VOTING LIKE AUSTRALIANS.

South Curaba Chooses City Officers Under the New Election Law.

INNOVATIONS CAUSED BY THE SYSTEM.

Arrangements of the Vooting Booths and the Exclusion of Ward Workers and Heelers-A Quiet Election.

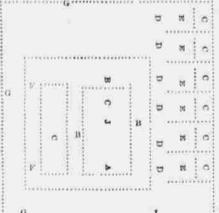

South Omaha yesterday had its first experionce with the workings of the Australian ballot law passed at the recent session of the legislature The event was the annual spring election, at Which one city clerk, three members of the council, one from each ward, and two mem bers of the board of education were se-

Formerly there were but three voting pre cincts in South Omaha, but to comply with the new law, the city had been redistributed. The law apparently gave entire satisfaction to all parties who were desirous of a fair ballot and an bonest count. Owing t it being a new thing all the judges and clerks were inexperienced hands and the muchinery was slow in starting, but shortly after a o'clock yesterday morning the nin polling places were opened and the work of ing billots was commenced.

The following diagram will give an idea of the manner in which a voter deposits his bal-lot, and as all polling places are the same, a description of one is a description of all:

A Batlot box. B Judges. C Table. B attained to booth. E voter preparing ticket. Clerks. G Bailing separating public from ersons voting. H Entrance to voting place. One of the judges or special police, who half see that not more than six persons are lithin enclosure at sume time. J Tickets efore signing and delivering to voter.

The voter enters the room at H, and announces his name. The clerks turn to their lists and as soon as the man's name is found, it is checked off. The judges sitting at the table then pass him a ticket, on the back of which they have written their names. This ticket the voter receives and passes around the railing to one of the stalls where he places an X onof the stalls, where he places an X op-posite the name of the candidate for whom ie desires to vote.

The ticket having been so prepared, the voter folds it in such a manner that it will be inside and then hands it to the judge, who deposits it in the ballot box. The name of the voter is recorded by the registrar and he

To give an idea of the form of the ticket, the following sample ballot is printed:

Should the voter by accident mutilate his ticket, it is returned to the judges and he is given another. This may continue until the voter has destroyed four tickets, after which he becomes disfranchised, as the law limits the tickets to this number for each voter. At the close of the polls, the mutilated and misused tickets are scaled and returned to the city clerk, from whom they were received, and by him held until examined by the canvassing board.

During the time the election is in progress six voters, one for each stall, may be al-lowed in the room besides two challengers, one from each political party, and an officer The election yesterday was unusually quiet and harmonious, as the usual brawls and rows were not witnessed. In this respect it might be added that the ward worker and heeler was no longer in it—his occupation is gone. The reason is that the only thing he can do is to stand around Heretefore tickets have been peddled by these fellows, who would follow the voter to the polis and see that the identical ballot was deposited, but today it was different. Not a ballot was outside of the poling place, and while it was possible that a voter made pledges, no man knew for whom he cast his vote after reaching the seclusion of his stall when he marked his ticket The members of the board of education the ladies, or at least some of them exercised the right of franchise, but they were few, as they had falled to register and did not care to go to the trouble of swearing in their votes, or passing up through the lines of men who gathered outside the polling places.

In order to aid the voters, and assist them In becoming familiar with the workings of the law, the city clerk furnished sample ballets at each polling place, but they were of ne use for voting places, as they were printed on green paper and marked "sample ballot."

The system is expensive but it satisfies the South Omaha people. Previous elections have cost on an average of $500, but in this the expenses will reach $1,200. This is princi-pally owing to the fact that six additiona polling places at $10 each had to be provided, besides there are thirty more clerks and judges than under the old law, each of whom receives $6 for his work. The booths, stalls and other fixtures cost $100, but this outfit will be taken down and stored away for future use.

-Counting the Ballots.

Counting the ballots proved to be a much shorter task than at previous city elections, and the result was ascertained before 11 o'clock and in many of the precincts the count was completed by 0 o'clock.

There were a number of ballots thrown out some precincts on account of irregularities in the way they were marked. Following is the result:

N. Burke, 66; Patrick Trainer, 80; Rowley's plurality, 117. Fourt Ward—Jeremiah Howard, 73; J. H. Loschner, 96; John S. Walters, 0; Loschner's releasing the second plurality, 23.

· CLIO IN COMEDY.

'Esmeralda' Given with Marked Success by the Club. It was a large and fashionable audience which gatheres at Washington hali last evening to witness the performance of "Esmer-elda" by the Clio dramatic club. At 9 o'clock the curtain rose upon the first scene of this pretty little comedy, which was the first performance of the club this year. Considering that the performance was the first of the kind the club ever attempted, it must be said that the members did exceed-ingly well. Nothing but light farce had here-tofore been attempted.

The work of all showed the result of considerable study and close attention to details.

It would be hard to single out any particular one in the cast as deserving of special the Militia. MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 7 .- Fifty more men went to work at Morewood today, making the total number at the ovens about one hundred. The arrests yesterday were followed by a number of others today. Considerable ill feeling was engendered against Superintendent Ramsey over the report that Frick would import men. Threats were made against him and this morning a number of strikers gathered about his residence. As their actions aroused suspicion, the militia, was called out and the men were driven away. Several shots were fired but no one was hart. Dispatches from various sections in the region indicate a partial resumption at the dif-ferent works. The operators are encouraged and assert they will soon have their plants in De Witt's Little Early Risers. Best little pill ever made. Cure constipation every time. None equal. Use them now.

AGREED AT LAST.

Spreckels and the Sugar Trust Reach an Understanding.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7 .- The Record says: After a fight of over three years Claus Sprockels and the sugar trust have come to an understanding by which there will be no further competition between them. The negotiations are virtually concluded. Spreckels is not to sell his sugar in that part of the country east of the Missouri river and the Havemeyers are not to invade the territory west of the Missouri. The trust and the Spreckels refineries in San Francisco are to alternate monthly in closing, so as to regulate the production on the Pacific coast. Claus Spreckels, jr., asserts, however, that the agreement will not affect the refinery here. It is believed, however, that steps will surely be taken looking to a curtailment of its pro-

The banks have a verbal understanding not use the silver in the settlement of balances but the act of 1882 provides that no banking association shall refuse these certificates, hence fears of bringing the banks to a silver basis are current. Mayor Cushing vetoed the ordinance establishing a paving district on South Tweaty-second street, between Hickory street and Poppleton avenue. His reason was that the title of the ordinance reads, "Be it ordered," while it should be, "Be it ordained." There was another reason. The number of the paving district had been omitted.

The Ballou electric light ordinance was killed by a veto of the mayor. His reasons for withholding his signature were numerous, the main ones being: That the ordinance passed was not the one introduced; nance passed was not the one introduced; that the rights of the city were not properly protected; that the size of conduits and their locations were not mentioned; that nothing was said about the height of wires from the ground; that no provisions were made for the time when the plant should be in operation. In other words, the mayor considered the ordinance as full of holes as a skimmer. The veto was sustained by a vote of 7 years to 6. veto was sustained by a vote of 7 yeas to 6
