Big Batch of True Bills Handed in by the Industrious Grand Jury.

MR. HOLDREGE TELLING WHAT HE KNOWS

Union Depot and Viaduct Deal is Under Consideration-Where Did the Clothes Go?-Lots of Work in Sight Still.

The grand jury has made its first report to the district court, but it has not, by any means, concluded its labors, nor is the aforesaid grand jury ready to adjourn.

The members started in on the South Thirteenth street grade, examined a few witnesses and then started after election frauds alleged to have taken place during the fall of 1890. That subject was prolific of results and one man even testified that the little matter of seventy or eighty saits of clothes was the consideration that induced certain voters to exercise their rights of franchise in a certain direction.

That matter was dropped and then they went on a still bunt to find irregularities in city matters.

G. W. Holdrege was invited to the seclusion of the grand jury room. Mr. Holdrege, supposing that he was to be investigated upon the subject of Burlington affairs, was ready to answer questions. That was not what was wanted of him, however, and he was excused with the instructions to return to his office, secure all the papers in his possession, signed by ex-Councilman Morearty and return at once. Mr. Holdrege obeyed, and a few moments later returned with a bundle of letters and ents, which were laid before the jurors for their inspection.

The case under investigation refers to the new depot and the Tenth street viaduct. The inquiry is for the purpose of learning from Mr. Holdrege just how far certain councilmen got into the deal.

Some Indictments Returned

At 3:20 o'clock vesterday afternoon Judge Davis of the criminal court was enjoying a few moments of leisure in his private room in the rear of the large court room when Sheriff Bennett appeared and furnished the startling information that the grand jury was ready to report. Suppling into his judi-cial robes the court mounted the beach and ordered the jury brought into his presence Clerk Moores was summoned and a momen later the eighteen jurors filed into the room to take seats in the jury box. As the roll was called each juror responded "here." "Have you anything to communicate to the court?" asked Judge Davis.

"We have, your honor," answered Fore-man Anderson, and steeping forward he placed a bunch of 32 indictments in Judge Davis' hands. The judge looked them over, smiled and asked: "Gentlemen, have you completed your labors?" Not yet," responded Foreman Anderson

"We have a great many things yet that de "You may retire, then," answered the

The men filed out as they came and at once resumed the work of finding more indict-

Clerk Moores asked for instructions regarding the keeping of the indictments. The court informed him that no eye other than his own should rest upon any one of the pa-pers. Warrants of arrest would at once issue and the parties would be brought before the Court.

Who the indicted individuals are keeps people guessing, but it is known that all o he saloonkeepers on the two-mile strip have been caught. It is also known that several other parties are in trouble, as there were only eighteen of the men who sold liquor without having first taken out licenses.

IN THE COURTS AGAIN.

Ryan & Walsh's Hospital Work in Litigation -District Court Doings.

Once again intigation growing out of th construction of the Douglas county hospital is being aired in the courts. This time the trouble is before Judge Irvine.

Ryan & Walsh were the original contractors, and on account of the non-performance of certain portions of the contract, the county withheld some of the money. They brought suit against the county and won. The case was appealed, but in the meantime a settle ment was reached by which they were to receive $37,511.20 and call everything square. Before the judgment was paid, however, the Omana Slate and Roofing company, the Acme Iron and Wire works, Ruemping & Balte, Henry Lehmann, Cany & Gray, L. H. Welshans, Ehrot Warnen Manufacturing company, John A. Wakefield, Omana Oil and Paiut company, National Bank of Commerce, Warren Boehl, George Allen, A. Moher, Hurlburt & Bloom, Ben Melquest, John J. O'Conner, Bradley & Delamatre, Cowin & McHugh and Mr. J. R. Cornish filed liens and enjoined the county from and enjoined the county from paying any of the proceeds of the judgment to Ryan & Walsh. Ryan & Walsh now ask the court to compel each defendant to appear and set forth the amount of their claims. Judge Ferguson is listening to evidence in the case of August Benzon against John A. Creighton. Benzon avers that in 1887 he contracted to purchase 256 acres of Creigh-ton's land in the north part of the city. He was to have paid $400 per acre and put up $1,000 of forfeit money. Creighton failed to pass the title or to return the money, and now

Of Interest to Sugar Beet Raisers. One of the great drawbacks in the sugar beet business is the amount of labor reguired in the cultivation of beets. Philip Hirsch of South Omaha has invested a mashine which promises to do away with much of the hand weeding. He has associated with him P. Rowiey, and they propose to with him P. Rowiey, and they propose to at once. Briefly described it is about the size and weight of a hand corn planter and consists of an upright bar with three prongs or times at the bottom. The operator sets the times into the earth around the beet and by means of a crank causes a set of teeth fashioned something like those on a corn cultivator, to revolve around the tines. These teeth cut out the weeds and loosen up ground, and at the same time thin out beets. Those who have examined the machine pronounce it practical and as well calculated to save a good deal of hand labor.

FROM THE FROZEN ZONE.

An Interesting Group of Alaskans on Exhibition at the Musec. When Miner W. Bruce, the Alaska corre spondent of THE BEE, returned two weeks ago from that Arctic region he brought with him a family of native Alaskans. The party consists of man, wife and child, and perhaps their dog ought to be included in the family, for he enjoys a big share of the general affection. This interesting group is now at the Eden Musce in charge of a brother of Mr. Bruce.

These Alaskans are short of stature and have an Asiatic rather than an Indian physiognomy. The man is 35 years physiognomy. The man is 35 years old, the woman 28, and the little girl 5. All are dressed in native costumes of fur, the father in reindeer and the mother in a robe of squirrel skins. Both have hoods for the head, leaving nothing but the face exposed. With them are many curious articles common to their iso-lated life, such as a harpoon of bone and leather thongs, a hunk of dried sea weed that is chewed in lieu of tobacco, a block of whale marrow that is used in calking boats, a waterproof shirt of walrus skin, drawn over the fur suit when in a boat, bows and arrows and a variety of wearing apparel "It is my brother's intention," said Mr. Bruce, "to take this family to Washington and present them to President Harrison. They will be the first native Alaskans who ver visited our national capital. In the meantime they are being exhibited at the museums to pay the expense of bringing them here, and of course they are earning more for themselves than they could at home. They are bright, cheerful and ordinarily very docile, but do not like to be crossed.

"They speak only fifteen to twenty English words, but they apparently understand considerable, for with the aid of pantomime I get along with them quite easily. They are imitative and observant, and I think are learning considerable. Our hotel in Omaha furnishes better fare than we had in St. Jo seph. The Alaskans noticed it at the first meal and told me by pointing at the board and saying 'better.' It was particularly surprising to find that they were exceedingly neat and clean in their personal habits. They have very little idea of time and it require a great deal of urging to get them ready for their daily exhibitions. "The father and mother have good health. but the little one was ill at St. Joseph. weather was damp and the physician pro-nounced her aliment simple malaria. The dog seems to be a cross with a wolf, but he is a very good natured brute and actually seems to take delight in being on exhibition. party will be exhibited in the musees as far west as Salt Lake City before going to Washington. My brother has agreed to have them back in Alaska by May."

CONGRESS

At Last Takes Action. A bill has been introduced at Washington requiring all baking powders containing alum and ammonia to be so labeled. This is a step in the right direction, and has been long foreshadowed by the action of the state legislatures, boards of health, food commis sioners, etc., in this matter. The bill affords needed protection to the public, for the evidence as to the injurious effects of alum and ammonia is very heavy; but it will never theless be fought bitterly by the manufact irers whom it effects who are accustomed to sell their goods as "pure Cream of Tartar,"
"absolutely pure," etc.

The bill is something needed. If a maker uses a drug in his powder, the name of which e does not want to have printed on his label, it is prima face evidence that there is something wrong. We hope the subject will be vigorously prosecuted all over the country, not only as regards baking powder, but also all other food adulterations.

This bill may incidently benefit the makers of pure articles, but if it should, this is only an additional point in its favor.

THE NATIONAL PAGEANT. The Work of Preparation Already Very

Well Under Way. The arrival in Omaha of Mrs. Cora Scot Pond Pope brings to notice the "Nationa Pageant" which is to be presented at the Grand opera house February 26 and 27. As is well known, this entertainment is to be given for the benefit of the Woman's Christian association, than which this city has no more ennobling enterprise; but everybody does not know what an elaborate perform ance it is to be. Sufficient has been learned since Mrs. Pope's arrival to warrant the pre diction that it will be the best and most interesting to which local talent has ever contributed; that has been the verdict in other and larger cities where the pageant has been given and which are now anxious to secure return dates. Mrs. P. L. Perine, president of the associa tion, with Mrs. George Tilden, Mrs. H. Ludington, Mrs. Cadet Taylor, Mrs. F. L. Hal-ler, Miss Ella Bracker, aided by many others nterested in the woman's association, have al ready spent considerable time in securing participants and arranging the preliminary work. They have been especially successful and the list of those who will take part in-cludes many of Omaha's most prominent and best known people. Rehearsals are in prog-ress and will be industriously and vigorously prosecuted till the date of the performances. Omaha people never do anything by halves and the announcement of the auspices under which this entertainment is to be given together with the fact that Mrs. Pope will supervise it makes it sufficient guarantee of its success. There are boxes and bundles enough to load a car filled with costumes for the pageant. All these accessories have been prouded by Mrs. Pope at large expense, and urnish an elaborate attention to detail which could not be otherwise secured.

The entertainment has the local advantage of being new and novel in this city, unlike anything ever seen here before. Mrs. Pope horoughly understands the business and en ters upon the work here with a zeal and en ergy which is an earnest of success. Her efforts will be seconded by three or four huntred Omaha citizens and what so many un dertake is sure to be accomplished.

This is to testify that I have tested the medical properties of Dr. J. B. Moore's Tree of Life remedy to my entire satisfaction, and can most heartily recommend it to the suf fering and afflicted everywhere, to be all claimed for it in the above statement. Last spring I was suffering from loss of appetite. constitution, etc., originating from kidney and liver trouble, and I had not used one but tie of this great life remedy until I was greatly relieved. My wife, also, being at a very critical stage in life, was suffering much at times, and by the use of this remed has been saved from much suffering and pos sibly from premature death. Our youngest son's health for several years has been very delicate. He contracted some lung trouble by taking cold with measles, which produced great norvous debility and occasional bleed-ing of the lungs; he has used some four bot-tles of Tree of Life, and feels and looks as though new life had been given him. Will Be Completed and Ready for Use In side of Ninety Days-Great Increase in Capacity Which Will Result From This Move.

Work has beene ommenced by Swift & Co. on improvements that will increase the ca pacity of that establishment fully 25 per cent. One large building, 64x193 feet and six stories high, will be built along the unloading chutes running between the old and new houses. This building will extend from the new pork house north 193 feet and will be divided into three departments. The first department or southern end will be constructed for cold storage on the first and second stories, the third story for the lard department, the fourth story for sausage, the fifth story for cooperage, and the sixth for general storage. The second department will be the smoked meat department, and then will come six smoke houses 14x14 feet. West of the unloading switch between the fertilizer department and the new hog house. on the site of the old tee house, will be erected a boiler and engine room 80x176 feet. This will be divided into four departmentsfortilizer, engine room, boller room and drying room Ten eighty-horse power boiler will furnish steam for power.

South of the old house, facing the east track, a large addition will be built, to be known as the shipping coolers for hogs, sheep and calves. Most of these improvements will be com pleted and in use by May 1, and then the capacity of this house will be 7,500 cattle, 24,000 hors and 6,000 sheep per week. These additions, together with those cor templated or determined upon by other packing companies and the Urion stock yards, will place nearly $1,000,000 in circulation this year for labor and push South Omaha into second place before the next packing season commences.

But He'll Never Know in What State He Saw the Light. Little Jacob Eckhart, Jr., of Friend, Ne

brasks, will probably never know whether he was born in Iowa or Nebraska. In fact it is doubtful if his mother or anybody else will ever know. The interesting and very necessary event in the life of the aforementioned infant hapdeped in this way. On board the Rock Island passenger train which rolled into the union depot Monday evening there was a Russian family. The husband and father gave the name of Jacob Eckhart. He was accompanied by a wife and five chitdren, the youngest of whom lay on the seat beside the mother wrapped in a shawl, for it had never undergone that interesting experience of having its clothes put on. Mrs. Eck hart looked pale, weak and distressed as she sat supping a cup of coffee. By the significant glances and the whispered conversation among the other passengers abroad the car it was soon learned that there was something of especial interest connected with the poor Russian family and particular interest seemed to be centered in the woman and the infant vrapped in a shawl by her side. The cause of this unusual interest was easily explained. Mrs. Eckhart had given birth to an infant while the long train came across the bridge from Council Bluffs. She did not even inform her husband of the seri-ous condition of affairs but retired to the toilet room as the train left Council Bluffs and as the train pulled up at the union depot she emerged with her offspring, a healthy looking boy in her arms wrapped in a shawl. Her busband appeared to be more confused over the matter than she was and about all he could do was to get the poor woman a cup of coffee.

The family spoke German and a few imper-ect words in English.

Mr. Eckbart said be could not afford to stop in Omaha. He had no money and no friends here. They wanted to push on to Friend, Neb., where they had acquaintances awaiting them. The infant appeared to be all right and in broken English and German the mother thanked those who offered assist-ance and said she would rather continue the conrney and reach their destination as soon as possible. The family went on to Friend.

The Grippe Raging in Alabama. "La grippe is raging here and I fine Chamberlain's cough remedy to be a certain cure for it," says W. G. Johns of Trimble, Culiman company, Ala, Mr. Johns ordered a supply of the remedy to be shipped by express as quickly as possible. There is no question but this remedy is of great value in the treatment of the grip especially on account of its counteracting any tendency of the disease toward pneumonia. It is also a prompt and certain cure for the cough which usually follows an attack of grip. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

He Claims to Have Been Robbed by Friends at a Banquet.

Monday was the closing day of the Chinese New Year week and the children of the Flowery Kingdom residing in the city tried to celebrate it in a fitting manner. It is claimed that the celebration broke up in a row about 30'clock yesterday morning. It seems that a certain Chinese doctor gave a sort of banquet to his countrymen at a room near the corner of Twelfth and Harney streets. Everything went along pleasantly until just before 3 o'clock in the morning, when Tom Ti rushed into the police station in a greatly excited condition, and with a livid mark on the left side of his face. Tom wanted the whole outfit of merry makers arrested because they had maltreated him. He alleged that the crowd refused to let him work his chop sticks at the banquet board, but insisted on his drinking and gambling. He declared that after he had implied more or less of the proffered juice the crowd tried to rob him and in the scuffle threw him against a hot stove, burning his face. He said that the gang managed to get $78 away from him during the row. After the com-

the Union Pacific's increased switching tariff a scheme to force the lowa roads to pay its bridge toll.

The Rock Island and the Milwangee are able, under their contract, to haul their cars across the bridge and into Omaha, but the tracks assigned for their use in this city are so located as to be inaccessible to teams. They are compelled to submit to any switch ing regulations which the Union Pacific may

The Northwestern, which has a favorable traffic arrangement with the Union Pacific, has already adopted the alternative. Instead of bringing its cars over its own bridge at Blair to the Webster street depot and then paying an exorbitant switching charge, its cars are now taken to the Council Biuffs transfer and turned over to the Union Pacific. The latter thereby gets the benefit of its proportion of the through rate, which Pacific. ncludes a fat bridge tell of 3 cents a hun dred. It is surpised that the Union Pacific is trying to force the Rock Island and the Milwaukee to deliver it their cars at the transfer across the river.

Mr. H. A. Skinner, local freight agent for the Rock Island, says the situation has been reported to the general officers in Chicago, and in the meantime patrons will be protected as heretofore. The Rock Island has an enormous coal trade from the lowa mines to Omaha, and that is seriously affected by the new schedule. Much of the coal is slack, used for steaming purposes. The coal is worth little to the miners, the baul is com paratively short and a switching charge o 55, Mr. Skinner says, is almost prohibitive On account of competition the Rock Island will have to assume the increased charge or deliver the traffic to the Union Pacific at Council Bluffs. Union Pacific officials assert that the old switching charges of $1.50 and $3 were not remunerative, but the B. & M. is satisfied Following are a few facts about similar charges in Chicago: The Baltimore & Ohio's ordinary rate is $1.50, and it takes a car to South Chicago, a distance of twelve miles for $2.50. The Illinois Central's rate in the Chicago lumber district and as far as Twen ty-fifth street is $1.25. The Chicago & Altor switches a car three and a half miles for $2. It has only one charge above that figure which is $3, for a distance of five miles. Belt Line Railway company switches eight miles to Auburn for ₹3 and fif-teen miles to Kensington for ₹5. The Chicago & Calumet takes a car to Hammond Ind., a distance of twenty miles, for $3.75, and Chicago terminals cost vast sums of money instead of having been denated to the Northwestern Earnings.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad has ssued a special statement of its earnings by months during 1891, and the latter part of the year shows a remarkable gain in business. The report covers only the North-westen system proper, the Omaha and Elkborn lines not being included. The mileage is 4,273, as against 4,258 in 1890. The two years are compared as follows:

$10.273,156 $9,609,623 F 573,168 barges, includ-ing sink'g fund 6,135,023 5,631,297 501.72 Bal. for stock ... $ 4.134,133 Dividends ..... 3,445,804

Surplus ...... $ 688.329 $ 616.897 The gain was all made during the last seven months of the year, the first five show-ing a decrease. The increase in the gross earnings of the Northwestern for the last three months of the year amounted to 8981,001. The increase of the Omaha road, with a mile of 1.466 was for the same three month $605,750, making a total of $1,586,751. The earnings of the St. Paul for these three months increased $1,772,831, its mileage being slightly less than the combined mile-age of the Northwestern and Omaha lines included in the above statement. Passenger Men in Conference. The Transmissouri Passenger association met yesterday at the Paxton hotel. The railroads were represented as follows: B. & M., John Francis; Union Pacific, C McKenzie; Missouri Pacific, D. B. Caldwell of St. Louis; Elkhorn, J. R. Buchanan; St. Joseph & Grand Island, W. K. Cundiff of St. Joseph: Rock Island, Major Anderson of Topeka; Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs, A. C. Dawes and H. C. Orr of St. Louise, Satta Callegorie, T. Nichalana, and Louis; Santa Fe, George T. Nicholson of Topoka; Denver & Rio Grande, S. K. Hooper of Denver: Rio Grande Western, J. H. Bennett of Salt Lake City.

The meeting discussed routine matters of little interest to the public. The most important was the subject of split tickets. Gas and Politics. J. H. Bennett, general passenger agent of the Rio Grande & Western railway, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, is at the Paxton. He received a telegram yesterday evening from the Mormon city stating that a new gas well had been struck and it had a very heavy flow at a depth of 600 feet. He was also informed at the same time of the liberal victory. Notes and Personals. A. J. Davies, general agent of the Clover Leaf at Kansas City, is in the city.
