

TWENTIETH YEAR.

OMAHA, SUNDAY MORNING APRIL 12, 1891—TWENTY PAGES.

NUMBER 293.

Testimonials.

DR. C. GEE WO—Dear Sir: For the past six years I have doctored without success for heart disease, pain in the chest and kidney trouble...

I have suffered for some time from Female Weakness and Sick Headache, and could not get any relief from any source whatever.

TO DR. C. GEE WO—To Whom it May Concern: I have been troubled with severe pains in my breast and generally feel weak.

To Whom it May Concern: I have been troubled for several years with Rheumatism and Neuralgia, and have tried everything that money could get for a cure...

DR. C. GEE WO—Dear Doctor: I write this to thank you very much for your kind and efficacious treatment in my case during the last two months.

I have been a sufferer from RHEUMATISM and INDIGESTION fifteen years, and like other unfortunate ones, tried every remedy possible...

DR. C. GEE WO.

Osthoff Block,

519 1/2 N. Sixteenth St.

UNPARALLELED SUCCESS!!! UNHEARD-OF SKILL!!! PERMANENT AND PROMPT CURES!!!

THE CHINESE PHYSICIAN, DR. CHAN GEE WO.

Hundreds of cases pronounced "incurable" by other doctors who have been unable to distinguish one form of disease from another.

Hundreds of questions have lately arisen regarding the marvelous success of DR. C. GEE WO during his stay in Omaha. Hundreds of times have those questions been answered by the grateful patients who have been treated successfully...

Catarrh, Rheumatism, Consumption, Heart Disease, Asthma, Neuralgia, Fevers, Cancers, General Debility, Ulcers, Kidney Troubles, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Dysentery, Chronic or Other Diseases, Etc.

The method of the treatment of Dr. C. Gee Wo has above all to be taken in consideration. His medicines which consist of the simplest, yet most effective kind, can be taken with comparative ease.

Here is one fact in particular that Dr. C. Gee Wo wishes to mention. He has never had a case return to him which he has pronounced cured. That is saying a good deal in the full knowledge that during all his practice he has had under his treatment...

Congestion, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Inflammation of Bowels, Female Weakness, Sterility, Sore Eyes, Eczema, Carbuncles, Dropsy, also All Forms of Female Disease.

No Difference How Far Advanced Your Case May Be! No Matter How Long Standing! No Matter Who Have Failed! Give the Chinese Doctor a trial. He can be consulted at all hours in his office at OSTHOFF BLOCK, 519 1/2 NORTH 16TH ST.

Testimonials.

I have suffered a long time with SICK HEADACHE AND STOMACH TROUBLES. I was run down, weak and sickly all the time.

For the last few years I have been a victim of chronic sickness of several kinds. My troubles began with RHEUMATISM, then HEMORRHOGE OF THE LUNGS, and finally HEART DISEASE completely wrecked me.

I have suffered with RHEUMATISM and DROPSY for upwards of ten years, and entirely gave up the idea of ever being cured.

This certifies that I have been under the treatment of DR. C. GEE WO for SICK HEADACHE and GENERAL DEBILITY. I could not do anything.

Two years ago I was attacked with a severe cold which in my belief led on to CONSUMPTION. I began to take physicians' advice, who said I could not last six months.

I have been troubled for a long time with SICK HEADACHE and BILIOUSNESS and was completely run down. Not long ago I heard some friends talking about DR. C. GEE WO.

DR. C. GEE WO.

Osthoff Block, 519 1/2 North Sixteenth Street.

THEY ARE BORN, NOT MADE.

Such are the Tonsorial Artists Whose Work Delights You. BUTCHERS WHO HAVE INVADDED THE RANKS

Next. It is a very simple little word in the superlative degree, yet it is by no means an unimportant part of a barber's stock in trade.

There are certain conditions under which the latter conclusion would be by no means unwarranted or unreasonable, but the idea has probably occurred to none but those who have sought in a barber's chair that which to their intense suffering and disappointment, they found not.

There is a vast difference between the east and the west in the matter of barbers' wages, other things being equal.

One thing is certain, the Omaha barbers are very generally ignorant in the art of trimming beards. They cut off the stray ends and even up a man's rump.

By far the greater part of the barbers drift west from the eastern states, either in search of adventure, a change of climate or better wages.

In the east a week is the maximum, but in Omaha it is the minimum wages paid to journeyman barbers.

It is customary in the east to pay so much a week and board, and the amount ranges from $6 or $7 a week, or possibly $8 a week.

after spending from one and a half to three years learning a trade, to start out and begin over again.

There are some men in this city who work on a salary and a percentage on all work done. A certain amount, who make as high as $20 a week and sometimes even more than that.

These barbers are merely by accident, but there is another class, perhaps not a whit better artists, who started out with the avowed intention of learning the trade.

It is the common duty of a learner to lather, comb hair, shampoo, wash faces, do ladies' hair-dressing and the numerous little acts of care and attention that a barber indulges in, outside of shaving and hair-cutting.

These barbers are merely by accident, but there is another class, perhaps not a whit better artists, who started out with the avowed intention of learning the trade.

It is the common duty of a learner to lather, comb hair, shampoo, wash faces, do ladies' hair-dressing and the numerous little acts of care and attention that a barber indulges in, outside of shaving and hair-cutting.

These barbers are merely by accident, but there is another class, perhaps not a whit better artists, who started out with the avowed intention of learning the trade.

It is the common duty of a learner to lather, comb hair, shampoo, wash faces, do ladies' hair-dressing and the numerous little acts of care and attention that a barber indulges in, outside of shaving and hair-cutting.

receive $12 a week and pay his own expenses. Through the west the wages range from $12 to $20 a week. In Omaha the average is above the latter figure.

There are some men in this city who work on a salary and a percentage on all work done. A certain amount, who make as high as $20 a week and sometimes even more than that.

These barbers are merely by accident, but there is another class, perhaps not a whit better artists, who started out with the avowed intention of learning the trade.

It is the common duty of a learner to lather, comb hair, shampoo, wash faces, do ladies' hair-dressing and the numerous little acts of care and attention that a barber indulges in, outside of shaving and hair-cutting.

These barbers are merely by accident, but there is another class, perhaps not a whit better artists, who started out with the avowed intention of learning the trade.

It is the common duty of a learner to lather, comb hair, shampoo, wash faces, do ladies' hair-dressing and the numerous little acts of care and attention that a barber indulges in, outside of shaving and hair-cutting.

These barbers are merely by accident, but there is another class, perhaps not a whit better artists, who started out with the avowed intention of learning the trade.

It is the common duty of a learner to lather, comb hair, shampoo, wash faces, do ladies' hair-dressing and the numerous little acts of care and attention that a barber indulges in, outside of shaving and hair-cutting.

AMERICAN TOWN GOVERNMENT.

How New England Towns Thrived Under "Town-Meeting" Rule.

HAS THE SYSTEM BEEN IMPROVED UPON?

Edward Everett Hale Compares a Primitive System With the Fuss-and-Feathers Method of Today.

EDWARD EVERETT HALE. John Adams is the author of the most cited statement that American government rests on four corner-stones—the town meeting, the church, the militia, and the school.

The difference rests in this—that in each of the four cases the New England "corner-stone" represents all the people, good and indifferent, rich and poor, wise and foolish.

The younger American writers of our own time have been occupying themselves with the historical question, whether in New England the government of the state made the towns, or whether the towns made the state.

I doubt, however, whether any of the founders of towns in Massachusetts in the seventeenth century or in the eighteenth, would have taken much interest in such a discussion.

Sorry She Married an Indian. Mrs. V. H. Sampson, who is married to a full-blooded Indian and lives in Allegheny City, Pa., recently called on the police to arrest her husband.

Jon says—I wish my father was a preacher. Bobby—Why? Johnny—So's folks wouldn't be all the time giving him sallopers.

If they did not, they did not. And in general this has been the rule till very recently. In the olden days, the city of Boston wanted to open fire bats, and it opened them without asking leave of anybody.

In historical fact, the settlers of Massachusetts were already grouped more or less distinctly when they arrived at their new homes.

From this common sense way of managing affairs there grew up an admirable elastic but strong way of local administration.

The turkey was stowed away in my soiled clothes bag that swung behind the closet door. The pies were piled one above another and deftly hidden up the chimney.

It was a gorgeous supply and I had invited a few of my cronies to the prospective feast for that evening.

The turkey was stowed away in my soiled clothes bag that swung behind the closet door. The pies were piled one above another and deftly hidden up the chimney.

I have been glad to know that one, at least, of the thriving towns of the Western Reserve in Ohio has considered seriously the question of introducing the town meeting proper into its methods of home administration.

LT. CASEY FOUND THE TURKEY

Reminiscences of the Lamented Officer's Life at West Point.

SEARCH FOR HIDDEN CHRISTMAS BOXES.

Clothes Bags, Cavalry Boots and Dress Hats Filled with Contraband Pies, Puddings, Fruits and sweetmeats.

At West Point some years ago, I was a cadet, while Lieutenant Casey was one of the tactical instructors.

During his absence from the room a foray had been made, the box seized and borne away in triumph by the few cadets who were in the contraband.

Of course the loss was soon discovered and a rigid search instituted. By a stroke of ill luck the box had been hidden in the fourth division where I happened to be quartered.

At West Point some years ago, I was a cadet, while Lieutenant Casey was one of the tactical instructors. It was Christmas time, and Lieutenant Casey as officer in charge, was on the alert for contraband articles of food that were always turning up in the holiday season.

"I'm going," said March, and away he flew. A grubbing and a scolding; And the pearl like buds on the orchard trees Their leaves began unfolding.

shuddered, but remained silent. I knew the end was not yet. "You will take these articles, sir," said he, striving to appear firm and judicial.

"Yes, sir," I replied very meekly, and the trio went out.

"Lieutenant Casey very naturally concluded that he had stumbled on the stolen articles, but the search was continued throughout the fourth division, and much to his surprise the real box, intact and found in a closet on the second floor.

"No," said Casey, "I really couldn't permit that, but if you wish you may carry it to your mess table." This was better than nothing, so I thanked him, gathered up the bundle and took it into the kitchen.

"The turkey and pie, together with the pudding, nuts and fruit, duly made their appearance that evening on our table, but I did not relish the idea of snarling my prize turkey with that hungry mob, so I got one of the cadets, who was privileged to enter the mess-room without the formality of being met by the orderly, and the turkey, hide it under his cape and sneak off with it to my quarters.

"The pleasant days are coming. For April's here, and the sunniest smiles And the gladdest tears are his bringing.

The Pious Girl. See Fort Herald. My lady love more plous is Than other girls, for she In Lent gave up her youthful heart And daintily had to me.