AS TO NON-PARTISAN JUDGES

Opinion of a Prominent State Attorney on an Absorbing Topic.

JUDGE WAKELEY DECLINES PROMOTION.

Danger Republicans Are in On the Supreme Judge Issue-Citizens' Tickets Under the New Law.

A Bee representative saw a prominent attorney of the state who, among other things, was asked the following questions:

"What do you think of the proposition to have the republicans and democrats nominate the judges now on the district bench?"

"There can be doubt from the general sentiment, not alone of the bar," was the reply, but also of the people of the Fourth judicial district, that the district court bench, as now constituted, should be renominated in its entirety by both the democratic and republican parties. Of course this will give the four judges-Wakeley, Doane, Ferguson and Irvine-to the democrats; while the republicans will only get three-Davis, Hopewell and Estelle. It is to hoped that it will not be necessary to call a bar meeting for the purpose of taking action in the matter, as every one of these gentlemen have already received the hearty appproval of the bar of the district, and if the republican and democratic parties desire to voice the sentiment of the people they will unhesitatingly nominate all seven judges. Should they not do so there will be the same kind of a judicial fight that there was four years ago when the bar and the citizens generally took the matter out of the hands of the politicians and almost unanimously elected the judges."
"Who do you think will be the successor of Judge Cobb! What are the politicians doing

"For the first time in the history of Ne-braska there is a possibility of a judge other than a republican being elected as associate justice of the supreme court. There was an effort on the part of some attorneys, backed by railroad and corporation interests to get up what they are pleased to denominate a non-partisan ticket. This was to be brought about by the members of the entire bar of the state meeting in a sort of con-vention at Lincoln and nominating or suggesting to the democratic and republi-can parties the name of some prominent attorney for nomination by the two parties; but the course that THE BEE has taken as well as the cold water that has been thrown well as the cold water that has been thrown upon the matter by leading attorneys throughout the state, has virtually killed this movement. Besides it is well known that Judge Wakeley has absolutely and positive the state of th tively declined to be a candidate for the supreme judgeship, and as his name was prominently used by the advocates of this non-partisan business, they are decidedly at sea, as in order to succeed they are aware that they must have some one who will carry Douglas county almost unanimously. The present indications are that Judge Broady will be the nominee of the democrats, and should there be a non-partisan meeting held, he will probably be nominated by that body, also as it is understood that nothing but a democrat will be accepted by the non-parti-sans. There are two prominent candidates in the republican ranks for the judgeship, Judge Cobb and ex-Judge Reese, both of Lincoln. From all that can be learned the fight be tween them and their supporters will be very bitter. Judge Cobb declines to be shelved at this time because of the fact that the Boyd decision is creating great opposition to his candidacy and he refuses to retire in the face of the enerry, but will do everything to re-cive the nomination. Judge Reese, on the other hand, will be strongly supported by the anti-monopoly wing of the republican party, and if he is nominated will undoubtedly draw very strongly from the alliance candidate. So that with the three candidates, democratic, republican and alliance it will be very hard for any one to foretell the political complexion of the next fudee of the supreme court."

"Will the Australian ballot law, in your opinion, interfere with any citizens' movement of a non-partisan character?''

''No; it will not for the reason that section 5 of the Australian ballot law provides among other things as follows: That the electors, fifty in number, of any city, county or district, have a right to assemble and nominate a candidate or candidates for office, so that for example, if the republican and demo-cratic parties should decline to nominate the present judges of the district court of this district fifty electors could assemble within not less than tweive days of the election and place them in nomination and by fliing with the county clerks of the counties composing the district the names of the candidate or candidates such action would procure their names printed upon the ballot."

SETTING TYPE BY MACHINERY.

The New Method is Meeting With Great Favor in Chicago.

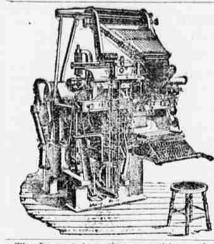

EXPERIENCE OF THE NEWS OFFICE.

Twelve Machines in Successful Operation for the Past Two Years-Important Contest to be Held in October.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 5 .- Special to THE BEE. |-The prospects are that the type-setting on all the daily newspapers of Chicago will in the very near future be done by machinery.

Two of the offices—the Evening Journal and the Daily News-have already made the experiment and the Inter-Ocean will very shortly do so. Fifteen machines of the Mergunthaler pattern are now being put into the latter office. The News has twelve Mergunthaiers which have been an operation in that office for two years. The machines for the Inter-Ocean office are a later design of the same make and the inventor claims for them some superiority over the old. Superintendent Wright of the News office, however, expressed entire satisfaction with the operation of their machines.

"Like any other machine they need repairs occasionally," said he, "and owing to the number we have in use we have a man to look after them and keep them in order. In the main, however, they work very satisfac-

The Journal has three machines of the Thorne pattern. These machines set up type and distribute it again while the Mergunthater sets each line in a solid stur which is melted up again like a sterotype plate. The latter is managed by one person, while the Thorne requires two men and a boy in its operation. The Thorne's have been in the Journal office about a year, but got out of or-der owing to some difficulty with the manufacturers as to the question upon whom should fall the cost of repairs are not now in use. I was told that in addition to the objection that they require three persons to man them, the Thorne machines break a good deal of type and these type, while differing somewhat from those used by com-positors, are just as expensive. At the Jour-nal office there has been some little dfliculty with the Typegraphical union which insisted that only union men should be employed and that they should be paid for ten hour's work although the machines could be used in composition about seven hours daily. As they are self distributing the three hours which compositors employ in distributing were lost. Superintendent Hutchinson said that with the Thorne an expert operator was able to do about four times as much as could be done by

At the News office I was told there had fact that an operator does or does not belong to the union cuts no figure. The News pays 12 cents per 1,000 for machine work and 41 cents for ordinary composition. The average cents for ordinary composition. The average rate on the Mergunthaler is between 25,000 and 30,000 ems daily. Several of the machines are operated by women who seem to have as little difficulty in handling them as they do the ordinary type-writer. So far as the method of operating them is concerned they are practically the same thing.

Both the Herald and Post will probably be the machinese within a very little of the same thing.

set up by machinery within a year. Mr. Scott has been interested in the perfection of type-setting machines from the start, and as soon as he can determine which of the many designs is most practicable, both offices will be supplied with them.

A contest which is to take place here next month will have a marked effect on the ques tion of adopting the machines, not only in Chicago, but all over the country. The contest will take place in the Evening Post building under the auspices of the American Publishers' association, of which William Scott is president. All the various designs will be represented and each machine will be manned by an expert. A private contest at which only newspaper publishers will be present, will be conducted for one week beginning October 12, after which the doors will be thrown open to all who have any legitimate interest in the subject. The contest will be under the direct management of a committee specially appointed for the pur-pose, consisting of Woods of the Boston Heraid, Driscoil of the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, and Richards of the Indianapolis News. The copy will be prepared by Mr. Woods and run out in long and short takes just as it would be in a daily newspaper office, and an afternoon paper will be printed at 1, 2 and 3 o'clock. This copy will be pre-pared secretly, so that all the operators will pared secretly, so that air the operators win be on an equal footing so far as a knowledge of the matter to be set up is concerned, and no one will be permitted to get an unfair ad-vantage of his competitors by committing the subject matter to memory and thus save the time required in looking at his copy.
"I think there is no doubt that machiner, of some sort will do the type-setting in al metropolitan offices in the near future. the business manager of one of the Chicago dailies. The saving in time and money is very great, and the work is as satifactory as that done in the old way. I do not apprehend any difficulty with the typographical unions for two casons: first, because printers are the most ntelligent of all skilled workmen and can see plainly the business principles which wil necessitate the adoption of the new method: secondly, opposition on their part would be of no use, because the newspapers would be practically independent of them. It does not require years of apprenticeship to set type by the new method as it does by the old, anyone who can use a typewriter can man-age a typesetter. Even a novice can set as much type in a day as a good printer, and an expert can do the work of three or four.
