A little sister of Eddie Jones, who is con-fined in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, on the charge of robbing Fred Lamb's cigar store, is trying to secure bail for him in order that he may not have to lie in juil until his case is disposed of. The bond required is $500.

Harry Hamilton's case came up for a hear ing yesterday morning in police court, but neither side appeared to be ready for trial. It was finally decided by the court to post-pone the hearing of the habeas corpus proexedings until next Tuesday. There is but little doubt that the requisition papers will be secured in the meantime, so that the bot tom will fall out of the habeas corpus case.

Dan Rhodes was brought up in police cour yesterday morning or a charge of stealing $75 from Leonard Johnson. The prosecuting witness was present, but when the robbert took place he was in such a befuddled condi tion that he could not say whether Rhodes was the guilty party or not. Rhodes was accordingly acquitted of this charge, but was fined $15.70 for drukenness. His honor was treated to a tongue lashing from a colored woman who claims to be Mrs. Rhodes, for allowing the saloons to run and then fining such innocents as her husband when they

Burglar Joe McDermott Will Not Be Taken to Denver,

EVIDENCE OF HIS ALLEGED CRIME WEAK

Nothing But a Confession Will Convict Him of the Marder of the Colorado Officer-His Record is Bad-Local News Notes.

A telegram was received at the police headquarters yesterday with regard to Joe McDermott, the Boston store burglar who was supposed to be wanted in Denver for the killing of a policeman by the name of Phillips. The telegram was signed by the Decver chief of police and stated that unless McDermott had made a confession be might as well be discharged, as their evidence against him was not complete and they were afraid they could not make a case. Severai Omaha detectives were at the county jail vesterday morning, and held a conversation with McDermott, They showed him a tin type which was unmistaxably his, and which was accompanied by a card offering a reward of $1,250 for his arrest. He admitted that the picture was his and that the reward had been offered for his arrest, but said that he had already been arrested once for the crime and been ordered releases by the Denver officials, as they had decided that he could not be convicted, and had with-drawn the offer of reward. Officers Leuch and Wells, who made the arrest, had had visions of champagne suppers dancing befor their eyes ever since they heard that a reward had been offered, and were thus doomed to disappointment, slong with their numerous friends who had counted on sharing the sup pers with then Clark and McDermott were both identified by the Omaha officers as being tough cus-tomers. Clark is thought to be a brother of the notorious "Dink" Wilson, who is wanted for being implicated in the Glendale express robbery, and there is certainly a very strong resemblance between him and the photo graph of Wilson which was sent out by the St. Louis authorities after the robbery McDermott has already confessed that be robbed the Boston store and admits that the probable that both the men will enter a plea of guilty when their cases are called for trial

Judge Thornell found it necessary to warn the jackets of the members of the petit jury yesterday. The case of Deere, Wells & Co. against Aultman & Miller was on trial, as it has been for over a week. When court adjourned his bonor stated that there would be no court on Monday, and he thought it advisable to call their attention to the in-structions which had been given at the opening of the case with reference to their behavior toward outsiders, especially in view of the reports that had been brought to him by some of the officers of the court. The substance of these reports was that the men substance of these reports was that the men had been engaging in conversation with certain parties who were interested more or less directly in the case on the merits of the evi-dence. This had to be stopped at once and he gave them a number of bits of acvice o guide them in getting rid of troublesome fellows who might be inclined to force their opinions upon them. His remarks created something of a sensation among the bystandors, as well as among the jurymen, and al-though no names were mentioned some sly remarks were dropped here and there that showed that quite a number had been watching the maneuvers of one or two individuals who have been greatly interested in the progress of the case. Among those who have attended the trial is a mem ber of the police force, who has been sitting where he could get a commanding view of the whole situation day after day. Just what this means is hard to say, but the question has been frequently asked, although never satisfactorily answered, which side is paying this officer to see that none of the jurymen are tampered with.

The members of the local branch of the Young Men's Christian association are considerably interested in the state convention which meets in Iowa City next Thursday. Secretary Rose will attend from this city, and there will probably be a number of other delegates from Council Bluffs. An effort will be made to have the next state convention held here. The people of lowa City have thrown open their homes to the de gates and there will be no want of accommodations, although the entertairment of 400 young men will no doubt tax their hospitality to its utmost. The presiding officer of the convention will be W. E. Blake of Burlington, who was at one time a candidate for position on the supreme bench of Iowa. The state committee reports that five new associations have been organized during the past year and 367 conversions. The total receipts have been $5,085.68 and the disbursements $5,019.03. This is the first your in the history of the state organization when there has been a balance left in the treasury after all bills were paid, and the credit of this is due to the careful management and unremitting zeal of Secretary Magee and hi

AFTER TAX SHIRKERS

Fifth Ward Citizens Discuss Questions of Interest to That Locality. The members of the Fifth Ward Taxpayers' club were in Erfling's green house and their glory last night. A down of the members were in attendance and were called to order by President Kyner. John J. Jenkins, chairman, of the committee appointed to look up and report the names of the tax shirkers, stated that it was his honest opinion that the tax shirking was more the fault of the assessor than the property owners. He advocated a law providing for the election of a city assessor with a fair salary.

President Kyner regretted very nuch that the committee was not ready to report. Ho was positive that many of the wealthy residents of the city had escaped taxation for years. The committee was continued and given another week within which to report. The president went a little farther and told Chairman Jenkins of the committee that he should expect him to report the names of all tax shirkers.
S. Lockner said that The Bee had advocated the raising of the assessment in the city. Mr. Lockner was with The Bee, but he did not thing it could be successfully acomplished this year.

The Fifth ward assessor was instructed to assess all corporation property located in the Fifth. If he could not find out what corpor-ations owned the property he was instructed to repair to their business offices, no matter what wards the offices were located. Mr. Jenkins understood that County Attorney Mahoney held a different opinion, but that the public had an unqualified right to chailenge the orinion,

Assessor Franklin stated that he was elected upon the issue that he would assess all of the property in the Fifth ward. He proposed to do his duty and be governed by the law on assessments. He did not propose to sit around the saloons, but would every piece of property in the ward. He stated that he had not made the law, but would try and carry out all of its provisions.
They instructed Assessor Franklin to go to all of the offices of the corporations having plants in the Fifth ward and there leave sessment blanks. Mr. Redman believed that Governor Boyd would call an extra session of the legislature, and he also thought that he should suggest in his call for the same changes in the Omaha city charter. Believing that Governor Boyd would do that same thing, he moved that the chairman appoint a committee of three to confer upon proposed charter amendments.
