WEARERS OF WHITE RIBBONS

Nebraska's Women Temperance Workers in Their Seventeenth Annual Session.

DR. DURYEA SCORED IN A RESOLUTION.

Reminiscence of the Late Prohibition Campaign Made a Matter of Record-Naughty Men Get a Scoring.

The state convention of the Nebraska Woman's Christian Temperance Union is now fully under way at the First Methodist church, and is attended by about 200 dele gates

By means of Japanese parasols and potted plants and festooning of cards, forming a long ribbon that ran threa times around the gallery of the auditorium, and banners stationed at various points throughout the house, the convention room presented a striking and peculiar appearance The auditorium was divided today. Into sections representing the districts of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the state. Each delegation was assigned a certain number of paws and these sections were designated by card tanners about 10x14 inches in size with the name of the district printed upon them. The president, Mrs. Mary A. Hitchcock of Fremout: the vice president, Mrs. Caroline M. Woodard of Saward: the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Octavia H. Jones of Hust-ings; the recording secretary, Miss Ella M. Watson of Beliwood, and the treasurer, Mrs. Mary M. Lantry of Omaha were all present and were ready for their official duties and were ready for their official duties. After the consecration meeting, which began at 9 o'clock and lasted half au hour, the regular business of the opening session was taken up The secretary read the reports of reveral committee meetings that had been held during the past year.

Dr. Duryca Again.

Considerable discussion areas over the adoption of a resolution passed by the executive committee with reference to something Dr. Duryea had been reported to have said

The executive committee has heard that Dr. Duryea had said that the Woman's Christian Temperance union had endeavored to break down the reputation of Omaha by circulating false reports with regard to elec-tion frauds and outrages at the polls. The The committee passed the resolution flatly con-tradicting the statement and administering a scathing repuke to Dr. Duryea for making

Some of the ladies thought the language was rather barsh. Others held that if Dr. Duryea had used the language imputed to him the resolution passed by the executive committee should be adopted by the conven-

Mrs. Clark of Omaha stated that Dr. Duryen had explained his language in the newspapers by saying that he had reference to some of the prominent Woman's Christian Temperance union speakers who did not re-side in Nebraska. Mrs. Clark thought, however, that the resolution was all right, and the executive committee ought to be upheld in its action.

"I think we might pray for Dr. Duryea," suggested one of the delegates, "that is, if there are any of us who have grace enough to

"I have," said one of the secretaries of the convention The report, resolution and all, were adopted. The minutes of a number of meetings held y the executive and other committees were read and approved.

Wearers of the Queue.

The pages were Charlio Wong, Lee Goon, Lee Leon and Leo Yon. They could not understand the instruction and requests of the president and several of the Omaha ladies had to conch the polite young wearers of the queue in the performance of their work. The bland Mongolians were not tching the drift business and they became quite proficient in distributing programmes, envelopes, etc., be fore the morning session closed. The report of the general officers' meeting in July was read by the secretary and tion. "Let the dead past bury its dead" said the speaker. "Let us gird up our loins and press ou, taking these beautiful words by Frances E. Willard as our motto. She says: The Lord has not given me the spirit of fear, but of love, and of a sound mind." ' In her recommendations the president said : "I would remind the members of this organization that modest and correct styles of dress and pure morals go hand in hand." She said the many fantastic and immodest styles of dress, the gorgeous headgear and other vanities should be studiously avoided by the members of the Women's Christian Temperance union The president's address was indersed by a rising vote. Fraternal greetings from the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Nebraska Synod of the Lutheran church were presented by Rev. W. C. McKune of Ponca. The greetings were thankfully re-ceived and the committee on fraternal greetings was instructed to return the courtesy. Mothers' Meeting.

At 2:30 the mother's meeting was con-ducted by Mrs. Watson B. Smith, After Mrs. Smith had read a scripture lesson and Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt had offered prayer, Mrs. Rev. J. M. French read a paper pon the dangers that threaten the girls of American homes.

Mrs. Erenen thought the competent mother should be tircless in her efforts to keep the girls in the way of rectitude and purity. The lack of industrial training and much excite-ment in pursuit of social plensures was also a source of darger. The insidious fiend known as the seducer, was pointed out as the cause of a vast amount of sin and sorrow and shame. Mrs. French said that it was un-necessary to exaggrate the impurities of

nen. They were had enough. Miss Ripley of Kearney spoke upon the ubject, saving that the young women should be theroughly impressed with the idea that they should not permit young men to take undue personal liberties with them, such as taking them by the arm and laying their bands on their shoulders, etc. She thought that the girls were considerably to blame for the surfamess of men. The men were not the only sinners or earth by a long deal. Miss Ripley was applauled. Mrs. G. H. Webster read a paper upon "Women's Sphere." The paper was full of good points and was applauded.

Ballot a Cure.

Mrs. Bigelow of Lincoln said that the vices of society could only be cured by giving the women the ballot. Roy. Mrs. Anderson of Omana asked Mrs. Bigelow where the outcast woman of society tion. would be when the high moral mothers and sisters were marching up to the polls. She was of the opinion that the vicious outcast and degraded women would be justing the pure woman in a race to get to the polls.

Mrs. Bigelow answered the question by saving that there were more good women than bad enes, and therefore the balance of ower would be thrown toward the right. Rev. Mrs. Andrews said that good women outnumbered the bad women just as the good men outnumbered the bad ones, Half a dozen of the delegates were upon their feet in an instant to deny the statement that there were as many good men as good women in proportion to the number in each sex. It seemed to be the opinion of a number of the delegates that the men were a rather tough lot. One lady said that the bad men isually got into office, and if the women had the ballot that sort of business would be stopped. Mrs. Clark arose and said that she thought the discussion was drifting clear away from the topic under consideration.

Save the Boys Too.

The question box was then opened.

Dr. Langton was called upon to answer the question as to whether the same precaution should be taken to protect the morals of boys as to protect the morals of the girls. The lady said that when she contemplated the temptations and pit-falls that were constantly found in the pathway of the boys, she really wondered that any boy ever grew up to pure manbood. She thought that the fathers should have their eyes opened to the terrible temptations that neet their boys on every hand, and both mo hers and fathers should make greater effort to keep the boys out of the way of evil contamination.

Stuart: Miss Belle Wisdom, Inman; Mrs. O M. Leader, Chadron. HE HAS LIVED FOR IRELAND, Mrs. Leavitt's Address.

Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, who has been around the world as a Women' Christian Temperance union missionary, spoke last night at the First Methodist church to a large audieuce. The lady is thoroughly in-formed with regard to the work of enlightening and reforming heathen and pagan na-tions and particularly with reference to the progress and need of temperance work among the people of nearly nation on the face of globe. Her address was thoughtful, earnest and masterly. It was exceptionally free from acrimonious and vindictive assertions. Th lady impresses her audience as being a thor ough Christian woman possessed of an overmastering deaire to carry truth and purity to all the people that inhabit the earth.

Everybody knows that at this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulation of months of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores workshops and tenements. All these impuri-ties and every trace of scrofula, sult rheum, or other diseases may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier over produced. It is the only medicine of which "100 doses one doltar" is true.

The statement in last evening's World-Herald and BEE that the partnership existing between Henry A. Eastman and Thomas C. Brainard in the hotel business in Omaha, Neb., had been dissolved is incorrect and without any authority whatever.

Missionary Society of the Lutheran Church in Active Session.

The session yesterday morning of the state society and of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Nebraska Synod of the Lutheran church was taken up by the reports of officers and standing commtetes, reports of the delegates from the branch societies.

The report of the treasurer showed receipts during the year amounting to $594.55, with disbursements amounting to $566.97. The membership is 375, and the reports showed that the society and its branches throughout the state is in a flourishing condi-

The verbal reports made by the detecates from the various branch societies showed an encouraging condition existing in the affairs of the woman's society. The resolution proposed by the synodical committee was adopted as follows: "Resolved, That each auxiliary society and young people's society shall be limited to two voting delegates, and that each chil-dren's band shall be represented by its superintendent or leader," Following the reports of delegates, came the prayer service led by Mrs. Kimmel of Tekamah, the subject being "Temperance." Following this was a general discussion, during which many suggestions were made concerning the use of mile boxes. At noon the ladies were regaled at lunch prepared in the parlors of the church by the members of the local society. The afternoon session was opened by the usual devotional exercises. Mrs. Griffith, the delegate to the general convention held at Canton last May, presented her report, making menuton of everything of interest to the missionary workers.

the missionary workers. A paper on "How Shall We Train Our Workers!" was prepared by Mrs. Paul Hersh of Omaha, and read by Mrs. J. S. Detweiler. Mrs. C. W. Baker of Auburn read a paper entitled "How Shall We Train Our Members?" The discussion was closed by Mrs. J. W. Kimmel reading a paner on "How Shall We Train Our Committees?" These papers had all been createdly are These papers had all been carefully pre-pared, and the large audience enjoyed the discussion.

A missionary society in session and led by Mrs. W. A. Pike of Lincoln, occupied the next hour. The idea was to show just how a well organized mission society should be conducted. conducted.

His Broken Health Mended by Freedom's Invigorating Breezes-Pleasant Chat on His Personal Affairs and Plans.

Michael Davitt, the great Irish champion s in the city, the guest of Thomas Brennan Mr. Davitt has been taking a rest, under orders from his physicians, and is now o his return to Ireiand to renew the fight for the relief of an oppressed people. The distinguished agitator accorded a Ber representative an audience yesterday afternoon. He stated that his vacation had done him a world of good, and indeed he showed it, although he is by no means a picture of health and vigor. It is hardly probable that he ever will be, as his incarceration of nine long years in jail and the vigorous work of the best years of his life in the interests of the Irish people have sadly undermined his former robust constitution. "When I left Ireland, the 1st of last May," he said, "I knew that the place for me was on the Pacific coast. I had been there before, so the result has not surprised me.]

have devoted my vacation to absolute rest, and have made no addresses and taken no part whatever in politics. There is nothing of political importance attaching to my visit here. I am simply on my way home, and stopped here to see my old friend Brennan and give the children a chance to rest, as the trip is a long and tedious one. There is no one with me but my wife and two children. I will be ready for work as soon as 1 reach home, and will again buckle on the harness for the coming campaign. Next year is the general election, and of course it will not be known will be held in the spring or fall. That rests entirely with Lord Salisbury, and he will un-doubtedly dissolve parliament when he con-siders the outlook the most favorable for the success of his party. Home rule will of course be the principal issue, and lexpect o see Gindstone returned. The idea is strengthening with the British people that home rule is not only better for the Irish, but for the interest of the English people as "How about Irish immigration-is it dimin-

Your people have treated us most hospitably and we have been treated with the utmost fair-ness by the press of this phenominal city. Yes, I have good reason to remember Omaha, for during a former visit here I lay flat on my back for twenty-one days, very sick with a fever. adopted.

Some of the ladies wanted to re-quest THE BEE and World-Herald to have copies of their papers on sale at the church so that the delegates might get them.

One lady said that the convention should know something about how the papers proposed to treat the convention before sending them such a request.

Dr. Merrill was present and assured the ladies that they need have no fears as to the correctness and completeness of the reports that would appear in The BEE. The Methodist conference just closed had been liberally and correctly reported in The Beg all through, he said, and he thought the Women's Christian Temperance union would receive the same treatment.

Mrs. Briggs Will Speak.

A communication from Mrs. John S. Briggs of Omaha, one of the leading lady managers of the World's Columbian exposi-tion, was read. Mrs. Briggs suggested that she would be pleased to confer with the Woman's Christhu Temperance union con-cerning the interests of the organization at the World's fair. The convention then de-cided to give Mrs. Briggs an opportunity to speak before the convention at 2 p. m. or Thursday. The committee on enrolment of delegates The committee on enrollment of deleg then called for the credential certificates. The credentials committee reported that there were 116 delegates and twenty eight ex-officio members present.

The entertainment committee announced that lunch would be served at the First Christian church.

Some amusing remarks were made with regard to the manner of handing in names of delegates. Miss Ripley of Kearney said: "Madam President: I would like to sug gest that the ladies drop the custom of signing their pet names when they are conducting business matters, in this organization he would have made himself ridiculous by calling her Queen Kitty." At 1 o'clock the convention adjourned for lunch.

Address of the President.

The afternoon session of the Women' Christian Temperance union began at 2 o'clock and the first important matter taken up was the annual address of the president, Mrs. M. A. Hitchcock of Fremont, Mrs. Hitchcock said that the membership had 8,401 in the state. She suggested that if each member would get one more member and an honorary memoer the number could

Among the Children.

The president said that the work of securing signatures of the children upon the Loval Temperance legion cards had been pushed energetically and over 4,000 cards had been signed. This work would be continued and all the cards sent to the Women's Temperance union building at the Columbian expo

Speaking of the work done among the drouth stricken people last winter, Mrs. Hitchcock said that she had been almost entirely engaged in relief work for four months and that the various unions in those parts of the state not affected by the drouth had done excellent work.

The lines of the Western Passenger asso clation resolved not to join the Central Traffic association in making reduced rates for home visitors' excursions to points in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, but one by one they are meeting competition of outside lines. The object of the western roads in refusing to join in these excursions was to avoid demor-alization. The indications are that they will nave the demoralization without any profit as it is now too late to bring the people out by an announcement of low rates.

The reduced rates will undoubtedly apply from the Missouri river, but there is no probability of the reduction extending west of that line, as the transmissouri association decided against the making of such rates ou the ground that the western association had refused to adopt them.
