She demands a divorce and asks that she be allowed to assume her maiden name, Hanna

Something of a sensation was Monday night about midnight in the vicinity of the corner of Eighth street and First avenue by the firing of two or three pistol The neighbors were aroused by the noise, and went to see what was the matter. It was found that a dozen or more small boys had united to whip one of their fellows who had imbibed enough of the politico-religious sentiment that prevailed on election day to announce his ability to thrash all the Catholic boys in town. The combatants were separated before any serious damage was

How the Democrats Explain Their Almost Total Defeat.

PARTIALLY DUE TO FRACTIONAL STRIFE

Some Deceptive Bailots Circulated by John P. Weaver Are Said to Have Accomplished the Defeat of Lobhart in the Fifth,

A. C. Graham takes his defeat very philosophically. "I have no explanations to offer. The trouble was that I didn't have money and votes enough. It's queer how I've changed in two years. When I was put up for park commissioner both the democratic and republican papers couldn'tsay enough in my favor. You'd have thought I was just the finest fellow in the land. The minute was suggested for mayor, the same ones that had said so much for me couldn't say mean enough things. I know I haven't grown so awfully much worse in two years. It's all right. The corporations knocked me out, but I wake up this morning my own man yet. They don't own me yet." The election and its results formed the principal topic of conversation on the street corners and although the victory for the republicans was not of so decided a nature as to be termed a "landslide," yet it was sufficiently so to give the democrats a tired feeling and fill the hearts of republicans with a caim content. John P. Weaver, one of the old time democrats, received considerably more than his share of atten from both republicans and democrats, from the fact that, is reports be true, he is responsible for the defeat of S. Lobhart, the democratic candidate for alderman in the Fifth ward. During the forenoon Weaver peddled votes for a time in the Fourth ward and then left for the Fifth to see what he could do toward holding the faithful to-gether. He scattered ballots broadcast und twenty-eight of them had been deposited in the ballot box before it was discovered they were of the kind he had been dis-tributing in the Fourth ward, where there was no candidate for alderman,

As soon as the true state of affairs was discovered the Fourth wards votes were bustled out of the market, but the mischlef had been done. When the box was opened twenty-eight bob-tailed democratic ballots were found reposing peacefully within. The consequence was that Lobhart, who would have received a majority of eighteen if the votes had been cast according to the wishe of those casting them, found himself ter votes behind his opponent. Smith holds the office with both hands, however, and no contest will be made. The same trick was played in both the first and Second wards, but did not affect the general result,

The council, as it will be constituted during the coming year, will be a tie, there be-ing four democrats and four republicans. How this will affect the positions of the officers who are to be appointed in April cannot be told at present, but it is likely to give rise to some unpleasant complications The offices of city clerk, physician, street supervisor and chief of the fire department will have to be filled within the next month. ment can be reached between the two fac tions except after a long and weary struggle. The present officials, however, will hold over until their successors are appointed, which may be a menth or a year.

Daylight Robbery. Fourth street was the scene yesterday afternoon of another of the bold depredations hat have been going on at intervals for the past two months. The residence of George S. Damon, at 109 Fourtd street, was the place visited. A young man of rather dudish ap pearance was seen by Mrs. Duerr, the next door neighbor, in the yard during the after noon, but nothing particularly was thought of the fact until one of the Damon boys got home after school and found that a back window had been pried open and the whole house, upstairs and down had been thoroughly ransacked. nouse is usually left alone all day as Mr. Damon is out of the city and his sister, Miss Mary Dymon, is a teacher in the city schools The burglar was evidently aware of this fact, and had consequently taken all the time necessary to make the search a thorough one. Experiments have been made in this city and eastern cities, and the gentlemen claim that the results obtained have been remarkably satisfactory, it having been determined that the ores can be reduced at a maximum cost of $3.50 per ton. Should a practical application of the process accided on prove as fruitful as have the experimental tests, there is opened up for the entire Black hills a bright future.

WHY DID HE DIE?

Unanswered Question in Connection with R. E. Granger's Taking Off. Some time last November R. E. Granger of Chicago came to this city in search of work and stopped at the Pullman house near Thirteenth and Dodge streets. Failing to find employment Granger, who is about 55 years old, became despondent and it is supposed tried to take his own nfe. Late yesterday morning Granger was found in his room by the chambermaid. He was breathing heavily and moaning. A physician was called and worked hard for several hours trying to save his patient's life but without avail. Shortly after 3 o'clock the man died and Coroner Maul was notified. It was supposed that it was merely a case of heart failure and the theory of suicide was ridiculed by the proprietors and inmates of the house. An inquest was held last evening at the morgue. Dr. Ralph testified that the pupils of the eye were slightly dilated and indicated the possibility of poison. After a consultadecided to call it a case of heart failure. Coroner Maul asked the jury for an opinion as to whether a post mortem was necessary, This question could not be decided and the jury adjourned until 4:30 o'clock today to await developments.

Granger has a prother in St. Louis who was telegraphed for by the coroner last

MORE TROUBLE AT CORNING.

Free Methodists Again Disturbed by a Mol and the Preachers Hurt. CORNING, Ia., March 8 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Another disturbance has been caused by the Free Methodist meetinga here. Last night Preacher Craig injudiciously characterized the disturbers by various epithets and said the mob of toughs ought to be driven out of town.
The gang awaited the closing of the meeting and assaulted the preachers, beginning by pushing one another against them. They grew more violent until they knocked them down, beat and kicked them in the mud. Preachers riiram Brockney and Alonzo Dewees were badly braised. The former is confined to his room. He is an in-offensive and physically weak man, having been sick and almost unable to eat for son weeks, so that the act was cowardly and brutal. It has done much to win public sentiment, not in favor of the meeting, but against lawless interference. It is feared the effect will be to add fuel to the flames and strengthen the hold this "whoop-la" re ligion has made upon the city.

Preacher Craig announced last night that the general headquarters for North America would be transferred from Canada to Cor ning. He further announced that the whole thirty-four Pentecost bands would soon be here, that the general conference will be held here, opening April 7, and citizens must begin to make arrangements for their enter-tainment and that they will make this their Chautauqua grounds. Many of last night's mob are known and warrants are out for Mike Kennedy, Samuel McCaskner and Bert Hollister. The two first named are under stood to have skipped for Omaha. No on upholds last night's assault upon inoffensive reacher Brockney.

THIEVING MAIL CLERK ARRESTED.

Brother of the General Superintendent o the Railway Man Service Caught. Dunuque, Ia. March 8. - | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- For some time past letters and merchandise packages have been missing from the mail bags on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad between Mc-Gregor and Chamberlain. S. D. A detective was put on the line and decoy letters were used. By means of the latter the thief was traced. He proved to be J. D. White of Sanborn, Is., a postal route agent. The marked tetters were found on his person, some of them between his legs. He was arrested and brought before United States. Commissioner Hobbs today and confessed his guit. He admitted that he had been stealing letters for three months, but the stealing letters for three months, partial postal officers say for a longer time.

Iowa's Sensational Divorce Suit. ELDORA, Ja., March 8.-The Ellsworth divorce sensation had its first innings in court here today. E. S. Ellsworth, whose wealth is estimated from $500,000 up, has a Colorado divorce from his wife, who seeks to have the gecree annulled as fraudulent. This forenoon was consumed in reading the petition of the wife. The reading formally developed the fact that the Colorado decree was based on shocking accusations, among others that for four years the wife had consorted with per-sons of low character, receiving their visits at unreasonable hours. Mrs. Ellsworth's answer declares her signature to the notice of the suit was obtained by the misrepresenney, and that she and her nusband contin-ued to cohabit after the notice was signed until a visit by her to Colorado, which she now declares was made by her husband's suggestion and was part of the plan against her. Elisworth declares in his answer that the wife consented to the divorce, knowing well what she was doing and gladly accepting $1,000 a year alimony during her lifetime or until she should marry again. He submits a letter purporting to be from her expressing entire satisfaction with the sottlement. Arguments by Lawyer Nagle in behalf of the husband were begun this afternoon and will be concluded tomorrow.

The Board of Directors Give Out Informs

tion to the Stockholders, YORK, March 8 .- At the regular monthly meeting of the Distillers & Cattle Feeders company's board of directors held at the rooms of their new club in Fifth avenue today, it was decided, in view of existing circumstances, to reduce the quartarly divident to 1 per cent, and to reduce the market price of the company's product 1 cent per gallon. In explanation of this action the board gave out this statement to the stockholders:

"The business of the company is entirely satisfactory, and its earnings for the quarter have been more than sufficient to pay the full dividend of 1.5 per cent."

The suit brought by the United States authorities at Boston against the company the directors do not consider serious, and they are advised by the best counsel obtain-able that no case can be maintained against the company. Actual and possible competitors may, and probably will, have considered that the present situation would afford an opportunity to make inroads in our business and our directors, in view of its determined policy to protect our trade at all hazards deem it wise to strengthen the position of the company. The directors feel that they will be able to dispel all doubts as to the stability and strength of the compony, and they assure the stockholders of their full confidence in its permanent success.

P. J. Hennessey, secretary, said President Greenhut stated that while it was somewhat unusual to publish a statement of the above character, yet he felt that the circumstances fully warranted the action. It is plainly ap parent that the company proposes to ade quately protect its trade against present and prospective competition. Will Appear in Court Saturday.

Boston, Mass., March 8 .- All the defendants in the Whisky trust cases have recognized for their appearance in Boston next Saturday except Nelson Morris. The district attorney and his assistants are busy drawing the indictments in the cases on which the grand jury have reached an agree-

The enabling act provides that the states shall be divided by the seventh standard parallel and that it shall be extended due west to the Montana line. The trouble arises through the seventh standard being a crooked line to the eastern boundary line of the state. In Roberts county, South Dakota, it is some two miles north of the boundary line between Sargent and Day counties, owing to the Minnesota base line being extended for the south boundary. This makes one tier of townships in Roberts county north of the seventh standard par-
