

HIGHLAND'S SUDDEN DEATH.

The Cause of it to Be Investigated by the Coroner.

DIED SOON AFTER TAKING A DRINK.

Contents of the Stomach, Examined by a Chemist, Show Traces of Acute Poisoning—The Inquest Tomorrow.

An inquest to determine the cause of the death of Frank Highland, of Benson place, who died the first of last week, will be held at Healy & Healy's this afternoon.

Highland died suddenly and without any apparent cause, his health having been good up to the time of his death.

He went to a neighboring drug store after some medicine for a sick child. While there a certain physician suggested that as Highland was going to remain up all night, he had best have something to keep him awake.

The physician thereupon proceeded to put up a mixture in a glass, which he gave to Highland. The latter drank it and returned home. Shortly afterward he felt a numbness in his extremities which quickly affected his entire body and death soon followed.

A post mortem examination was made and the stomach and intestines turned over to a chemist for analysis.

There were symptoms of acute poisoning and the result of the chemical analysis will show whether the mixture which Highland drank at the drug store contained a sufficient quantity of this poison to produce death.

The people in the vicinity of Sherman & McConnell's drug store pharmacy have been wearing life preservers for the past few days, the fear of a fatal waters they are laying in for spring trade threatened to inundate their habitations.

SOMETHING IN SUGAR.

Immense Consignment Received by an Omaha Firm.

The big train load of sugar arrived at 7:45 p. m. over the Missouri Pacific railway.

Conductor L. S. Patterson was in charge of the train and Engineer Webb was at the throttle. It was a solid train and along the entire length of each car and near the top was a wide strip of red, white and blue bunting.

On the door of each car was a large white canvas shield bearing the following inscription: "This solid train of sugar for D. M. Steele & Co., Omaha, from American sugar refining company, New Orleans."

A manifest from the collector of customs at New Orleans was attached to each bill of lading.

The train load of sweetness left New Orleans on the 30th, reached Memphis on the 22nd and left Kansas City for Omaha at 4:42 a. m. Tuesday.

The run from Hiawatha to Auburn, a distance of forty-four miles was made in one hour and forty minutes. The average speed of the train was about thirty-five miles an hour.

All along the line people turned out to see this immense consignment.

The sugar is packed in 900 barrels and 2,450 sacks. The sacks weighed 100 pounds apiece and the barrels averaged 320 pounds. The total weight of the consignment is 577,500 pounds.

Sometime today the train will be photographed.

Officers for the Election.

Election officers as follows were appointed by the city council:

First Ward: First District—T. B. Hatcher, John E. Hart, Michael Connors, David Morgie and D. E. Bayless, judges, and R. A. Carpenter and Alexander Schlegel, clerks.

Second District—Herman Tremler, Frank Elmer, Alfred Burch, T. M. Fowler and J. R. Kelly, judges, and E. S. Daniel and Charles L. Porter, clerks. Third District—Nathan Gordon, Michael P. O'Donnell, E. E. Foley, J. B. Cross and J. H. Sullivan, judges, and E. H. Doud and R. A. McGinnis, clerks.

claring against polygamy has had a great influence, and it was an important step in the right direction. There are those who are inclined to be skeptical about this move, and who think that it is made simply for effect. They fully expect to see polygamy again embraced by the church, but I believe that the step was taken in sincerity and good faith.

"I do not think, however, that the move was dictated by principle, but rather by policy. I believe, too, that this same policy will result in the total extinguishment of polygamy. As George Q. Cannon said in referring to the unfavorable doctrine, 'It is too unequal a fight to hold out against 50,000,000 people.'"

"Another thing. The men who have so bitterly opposed the change are getting old and won't live much longer. Woodruff is over eighty years of age. There isn't the same feeling that there was when the prosecution of polygamy was first begun, and they openly boasted of their criminal relations, and those who were convicted and sent to the penitentiary were treated as martyrs upon their release, but there is no more of the brass band business. Then they would not promise to give up their polygamous relations, but now this has changed. The week before I returned home there were three cases, and in each instance the prisoner was willing to make the required promise. This shows how the situation is changing."

"It is not an easy matter to effect the change, for the reason that the Mormons have the decree against it comes from man. Notwithstanding this, the Mormons are gradually yielding to the inevitable. Cannon, who had four wives, now claims that he has none, and that he is leading the life of a bachelor."

"Now that this question has fairly to be permanently settled, the Mormons have in a measure given up their fight against the Gentiles and are forming a respectable and democratic party. This is more especially true outside of Salt Lake, although it is bound to come there. In Opinion the two Mormon papers have taken sides politically and the younger Cannon has announced that as he is a republican, his will be to support the republican party."

"Salt Lake at present is suffering from the reaction of a boom. A year ago the Gentiles celebrated their victory by advancing real estate values in some instances fully 100 per cent, and the effect was injurious."

"The weather has been very unpleasant. The residents call it the most disagreeable winter ever experienced there. It is that there were not two pleasant days of sunshine during the month that I was there. Snow followed rain and vice versa, and there seemed to be nothing but snarl and sleet. The weather, I think, is responsible for the unusual amount of sickness."

"There has been a great deal of grip and much pneumonia. Four of the five members of our board were present. Only one escaped an attack of the grippe, and it used us up completely."

"Our next meeting will be in May and will probably fall into September. The committee has charge of the election, and we will have to meet to appoint registrars for school election. The regular election follows in August, and we will remain until that is over. The most important work to be done at our next meeting is the re-districting of the territory. Heretofore it has been so apportioned as to give the Mormons everything possible under the census of 1880, but this will be changed under the new census so as to arrange the districts as they should be."

"This will give Salt Lake more than double the representation that it has now. The outlook is promising, and the prospects are that the committee will be able to effectually settle the difficulties that have so long existed here."

TO RETALIATE ON GERMANY.

Paddock Believes the Government is Bound to Take Action.

Washington, March 24.—Special Telegram to The Bee.—Senator Paddock, who has been spending several days in New York, arrived here last night. In response to an inquiry regarding the report that the government contemplated retaliation upon Germany as a result of the refusal of the German empire to remove the prohibition on American meat products, the senator said:

"The report that President Harrison stated to me the intention of the administration to retaliate upon Germany for the cause named, is not true. However, I have good reason to believe that the senseless and unjust discrimination against American pork and other meat products is not at once removed, our government will take prompt measures under the act of August 30, 1890, to retaliate by excluding certain German importations from this country. The cable interview with Secretary of State Von Bismarck, in which the German government would remove the prohibition against American pork on account of the insufficiency of the inspection of the German meat products, makes it plainly apparent that the German law is maliciously unjust and passed not to protect the health of German subjects, but absolutely to prevent competition on the part of the American corn-fed hog with the razor-back swine of the German empire. No country has been so long under such rigid meat inspection laws as the United States."

"Immediately upon learning of the cable statement of the German secretary of state I called upon the secretary of agriculture in my capacity as chairman of the senate committee on agriculture. I stated to him what now state to you, that it was plain German policy was not one of retaliation, but of absolute and willful prohibition, and I urged upon him that under the provisions of the act of August 30, 1890, the German beef, sugar, of which $16,000,000 worth was imported into this country last year, should be excluded under the provisions of such law. He has no reason to believe that President Harrison is seriously considering the issuance of such a proclamation, and that if that declaration which Germany places upon our meat products is not promptly removed the prohibiting order will be issued."

"What do you know as to any communications between this government and Minister Phelps upon this subject?"

"I have no official reply, but I have reason to believe that Minister Phelps has already been communicated with on the subject. Minister Whitelaw Reid has been a frequent visitor to the state department, and the commercial interests of this country and in demanding that fair treatment for those who have or might have dealings and trade with the republic. For myself, and for the western people whom in part I represent, I believe that under the anti-pork authority granted the president he will be quick to seize advantage and to demand of Germany fair treatment for fair treatment, or to insist upon the old barbaric doctrine of eye for eye and tooth for a tooth. I think I may state that the president is as keenly alive to the requirements of the situation as any one. I know that the secretary of agriculture is determined, so far as in him lies, to test the powers of the government under the recent laws to the utmost. In France, thanks largely to Minister Reid, the restrictions against American pork will soon be removed, and referred to the committee having in hand the investigation of the acts of Garbage Master Morrissey."

A new garbage ordinance was introduced and referred to the committee, having in hand the investigation of the acts of Garbage Master Morrissey.

Quiet Council Meeting.

Last night's council meeting was an unusually quiet one.

Mayor Cushing vetoed a number of resolutions, among them being the one providing for an expenditure of $5,000 in furnishing the new city hall, and another against an increase of the gas inspector's salary.

The ordinance providing that eight hours shall constitute a day's labor was passed by a small majority.

A NEW ORDINANCE.

Will Be Introduced by the Metropolitan People.

Speaking of the Metropolitan street railway ordinance recently passed by the city council, Councilman Blanton yesterday said: "I am now satisfied that the company will not accept the provisions of the ordinance, and I regard it as a foolish expenditure of money to order its publication in the official paper. Its terms are of such a nature that we cannot expect the company to accept it, and for this reason I think another ordinance will be introduced soon."

"There is a general feeling that this company should be granted the right to lay track and operate a street railway in Omaha upon favorable terms, providing the interests of the city are properly guarded. These provisions will be included in the new ordinance, and at the same time the incorporators of the new company will be given a show for their lives."

The New Medical Law.

OMAHA, March 22.—To the Editor of The Bee: There is now engrafted upon the statutes of our state a new medical law. Our bill has undergone the tempest of this twenty-second session of the legislature. It withstood the contest, the quo warranta, sifting committees, and opposition on the floor. The distributing and flooding of both houses many times of adverse circulars by the quick eloquence and the incessant lobbying and ardent lies of mischief makers from different parts of the state, all make a background that the medical cannot clearly review.

Certain it is that the men who held the helm, Brown of the senate and Alden of the house, deserve the merited praise of the people and physicians of this state.

To draft a worthy law under our peculiar constitution, to keep in check and harmony the three schools of medicine, to get the support of both houses of the legislature to see that the bill kept moving, required eternal vigilance.

It will be an easy matter in the future of the people to desire to amend the law as to make sanitary provisions. It could not be done this year both on account of the constitutional war and because no appropriation could have been secured.

If the physicians in the future think they can get an amendment to the existing law, back this up as an amendment to the bill. It would make Nebraska's medical law more perfect than that of any state in the union.

A word in reference to the selection of the medical men who are to act for and under the law. Let them have all the qualities of gentleness and firmness, of calmness and energetic kind. There is much work to be done at no remuneration. Members of the Nebraska State and Omaha Medical Societies.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.

John Kinsella Horribly Maltreated by a Masked Mob.

DELAWARE, Minn., March 24.—Special Telegram to The Bee.—Judge Stearns has decided that his court have jurisdiction in the case of John Kinsella, who was maliciously maltreated at the Two Harbors, that place being in another district. Full particulars of the disgraceful affair have just reached here. It seems that Kinsella had expressed the indignation of the railroad employees by stating that Superintendent C. C. Stearns was the Du-luth and Iron Range road had forced them to vote against him (Kinsella) for president of the village. On this account he had been repeatedly threatened with violence. Masked men took him to a barn, bound hand and foot from his room, about midnight. Saturday and proceeded to strangle him with a rope and kick, beat and otherwise maltreat him. They then began firing revolvers at him, one shot passing through his head, another grazing his shoulder and a third grazing his scalp. They then gave him a coat of tar and feathers and allowed him to escape.

Mining in His Well.

Wilbur Smith of Deadwood is authority for the statement that the well on the premises where he resides is a veritable gold mine, as every bucket of water drawn from it contains more or less colors of the precious metal. A short time ago he stirred up the gravel at the bottom, then drew up several tubs full of the liquid, and when it settled he poured out the residue, the result being quite a handsome clean-up. The hillside or bar on which the house is built has never been worked, but the probability now is that an extensive hydraulic plant will be put in operation.

Mission Society Incorporates.

The Omaha home missionary and church extension society of the Methodist church filed articles of incorporation in the office of the county clerk today. The object of the society is to establish and maintain mission churches and Sunday schools in Omaha and South Omaha.

Denouncing the Priests.

CHARLOTTEVILLE, P. E. L. March 24.—[Special Cablegram to The Bee.]—Liberal papers on the island severely condemn Bishop McIntyre and Archbishop O'Brien for their alleged activity during the recent election on behalf of the government candidate. The Guardian charges that the bishop instructed his clergy, and through them his people, to mark their crosses for conservative candidates.

Boils and Pimples.

Are nature's efforts to eliminate poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectively, as well as safely, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"For several years I was troubled with boils and carbuncles. In casting about for a remedy, I resorted to one that Ayer's Sarsaparilla had been used in my father's family, with excellent success, and I thought that what was good for the father would also be good for the son. Three or four bottles of this medicine entirely cured me, and I have not since—in more than two years—had a boil, pimple, or any other eruptive trouble. I can conscientiously speak in the highest terms of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and many years' experience in the drug business enables me to speak intelligently."—C. M. Hatfield, Farmington, Ind.
