First Baptist Church Members Have Another Lively Discussion.

HOT SHOT GIVEN AND RECEIVED

Paster Hall Explained His Side of the Case in a Lengthy Address, But at the Conclusion of the Debate He Was Voted Out.

It rained last night, persistently and steadily, but the cold water did not deter the members of the First Baptist church from coming out and joining eagerly in the fray that is being waged between the two deadly factions in the church, one of which is trying to dismiss the pastor, Rov. L. A. Hall, and the other to retain and sustain him. They met last night for the purpose of fighting it out to a finish. The weapons were tongues and ballots. There were plenty of both and they were used. All the members were present, with enough outsiders to occupy all the room left.

By agreement Mr. A. W. Clark of Omaha was selected as a moderator or chairman. He was an hour late in getting into town, and it was 8:30 before he called the meeting to order. When he did so he briefly stated the case and read a prepared program which he found on the pulpit. He made a conciliatory talk, advising all members to think and pray earnestly before they took any action in the meeting. Before the trouble commenced one member from each faction delivered a prayer and asked for especial blessings on his side. The factions were arranged with the most pronounced opponents of each party occupying sections as far removed as possible from each other and the more neutral ones filling the center section. One of the members in his preliminary skirmish or prayer suggested to the Lord that there was such a thing as striking hands in wickedness and intimated that the other side were locked in such an embrace.

Debate Was Limited. By agreement the debate was limited to a statement from each side, the paster to have the opening and closing speech and to represent his side unless some member friendly to him chose to take up part of his time. At the conclusion of this the vote was to be taken. W. B. Shillington and William Blood were appointed tellers, and before the speeches commenced printed slips bearing the ques-tion "Shall the present pastoral relations be continued?" were scattered through the con-

Rev. Mr. Hall commenced the business by an easy conversational talk, and when he was just beginning to get interested in the subject of the church dissensions he was called to order by one of the members, who labored under the misapprehension that he only had five minutes to make the opening speech. He appealed to the congregation to decide whether this was to be a business meeting of earnest men and women or a little country school debating society. The congregation doc ded that it was a red not business meeting, and he was given leave to use as much time as he required, and for the next thirty minutes he poured volleys into the ranks of the enemy that made them

His words were so hot that they smoked. The church, he said, had not followed him five minutes since he became its pastor; be hadn't had the united help of the members for one second. He wanted to know if the opposition thought it would help the church to dismiss him. Then he reminded them what they had done. Out of over $1,900 the opposing faction represented just $178. Then he called their attention to the fact that they had called him to the church unanimously. "If God called me with your unanimous con-sent and approbation you had better be care-ful what you do; that is, if you think you have any acquaintance with God. I see mem-bers here tonight whose voice I have never heard in prayer. Isn't that singular? The trouble is, you never pray. It isn't a change of minister you want, but a change of heart."

Taen he went over all the old trouble, the trouble the church had had with other pastors. "You said God called Rev. Mr. Thickstun, but you soon thought God was mistaken, and after he and his noble wife had built this splendid church you threw him out, and that man and his broken wife are suffering in this city today from the hard-ships they endured. You are equally unanious in your belief that God had called Rev. Mr. Lemen, but it wasn't long until you found that God had made another big blunder and you bounced him-Lemen, not God, and today he is prosperous and doing a great work in your midst in spite of your malice I have done the best I could, and preached to you the best sermons I could while trying to hold you off."

Thought it Was Chronic.

He then read a number of letters bearing on the subject from friends and enemies, one of a scurillous character from a member who signed himself "Tom Egglestone," advising the paster to skip out and go to buying hay for a living.

He also read from the church records, showing that this dissatisfaction with the pastor was chronic. He characterized it as a disease in the church, which had broken out at regular intervals for the past ten or nifteen years. It was a bad thing, he thought to keep pulling up a tree every few months to see what the roots were doing.

The pastor then took his seat and Mr.
Evans, one of the opposing members, presented the side of the opposition. He ad-sented the side of the opposition. He admitted that they had not supported the pastor, and asked, "How could we?" with a harsh inflection. He said the record of the pastor was bad, very bad, and covered wrecked churches from Gloucester, Mass., to Mason City, Ia. He said he was a disturber and denouncer of members. A man's record ought not to count against him if he has changed it, but Hall has not changed it since coming here. He had made false representations little short of falseboods. The church didn't know his record when he came here put they soon of falseboods. The church didn't know his record when he came here, but they soon found it out and had been trying, for the saving of the church, to get him to quietly leave. This formed about the bulk of the charges and Mr. Hall made a son ewhat sensational rejoinder. He said he was surprised. He expected to be charged with murder or at least with having three or four wives, like some of the deacons of the church.

vives, like some of the deacons of the church This ended the speechmaking, and the last part of the evening was occupied in balloting and disputing. The principal theme of discussion was as to whether the four members who were excluded recently and then taken back into the church three days later that the church three days later that the church three days later than the chu by a vote of the faction which opposed Hall, should be allowed to vote. A standing vote was taken, and the result of it was that the four members were allowed to vote, the majority being twenty in their favor. The result of the final vote was that the pastoral relations were declared severed by a vote o

Result of the Democratic Caucuses in the Various Wards.

The democrats held their preliminary caucuses last evening to elect delegates to the city convention which is to be held tomorrow, and in spite of the wet weather there was a good attendance in every ward. Democratic enthusiasm rose to a great height everywhere, and in a number of the wards some of the voters narrowly escaped physical violence at the hands of their opponents. From outside appearances A. C. Graham seems to have captured a large share of the

seems to have captured a large snare of the delegatious, and unless something is done to sidetrack his followers before tomorrow afternoon he may pretty safely be counted on to come in at the death.

In the First ward C. M. Maynard was appointed chairman and Fred Geise received the nomination for adderman. The delegation, which is unanimously in favor of Graham, is as follows: J. R. McPherson, D. N. Graves, M. Goodwin, L. C. Bestey, Soren Thompson, Ed. Stockert, Fred Klager, R. B. Anderson, Benjamin Harg, Wallace McFad-Anderson, Benjamin Hagg, Wallace McFad-den and P. E. Spencer. H. W. The contest over the nomination for alderman was very spirited, the candidates being James Saguin and Dr. F. P. Beilinger. It finally resulted in the nomination of Saguin by a vote of 126 to ST. The following delegates were appointed: W. H. Knepher, A. T. Whittlesey, Gus Larsen, R. V. Philips, John H. Mithen, D. M. West, Emil Schurz, William Allstrand, S. J. Rodda, John McDonald, Josiah Dauforth. McDonald, Josiah Dauforth. The delegation is said to be solid for Gra-ham for mayor, W. N. Whittiesey for aud-itor, and Major G. H. Richmond for surveyor, but on the other hand it is quietly hinted that some one is going to be greatly disappointed when the final vote is cast. In the Third, J. R. Dietrica was elected chairman and P. J. MacBride secretary. A chairman and P. J. MacBride secretary. A straight Graham delegation was elected by a vote of 120 to 87, composed as follows: W. McMicken, William Maioney, C. Gregory, George Blaxsim, Ed Britton, L. C. Larson, F. M. Hunter and J. R. Dietrich. E. E. Aylesworth was appointed chairman in the Fourth ward and Dr. Donald Macrae, jr., secretary. A march was stolen on Macrae's supporters here, by a motion that the rae's supporters here, by a motion that the delegates be elected by acclamation and that no man should be allowed to place in nomination more than one individual. As a general thing the first man nominated was elected, and although the followers of Macrae were considerably in the lead the lack of organization was early taken advantage of by the opponents of Macrae, who ran in a delegation which is claimed to be for Graham by a majority of 5 to 3. The following are the delegates; J. J. Shea, J. B. Atkius, F. Trimble, G. A. Robinson, W. E. Atchison, T. B. Lacey, R. D. Amy, H. F. Hattenbauer.

W. W. Cones was appointed chairman in the Fifth ward, and J. N. Bowman secretary. There were two tickets in the field, one of which was solid for S. B. Wadsworth for mayor, while the other was equally di-vided between Macrae and Graham. Five colored men made a great roar at being shut out of the caucus for being too late and fully fifteen minutes was occupied in wrangling over the question whether they should be allowed to vote. It was finally decided against them, and the count was made by the tellers, W. D. Hardin and W. C. Morris. At the bottom of the hat was found eight tickets, neatly packed together, which Har-din claimed had evidently been put there by some member of the Wadsworth faction. He demanded that they be thrown out bodily. A third man who had assisted the tellers in re-ceiving the ballots claimed that he had fell of every ticket as it was passed in, and that the hat could not possibly have been stuffed. Morris accordingly protested against the ballots being thrown out.

At this juncture the five colored men who had not been allowed to vote came to the surface once more and demanded that they be allowed to exercise their rights as American citizens. A half hour was spent in discussing this point, and bedlam reigned su-preme. At last it was decided to leave the matter to M. Callahan, who, as he himself aid, "had been township clerk for sixteen years and knew how these things were done," He decided that the votes should be counted, to the great disgust of the oppo-nents of Wadsworth, for the eight ballots turned the scale in his favor. The following is a list of the delegates: W. C. Morris, Ben Austin, F. Dingie, William Grogan, S. Fos-ter, C. Sherer, James Nolan, J. W. Bell. ter, C. Sperer, James Nolan, J. W. Bell.
In the Sixth a very quiet caucus was held.
P. D. Burke was chairman and W. B. Fisher secretary. Three tickets were in the field, two of which were claimed to be in favor of of Graham's tickets, was elected, receiving eighty-six bailots, while Graham's second licket was considerably cut up, the different delegates receiving anywhere from twenty one to forty-two votes. Macrae's ticket received twenty-two votes. The names of th successful candidates are as follows: P. D. Burke, J. C. Hanson, R. T. Munfort, C. C. Graves, William Mercer and Henry Payne. Franklin Square.

Council Bluffs May Get It. The state convention of the Young Men's Christian association which took place last week at Iowa City was attended by 220 delegates, representing nearly all the associations in the state, and nearly 100 others who were present. The meetings were very in-teresting. The question of the location of the next state convention was referred to the state executive committee, and will be decided probably within a week. It is understood that a majority of the members of the committee favor holding the convention in Council Bluffs.

Patched Up a Truce. The difficulties between Mrs. Nathalie Pollard and A. Z. Bowen, her advance agent, came to an end, for the present at least, ves terday morning, when Bowen was brought before Justice Cones for a hearing on the charge of having embezzled $110 of Mrs. Poliard's money. They two had been closeted together for fully three hours before the trial, in the office of Mrs. Poliard's attorney.

What passed between them is not known statements which were attributed to him in the World-Hernid about a month ago in an interview in which he was represented as making some very serious reflections on Mrs. Pollard's character. He stated that he Mrs. Pollard's character. He stated that he had never given anyone connected with that paper any authority to publish such an interview, and had never made any statements calculated to injure Mrs. Pollard. After this retraction had been made Mrs. Pollard declined to press the suit any farther, and it was dismissed, although nothing has been acreed as to the money which Bowen was alleged to have misappropriated. The senate committee on postoffices and postroads gave a hearing last week to citizens of New York and Brooklyn, who are asking for the expediting of the mail service in these two cities. An electric or pneumatic system was generally advocated. There now before the senate a bill authorizing now before the senate a bill authorizing the postmaster general to appoint a commission to investigate and report the best plan for increasing the postal facilities and appropriating $1,000,000 for a trial of the system recom-

NEARLY KILLED BILLY GIBBS

Brutal Strangling of a Former Omaha Man in a Wrestling Match.

DENNIS GALLAGHER SHUTS OFF HIS WIND

The Spectators Denounce the Act in Most Vigorous Manner-The Victim Remains Unconscious for a Long Time, but is Resuscitated.

BRADFORD, Pa., Feb. 27.-At the Wagner opera house last night Billy Gibbs, who is known as the Kausas Demon, but was for merly a backman at Omaha, and Dennis Gallagher of Buffalo engaged in a wrestling match that came near ending in a tragedy The match was best two in three falls, Graeco-Roman style, strangie hold not barred. The men were in prime condition and the first bout ended the contest.

The struggle lasted twenty minutes with honors even. Gibbs got a strangle hold on Gallagher, but the Buffalo man, by the exercise of wonderful strength, broke the hold. In the subsequent effort to obtain a fall, Gallagher got his man by the neck and tried to place his shoulders upon the carpet. Gibbs got partly out of the bad position he was in and then Gallagher clutched him about the neck for a handhold. With the fierceness of an Evan Lewis he squeezed Gibbs' windpipe until the latter, with eyes protruding and black in the face, made a guttural sound like the stifled rearing of a bull. He was strangling. "Don't murder him," "Foul," "Let go of him," and other exclamations came from the horrified spectators.

Billy Baker, Gibbs' second, attempted to rescue his man from Gallagher's clutches, but Referee Atherton held him back. Galagher continued his choking until Globs became unconscious and lay upon the floor in nearly lifeless condition. He was carried to his home by two men, and after working over him for a long time, the wrestler over him for a long time, the wrestler was revived. The match was awarded to Gal-lagher, although he did not throw his man. The strangling of Gibbs was the most brutal spectacle that has ever been witnessed on a stage in this city.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Two railroad cars are now being completed in California which were made from the trunk of one tree.

The Toledo & Ohio Central management confidently expects during the year 1892 to increase its spipments over those of 1891 by 30 per cent.

The Southern Pacific bridge over the Pecos river is to be completed about March 1. This structure is 328 feet above the stream and 180 feet in length.

The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company has signed a contract for 33,500 steel ties, which are to be laid on four tracks running out of New York. Steel ruils of 100-pounds section will be used for this purpose. During 1891 the gross earnings of the Southern Pacific were $50,440,255, exceeding those of 1890 by $2,096,751. The operating ex cases were $31,163,769, just $8,666 more than the preceding year. This makes the amount of the not earnings $19,285,486, or $2,- 088,085 more than in 1890.

For the first seven months of 1891 the passenger traffic on the Hungarian railroads was one-fourth greater than in 1890, and the pas-senger earnings nine and a half per cent greater, indicating that the chief increase was in the local travel. This period covered the second year of the zone tariff.

Mayor Washourne of Chicago has sent to the common council a message upon the gen eral subject of grade crossings of raniways and the need of rapid transit, and has been authorized to appoint three experts, who shall study the subject and report upon the best method of elevating the roads.

The Missouri Pacific and the city council of Leavenworth, Kan., have settled their long standing differences and the railroad will build in the spring a fine new freight depot to replace the old passenger station in return for a grant to the new bridge and erminal company crossing over the Missouri Pacific tracks.

V-shaped contrivances, to be placed on the front of engines of fast express trains, are the latest scheme to get more speed by over-coming much of the natural resistance of the air to the front of the locomotive, says the English Mechanic. The plow extends from a low inches above the track to the top of the smokestack, the sharp edge, of course, in front. "Shoveling fog" is a common expression among railroad men, but plowing wind is a new thing in railroad agriculture. According to recent advices received at the Bureau of American Republics the trans-continental journey from Buonos Ayres to Valuaraiso can be made in 76 nours at a cost not exceeding $200 paper, while the journey by steamer via the Straits of Magellan occupies about 12 days and costs $200 passage money. The railway being now completed to the localities where tunnelling begins, the trip through the mountains from the ends of the approaching lines can be made in 8 or 10

any kind in the world, entirely incandescendights, to be erected in that city. The electric fan has recently been applied to a new use; four of these electrical devices being placed in the turnet of the menitor Miantonomah. They are not to cool the gunners, but are intended to blow the smoke

It is stated that after the Central and South American Telegraph company, the present owners of a cable from Galveston to Valparaiso, has effected the transfer of the Transandine Telegraph agency, cablegrams can be transmitted from Europe to Buenos Ayres in thirty minutes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 27.-Actor M. B. Curtis wore a gloomy look when he took his seat today in Judge Trout's court. His having it set for trial, on the charge of mur-dering Policeman Grant. The contrast be-tween his present demeanor and the manner in which he deported himself during the trial up to the time the jury reported they stood ten to two for conviction, was very marked. On request of W. W. Foote, his counsel, a continuance was granted until Saturday next.

Mrs. Mary Newton Tells of Her Dae plorable Condition and Recovery.

Mrs. Mary Newton, 3924 North 28th avenue, those husband is foreman at Paxton & Vieriwhose busband is foreman at Paxtoz & Vierlinga, says:

"I had headaches which had existed for two years. They were very severe at times, but were constant, scarcely a day bassed without much suffering. Sometimes pains were sharp and shooting, and sometimes of heavy, dult, character. They were at times in front of my head, through the eyes, sometimes in back of my head, running down the neek. This caused sickness of the stomach and greatly affected my appetite, causing also a heavy pain and distress in the stomach, was also very nervous and restless. My eyes were also affected, aching day and night, and so weak that I could not read or do any work requiring the special use of the eye sight.

My throat was always feeling perfectly well, MRS. MARY NEWTON. feeling perfectly well, having no headache nor pain of any kind. My throat and nose are cored; the ringing in the ears is zone, also the cough and pain in my chest. The nervous condition has also left me and I am comfortable and enjoying excellent health.

The treatment I have received of Drs. Copeland, Shepard & Mansfield, which has made this remarkable change, has been mild, pleasant and very skillfully applied. I commend these physicians to all in need of medical help. MRS. MARY NEWTON.

Mr. Thomas N. Clark, of 4619 Douglas street, says: "I would not take one THOUSAND DOLLARS for the benefits I have received from Drs. Copeland, Shepard & Mansfield.

having suffered terrible pair for the last twenty-six years.

My nose was always stopped up first one side then the other; dull, heavy headache just over the eyes and in the back part of the head, rearing noises in the ears, which seemed to never cease.

"I was constantly hawking and spitting trying to raise the mucus that continually dropped from the head to the threat.

In the morning upon arising I would be as tired as when I went to bed; after eating I would experience a sense of fuliness or bloating in the stomach, which added considerable suffering to my now long list of symptoms.

A SEVERE COUGH
was one of the worst of my symptoms, and sharp, shooting pains in the chest extending back to the shoulder blades. This was my condition when I called upon Drs. Copeland, Shepard & Anansfield. They gave me a thorough selentific and systematic course of treatment which was pleasant and, I must admit, very effective, for I am now fee,ing like a new man.

I cannot say too much in praise of Drs. Copeland, Shepard & Mansfield for what they have done for me.

Mr. Clark resides, as stated above, at 4619 Douglas street, where he can be seen and will readily verify his statement.
