WORLD'S FAIR DEPARTMENTS.

Convention of Exposition Representatives of America Proposed.

WHAT EACH LOCALITY WILL FURNISH.

All May Explain the Work Under Consideration in Various Parts of the Union-Garden City Gossip.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE BEE. CHICAGO, IIL, NOV. 12.

Secretary Dickinson sent out notices today for one of the most important moetings that the World's fair managers have ever contemplated. It is to be a convention of the exposition representatives of the various states of the union with the members of the board of reference and control of the National commission and the local directory. Every state and territory of the union is asked and expected to send a representative, so that all may explain the work in various parts of the country and each state may learn the advantage of every plan followed in getting up exhibits. Each representative will be expected to tell, as far as possible, what his state expects to do, so that the convention will practically decide what the states of the union will display at the exposition. About 150 people are expected, includ-ing many ladies, and the meetings will be held on December 9, probably in the city

Mrs. Potter Palmer, president of the woman's board, adds to the invitation the statement that she desires all ladies who are members of the various state boards to be present in order that they may be made fully acquainted with the plans for promoting the exposition work of women.

Director General George R. Davis, who fell ill Sunday, is reported to be much better this morning. The colonel's condition on Monday was thought to be serious and it was feared he would be incapacitated for work for some time. The trouble was an affliction of the throat complicated by a lung difficulty, due to exposure in the inclement weather on Sunday.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the traffic managers today Jay Cox handed in a report showing that during October two more traffic associations of the Associated Railways of Virginia and the Carolinus, rep-resenting ten roads, and a freight traffic assoclation of the middle states, representing thirty-nine roads, has agreed to free return of exhibits for the fair. This leaves but one traffic association to take action. Sixty-six independent lines have made the same con-cession, making 400 lines in all that have agreed to return exhibits free.

TRADERS' BANK AFFAIRS.

Byron L. Smith, receiver of the Traders' bank of Chicago, filed a report before Judge Enepard today stating that he has on hand uncollectable bills and claims amounting to about $550,000. The receiver represented that it would cost more to collect these claims than could be received on them, and the court entered an order authorizing a sale of the assets to the highest bidder.

RECEPTION TO THE UNION PRINTERS. A reception was given to the union printers of the city this afternoon in the magnificant composing room of the New Herald building. The room is beautifully lighted, the cases all have iron frames, and each "alley" bears the Herald monogram in gilt. The copy cutter's box is furnished like a capitalists office, and all the finishings and furniture in the department is of oak.

BISHOP MERRILL IMPROVED.

The authorities at the Wesley hospital to-day reported that Bishop Merrill of the Methodist Episcopal church continues to im-prove, though rather slowly. He appears brighter than he has since his sickness and at his bedside have more ground to hope he will recover.

found until last Sunday, when a brawl in a

P. D. Armour's Generosity. Unprecedented interest is manifested in the exhibit by all classes. Everybody seems disposed to nid it to a successful issue. Mrs. E. A. Cudahy, wife of Omaha's great packer, recently wrote to Mr. Philip D. Armour, the Chicago millionaire, asking that gentleman to loan some of his valuable canvases for the occasion. Following is a copy of Mr. Aroccasion. Following is a copy of Mr. Ar-mour's generous reply: Unicago, Ill. Nov, 9.-My Dear Mrs. Cud-ahy: 1 have yours of November 8 and fully note it. I would gladly et you have any-thing I possess in the art line. I don't believe I really have anything worthy of the trouble of sending so far away. If your association wishes to send to my house and see what I have. I will see that anything selected is for-warded. I've no very expensive pictures, and have no treasures that compare with General Alger's. I've had two or three of mine in a gallery with his, and the contrast was so striking that I don't believe they compare favorably. At all events I've nothing to com-pare in cost with his. I really wish I had something to send you as I would particularly like to accommodate you; but I don't feel that my paintings would be of enough signifi-cance to send them that long distance.

that my paintings would be of enough signif-cance to send them that long distance. Mr. Layton has purchased most of them, and I think he has made very sensible selec-tions; but I've nothing notable. They are simply things that please my family, and my idea of such things is so simple that I hardly believe you would feel it much credit to you if I forwaried you anything.
