Assistant County Prosecutor Moriarty arose, and addressing the court, asked for a continuance of the case until some day next week, preferably Thursday or Friday. The prosecutor stated that Detective Haze, who had the case in charge, had been suddenly called away on an errand which it was impossible to delay.

Attorney Frank Ransom stated that the de-fense was ready for trial and urged an im-mediate hearing. The prosecution was nally prevailed upon to call what witnesses It was afterwards learned that Detective Haze's imperative business was a trip to Fremont to witness the hanging of Shepherd and Furst. When this was brought to the attention of the judge he said he would look into the matter. Real Pennington was the first witness called. He lives at Springfield, Sarpy county and knew Miss Beaver and her family. Wit

Judge Helsley then announced that the hearing would be continued until 2:30 p. m. The prisoners were again taken below and after the bandcuffs were placed upon them were leaded into the patrol wagon and returned to the county jail. Dr. Williams is

May Have Been Murder ELM CREEK, Neb., June 3 .- To the Editor of THE |BEE: In THE BEE of May 30 is a special telegram from this place in regard to the death of young Watson, who was running a barber shop here, in which there were several erroneous statements. The author of that telegram says "upon investigation it was found that he had shot himself." The fact is, there was no investigation. The coro-ner came and merely looked at him and pro-nounced it a plain case of suicide, and turned the body over to the undertaker.

Again he says: "The ball entered his head about an inch above his right eye and came out behind the left ear." Such was the decision of the coroner. Now as to the facts about that: Dr. Bathrick of this place and others believe that he had been shot twice. Acting upon that idea, a relative of Watson went to Kearney and got two physicians from there and with Dr. Bathrick made an examination of his head and found that the ball fired into his forehead had penetrated the brain and was extracted with difficulty. Another ball had entered above and back of the right ear, passing through the brain and lodged near the skin on the opposite side. From these and other facts in connection with the sad affair, a large number of the people of the town and surrounding country believe that instead of it being a plain case of suicide that it was a cold blooded murder and they will never believe otherwise. A good deal of indignation is felt and freely ex-pressed in regard to the way the coroner acted in the matter, but the matter is not likely to end here. Justice.

Expedition to Discover the Spot Sent Out by a Chicago Paper.

MISS TRACY KITZBERGER'S DEATH.

Longenecker Says He Hasn't Evidence Enough Yet to Warrant an Arrest -Swept from a Vessel and Drowned.

> CHICAGO OFFICE OF THE BEE, CHICAGO, June 5.

An expedition organized by the Chicago Herald yesterday sailed for the Bahama islands on the Ward line steamer Santiago from New York. The object of this expedition, which is composed of Walter Wellman, Washington correspondent of the Herald, Charles Lederer, the well known artist of the Herald as chief artist, a photographer, a servant and a mechanic, is to search out the spot where Christopher Columbus first set foot upon the soil of the new world. If successful in finding this spot, the location of which has hitherto been a matter of great doubt and of endless dispute between historians and geographers, the expedition will there erect a monument from the Herald to the great discoverer of America. HAVEN'T ENOUGH EVIDENCE!

The death of Tracy Kitzberger is still beng investigated by Chicago officers. State Attorney Longenecker said: "I still have officers working on the case, but have not sufficient evidence to warrant the arrest of Post Trader Finlay or any one else, I will admit that it looks bad for Finlay. Wny should a man in a responsible government position, a man who has a wife and child at one of the principal hotels of the city, take is wife's maid to a lying in establishment, introduce himself as her husband, visit her often during her illness, and then take her away! I suspect that all is not right, but we must have more evidence that a crime was committed before we can order an arrest. The officers working under me are trying to ecure such evidence.' NOBODY TRIED TO SAVE HIM.

In the furious storm of Wednesday morning Alexander Simpson, mate of the schooner N. B. Moore, was swept overboard and drowned. The schooner left Monominee on the previous afternoon bound for Chicago with a cargo of lumber. A dense fog made it impossible to see any distance ahead. No one saw him go overboard, and the first inti-mation of it was a piercing scream that came from the side of the vessel over which he had fallen. There were no hand rails, the lumber being piled ten feet above the edge of the ship. A sudden lurch and a dip into the trough of the sea, and the mate was pitched headlong into the water. One of the sailors telling the story last night said: "The cap-tain rushed forward and cried, 'How many men will man a boat and save Simpson! No ne answered, as it would have been as much as their own lives were worth to have entered a boat in such a sea. It was horribly dark and the schooner's light could not be seen ten yards away. We should have all been lost and the schooler as well if the boat had been launched. We felt pity for the poor fellow who was battling for his life, but dare not venture out to save him. We heard his screams several times after that, but they grew more indistinct until finally we heard them no more. We were about six miles off land. It may seem cowardly to let a comrade go down in that way, but it was that or our own lives, and we had to bring the ship safe into port. If half the crew had been lost, the rest would have not been able to manage the ship, and she would never have reached port.

IOWA'S POLITICAL SITUATION. "You can bet two to one on lowa as a re-publican state in a presidential election," said ex-Governor Samuel Merrill of Iowa at the Grand Pacine today. Although he has spent the last two years in California the veteran ex-governer still registers from Des Momes and the management of bis 29,000-acre farm on the Pacific slope does not prevent his keeping an interested evo on the affairs of the Hawkeye state. "In the campaign which resulted in the election of Governor Boles," said be, "an un-fortunate political situation and the liquor question were largely instrumental in bring-ing about the result. The radical elements on both sides of the liquor question are growing toward a compromise in the shape of local option and the party is not likely to repeat its mistakes of two years ago. The farmers' alliance has undoubtedly drawn more from the republican than from the democratic party, and like all secret political organizations is a very uncertain quantity when it comes to figuring on the outcome of a campaign. The 'vote for Jackson' policy of the democrats, on the other hand, keeps their organization comparatively intact, and when breaks occur in the ranks of their opponents they are usually in a position to go in and possess the land.

"General J. B. Weaver continues his efforts to get back into the house I see and now grasps at the new people's party as a mean to attain his object. As soon as I read the resolutions adopted at the Cincinnati conven tion I said 'that's Weaver,' although I didn't know until afterwards that he was there. Weaver is always on hand upon such occa-sions and is always ready to drop a party or a cause as soon as he has found that there is nothing in it for him."

Speaking of politics in California the governor said: "We have some prohibi-tionists and some alliance men out there, but neither of them have cut much of a figure so far. The prohibitionists draw mostly from the ranks of the republicans, but the alliance membership is about evenly divided between the two parties. The democracy includes the same elements that it does in other states There the old Spanish and Mexican element belong to it, and it would naturally be ex-pected to vote solidly as it does elsewhere, but the democrats have been in office so often that they have alienated a good many members of the party by their bad records, and some of the disaffected have gone over to the alliance.

Commenting on the principles and compo-nent elements of the two parties the governor said: "The democrats are not progressive; they always hang on behind. The republican party is not perfect, of course. It has had bad men in it, but it has always been the party of progress, and if the femocrats will give us twenty years more we will beat every country on the face of the earth in everything." Governor Merrill is on his way to Europe on a trip of rest and recreation, and expects to be absent about two months.

A TERRIBLE MISTAKE. Arthur McCariney, a venerable citizen of San Francisco who arrived at the Tremont house in company with his two daughters today, had a peculiar experience at Kansas City last night, where he was mistaken for Schweinfurth, the Rockford humbug. The fact that Mr. McCartney has his two daughters with him only made the situation more complicated, as it was reported that Schwein-furth was leaving the city and taking two of Kansas City's fair daughters with him. As Mr. McCariney was about to board the train he was surrounded by a howling mob and only saved bimself from vielence by drawing his revolver. Finally the mistake was covered and the leader of the mob apologized.

NEW YORK, June 5-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

While the hesitation in business has not ceased and decided activity is hardly extime crushing the store building of Edward pocted now until after the close of the fiscal year, it continues to be a matter of surprise and was killed. The administrator sued Meyer for $5,000, alleging negligence. The case was tried at the last term of court and a and congratulation that the money markets and trade have been so well sustained in spite of heavy exports of gold. At Savannah trade improves and at Jack sonville it is quiet and steady. In the great industries there is a better demand for iron as yet without change in prices. More orders

The special caution appears in the boo and shoe trades and abuses of credit are being corrected. In dry goods it is noted Misses May Adonis and Mollie Condon put the large andience in the best possible humor by playing the "fresist-ible Gallop." The musical programme was exceedingly MORTAR-SPOTTED SKIN. The tables, laden with every deli-cacy, were invitingly presided over as follows: Mesdames Susan McGuirck and George Klinger had table No. 1, Mes-dames James Powers and Frank Tobin at No. Covered with Scales, Awful Spectacle. Cured in Five Weeks by tl e Cuticura Remedies. 2. Mesdames Moses M. Redmond and Francis Boyle at No. 3, Mesdames Patrick Rowley and Morgan Heafey and Miss Minnie Raf

About the 1st of April last I noticed some red mples fike coming out all over my body, but and Morgan Heafey and Miss Minnie Raf-ferty at No. 4, Mesdames Daniel Rafferty and John J. Weir and Miss Annie Ryan at No. 5, Mesdames J. C. Nichols and Patrick J. McMahon at No. 6, Mesdames Thomas Rock and Edward Burke at No. 7, Mrs. Jennie Walker at No. 8, Mesdames Anna Murphy and Andrew B. Haley at No. 9 and Mes-dames Timothy J. Flaherty and Patrick Ries at No. 10. bought nothing of it until some time later on when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off In layers accompanied with itching. 2 [ I would scratch every night until I was raw; then the next night the scales being formed meanwhile were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the county, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement

In the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly cruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, until that been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the REMEDIES, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eccums and psorfasts. I know of a great many who have taken the REMEDIES, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers to he have babes with scaly cruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express my thanks to you. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful speciacie to behold. Now my skin is as clear as a babys. GEORGE COTEY, Merrill, Wis.
