

OMAHA'S NEW BALL GROUNDS

Park Site on the Iowa Side Finally Decided Upon and Leased.

WORK ON THE BUILDINGS SOON BEGINS

Detailed Description of the Location and Arrangement of the New Ball Park—Some Words to the People Concerning the Club.

OCAL base ball affairs have finally reached a point justifying the publication of a complete review of the situation, which it is pleasing to state in the outset is most felicitous.

President John W. Spas of Kansas City was here Friday, and in conjunction with Manager Rowe completed the final deal for Omaha's base ball park for 1892.

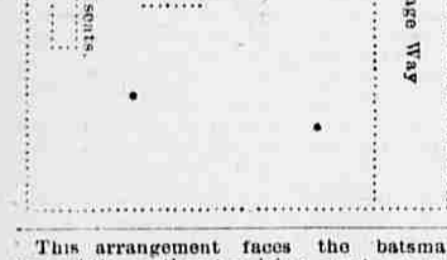

The site, which is located directly east and abutting the Council Bluffs waterworks property, on the south side of the boulevard, has been designed by a plan, apparently, for a baseball park.

With a total area of 45,000 feet, nearly as large as the old park north of Lake street, this city, owing to their natural adaptation, but little grading will be necessary to make the new grounds as level as a floor.

An imposing Grand Stand. The grand stand, for which elaborate specifications are being drawn, will be an imposing structure compared with the old one and will be situated in the northeast corner, semi-circular in form, with two stories, a turret for the scorers and private boxes for those who wish to indulge in the luxury.

This building together with the dressing rooms and minor structures, in the way of bleachers, card tables, fences, etc., so forth, will cost an expenditure of about $100,000 and work upon the same will be commenced immediately.

The position of the grandstand, the bleachers, diamond and field will be found to tally materially with the following diagram:

This arrangement faces the batsman toward the southeast and in a great measure leaves the fielders from annoyance by the sun.

A twenty foot board walk, with railing, will be built from the motor platform to the main entrance gate, a distance of probably seventy-five yards, and for convenience and easy access, the park will not be surpassed by any in the country.

Ample Transportation Facilities. The location of the grounds across the river need give no apprehension to patrons of increased car fare, as arrangements covering this will be made, the particulars of which will be announced in due season.

As soon as the citizens on this side of the bridge become familiar with all the new conveniences, the speedy and pleasant access across the river, and the admirable facilities for witnessing the games, it is predicted that the week day attendance will be fully double that of last year on any other day.

Some New Cash Needed. So much for the work thus done. What is necessary now for the citizens, especially the business element, to attest their appreciation by a hearty co-operation with the association in the way of raising the amount the city will be modestly called upon to raise.

They Run Street Cars From the Track and Attack Policemen. NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 27.—The weather today was pleasant and cool. Track fast and attendance fair.

President W. F. Bechel will be the full custodian of all funds subscribed, and while a committee will begin canvassing the city tomorrow, continuing until the next day, the president's name at the Omaha National bank.

Another thing must be borne in mind, and that is that Omaha is the only city in the entire circuit to which the league guarantees the running of the club. The league is putting its money into Omaha, leasing the ground, assuming all expense and liability, and all that the citizens of Omaha are asked to do is subscribe liberally to the small bonus to which the league is certain to give.

As a quoit an outlay of ready cash is necessary in the start, the finance committee of the league requests that our business men should at once contribute to the fund. It is not a second time, and promptitude will reflect so much the more to their credit. That base ball in the Western league this year will be much more than a self-sustaining enterprise is a fact that will admit of no adverse argument.

BRUTAL STRANGLING OF A FORMER OMAHA MAN IN A WRESTLING MATCH. BRADFORD, Pa., Feb. 27.—At the Wagner opera house last night Billy Gibbs, who is known as the Kansas Demon, but was formerly a hackman at Omaha, and Dennis Gallagher of Buffalo engaged in a wrestling match.

The match was a struggle in three falls. Graceo-Roman style, struggle hold not barred. The men were in prime condition and the first bout ended the contest.

The struggle lasted twenty minutes with honors even. Gibbs got a strangle hold on Gallagher, but the Buffalo man, by the exercise of wonderful strength, broke the hold.

Subsequent effort by Gibbs to strangle Gallagher failed, and the referee ordered the place his shoulders upon the carpet. Gibbs got partly out of the bad position he was in and then Gallagher clutched him about the neck for a handhold. With the fierceness of an Evan Lewis he squeezed Gibbs' windpipe until the latter, with eyes protruding and black in the face, made a feeble attempt to get up.

"Don't murder him," "Foul!" "Let go of him," and other exclamations came from the crowd. Billy Baler, Gibbs' second, attempted to rescue his man from Gallagher's clutches, but Referee Atherton held him back. Gallagher continued his choking until Gibbs became unconscious and lay upon the floor in a nearly lifeless condition. He was carried by his home by ambulance and working over him for a long time, the wrestler was revived. The match was awarded to Gallagher, although he did not throw his man.

The strangling was the most sensational spectacle that has ever been witnessed on a stage in this city.

BOTH IN GOOD CONDITION. Ryan and Needham in Excellent Trim and Much Interest Felt.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 27.—The sale of seats for the fight between Ryan and Needham at the Metropolitan club has been very large, and the management report that very few are left. As the time approaches and crowds of sports are arriving, excitement over this match is manifest and naturally, thousands of dollars will change hands on the result.

The last finishing touches are being administered to both men. They have been in the gymnasium for some time, and now only have to take a short rest before they are to be in the best condition. Mike Conley, who has been looking after Needham, says his man is in as good condition as ever in his life.

"And," said he, "we'll come very near getting that six purse of $13,000. Anyhow we'll get it, and I don't think I'm really anxious to begin operations. If we don't get the bundle there will be some of the greatest scrapper you ever saw, and Ryan will have put up more fight than ever in his life. New Orleans weather seems to agree with Danny, and I think he is better than ever in his life."

Ryan is confident of victory as his pucky antagonist, and his condition is worthy of the great work and endurance he will show hereafter. The wrestler today a magnificent specimen of perfect manhood. "I am a little surprised," said Tommy when informed that the betting was in favor of Needham, "but I don't think I'm wrong. I see no reason why I should not do it again. It is true our last was a long one, and I was forced to stop him, but I have learned a good lesson from this experience. I will appoint my friends and admirers and they need have no fear on that score."

AWFUL NIGHTMARE OF KINGS

Discontent of Starving Masses Hangs Like a Pall Over European Thrones.

BERLIN'S WARNING TO THE RULERS

Mighty Forces Beneath Society's Surface Disturbed—Their Presence Manifest Along Under den Linden—Trouble in Other German Towns.

PARIS, Feb. 26.—[New York Herald Cable.—Special to The Bee.]—Far more important than the French crisis are the Berlin riots, which have repeated in a number of police stations, were attacked in several parts of the city. While the guards marched through Unter den Linden a police officer was pelted with stones and forced to take shelter from the infuriated mob in an adjoining house.

Several thousand unemployed workmen marched themselves in front of the castle today. Seeing them there the emperor came out, wearing the full uniform of the Kaisers, and followed by the whole of his staff proceeded through Unter den Linden on horseback at a foot pace. He was cheered, but several disturbances occurred while he was passing.

Since last night the transmission of all telegraphic messages in cipher has been stopped, and it is impossible to know what the emperor is doing. The police detachments have been reinforced; troops and police are massed in the castle, and at the prefecture the police have been authorized to use their arms if necessary. They had done this already, though, without waiting for instructions when charging the mob near the castle, and many people have been wounded.

Reliable information confirms the gravity of last night's events in Berlin. The present movement seems carefully organized. Circulars distributed at various meetings explained that the opportunity had come for preventing the partial success of the plan. Many of the shops were sacked, the greatest sufferers being the tobacconists, bakers and publicans.

They Hooted the Emperor. There has been no interruption of the rioting all day. The police were content to make a charge along Unter den Linden in order to clear the approaches to the emperor's residence, and only partly succeeded in effecting their purpose. Demonstrations occurred, too, in front of several of the banks, and more particularly the Bank of Dresden, but the most serious incident took place at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, when, on his return from a ride, the emperor was audibly hooted at by several hundred rioters. The mounted police charged and drove the crowd into the side street.

Heavy losses have resulted from the pillaging of the shops and the municipality will have to pay 1,000,000 marks damages. One hundred and twenty shops were looted. Twenty thousand cigars were stolen from one tobacconist. Nothing like these disturbances has ever been known in Berlin. The situation here was at first confined to the unemployed workmen who have spread to the rest of the population.

In London and Paris grave international complications are dreaded. It is feared that if the disorders last much longer the emperor will attempt a diversion by declaring war against whom is not yet decided. It is character to those in Berlin have taken place in Dantz and Brunswick. Others are feared in Vienna, where the emperor is expected to visit. The situation altogether is alarming. Germany seems to have come to the end of her fortunate period. Events may at any moment turn perilous for the empire.

Carnot Has Found a Premier. We have not advanced a step toward the solution of the crisis since yesterday. Last night M. Bourgeois had agreed to make an effort to form a cabinet. Today he abandoned this project in despair. Carnot is reported to M. Loubet, an illustrious nobody who represents the department of the Drome in the senate. It would appear that M. Loubet has been luckless in his suggestions. Late tonight it was announced that a cabinet had been formed with M. Loubet as premier and M. de Freycinet and M. Ribot as ministers. In the ministry besides M. Bourgeois and M. Viotte, but M. Constant goes out.

More Rioting in Berlin. Many Members of the Mob Wounded and the Leaders Arrested. BERLIN, Feb. 26.—At 3:15 p. m. Prince Bismarck, brother of the emperor, left the castle and drove to the palace through the Unter den Linden. He was loudly cheered by the dense crowds that moved up and down the street.

proceeded to drag him to a seat by canal. A mob of rioters, however, came rushing to the scene by the uproar and galloped their horses to the spot where the lunatic officer was struggling in the grasp of his merciful captives.

Rescued From the Mob. The officers rode straight down on the shouting crowd, surrounding the policeman and scattering their right and left, rushed to their comrades just in time to prevent the rioters from carrying out their threats of drowning him in the canal. The policeman presented a sad spectacle when rescued. He had received bad usage from the mob and was covered with blood and dirt.

Crowds brought out about 30,000 people today. Through the afternoon the streets leading to the castle garden were crowded with people who greatly hampered the police, and this fact served to cause exaggerated ideas of the extent of the disorder. A number of prominent persons were injured in the different melees and many ugly snuff boxes were thrown about the streets. The burse was further depressed today.

The emperor assumed an air of greatest nonchalance when he rode out today. An attempt was made to storm the palace, but the police station were attacked in several parts of the city. While the guards marched through Unter den Linden a police officer was pelted with stones and forced to take shelter from the infuriated mob in an adjoining house.

The liberal papers appeal to the magistracy to enforce the law empowering them to send the rioters to prison. They also appeal to the rural districts and suffering from lack of laborers, who migrate to and congest the labor market of the capital.

Reproachable. There was some disorder at the Schloss Freiheit and palace at 10 o'clock. Several arrests were made and there was a disturbance at the East end at about 11 o'clock.

Suppressing the Facts. LONDON, Feb. 26.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times declares that the laxity of the government in Berlin is due to an attempt to minimize the extent of the disorder in the city. He says that the police detachments have been reinforced; troops and police are massed in the castle, and at the prefecture the police have been authorized to use their arms if necessary.

They Hooted the Emperor. There has been no interruption of the rioting all day. The police were content to make a charge along Unter den Linden in order to clear the approaches to the emperor's residence, and only partly succeeded in effecting their purpose.

More Rioting in Berlin. Many Members of the Mob Wounded and the Leaders Arrested. BERLIN, Feb. 26.—At 3:15 p. m. Prince Bismarck, brother of the emperor, left the castle and drove to the palace through the Unter den Linden. He was loudly cheered by the dense crowds that moved up and down the street.
