Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of June, 1891. Notary Public.

SIoux CITY is busy organizing for her corn palace. Omaha should take the hint and begin work for an exposition.

MINNEAPOLIS is in the field for the next national republican convention. That she is in earnest is perfectly clear for her representatives are asking Chicago to help secure the prize for the flour city.

SEVENTY-SEVEN Sioux City saloons are paying the license of $50 per month imposed under the Palmer license law. The other half of the saloons will be compelled to close their doors as they cannot afford the price.

A CAMPAIGN of lies may be successful in a single election. The same lies will not carry the party uttering them successfully through the second contest.

It is why William McKinley, Jr., will be the next governor of Ohio, and the democrats will fail to resume business at the white house March 4, 1892.

PRESIDENT POLK, the greatest of the assistant democrats masquerading as alliance politicians, has entered upon an active campaign. He knows the situation in the north better than any man in the party and he proposes to devote his time to the ungenerous north.

ELAINE GOODALE, the postess of the Berkshire hills, remains constant to her Indian lover. Her taste may be questionable, but her constancy is commendable.

The visit of Hon. Benjamin H. Butterworth, secretary of the world's fair commission to this city and state should be made the occasion of awakening a general interest in Nebraska's exhibit at the fair.

J. H. AGER attacking the party fealty of the editor of THE BEE is an exhibition of gall which would appal any other corporation tool in the state, even one who has served his masters as secretary of the board of transportation.

S. L. BRASS of Juniata, a warhorse of democracy, who carries saddle marks made forty years ago, is out in a card resigning his membership of the central committee of his party in the Second congressional district and tearfully parting company with his old time Bourbon associates.

THE IMMIGRATION DISCUSSION. Interest in the immigration question appears to be unabated, and the indications increase that a stronger pressure for more restrictive legislation will be brought to bear on the next than was experienced by the last congress.

THE large increase in the immigration of the present year as compared with last explains the active interest in the question. The arrivals during the first three months of this year were over 61,000 in excess of the same period last year.

BUILD WAREHOUSES.

A few days ago THE BEE directed the attention of the farmer to the warehouse law and suggested that the alliances of the state should investigate its terms and prepare to take advantage of the opportunities it offers to the farmers of the state.

The warehouse bill was introduced and passed by people in nowise connected with the farmers' organization, but it is nevertheless the most important measure to that class of citizens which was enacted into a law by the last legislature.

Every grain elevator, warehouse and store house in Nebraska becomes common property to the extent that the producer may offer his product for storage upon payment of a reasonable compensation for the privileges.

The great difficulty when the coming crop is harvested will be to find storage for it. To this feature of the case the farmers should themselves turn their attention.

Later, provision should also be made to carry the corn over for the May market, which is usually far better than that of January, in which month Nebraska corn is usually sold.

THE progress of beet sugar production abroad, under the stimulus of liberal bounties, is the subject of a recent report to the state department by one of our consuls.

It appears that in 1890 the beet sugar production of the world was 1,774,000 tons, and five years later it had increased to 2,546,000 tons, exceeding the production of cane sugar.

Germany has recently had under consideration the question of reducing the bounty, and England has endeavored to institute a movement for a general abrogation of bounties.

Interest in the immigration question appears to be unabated, and the indications increase that a stronger pressure for more restrictive legislation will be brought to bear on the next than was experienced by the last congress.

year, and the increased rate seems to be maintained. It is claimed, also, that the proportion of undesirable persons coming in is greater than for several previous years.

There are difficulties in the way of the public ownership of the fighting plants in western cities which will probably postpone action looking in that direction for a long period.

LOWER CALIFORNIA belongs naturally to the United States, but it was not included in the cession which gave to the American republic the Mexican province of Alta California.

THE TREASURY AND THE BANKS. The consultation between the secretary of the treasury and the New York bankers, regarding the extension of 44 per cent bonds which mature in September, did not result quite as the secretary doubtless hoped.

THE Itata incident grows in confusing interest. If the little ship is returned to San Diego and its officers and crew are tried and convicted of violating the neutrality laws, what then?

NEWSPAPERS are like Providence in that they help those who help themselves. This suggestion naturally grows out of the contemplation of the assessment question.

THE Omaha Real Estate Owners' association might make a practical application of its articles of incorporation by assigning one of its committees to the general subject of taxation.

It is again about time to remind the board of education that the most popular and wealthy section of Omaha is very inadequately provided with school facilities.

AN emergency hospital in the heart of the city is essential to good government. To delay longer in providing this necessary relief for the unfortunate for whose immediate relief the city is responsible, is inexcusable.

clauses public ownership to be desirable and successful. The cost varies from 40 cents at Wheeling to $1.14 at Danville. Philadelphia has owned her gas works since 1841 and the cost there is 81 cents per thousand feet being slightly reduced year by year.

DRUG STORE LIQUOR SELLERS FINED. Introducing Iowa Bootlegging in Lincoln—Judge Mason's Appointment—A Change in Deputy Land Commissioners.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 8.—(Special to THE BEE.) On the 29th the supreme court will convene and a number of important decisions will be handed down.

DRUGGISTS FINED. Messrs. Ray, Kenny, Kostka and Plegonka, four of the druggists arrested on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday, were arraigned before Police Judge Houston this morning.

COMMISSIONER GENERAL MASON. It now appears that the appointment of Mason as commissioner general at the world's fair in 1893 hangs on the slenderest contingency.

THE Sol Denver jewelry company of Omaha has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

THE Lincoln circulation of THE BEE is never in better hands than it is at present. All subscribers are served promptly and fairly and courteously.

WASHINGTON STAR: What is needed in Philadelphia financial circles is less of an intercorporate currency.

A young lady from Boston was being helped to alight by a Fifteenth street uncle last night, when she knocked breathless after he had pressed her to have a heart or some ablety by saying sweetly: "No, none of the organs, if you please, uncle."

NOT AT HOME. Detroit Free Press. "She's not at home," the flunky said. And looked about the young man's head. "Is this really a calling card, sir?" "O, no, she's not at home to you, sir."

Mr. Rosewater Abroad.

Hon. E. Rosewater, proprietor of THE OMAHA BEE, who sailed for Europe on the Normans, had an interview with Secretary Foster at the Fifth Avenue hotel before his departure.

"The recent Italian outrages at New Orleans," said Mr. Rosewater, "have been used as an argument against allowing foreigners to come to this country, but it is not a fair argument."

Secretary Foster listened to Mr. Rosewater's words with great interest, and interrupted him frequently with questions.

Mr. Rosewater got abroad as the official representative of Postmaster General Wadsworth. He bears with him letters to the postal authorities of France, England, Austria and Germany.

It is too bad that it is necessary to bring before the attention of the state board of transportation the urgent demand for action on the question of railroad rates.

OMAHA will make a strong bid before the national republican committee to have the next national convention held in Omaha.

At the present rate of increase in the number of bicycle riders in the country, how long will it be before the nation will be on wheels?

Business must be extremely dull with the Omaha World-Herald when the management sends out its managing editor and head advertising man to write up and hustle business in the country towns of the state.

Butte Miner: The Itata is coming back to get another load. St. Louis Republic: The Itata having surrendered at her own convenience, Mr. Bianco can now proceed to turn her loose again at his leisure.

EVERYTHING HAS A PROSPEROUS LOOK. Gold Will Come Back From Europe to Pay for Grain—The Alliance and Its Heresies—Chicago's Whitechapel Club.

New York, June 8.—(Chauncey M. Depew got home yesterday morning from a western trip in which he combined business and pleasure-making with his usual veracity.)

"I left New York for the purpose of attending the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company and the election of a board of directors, as I do every year."

"It was then that the management of the Northwestern said that there was danger at least that the eastern experience might be repeated in the west of Chicago and that it was best in time of prosperity to prepare for such an emergency by the accumulation of a reserve fund of 7 per cent upon the preferred and 6 upon the common stock."

At the present rate of increase in the number of bicycle riders in the country, how long will it be before the nation will be on wheels? Liberty on a bicycle and Uncle Sam posed with a baseball bat would be correct emblematic figures of the land of the free.
