

THE OMAHA BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS. OFFICE: NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by Carrier in any part of the City. H. W. TILTON, MANAGER

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 43. Night Editor, No. 21.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. P. Co. Council Bluffs Lumber Co., coal. Crafts' chattle loans, 204 Sapp block.

Wanted—A good girl for general housework at 610 Bluff street.

If you want water in your yard or house go to Hixby's, 302 Merriam block.

Regular meeting of Harmony chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, this evening.

M. Wall was arrested yesterday charged with having stolen a coat and vest from Masa Wison.

Regular meeting of Unity Guild with Mrs. Walter Young, South First street, tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock.

F. S. Caldwell was fined $3.75 in police court yesterday morning for drunkenness and disturbing the peace by fighting on Broadway.

The funeral of Nellie Olive Rasmussen will occur this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, 719 South Eighth street. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

The Sons of Veterans gave their first ball since the organization of the camp in this city in the Grand Army hall last evening.

A good-sized crowd was present, and the dancing was highly enjoyed.

The entertainment which was to have been given Tuesday evening in the Berean Baptist church, under the auspices of the Berean Literary and Social circle, was postponed on account of the rain until this evening.

Front West commenced a suit in the district court yesterday against J. P. & J. N. Cassidy to recover $400 damages which he suffered by being kept out of the possession of eighty acres of land in Pottawatomie county.

"Little Miss Mab," as played by the Spooner comedy company last night, was one of the richest treats Council Bluffs and goes have had for a long time.

All the members of the company carried their parts well and Little Cecil bore off a large share of the honors of the evening.

Evening the same company will present "Chin."

A meeting will be held this evening at the Trinity Methodist church for the purpose of hearing the annual reports of the trustees.

The year has been one of great prosperity for the church and there will no doubt be a large audience present to hear of the same.

That has been made. Ice cream and cake will be served by way of refreshments and there will be no charge. All are invited to be present.

Chief Cary has received a letter from ex-Officer Noyes, who wants to be reinstated in his old place on the police force.

His letter rather threatening in tone and among other things he says that if his request is not heeded at once he will go before the city council and have Cary's salary reduced from $100 to $50 per month.

The matter will probably be called up for an examination at the next council meeting.

James Maher doubts the charge of assaulting and robbing Dr. Daniel. He says that he started with Darrell and another young man for a good time in Omaha.

On the motor he and Darrell got to quarreling and rather roughly, the resistance of the latter, when his friend knocked out of his hand, and that is all there was of the row.

There was no robbery or anything being on it and he thinks the charge will probably be dismissed.

Sam Glover had a hearing yesterday morning in Justice Swearingen's court on the charge of having robbed the residence of Cal Shafer.

Evidence was introduced to show that he had been hanging around the house during the day, and the following goods which were found on him when arrested were readily identified by the owner.

He was held to await the action of the grand jury and his bond was set on the default of which he will go to the county jail.

A lawn fete was given last evening on the lawn of E. M. Banker, at the foot of Willow avenue, in the interests of the Young Men's Christian association.

The weather was all that could be desired, and a large crowd assembled to enjoy the festivities. The lawn was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns, and little tables were scattered around where the guests could eat ice cream and cake.

The fete was a success, and quite a large sum was realized as the result.

John Grant, the engineer at the Ogden house, got into a row with the boys of the same establishment yesterday. The bell boy, who is about three feet high, threw a cuspidor at Grant, and the latter, who tips the bell boy, was so angry that he threw a cuspidor at the boy, who was so angry that he threw a cuspidor at Grant.

That something desperate must be done in order to prevent blood from being shed on the marble floor of the hotel in a red, red pool. He accordingly struck the little fellow a terrific blow, as he says, from motives of self defense.

An information was filed in superior court and Grant was arrested. He will have a hearing this morning.

Go and Hear Abbott. Next Sunday, August 23, Rev. Lyman Abbott, of Brooklyn, the successor of Henry Ward Beecher, will preach at the Blue grass palace, at Creston, Ia.

If there are twenty-five or more people in Council Bluffs who would like to hear this celebrated orator, arrangements can be made to run a special train to Creston, the train to leave Council Bluffs at 6 o'clock a. m., and returning will arrive in Council Bluffs at 10:10 p. m.

Names of those who intend to go should be left at my office not later than Friday the 21. Our fare will be called and trip.

O. M. BROWN, Ticket Agent C. B. & Q. railway.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Matt Steadman of the United States secret service is in the city.

Rev. S. Alexander is confined to his bed by a severe attack of rheumatism.

Lewis Miles of Corydon is in the city on business connected with the federal court.

T. C. Dawson has been admitted to partnership with Attorney General John Y. Stone.

Miss Laura Joseph of Salida, Colo., and Mrs. Whitehead of Grand Junction, Colo., are in the city visiting their father, H. J.

Colonel John Fox has gone to Kansas, where he will visit friends. He will install officers for Encampment No. 24, United Veterans Legion, at Atchison.

John T. Hazen, a prominent citizen of Avoca and a prominent candidate for the nomination for sheriff on the democratic ticket, was in the city yesterday.

Colonel J. J. Steadman leaves today for Redfield, where he will address the Association of Veterans of that place. Tomorrow he goes to Nevada to address the Association of Veterans of Story county.

Pianos, organs, C. B. Music Co., 639 Broadway.

A SEVEN DAY BLANKET SALE.

A Sensational Novelty Sale Prepared by the Boston Store, Council Bluffs.

The remarkable sale of blankets and comforters starts on Saturday, August 22, and it will afford the opportunity of the year for people to make profitable investments in all grades of bed clothing.

All blankets and comforters at actual cost for seven days. The stock of these goods is the largest ever brought to the Missouri river valley. One job consists of the entire spring output of one of the largest woollen mills in Iowa.

The others comprise the best California and New York mills goods.

Boston Store, Council Bluffs.

Rush Job Printing.

Or regular work for Omaha, or Council Bluffs parties or anyone else, done promptly and properly at Pryor's Bee job office, 12 Pearl street, Council Bluffs.

Prices are always as low as is consistent with good work.

Swanson music company, 335 Broadway.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Sensational Trial in Which a Supposed Preacher Plays a Part.

HAD BEEN A TRAMP FOR MANY YEARS.

Story of a Recent Religious Disturbance and the Damaging Disclosures Resulting from the Legal Investigation Thereof.

San Shandien was before Justice Swearingen yesterday afternoon for a trial on the charge of disturbing a religious meeting.

The trial lasted all the afternoon until after 6 o'clock, and then it was not completed, the state having several more witnesses to produce.

A number of witnesses testified, most of them being connected with the Finnish mission on North Eighth street, which had some notoriety a few weeks ago on account of certain rumors to the effect that the founder of the mission did not treat his lady members in the way that the strict rules of etiquette demanded.

Among the witnesses was a long, thin man in his shirt sleeves, who pleaded guilty to being the chief exhorter of the mission.

He told the story of the disturbance last Sunday night, making Shandien the main offender. When Judge Aylesworth, the attorney for the defense, got hold of him for a cross examination, he succeeded in getting some very damaging admissions out of him.

He found that the tall thin exhorter had run away from his wife and family in Michigan several years ago and had not heard anything from them since.

The attorney, by means of a number of questions, elicited the fact that the exhorter had spent the most of his time for the last few years in going about the country in regulation tramp style, and he traced him from Michigan to San Francisco and from Berkeley to Crescent City with fearful rapidity.

When supper time came a continuance was taken until tomorrow.

Health and Colfax. Round trip tickets to Colfax Springs and return only $7.90. A. T. Elwell, ticket agent Chicago & Rock Island R'y., No. 16 Pearl street.

Drs. Woodbury, dentists, 30 Pearl street, next to Grand hotel. Telephone 145. High grade work a specialty.

Plenic at Manhattan beach. Round trip tickets from Omaha, including boat ride, 50c; on sale at news stands at Millard and Murray hotels.

C. M. & A. Banquet. The Catholic Mutual Benevolent association held a banquet last evening in Hughes' hall which was largely attended.

The banquet occupied the first part of the evening and was followed by the intellectual part of the feast. George F. Hughes officiated as toastmaster in a very acceptable manner.

The following toasts were responded to: The speaker in each instance being greeted with hearty applause. "The Future of the World," "Social Intercourse," Rev. Father O'Rourke; "Our Common Humanity," Judge W. L. Smith; "What is There Left to Us," Say J. M. Galvin.

The toasts were generously interspersed with music furnished by Mrs. George F. Hughes, Miss Tudie Wickham, Miss Jennie Kratz, Mr. George F. Hughes, and E. A. Ingoldst. The accompanists were Prof. Slins, Mrs. George F. Hughes and Miss Kratz.

The program was a success, and the affair was a decided success, and those who arranged it are deserving of great credit.

Artesian Water. Water from the Milwaukee artesian well, for drinking purposes, delivered from one of the private families at a nominal rate. Address, Water, Bize office.

Justice Cones has unearthed a new legal point which will probably have some interest in certain quarters. The case of J. H. Vernon against J. M. Shea, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $75 rent from the defendant by means of a landlord's writ of attachment, was begun in his court several days ago but Shea wanted a change of venue for the ground that the court was prejudicial.

The necessary affidavit was filed forthwith and Shea claimed his right. Justice Cones, however, refused to grant the continuance, and Shea was forced to pay, and left the office.

When the time came which had been set for the trial of the case, Shea was not there, and the justice went on and heard the evidence and rendered a judgment against him upon a default for the whole amount asked for. Cones looks for a large sum of money on the moon as soon as Shea gets around to do the decorative work, and it is probable the district court will be called to render a decision on the merits of the case.

Removal sale. Burgains in Shoes. L. Kimball will remove from 323 Broadway to No. 11 Pearl street.

The Y. M. C. A. lawn social will be given tonight as the rain prevented last night. Remember the place, 816 Third avenue.

Mulvaney is Discharged. The trial of Isaac Mulvaney on the charge of making a criminal assault on his daughter, was tried in Justice Hamann's court yesterday afternoon. The daughter, Biach Mulvaney, was put upon the stand and testified that her father had never mistreated her in any way.

She also signed her name in order that her father should be discharged from the signature of the letter which was sent to her sister, Eva Bellfield, and in which the accusations were first made against her father.

The nature of the case, Shea was not there, and the justice went on and heard the evidence and rendered a judgment against him upon a default for the whole amount asked for. Cones looks for a large sum of money on the moon as soon as Shea gets around to do the decorative work, and it is probable the district court will be called to render a decision on the merits of the case.

Chautauqua Games. Instructive and entertaining for young and old. Address Home Entertainment company, 12 Pearl street, Council Bluffs.

Buy your furniture, carpets, stoves and household goods of Mandel & Klein, Council Bluffs. Prices very low; freight prepaid to your city.

Old Settlers' Picnic. Today is the day set for the picnic of the old settlers of Pottawatomie, Mills and Fremont counties at Fairmount park, and if the weather remains favorable, a most enjoyable evening.

Desire to Die. Another fallen woman tried to reach the nearby gates last night via the morphine route. Addie Mullen, who lives at 818 Dodge street, received a letter from her brother in Colorado stating that he was dying and asking for money. This the woman did not have, and it made her so despondent that she took a large dose of morphine.

She was found later by a couple of friends lying on her bed and screaming. Her body was summoned and a stomach pump applied. Friends cared for the unfortunate and at midnight she was being walked up town down Dodge street to keep her awake. The woman will live.

Woe of a Wrecker Man. A wreckerman man of Fourteenth street, near Dodge, had a little fire by his lonely abode last night. He was trying to turn on more fluid in his gasoline lamp and the whole thing exploded. Wrecker and bread were thrown all over the street by the shock, and the vendor received quite a severe burn on his left hand, besides having his moustache and eyebrows singed off. Besides the total wrecking of his outfit, and the slight burns no damage was done.

Took His Roll. Norm Hawkins and Millie Owens, two fast women, rolled a drunk in a Capitol avenue saloon last evening. He acted so queer that in appreciation Joanna Hoff received the nothing "just as good when you can obtain the genuine article which must have the signature of the 'H' on the neck of every bottle. Take no other.

TWO YOUTHFUL DESPERADOES

Iowa Boys Turn to Crime and Murder Their First Victim.

WELL ARMED WITH KNIFE AND PISTOL.

Terrible Real Life Drama in Which the Principals are Placed Behind Iron Bars Before Their Weapon Dries.

KNOWSVILLE, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Yesterday afternoon two boys, aged eleven and fifteen respectively, armed themselves with a revolver and knife and started out to play the part of desperadoes. When about two and a half miles from town they saw a man by the name of Marsh with a team coming to the city.

They turned toward town and asking permission to ride got into the wagon. After riding a short distance one of the boys asked Mr. Marsh if his team would run if he should fire a revolver, to which Mr. Marsh said it would.

The boy then got up and stabbed Marsh in the back with a large butcher knife, inflicting a serious if not fatal wound. The boys were promptly arrested and lodged in jail and were their preliminary examination as soon as the wounded man's condition is determined.

Tariff Discussion in Iowa. LEWISIA, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Hon. Roswell G. Harr of Michigan delivered a rousing two hours' speech here tonight to a large audience of both parties.

He took as an illustration the difference between the two leading parties on the tariff question, the republican and democratic theories of protective duties to the cost of the necessities of life by having a tariff on articles which can't be produced in this country, which tariff must of necessity be added to the cost price of the article.

He referred to the republican theory of protective duties by building up home manufactures and home companies. He took as an illustration the republican theory such articles as salt, hardware, woolen goods, etc., showing how the increase in tariff builds up home manufactures and increases the demand for the price to the consumers.

He referred with words of praise to the McKinley bill, and said an amendment should be made to the tariff which would raise the price. He paid a glowing tribute to the republican party, and advised the people to support a man for chief magistrate of the state who will at least tell the truth about the state when away from home instead of trying to suppress the truth to slander the best state in the union.

This was one reason why he liked the republican party. It was for our own country, our own people, our own interests, and he had good advice to give to the other fellows give it leftwards.

Sensation in Cedar Rapids. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The bogus delegates to the colored anti-prohibition convention held here yesterday who were ousted from the meeting, held a separate meeting last night.

At this meeting a letter was read by Colonel A. C. O'Connell, president of the convention, in which he stated that he was in Providence, R. I., which intended to show up the record of C. H. J. Taylor, while he was United States minister to Liberia. It alleged immoral practices upon defenseless colored girls; that he departed from Liberia in a motor car; that he was a drunkard; and that he had been arrested for drunkenness.

Mr. Taylor immediately took action and he also took steps to bring suit against the Republican for $1,500 damages, out of it he has received $1,000. The Republican publican agreeing to make a retraction. Mr. Taylor of Kansas city addressed the delegates to the anti-prohibition convention last night. It has created quite a sensation.

Militiamen in Clover. INDIANOLA, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—To say that this year's crop of Old Time corn at Camp Sherman is called after the name of the old time corn is a pronounced success is stating it mildly. The men of the various companies are thoroughly enjoying themselves and are receiving a generous amount of instruction at the same time.

Tomorrow is Governor's day and his excellency the governor, General Green, will be in attendance to witness the review and parade. General H. H. Wright, brigade commander of Centerville was expected to arrive today.

Inhuman Work of Tramps. MANSFIELD, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—When freight train 38, west bound, pulled in here late last night, you for help came from an empty box car. The trainmen found within a nearly naked, bruised and bleeding Swede, who told of inhuman treatment at the hands of three tramps while coming from Iowa city. They had stripped him of clothing, watch and $1 in money. His ears had been bitten through and he had been severely beaten and bleeding where the tramps had beaten him with the butt of a revolver.

Freeman Killed at Boone. BOONE, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Ed Phelan, a Chicago & North-western brakeman, was run over by the cars while switching at Gilbert, in Story county, this morning, crushing his leg. He was taken to his home here and died this afternoon.

Switchman Instantly Killed. MISSOURI VALLEY, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Lewis Herrick, a switchman, fell from a moving engine today and was instantly crushed to death. He was subject to heart trouble, which probably was the cause of his fall. He leaves a wife and three children.

BLOOD ON THE MOON. Difference of Opinion That is Exciting Bassett and Ainsworth. BASSETT, Neb., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—There is at the present time "ber-lud" all over the face of fair Iowa whenever a club is in the vicinity of either Bassett or Ainsworth, and the cause thereof is all on the account of some difference of opinion as to which of the two towns possesses within its limits the best bass ball club. Last Friday morning the Ainsworth nine arrived in Bassett to show our willow busters how the little game is played, and, if possible, carry our scalps back to their native land without even allowing the Bassett nine the blessed privilege of dying of third base. But the fates had decreed different. At the end of the fourth inning the score stood 2 and 2, with a good show for Bassett to take the lead.

At this important moment a little controversy arose in regard to a foul ball, and the matter was argued at length in a kind of a four-sided argument. Each of the clubs had its own opinion, and it was not long that the umpire had his, and the spectators were very loud in proclaiming their opinions, and the consequence was that the Ainsworth nine, who were the victors, returned home, but not satisfied.

They immediately placed a good sized chip, valued at about $50, on their shoulder and dared Bassett to knock it off. Bassett was to be outdone, did not stop at a little chip, but took the whole block of wood, said it was worth $100, and placed it in a very conspicuous spot.

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

"Last week I spent a couple of nights on the lake pulling out bass—nothing but bass you know, because by this new scheme a man can pick and choose his fish before he catches them."

"The fish are attracted by the light and swim toward it to investigate the unusual phenomenon that had started them. Somewhat timid at first, they soon grow bolder and swarm about the lamp. It is the easiest thing in the world then to drop a hook right under the biggest fellow in the lot—jerk and he is yours. No pole is necessary; a reel is useless; no bait is used—nothing but a line and a naked hook. It requires no skill to make a fine catch, and it's a rare sport."

TWO YOUTHFUL DESPERADOES

Iowa Boys Turn to Crime and Murder Their First Victim.

WELL ARMED WITH KNIFE AND PISTOL.

Terrible Real Life Drama in Which the Principals are Placed Behind Iron Bars Before Their Weapon Dries.

KNOWSVILLE, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Yesterday afternoon two boys, aged eleven and fifteen respectively, armed themselves with a revolver and knife and started out to play the part of desperadoes. When about two and a half miles from town they saw a man by the name of Marsh with a team coming to the city.

They turned toward town and asking permission to ride got into the wagon. After riding a short distance one of the boys asked Mr. Marsh if his team would run if he should fire a revolver, to which Mr. Marsh said it would.

The boy then got up and stabbed Marsh in the back with a large butcher knife, inflicting a serious if not fatal wound. The boys were promptly arrested and lodged in jail and were their preliminary examination as soon as the wounded man's condition is determined.

Tariff Discussion in Iowa. LEWISIA, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Hon. Roswell G. Harr of Michigan delivered a rousing two hours' speech here tonight to a large audience of both parties.

He took as an illustration the difference between the two leading parties on the tariff question, the republican and democratic theories of protective duties to the cost of the necessities of life by having a tariff on articles which can't be produced in this country, which tariff must of necessity be added to the cost price of the article.

He referred to the republican theory of protective duties by building up home manufactures and home companies. He took as an illustration the republican theory such articles as salt, hardware, woolen goods, etc., showing how the increase in tariff builds up home manufactures and increases the demand for the price to the consumers.

He referred with words of praise to the McKinley bill, and said an amendment should be made to the tariff which would raise the price. He paid a glowing tribute to the republican party, and advised the people to support a man for chief magistrate of the state who will at least tell the truth about the state when away