of a particular manufacture. The owner of every trademark is entitled to register the HOW TO SECURE A PATENT.

Directions to Inventors Issued by The Bee Bureau of Claims.

METHODS OF THE PATENT OFFICE.

The Course Followed by the Author of an Invention to Protect His Rights -Costs of Obtaining a Patent,

To the inventor the all important question presents itself. "How can I secure a patent!" and to this Tan Ban Bureau offers the following explanation :

as serving some purpose or other than as a mere designation or advertisement. Many Inventors as a class are not familiar with now holding certificates of registration of la-bels are totally without any protection whatthe laws under which letters patent are ever. Many registered labels comprise subgranted, the forms and practice in the patent office at Washington and the technical methods of casting specifications and claims to properly protect their inventions against infringers, yet the value of the patent and even its validity depend largely upon the careful and expert preparation of the case. Specifications must be drawn to fully dis close the invention, to distinguish betwee photographs, paintings, pictures, etc. The total cost thereof is about $6, including all what is now and what is old, and claims, upon which the value and validity of the patent depend, must be cast to fully cover the invention yet not to encroach upon patents already granted. Failure in either of these respects often renders the patent valueless or void. The employment of counsel skilled in patent law is therefore usually a prerequisita to the proper prosecution of a case and a grant of a valuable patent. Many inventors suffer the loss of benefits that should be derived from valuable inventions owing to insufficient protection by patets procured through incompetent or careless agents, etc.

For What Granted.

Under the laws of the United States letters patent are granted to any person who has invented or discovered any new and use ful are, machine, manufacture or composition of matter, or has invented any new or useful improvement thereon.

Term of Patent.

A patent is granted for seventeen years during which time the owner has sole and exclusive right to make, use and sell the patented invention.

How to Proceed.

For economic reasons before making application to the patent office for a patent, the novelty and patentability of the invention should be ascertained, because, if the invention is not new or not patentable an unnecessary expense is incurred by filing an application on which a patent can never be granted, etc. The first thing to be done is to find out rons before the United States patent office and courts, it is also enabled to procure patents for inventions in all countries of the world. In many of the foreign coun-tries, notably Canada, England and Ger-many, patents for inventions previously patented in this country are looked upon with great favor, and inventors are there very frequentity more likely to realize profits whether or not the invention is new and patentable. For advice on the point it is necessary to from their inventions than they are even in this country. The cost of foreign patents varies with different cases, but as a general For advice on the point it is necessary to send to the bureau a rough or complete sketch or a photograph of the invention, to-gether with a brief description thereof, setting forth the object of the improve-ments, the arrangement of the parts and the advantages attained. While a model is very seldom necessary, yet it is often of great assistance. The latter can be made of any cheap material at dwill be returned if a rule the expenses of procuring patents, cov ering all charges, is about as follows: Canada, $50; England, $00; Germany, $00; France, $55; Spain, $90; Belgium, $60. Ad-ditional information regarding the cost, etc., lotter on application. In all such requests mention having read these instructions in any cheap material, and will be returned if a request is made to that effect. THE BEE.

Upon receipt of the data mentioned suffictent to enable the invention to be understood our counsel will at once examine thereinto, and will advise without charge what is the liable and trust vorthy attorney in patent matters to advise his clients to beware of the many sharks who set out with the ap-parent intention of defrauding inventors best course to pursue and will express an opin on, from their knowledge of the arts and vatents already geanted, as to the patent-abidy of the invention. In this connection it is recommended that

The best and safest course is to have a special search made in the patent office to ascertain whether or not the invention has been heretofore patented. The advantage of such a search is that if no saticipating patent pretending to want to purchase their patents, is discovered the application can be filed with a greater decree of certainty, whereas if the invention is found to be old all further exA Rare Opportunity!

tructions of the board. They both talked freely, and stated their willingness to teil Judge Thornell just what they had said, regardless of consequences. Finley Burke, attorney for Kimball & Champ, thought this movement had been made by Baldwin mainly for the purpose of intimidating the jury into returning an in-dictment against Kimball and Champ. "After an uproar of this kind," said he, "it s easy to see that the jury will be a little backward about dismissing the two men, even if the evidence against them was somewhat light, on account of a dread of being make, and nothing is harder to disprove, than a charge of corruption, and the best of juries would be more or less alarmed at having a Damocles' sword of this kind nangng over their heads." Some color is given to this theory by the fact that before the jury had left their seats at the close of the examination certain parties were on the streets industriously spreading the rumor that Hendricks and Graham had been bribing the grand jury to discharge Kimball and Champ. It is believed, also, by some that Mr. Graham's aspirations for the office of mayor played some part in the scheme, it being a well known fact that there has been but little love lost between Baldwin and Graham since the question of the reduction of the taxes of the Union Pacific Ratiway company came before the Board of Supervisors and was settled unsatisfactorily to Mr. Baidwin, who was attorney for the company.

Robbed of His Riches,

A young man wandered disconsolately up Main and down Pearl street yesterday mornug, looking in vain for a man that failed to some to light. After he had spent some time in this way he cornered a bystander and confided to him the story of a brand new woe that had entered his life and made it for the ime being a nightmare with steel shoes on. He came in from Neola yesterday morning and on the way happened to meet a smooth looking gentleman with red whiskers and a for cap, who introduced himself to him as the representative of the firm of J. M. Mor-gan & Son of Walaut, but failed to give his public. name. The general tenor of his conversation was that he had been wandering up and down the earth in search of just such a young man as Mr. Redinbaugh, and nothing would suit him any better than to engage h in right then and there to work for him. A bargain was quickly entered into and soon the two men arrived at the local depot, where they boarded a Main street car for up town. At the Merriam block they alighted, and then it was that the bewhiskered found that be was in pressing need of funds. Redinbaugh was niv too glad to accommodate him with $30, which was the extent of his pile, and the loanee went up into the Merriam block to his oce, telling his benefactor that he would be down at once. Minutes fled, but he did not return, and it was not until a man to whom he told his story informed him that he had been played for a sucker that the whole truth burst in upon his rustic mind. The con-fidence man had simply left the Merriam block on the Main street side, leaving his new found friend $200 worth of experience in eturn for the $20 which he took with him. Redinbaugh is not satisfied with the trade. however, in spite of the apparent margin in his favor, and he promises to show the man, if he can get hold of him a minute, what sort of fists Neola soil can grow. The last one to see the confidence man was the janitor of the Merriam block, who saw him elimb the stairs, anxiously looking behind him to see if he was followed, and then go down on the other side of the building. Congratulating the Girls.

The disputed titles under the Mexican and Spanish grants have proved especially troublesome in Arizona and New Mexico. They have delayed settlement and investment in some of the fairest lands of the southwest, and have proved annoying in the districts farther to the north. After much agitation and complaint congress wa nduced at the last session to provide a court for the consideration of this business, and will soon begin to work. The organization of this court gives The BEE BUREAU OF CLAIMS & chance to extend its desofulness. It will take claims under this law and prosecute them for persons who do not know whom to engage for the service.

The business entrusted to the bureau i Washington is being prosecuted with energy The Indian depredations patent, land mining and other claims before the court and departments are being pushed as rapidly as presible, with no delays on accunt of the large amount of business which has been sent to the bureau. it appears that there is little protection for the claimant who sends to an unknown repre sentative. The men who assigned their claim o Loomis would have had small chance of their seeing any of their money if the schemer had been given time to collect their claims. When such risks are run and men who are not able to go to Washington and know no one there must hire their attorneys at haphazard, the need for a bureau to pro-tect the people and do their work at reasonable rates is apparent. The Bureau Charges.

Consistent with the spirit with which this bureau was formed, it is not intended to conduct any branch of the business on a noney making basis, but it is proposed to the work as near the actual cost as will protect the business from lo.s. Although counsel are retained at heavy expense to the bureau, yet it is the wish to charge in ordinary cases cases requiring extra care, time and labor the fee will be proportionately increased, but clients will always be advised in advance should such increase of fee be found necessary. In directing inquiries please mention the fact that you read these instructions in THE BEE. Design Patents.

A patent for a design is granted to any person who has invented or procured any new and original design for the printing of woolen, silk, cotton or other fabrics; any new and original impression, ornament, pattern, print or picture to be printed, painted. cast or otherwise placed on or worked into any article of manufacture; or any new, useful and original shape or configuration o any article of manufacture, the same not having been known or used by others before having been known or used by others before his invention or production thereof, or pat-ented or described in any printed publica-tion. Patents for designs, are granted for the term of three and one-half years, the government fee being $10; or for seven years, the fee being $15; or for fourteen years, the fee being $25. "The charge of the burgent is fee being $30. The charge of the bureyu is such cases is usually $25.

Reissues A patent can be reissued whenever the same is inoperative or invalid by reason of a defective or insufficient specification, or by reason of the patentee's claiming more than he had a right to claim as new, providing the error has arisen by accident, mistake or in-advertence, and without fraudulent intent.

The government fee for a reissue is $30. The cost of drawing is $5, and the bureau charge is usually $35. Great care must be exercised in reissuing a patent, because very often what little validity there may be in a defective patent is entirely lost by procuring a ressue which is totally invalid.

Rejected Cases.

There are in the patent office a great many cases which stand rejected, but which should be allowed. This condition of the case may be due either to incompetency of the part of the attorney employed or his inability, because of residence elsewhere than in Wash-ington, to make the examiner see the inven-tion in its true light; and then, again, as often occurs, cases are rejected on improper or insufficient grounds. When so requested we will have our counsel examine into any such case free of charge and advise as to the prospects for success by further prosocution. The client will also be then informed of the probable cost of completion.

Caveats.

By means of a caveat an inventor secures record evidence regarding his invention for the purpose of enabling him to complete or further experiment therewith. The life of a caveat is one year, and it may be renewed at the end of that time. The government fee is $10 and the bureau charge is $15.

Trademarks.

A trademark is a fanciful or arbitrary do vice or symbol used to distinguish the good while others offer to take an interest therein under promise of procuring foreign patents. The sole object of these people is to obtain money from inventors, and they never make the slightest endeavor to carry out their groundless or worthless promises.

Labels.

Labels of all kinds, designed to be at-tached to manufactured articles or to bottles, poxes, etc., containing them, have heretofore

peen received for registration in the patent office and a certificate issued accordingly

Under a very recent decision of the supremo court of the United States it is held that there is no authority in law for granting certificates of registration of labels which simply designate or describe the ar-ticles to which they are attached, and which have no value separated therefrom. A label to be entitled to registration must have by itself some value as a composition, at least ect matter registerable as trademarks. Wherever this is so, or where by a slight change it can be made to come within the purview of the laws governing trademarks, registration should be sought under this head. The government fee in a label case is

THE BEE BUREAU OF CLAIMS

Bee Building, Omaha, Neb. Mention this paper.] THE INDIAN CLAUIS.

THE BEE BUREAU OF CLAIMS, in dealing with the claims arising under the Indian depredations act, has been successful in proecting a large number of subscribers and others from extortion and loss. From complaints that have come to it, however, it appears that many of the claimants do not un FARMS, garden lands, houses, lots and business blocks for sale or rent. Day & Hess, 19 Pearl street, Council Bluffs. terstand their position under the act. At a ime when there appeared to be little chance that congress would take up the claims or make any appropriation to pay them, they signed contracts with the Washington agents, enants of the count were astounded at promising from one-quarter to one-half the midday to see the bent figure of a man amount to the agent in case the money should be collected. In view of this extertion conexactly resembling Casimir von Mion

The old gress inserted a provision in the act annuling all contracts and limiting the agent's commission to 15 or 20 per cent. nan spoke to all in a voice that recalled visions of their former landlord, and The claimants all probably understand that most of the peasants fled in superstitious he agent's commission has been limited he law, but many of them, according to their own statements, do not understand that they are free to do as they please about employing old man sent in a card bearing the words, "Casimir von Mionszynski, the agent they had first chosen. It was the intention of congress to prote conducted the mock funeral $5,000 for them at all points and they were left on the passage of the act free to do as they pleased and employ whom they pleased. Section 9 of his part in the plan and a promise not to reveal the fraud until after the physithe act stated : "That all sales, transfers or ian's death. That event had been anassignments of any such claims heretofore or nounced, he said, and he, therefore, had returned to his estate. The old man hereafter made, except such as have occurred in the due administration of decedenta' es tates, and all contracts heretofore made for said he had taken securities for about $50,000 abroad with him and had lived fees and allowances to claimants' attorneys There could be no mistake about the meanon the interest. His object in all this remarkable performance was to discover, ing of this. All claimants had to make new contracts with agents after the passage of the act, and they were at liberty to employ any one they pleased. If they were pleased with the zeal and acts of their first agent they might make their new contract with him. If they were dissatised they might choose any other agent that they pleased. Those who have not signed new contracts since the passage of the act may profit by this to secure much better terms than they could otherwise get from the agents. The fact that THE BEE BUREAU is doing the work for the bare expense involved has had a good effect in moderating the charges of all agents o those who know how to selves. For those who distrust their ability to cope with the claim agents on their own ground THE BEE BUREAU is always open.

AN ECCENTRIC MILLIONAIRE.

He Planned a Sham Funeral and Kept an Eye on His Heir's Administration

From Austria, the land of eccentric oblemen, comes a story without a paralel in the recent record of human idiosyncrasies. The Galician millionaire, Casimir von Mionezynski, was removed from his vust estates near Lemberg to an asylum for the insane in Dobling, at his own instance about eight years ago. About five months later his death was unnounced. It was said that he died in the night, and the properly drawn certificate of the physician was to the effect hat death was caused by heart disease. in the morning after the night when the death was reported other sphysicians saw that the that the closed coffin was carried to the family burying ground and there interred, without having been opened in the presance of the millionaire's friends. The heir of the Mlonczynski property.Count Nicodem Potocki, took possession of the The departed nobleman left estatos. neither wife nor children.
