Hoopengarn, the celebrated Methodist evangelist, who conducted the successful revival meetings at the Second Street Methodist Episcopal church in this city, preached his first sermon Monday night at a well filled house at South Tenth Street Methodist Episcopal church, where he has come to hold a series of meetings. A great interest was manifested in the meeting and a number were converted during the service. The church pledged hearty co-operation to the evangelist. The singing was spirited and was conducted by Mr. Hoopengarn.

Mrs. Frank J. Murray died Monday night at the family residence, 1218 North Seventeenth street, of consumption. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later. Relatives in Chicago and Kansas City have been telegraphed for and replies from them are awaited. Mr. Murray has the sympathy of a large number of friends in his bereavement. This is the third child who has been cured in his family within a month, his uncle and father-in-law having departed this life within that time.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The Philadelphia Press says of the Cecile Burlesque company, which will be at the Grand on Saturday, Sunday and Monday next: Sam Jack's Cecile Burlesque company attracted an audience at the South street building which packed the house to the doors. A one-act burlesque entitled "The Beauty of the Nile; or, Doomed by Fire," introduced twenty members of the company, who furnished much amusement. In this olio Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jack sang several popular songs and were recalled four times. Florence Hines, the male impersonator, and the "Tulight quartette" gave clever performances.

Friday evening "Men and Women" celebrated its fifth performance at Froese's New York theater. In honor of the event exceedingly handsome souvenirs were issued, designed by the artist, and the souvenir was a beautiful fan upon the sides of which were the fine signatures of the members of the company, in gold, and the characters they represent. The taste displayed in its design and the manner in which the design was carried out makes this the handsomest souvenir ever issued by a New York theater.

The Eden Musee is presenting one of the funniest farce-comedies ever placed before the public this week—the Hanley comedy company in its latest effort, "A Wild Goose Chase." This farce is full of fun and introduces the latest topical songs and difficult and fancy dances. It is a side-splitter. The Moore sisters also deserve mention. Their singing and dancing is excellent.

In the curio A. J. Grush, the poorest man on earth, is on exhibition. He is a living skeleton, weighing but thirty-eight pounds and is six feet one inch tall and forty-five years of age. He is the thinnest man you ever saw. The famous war painting, "Custer's Last Day," a portrayal of the horrible massacre of the Seventh United States cavalry by the blood-thirsty Sioux, is also on exhibition in the curio hall.

Thursday evening next Mrs. Leslie Carter, the new star, will make her first appearance before an Omaha audience. "The Ugly Duckling" is the name of the play she will present. Mr. Archibald D. Gordon has rewritten it in a manner that at once appeals to the sympathies of an intelligent audience, while the staging is the acme of artistic decoration. Mrs. Carter has not only been made the pivot around whom the remaining characters move and speak, but her faithful portrayal is worth a careful study.

The first act is light and refreshing, and it is not until the fall of the curtain that Mrs. Carter throws aside the air of a girl and assumes the role of a woman. Her dramatic powers from this on, show forth in a manner that could not fail to elicit admiration from any audience. The plot of the drama is intensely emotional and highly passionate, but not in one instance does Mrs. Carter overstep the bounds of propriety. Mr. E. J. Henley as the Corsican, whose motive is a dastardly revenge, shares the honors with the star.

Every character in the cast has been placed in able hands.
