Inconsistencies of the Charter Provisions Regulating City Sanitation.

BIG MONEY FOR THE GARBAGEMASTER.

Report Prepared by the Council Committee Which will Recommend Radical Reforms of the Present System.

Last November a special committee of the souncil, appointed to investigate certain alleged irregularities in the conduct of the office of garbage-master, and consisting of Councilmen Olsen, McLearie, Lowry, Shriver and Blumer, made the following report: * * We recommend that the two night watchmen engaged by resolution of the city council a few months ago on the two dumps, be dispensed with, and we submit a resolution to that effect. The several ordinances covering the sanitary commis-floner have not. In the opinion of your committee, given satisfaction and they have been grossly abused to the dissatis-faction and detriment of the public and we submit three different ordinances, while he in the opinion of your committee, will give much cheaper service, be a revenue in place of an expense to the city and nevertheless the effi-cient if properly carried out, to keep the city in a healthy and clean condition. These ordinances relate to the cleaning of These ordinances relate to the cleaning of Coss pools, the removal of garbage and dead animals by contract. They propose also to wipe out the office of sanitary commissioner, to sub-divide the city into sanitary districts and to clean cess polls under proper restric-tions. This is aimed at with the hope that the work may be done satisfactorily and without compelling citizens to pay tribute to the sanitary commissioner.

The position of sanitary inspector or com-missioner is filled by Mr. Frank Morrissey. He was appointed to the place in recognition of his alleged services to the mayor in the last city campaign. Since that time Mr. Morrissey has used his office mainly as a money-making position for himself. Every ordinance which the council has passed relating to the office in the past ew months has been written by himself. Everyone of these ordinances has been framed mainly to protect himself. They have given him almost himself. unlimited power-to collect his own fees. The garbage man, the vault cleaner, the dead minut hauler, pay him tribute. They pay it n advance, too, by means of the purchase of pools of receipts without which they cannot work and which cost $25 a each. These books contain twenty-five checks and each check a permit to haul a load of refuse of som kind. When a book is exhausted another must be procured before the hauler can hope to deposit a load of refuse, debris or excre ment at the dump. At the latter place are two watchmen, paid by the city, part of whose duty it is to see that no scavenger de-posits a load of refuse there who is unpro-vided with the check which puts a dollar into Mr. Morrissey's pockets. into Mr. Morrissey's pockets. The issue of these little books, it might he thought, would be made to every scaven-ger whose wages enabled him to carry on his business without offense to the public. But such is not the case. John Nelson, one of the oldest vault cleaners in town, has been refused one of these books. As a conse-quence, with four iron wagons especially adapted for the business and the necessary teams and implements, he is compelled to re-main idle. He refused to pay exorbitant tribute to Morrison. He are the second ribute to Morrissey. He not only can get no book, but Morrissey has enjoined his pay for the work which Nelson did.

The latter was commissioned by the board of education to clean the valit of the school at Orchard Hill, his bid being the lowest, $90 He performed the work satisfactorily. Morrissey demanded his fee of $30. Nelson thought the demand excessive and refused and is getting his hautboys in readiness to make a move all over the city with an alleged "spring-cleaning-necessity" order which will put thousands into his pocket. Not content, however, with fashioning the ordinances to protect him in his pocket-filling scheme, Morrissey has just recovered from herculean efforts to amend the charter so as to place him even hercond the reach of some to place him even beyond the reach of coun-cilmen who may desire to save the people from being robbed.

URGING THEM ON. Sunday School Workers Spurred Forward to Mightier Deeds.

The second session of the United Presbyterian church Sunday school convention convened at 10 a. m. yesterday in the Park Avenue church.

The first half hour was devoted to devotional exercises led by Rev. J. C. Lynn of Kearney.

Then for two hours the question box became the subject of interest. A large number of questions were found in the box and they were found in the box and they were all practical questions pertaining to the work of the Sunday school. They were discussed one at a time and were quite satisfactorily answered. Those who took an active part in discussing and answering the contents of the our stoa box were: Rev. J. M. French, Dr. Williamson, Dr. Gibbs of the First Church Omaha, Rev. J. A. Henderson of the Park Avenue church, Rev. J. C. Lynn of Kearney, Mrs. Beil of Dunbar, Rev. C. C. Kyle and wife of Majors and several others. In the oppning sermon yesterday afternoon Rev. J. C. Lynn of Kearney reviewed hastily were ali In the opening serinon yesterday afternoon Rev. J. C. Lynn of Kearney reviewed hastily the moral and spiritual condition of the peo-ple of this country at the present day, and then drew from this a vigorous and compre-hensive outline of the duty which rests upon the church and upon the ministry. He pictured the sublime work that the salvation of Christ has done and is doing for the human race. He admonished the prethren present to be sure they were each perform-ing their part in the great work of saving ing their part in the great work of saving

"Ask yourself this question," said the earnest divine, "If everybody would do just what I am doing in the work of Christianizing the world and saving fallen humanity, how much would be done! Would the church and the Sunday school and the missionary work and the charitable work move grandly forward or would these grand insti-tutions languish and fail if every other pro-fessing Christian should do just as I am doing?

MR. WOOLLEY'S FIGURES.

Much in Excess of Those of a D.sinterested Expert.

The committee of the board of education appointed to investigate the charges against Superintendent Woolley, held a closed session at the board rooms Monday. The committee was in session all day and confined its investigations to the building on Davenport street, near Thirty-ninth, which cost the board over $1,600. Contractor Hart was the principal witness. He had been subprenzed by the chairman and was unknown to any of the committee. He testified that he had gone out to the bailding in company with Messrs, Smyth and Poppleton of the committee and had made a thorough examination of the building and its surroundings and had prepared detailed figures on the construction of that or a

"If you paper representatives are afraid to speak out in matters of public concern and tell the whole truth," said a representative and well informed citizen thoroughly familiar with the stock and stockyards business, "I wish you would quote me through THE BEE on the present railroad racket. There is a whole lot of sentimentality, virtuous indignation, deception and hypotrisy just now boiling over. While Tun Ban has told much, and considerable of the truth, yet much of greatest interest to stock raisers and shippers, commission men, the stockyards offi-cials, and more than all else, to the packing cials, and more than all else, to the packing plants, has been omitted. "Now I for one believe that the natural surroundings are such that the South Omaha market only wants a fair and even chance, free from all impediments, advantages and disadvantages, to become the second stock mart of America. I say, then, give us a fair deal, and the results will be all we can ex-pect—ves, all we want. pect-yes, all we want. "As suggested in The BEE, in its first ar-

If I bought 300 cattle or fifteen car loads a day, and you would keep me informed of all favored ship-ments, so that my local cattle would get the benefit of the through rates from favored points I, or you and I, at a very small cost to iny castern house, could make more money out of the transaction than the railroad com-panies hauling the stock or the farmer who raised it, and this largely, too, at the ex-pense, or at least to the disadvantage of South Omaha.

I then go on the local market and buy stock from a near or less favored point and

I could afford to give you a check for $1,000 or even $5,000 every year or even of-tener and charge it up to expense account, for my castern house would be getting freight rates 40 per cent under other ship-pers. At the session of the real estate exchange t was announced that hereafter the morning call of listings and sales would be made promptly at 11:30 o'clock and all reports must be in by that time in order to be published.

Mr. C. C. George, on behalf of the East Omaha land company, announced that on the first pleasant day on which there was a session of the exchange, the East Omaha com pany would provide conveyances and take the members of the exchange and representatives of the press on a trip to East Omaha and show them the remarkable developments of that suburb, the site for the new bridge over the Missouri and other points of interest. A banquet will also be provided in East Omaha by the syndicate and a general good time provided.

It was also announced that Captain E. E. Marks, who has been in the city some time representing the Arkansaw Traveler, had Omaha and would proceed to boom the city. Mr. George Hicks is delegated to provide a lunch for the exchange next Saturday morning.

Old Officers Re-Elected.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the German savings bank was held yesterday afternoon at the bank, corner of Tirteenth and Douglas streets. The statement of the cashier for the ten months during which the bank has been in operation showed profits amounting to $17,919.02. The showing was a highly satisfactory one to the stockholders. The election of directors resulted in the chosing of the old directors and they at once re-elected the old officers, the officers and directors being as follows: Frederick Metz, Henry Bolln, managing director; L. D. Fowler, cashier; Frederick Krug, George Heimrod and Henry Meyer.

monced work. He secured the wiping out of section 30 and securing the appointment of a board of health consisting of the mayor, the city physician, who is styled "commissioner of health;" the chief of police, "sanitary com-missioners" and two members of the council who "are" chairmen of the committees on streets and alleys and sewers, respectively. No reference is made to the creation of the office of "sanitary commissioners," however, peither does the charter specify how many of beither does the charter specify how many of the same "commissioners" shall be in the board. The term, however, was intended to be in the singular and to refer to Mr. Mor-rissey himself, but the charter does not show

With regard to the committee chairmen, the Charter speaks of them as in the present time but does not refer to the future. The section contains a number of incon-sistencies in which the duties of the several members of the board are pretty badly mixed. For instance, the commissioner of health (the city physician) "shall * * enforce all laws of the state and ordinances of the city relat-ing to matters of health and santation."

A couple of lines further down one finds the following, giving practically the same authority to what is styled the "sanitary columission," something which is not created and which cannot mean any one man as Mr. Morrissey had intended: "The 'sanitary com-mission' under the direction of the bowsi of Morrissey had intended: "The 'sanitary com-mission' under the direction of the board of health shall have charge, control and super-vision of all sanitary and health affairs of the city, including the removal of dead ani-mals, the sanitary condition of streets, alleys, * * wells, cisterns, privies, pre-vent the occurrence of nulsances, etc." In the next naragraph the

In the next paragraph the in-pectors of meat, milk and food are placed under the control and direction of Dectors the board of health, but the position which Mr. Morrissey holds, presumably that of sanitary commissioner, is amenable to no authority.

The board of health, in the next paragraph, is allowed to make rules and regula-tions "for the conduct of the affairs and of the action of the commissioner of health," but nowhere is it shown where it may make rules for Mr. Mor rissey's position. The board may also "from time to time, as required by the council assume control and direction of the garbage and plumbing inspecthe point of Mr. Morrissey. There is still a more serious defect, and that is found in the following:

is found in the following: "In case of the absence, disability or in-ability to act of the commissioner of health (the city physician), the mayor may and is hereby authorized and empowered to desig-nate and appoint some other member or em-ploye thereof to temporarily perform the duties of said commissioner, and said appointe shall have and exacting the same appointee shall have and exercise the same powers and authority as said commissioner during the period for which he is appointed." This means simply that the chief of the police or Mr. Morrissey or Dick Burdish or Counciliary Burges which Councilman Blumer or their successors, may be called upon to perform the duties of physician !

It will be seen that Mr. Morrissey's attempt to entrench himself behind the charter has not been a success.

The councilmen who favor the ordinances which are calculated to reform the office of sanitary commissioner are prepared to show that the people are paying a great deal too much both as taxpayers and directly from their pockets for the work which he is al-leged to superintend.
