John T. Stewart's Franchise Causes Much Discussion Among the Citizens. MEANS A NEW INDUSTRY FOR THE CITY

Will Furnish Light, Heat and Power by Wire-Nothing Concealed in the Contract-Large Flant Will Go Up On the Packing House Site.

The passage by the council Tuesday evening of the ordinance granting John T. Stewart the privilege of building and maintaining an electrical plant for the purpose of furnishing light, power and heat, was the subject of a great deal of interested discussion yesterday. At first there was some disposition to condemn the council for the haste in passing the ordinance, but after the charter was examined there could be no reason found for continuing the criticism. Mr. Stewart was compelled to answer a great many questions during the day concerning the character and aim of the new enterprise. "I simply asked the privilege of the city to do something, and that is all there is to it," said he to THE BEE. "There was no occasion for haste and there was no occasion for delay. The privilege I asked was similar to many others that have been granted by the city, many to parties who have never used the rights [conferred. The charter granted me is as plain and simple as the English language can be made, and contains nothing ambiguous or concealed. Copies of the charter were furnished all members of the council several days before it was called up, and the broad, liberal minded men in it realized all there was in the situation. I simply want the privilege of furnishing light and power in competition with others. If I can furnish it cheaper than it is being furnished now I will expect to do some business. If I can't then I'll quit. The only company fur-nishing power to small manufacturers is the water company. The location does not al-ways permit them to do so cheaply enough to justify its use. I incorporated the right to make and sell electrical machines and ap make and sell electrical machines and ap pliances for the reason that I believe there is an opening here for such a plant. Elec-trical distribution of power is the cheapest and best in the world and, in my opinion, it is the chief means that will be used in the future. There is duction of such machinery in the west, and 1 can see no reason why such a business should not be made to pay here as this machinery comes into more general use. I am convinced that it will or I should not have asked for that clause of the charter. I have room for a big plant where my old packing house stood, and it is not at all improbable that I will use it for this nurpose. That is one of the objects I have in view and the erection of such a plant may be one of the ultimate results.

STILL MISSING.

No News Yet from W. H. Foster-End of a Misleading Letter. Photographs and cards containing descriptions of W. H. Foster, the Council Bluffs and Omaha merchant, were sent out to all the neighboring towns yesterday, but no information was received that would throw any light on the mystery surrounding his disap pearance. A letter was published by a morning paper purporting to be the statement of Mrs. Foster, the wife of the missing man, the subter, the wife of the missing man, the sub-stance of the letter being that Foster was away on business and that she wished they would give up hunting for him. Instead of Mrs. Foster's signature, however, that of Joseph Butler, the hired man who slept in the greenbouse, was ap-pended to it, and that fact tended to discredit the statement contained in it. An investi-gation was made during the day, as the re-sult of which Butler admitted that the note sult of which Butler admitted that the note had been given him by a man named Alexander, who is unknown to the Foster family and that Alexander had heard the statements from four or five neighbor women who claimed that they had their information from Mrs. Foster. News coming directly should be reliable, but Will Fos the son of the missing man, denies that his mother ever gave utterance to any such sen-timents as those with which she is credited, and says that Butler acted entirely without death." It is the opinion of many that Butler wrote the letter in order to put a stop to the search that was going on for fear something would be found out that might reflect upon him. Mrs. Foster is almost prostrated over the sad affair, and is now confined to her bed. She has been in poor health for the past teu and at one time her mind was so deyears, ranged that it was feared she would become hopelessiy insane. Unless her present sus brought to an end soon something pt. equally serious is feared. Eastern money to loan on real estate organ. by E. H. Sheafe, Broadway and Main. Archie Campbell was arrested last evening on an information filed in the superior court charging him with committing an assault and battery on his sister in-law, Mrs. Annie Tattan, at whose house he boards. Some family difficulty arose, and it is alleged that Campell tried to settle it by using a chair on Mrs. Tattan. Instead of bettering matters it made them worse, and she immediately took steps toward having her ungallant relative brought to justice At the marshal's office while he was being booked after his arrest he manifested th same disposition as when he had been arguing with his sister in law, and Deputy Mar shal Fowier had to administer a choking to him before he would submit to being

Bright Minds That Meet at Lininger's Adopt a New Name.

There was a large amount of enthusiasm distributed about the Lininger gallery last evening, the occasion calling out the interest being the annual election of officers of The Club

But previous to the event of the evening a determined effort was made to change the name of The Club to something more definite than the one which has passed current for three years. One faction contended that the organization had already taken a place in the literary life of the city, and in keeping with that prominence should have a dignified pat-ronymic. Another faction, equally as en-thusiastic, contended for the old name beword with those who were members and the friends of the organization. And so the battle was waged, but after repeated ef-forts, through Chairman Snyder, who was gave the deciding vote, the name was changed to the Live Issue club, and as such hereafter the association of men which meets at the Lininger gallery fortnightly will be known.

known. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, William F. Baxter; first vice president, J. B. Sheehan; second vice presi-dent, E. C. Snyder; third vice president, C. S. Eigutter; secretary-treasurer, John Wil-son Battin; executive committee, Dean C. H. Gardner, ex officio chairman; F. L. Haller, A. F. Jonas, W. F. Baxter, J. B. Sheehan, John Wilson Battin, E. H. Scott, J. B. Ryan and L. Kohnstamm. and L. Kohnstamm. At the next meeting of the club Mr. Sny der will read a paper upon "Society," not as he sees it, possibly, but upon its uses and abuses. In four weeks Rev. Irving Baxter is to lead the discussion upon "Isms," and this prom-ises to be one of the most interesting meet A iong paper was read upon "Men and Women," the essayist championing the cause of the female sex, and then the club adjourned.

The Famous Waterloo Ball. The duke and duchess of Richmond are living in a fine hotel on the rue de la Blanchissere, which stood on its own grounds and had a fruit and flower garden extending to the city ramparts. Their graces moved in all the society of Brussels, and entertained a great deal The duchess, who had issued 220 invitations for her ball, proposed to recall them when she heard that Napoleon's army was advancing. But the duke of Wellington, to prevent alarm, requested that the ball might take place. Never-theless, mady English families were frightened away from Brussels, and post horses were kept harnessed in the duke of Richmond's stable, in case bad news from the scene of the conflict should make it advisable for his children to be sent to Antwerp.

The majority of the people of Brussels were violent Bonapartists and were prepared to entertain Napoleon in great style should he force the British army Ayers to retreat and enter their city in triumph.

Berrett Brady u Brooks Brodric So it was that the duke of Wellington and many of his officers went to the ball after the business of the day had been ttended to.

Hamilton Still Here.

The case of Harry Hamilton, charged with playing a confidence game in Omaha, was brought up again in superior court yesterday morning on habeas corpus proceedings. An officer was present from Omaha, expecting that the case would be dismissed and that Hamilton would be immediately turned over to him. Hamilton's attorney, Colonel Dailey, asked for a continuance, which was ob sected to by County Attorney Organ, who insisted on trying the case at once in order that the Omaha authorities could take him back with them, and if they were not yet ready the case should be dismissed, as the requisition papers had been secured and everything was in readiness for his trial. Judge McGee refused to dismiss the case, however, and decided to continue it un'il Friday morning, stating that Hamilton was entitled to a hearing on the writ of habeas corpus.

T. W. Davis exhibited a neat little hole in his overcoat yesterday which he said was put there by a bullet from some unknown party's gun Tuesday night. He was passing along North Eighth street, between Mynster street and Broadway, about 9 o'clock, when he heard the report of a gun and an instant later he heard something whizz past him. He had never been shot at very many times before, but somehow he had a suspicion that there was a connection between that report and the something that did the whizzing. He consequently started up the street with such celerity that grass could not have grown under his feet even if it had been the season for grass to grow. When he arrived at his room he found that the ball had struck his overcoat on the left lapel and, owing prob-ably to the peculiar shape of the ball, had cut a hole in the cloth an eighth of an inch wide and about an inch long.

SWINDLED THE BANK.

Smooth Omaha Crook Takes in the People of Creighton.

Some two or three weeks ago a smooth appearing, well dressed, middle aged man, who gave his name as Albert Dufour, walked into the Bank of Creighton at Creighton, Neb., and entered into negotiations for a ioan of $600 on a crop of corn. The bank people were willing to accommodate Mr. Dufour and did so. The cash was counted out and transferred to Dufour's pockets in exchange for a first mortgage on the crop. A day or so ago the bank discovered that the security for the loan was wortbless, as Dufour did not own the corn which he had mortgaged. The matter was placed in the hands of detectives and a description of
