ROACH'S TIMELY HOME RUN DRIVE.

Martin Duke Given a Surprise by His Redfaced Rival-Other Notes from the Sporting World.

Lincoln, 6: Minneapolis, 3. Sloux City, 10; Kansas City, 10. Denver, 6; St. Paul, 3.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 22 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- Dave Rowe's great aggregation of Nebraskans this afternoon won its twelfth game of the fifteen on the

The humiliation of the Millers came today on account of the smallness of the grounds. It was in the fourth inning. One Lancoln man had scored, there were two out and three on bases, when Roach caught one of Duke's twisters on the end of his bat and dropped it over the right field fence, the four men trotting home.

The farmers did not score after this, but they had done enough to win the game. Minneapolis did a little hitting in the sixth and seventh, and with errors by Raymond and Tomeoy got three men around. A leading feature of the game was the great pitching of Duke, who held the visitors down to five hits. He was wild, however, at times, giving a total of eight bases on balis,

Superb stops and throws were made by Shugart and Tomney, and some great outfield catches were made by McQuaid, Burkett and Minneapolis today released Catcher Horan and Howard Earl, the latter at his own re-quest, to join the Philadelphia league team Ended Like the Fight. Sloux City, Ia., May 22 .- The last of the Kansas City series was the only game in which either team took occasion to show its metal, and it was not until the eighth inning that they awoke. The early part of the game was rather more dreary than its predecessor, but no finer exhibition of the possibilities of baseball was ever seen on these grounds than the last five innings. Both Dewald and Sowders were doing good work in the box, and the fielding was phenomenal. Thirteen in-nings were played, and the teams having to Sprague's Eccentricities. St. Paul, Minn., May 22.—Sprague made his initial appearance with St. Paul and was as wild as a hawk. He was not hit hard, but he lost the game all by himself in the third inning, giving four bases on balls, one with bases full and making two errors. Fournier batted the hardest, but kept the hits well scattered and had good control of the ball. Otherwise the game was tame.

Short Horse Day Duly Observed at Gravesend Course.

GRAVESEND, L. I., May 22 .- Another good days racing was witnessed here today, but it was not greatly enjoyed by the 3,000 persons present, for the very good reason that out-siders in the betting were entirely too prominent at the finish. The war between the tracks and the pool rooms was carried on with renewed vigor, and it looks as though sooner or later some one would get hurt. Today notices were posted all over the entrance notifying persons that no one would be allowed to leave the track between the hours of 2 and 4 20 and Dispersors. of 2 and 4:30, and Pinkerton's policemen were present in large numbers to enforce the no-tice. bett-Jackson fight last night resulted unsat-factorily. Referes Cook's decision "no con-test," was generally accepted as equivalent to a draw decision. Both men were then so weak that it was plain to every one they could not be expected to strike an effective could not be expected to strike an effective blow if they remained in the ring till day-light. The first half of the contest was the most scientific centest ever seen on the Pa-cific coast, but the last thirty rounds were simply walk arounds. In the last few rounds Jackson staggered round the ring and Corbett was in but little better condition. Both men were heartily cheered at the con-clusion of the fieht. clusion of the fight. The referee's decision is in effect that the club had seen no battle and was in no sense, therefore, indebted to the puglists for their night's work. All bets on the final result SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 22.—The directors of the California Athletic club at a meeting this evening decided to give Jim Corbett and Peter Jackson $3,500 apiece for their exhibition last night and to offer the men a purse of $7,500 for a fight before the club again Mr. Petersen and Mr. Walker. Mr. Petersen and Mr. Walker had a prize fight at South Omaha last night. It was a picnic. Mr. Walker was to knock Mr. Petersen out in ten rounds for a stake of $100. He didn't do it. He did hit Mr. Petersen a nolligoster on the proboscis, however, and the sight of the cochineal, that followed the collision, scared Mr. Petersen into connintion fits. But he wouldn't give up, and the contest developed into a clawing and gouging match. Police Captain McMahon very properly stopped the affair, and Rhody Redman who makes as good a referee as ever stepped within the magic circle, declared the fight a draw. Mr. Walker would better get on a farm and Mr. Peterson stick to his forge. Fighting isn't their legitimate calling.

PHILADELPHIA BANK FAILURE.

Public Interest in the Sensational Developments Unabated.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—Public interest in the sensational developments in the affairs of the Spring Garden bank and the Kevstone bank, the flight of the indicted president of the latter institution and the resignation from office of City Treasurer Bardslev continues unabated. William B. Wanamaker, one of Marsh's bondsmen, this morning offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the fugitive and has employed detectives to run him down. Attachments were taken out this morning against the Bradford mills, of which City Treasurer Bardsleysis owner, by two of his Treasurer Bardsley has made an assignment of all his property for the benefit of the city.

Mr. Bardsley made the following statement this morning in reference to the Clamor note, found among the assets of the Key-stone bank, which E. J. Clamor believes to be a forgery: "Some years ago E. J. Clamoi induced me to go into the brass foundry businauced me to go into the brass foundry business for the purpose of assisting him. The firm name was E. J. Clamor & Co., myself being the company. I was to furnish the capital and to sign all notes, checks and other papers. During the progress of the business it was necessary to issue notes upon which to raise money which to raise money which to raise money. which to raise money, which was done in a number of instances. The business not prov-ing profitable or satisfactory, it was discon-tinued and sold out. The firm never was dissolved. As the notes fell due I paid them, as I was responsible for all the debts of the firm. Under the agreement it was not the duty of Mr. Clamor to sign either notes or checks, and, to my knowledge, he never did sign any."

The clearing house due bills issued by the Keystone National bank and given to Mr. Bardsley at the various times that the $390,000 of state moneys were deposited are not worth the paper they are written on unless the assets of the bank include more than the deposits as shown by the ledger.

These due bills are issued by the banks belonging to the Philadelphia Clearing House association for the accommodation of depositors. In New York certified checks are used by the banks, but in this city, when a depositor desires it, a due bill is issued by a bank, the bill being signed by one of the tellers and countersigned by one of the officers of the bank. These bills can be deposited in any bank, and at the clearing house settlement the next day, if the issuing banks has a credit, the amount of the due bill is deducted. If Mr. Bardsley, when he received the clearing house due bills from the Keystone bank, bad immediately deposited them the bills would have been pr at the clearing house the next morning and if the Keystone bank had been a creditor to the amount of the bills they would have been paid, but this process would, of course, have been simply a withdrawal of the mon deposited by Mr. Bardsley in the bank. M Bardsley knew or should have known that by keeping the due bills he was simply speculating upon the solvency of the Key-stone National bank. The bank is not at this time a creditor at the clearing house to the amount of the due bill now held by Mr Bardsley and they are therefore worthle They are simply an obligation on the part of the bank to pay the face value of the bill and amount to nothing more than ordinary promissory notes. The blils held by Mr Bardslev are in effect promissory notes of the Keystone bank and cannot be paid unles the assets yield more than the deposits.

At the office of the United States marsh was stated this afternoon that the rumor that the absconded president of the Keyston bank has been arrested in Montreal had been investigated and found to be without foundation The liabilities of the Hill shoe company which failed yesterday, are now given as $600,000 instead of $400,000, the first figures The assets delivered to the assignee by the terms of the assignment amount to $300,000 Lewis Hill, a member of the firm, denies that the failure of the Davis company of Lynn, Mass., involving the Hill company $200,000, brought about the failure. He s bad crops, poor collections and the stringen money market are the principal causes.

The funeral services of William Vilas Hill, the president of the insolvent company, whcommitted suicide immediately after the assignment, will take place tomorrow. Failed and Then Suicided. MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 22 .- The Hill shoe company failed yesterday and William Vilas

Hill, the president of the company, imme diately after committed suicide. He was thirty-two years old and a nephew of ex-Postmaster General Vilas. The failure was directly due to the failure of the Davis shoe company, which owed the Hill snoe company between $300,000 and $400,000. liabilities of the company are about $400,000 and the assets $200,000. The creditors are principally eastern parties. The Davis Failure.

SECURED AFTER HARD WORK.

Cheap Tourist Rate from the M'ssouri River to Denver and Return.

COMING CHICAGO AND ALTON HEARING.

No Little Interest Manifested in Railway Circles-Not a Popular Bu ing - East - Bound Manipulations,

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.-Tiroless and energetic persistence on the part of the Colorado lines, supplemented by the energies of Denver's merchants and business organizations, has at last secured from the Trans-Missouri Passenger association the coveted $25 tourist rate from the Missouri river to Denver and return. The association has been in session here since Wednesday and this tourist rate was about the only business that was not easily disposed of. The interchangeable miseage ticket was adopted without much trouble and the rules of the association, provided for in the president's agreement, were agreed to as a whole after only a brief discussion.

Then came the tourist rate. Considerable of that matter began yesterday morning, and when the association adjourned for the day it was generally understood that the rate would not be granted. This morning when the association conened Chairman Smith threw a bombshell nto the meeting when he presented the resoution of the Trans-Missouri congress, which had been sent to him by telegraph from Denver. The bombshell shattered practically all opposition to the rate. What little opposition remained was overcome by the knowledge that the Denver people would carry the matter over the heads of the Trans-Missouri association and into the Western association unless their demands were granted. Who the matter finally came to an Issue the vote was unanimous in favor of the rate. Thus tourists can travel from the Missouri river to Colorado points and back again for $25, a reduction of $4 from the old rate.

Chicago & Alton's Hearing. CHICAGO, May 22,-No little interest is manifested in the hearing that will be given the Chicago & Alton management tomorrow by Chairman Finley in answer to the charge that it has violated the agreement of the Western Passenger association in refusing to advance rates from Kansas City to St. Louis and from St. Louis to Chicago. The Alton will not not be represented at the meeting by any of its officers. A written argument has been prepared by the general manager and placed in Mr. Finley's hands, and this constitutes the only answer the Alton people have to make to the accusation that it has acted in bad faith. This argument simply reiterates the claim heretofore made by Mr. Charleton that the chairman has no authority to order an advance in rates. It holds that no advance can be made without the unanimous consent of all the lines interested. This is not disputed.

It happens, however, that Chairman Finley did not order the rates to be advanced. What he did was to withdraw the reduced rate which he had previously authorized. Some time ago, when passenger rates from St. Louis to Chicago were manipulated by the Jacksonville & Southeastern through scalpers' offices, the chairman gave other lines authority to meet the competition by reducing their rate from $7.50 to $5.50. The cause for this reduction has been removed. Mr. Finley named May 15 as the day on which the reduced rate would be withdrawn. In the meantime the eastern roads had in augurated a boycott, against the Alton and for some reason the latter company refused to restore rates. It did not ask and obtain relief on account of the disadvantage it was placed under by the action of its eastern con-nections, but disputed the chairman's right to make a ruling, the effect of which, if obeyed, would be a restoration of former man Finley are both firm in their convic-tions, and it is feared that the dispute will result in one or the other withdrawing.

NOT A POPULAR RULING. It would be difficult to Ind a traffic official of any western road who does not object to the ruling of the board of commissioners of the Western Traffic association that the pub ished tariffs of through westbound traffic must be maintained, although some of its eastern connections privately quote a lower rate. It is probable that someone will appea from the decision of the commissioners take the matter before the advisory board. EAST-BOUND RATE MANIPULATIO IS.

Suspicion is just now directed at the Chi cago & Erie road because it has suddenly secured the dressed beef business of Swift & Co., whose business heretofore has been given to the Michigan Central. There is no evi dence that the Chicago & Erie is cutting rates beyond this unexpected diversion of raffic, but in the present unsettled condition of affairs the eastern roads do not need much evidence to reach the conclusion that their neighbors are taking advantage of them The east-bound freight situation is rapidly becoming a go-as-you-please race.

TO INSPECT THE ROCK ISLAND. President Cable and the board of directors of the Rock Island will leave here Sunday night for the west, their object being to make a careful inspection of all the lines of the system prior to the annual meeting of th stockholders to be held in this city June 4.

PRESBYTEBIAN ASSEMBLY.

Report of the Committee on Revision of the Confession. DETROIT, Mich., May 22.—The Presby-terian general assembly met at 9 o'clock this morning. After a season of prayer and conference the minutes were read and the standing committees announced. The stated clerk read the list of presbyterier that voted on the proposed changes and methods of amendment of the standards. Ninety-one voted aye, seven up, six refused to report and fourteen had not reported. The clerk read the statement as to the overture on deaconesses. The report of the committee on revision of the confession of faith was read by the chairman, Rev. William C. Roberts, president of Lake Forest university. He said, in introduction, that the copy from which he was reading was the only correc-one and that he regretted that some of the daily papers had, by some means, got hold of and published one of the partially incorrect

After the reading of the report it was moved that it be sent down to the presbyter-ies as recommended by the committee and the committee continued to make a final re-port to the next assembly. Dr. Smith warmly seconded the motion and Rev. Dr. Patton of the revision committee supported it. He would have preferred, on strictly technical grounds, that the report be recommitted and they be directed to send it down to the presbyteries, rather than for the assembly to itself send it down, because some might misunderstand that action as implying some degree of endorsement of the recommendations of the report. He said: "I think the changes proposed in the report have the essence of Calvanism wholly preserved. We did not mean to decalvanize, and we did not. Everyone who expected anything of that Everyone who expected anything of that sort will be disappointed. We were not unanimous, although so harmonious. We want to see how the church views the pro-posed changes and the proposed methods of making the changes before deciding to stand out for anything that does not appear in the reports. We want the report criticised without any restraint from a misapprehension of unaminity in the sessions of the committee.

The motion was unanimously adopted, and the great debate was over for this year as far as the general assembly is concerned. The reports from the committee on unem-ployed ministers was made the second order of the day tomorrow.

Dr. Francis of Cincinnati recommended the method and time of dealing with the question of accepting or vetoing the election of professors in theological seminaries at the

At the opening of the afternoon session Rev. Dr. Henry McCook read the report of the committee of the seal of the Presbyterian church. The topic was made the order of the day Saturday.

Judge Hand of Scranton, Pa., made the report for the committee on business department of the board of publication. It approves most that has been found in the business management, but said several of the changes recommended by the special committee of last year seemed most needed, and most of them had been adopted. It recommost of them had been adopted. It recommost of them had been adopted. It recom-mended that no publishing outfit be at pres-ent provided by the board; that the business management be subdivided into a manufacturing and a publication and distributing turing and a publication and distributing branch, each under competitive bidding and contracts, the issuing of old books for cheap libraries to be donated to needly schools and mission stations. The report was accepted and made a special order for next Tuesday afternoon, at which time the report of the special committee presented by Mr. Simons will be also considered. Mr. Simons said that Judge Hand's committee had not consulted him since a preliminary meeting of both committees last November, although he was fully prepared to substanalthough he was fully prepared to substan-tiate the charges made last year and although it was appointed for the express purpose of reporting on the matters involved in those charges. "This may arouse as it did last charges. "This may arouse as it did last year, a good deal of warm debate when it comes up next Tuesday afternoon, hence we must conclude that this committee was entirely satisfied of the truth of the statement made in our report. Although we have requested the hearing repealed, up to the present time we have not been called on or given an opportunity to present the on or given an opportunity to present the reasons which led us to make the recommen-

George H. Hayes, D.D., of Kansas City thought that the committee should be dis-charged from further consideration of church unity with the Episcopal church and that we have as much inter denominational federa-

H. H. Rice, D.D., of Oskland, Cal., thought that no invidious exception of the Episcopalians be made or implied as if their peculiar notions were the principal obstacle to church units.

Dr. Alexander Proudfoot of Baitimore thought we ought to let our Episcopal brethren understand that we esteem our ordina-tion yows to be as sacred as theirs. If it is ettled that they are not going to recognize the validity of one organization it is time to stop. There are hopeful signs of improve-ment, especially in Virginia, where a Presoyterian was lately invited by an Episcopal prother not only to preach but to conduct

The prisoner was found guilty of murder in the first degree, his defense hav a, been insanity. He was sentenced by Judge Hamer to be hanged on September 6,1889. Judge Guslin refused to grant a new trial. After a delay of a year and a half the supreme court confirmed the rulings of the lower court, and re-sentencing Hauenstine to be hanged Friday, April 17, 1890, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

For some time the condemned man had been acting as if he were insane. It was rumored that he had lost his mind and some people endeavored to make it appear that Hauenstine was crazy when the crime was committed. Three days before the day on which Hauenstine was to have been hung, April 14. Judge Hamer, on application of Sheriff Jones, ordered an investigation to de-termine whether or not the insanity of the murderer was feigned or real.

That day, the case came up in Judge Hamer's court, County Attorney Campbell and Attorneys Blair and Kirkpatrick repre-senting the state. Mr. Sullivan appeared for the prisoner.

The jury was as follows: J. I. Dillenback, F. A. Thum, James Dinwiddie, Frank Mewbecker, J. C. Hunter, C. U. Richardson, John Curry, Nolan Webb, A. R. Huckleberry, A. Cross, T. H. McCarger, J. L. Compton.

A number of witnesses were examined and verdict was returned that the prisoner was sane. This was not rendered until early on Friday, the morning of the day on which Hauenstine was to have been executed. Previously to returning the verdict, and before the condemned and left the court-room, relatives of Roten and Ashley had taken seats near Hauenstine, and their action gave support to the rumer that the prisoner was not in safety. Deputy Sheriff Miller, however, took up a position between the relatives and the accused to afford the latter as much protection as possible. As a verdict to the effect that the man was sane was later returned, however, no violence was at tempted. Early Friday morning, and after the verdict of sanity had been returned, a telegram was received from Governor Boyd granting a stay of execution for thirty days.

Hauenstein has remained in his cell until he left it this morning for the scaffold.
