signed then. Mr. Eiseman would not consent to go on with the business, and as he was the principal stockholder the idea had to be given up for the present. The fact that Mr. Eiseman has agreed to let the articles be filed is regarded by many as an indication that the old Eiseman stand will be opened at no distant day as a perma-nent Council Bluffs institution. One of the local members of the company stated yesterday that the store would be opened just as soon as the law suits above referred to could be gotten out of the way. How long this would be he could not say, as things in law are very, very uncertain, but he did not hink that it would be a great while.

When the store is opened under the new management it is said that it will be more of a "general store" than before. A furniture and carpet department will probably be added, and in every way it will be run on strictly metropolitan principles.

Spooner and Alford. Miss Grace Spooner and Mr. W. H. Alfor were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Spooner, 700 South Seventh street, Council Bluffs, on Thursday. February 5, at midafternoon. When old Father Time announced that it was 3 o'clock the invited friends selected convenient positions to witness the ceremony. Quietude was broken by the strains of the wedding march and then appeared the contracting parties, preceded by Miss Ruth Felt, a charming little tot of three years. At the threshold of the parlor, under a portiere of smilax. Rev. T. J. Mackay, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, awaited their coming and according to the impressive service of the Episcopal church they were joined in the holy bands of wedlock by the reverend rector The charming picture was completed by the maid of honor, Miss Ruth Felt, who during the ceremony, holding the bride's flowers, gazing intently at Rev. Mackay's countenance, seemed entirely lost at the surroundin g The old saying, "God bless the bride the sun shines on," was not only the wish of her many friends and associates, but nature her self joined in the thought and assisted with the bright sunshine seemingly for this occasion. Never did it shine more brilliantly than when the rector pronounced the bene diction and, indeed, it must be an auspicious omen for the future of both bride and groom.

The bride was robed in a very pretty gown of brocade and plain satin de Lvon with front
