Reported Murder of an Unknown Man in a Deserted Building.

STRANGE STORY OF A MUTILATED NOTE

Police Investigating the Reports-Meeting of the New City Council Last Evening -Claims He Was Robbed -Magic City Miniatures.

Near the corner of Thirty-sixth and Armour streets stands an old house that has been unoccupied for sometime. During the winter it has been a rendezvous for tramps and tough characters, and it is thought that most of the robberies that have been perpotrated in various parts of the city have been planned in the deserted building. The house has been purchased by Joe Kavan, and while workmen were engaged in cleaning it out yesterday morning they discovered what may be the only remaining evidence of a ghastly crime.

Under the stairway that led to the upper story of the building was pinned a piece of paper. It was a leaf from a memorandum book of 1891-92 and was covered with writlog in lead pencil which had become almost obliterated. When the rough scrawl was finally deciphered it was found to be as follows: "You willfind in the basement the body of a dead man. He was killed by some one who is unknown."

Chief of Police Brennan was notified and drove down to the house. After searching through the debris that covered the floor be discovered a patch of clotted blood about eighteen inches in diameter. An examination of the basement failed to disclose the alleged body and no further evidence of crime was found. Some believe that there has really been a murder committed at the old house, while others claim that the note is a boax and the clot of blood was placed there to give color to the story. The house is somewhat isolated, and considering the class of people who have inhabited it during the win-ter there is a possibility that some stranger may have been robbed and murdered and his body buried deep in the cellar of the build-

Change of Administration.

The old city council met for the last time last evening. The room was crowded with spectators, who waited to see the newly elected officials supersede those who had done duty for the preceding two years. There were many among them also who cherished inspirations toward the offices to be filled by appointment by the new mayor and who hoped to read in the faces and actions of the new officials some sign of approval.

The resignations of Bon S. Adams as city attorney and H. H. Raven as city weighmaster and inspector of weights and measures were read and accepted.

The finance committee was authorized to canvasa the returns of the city election. The official canvass gave the following returns:

"I can assure you that I stand before you with nothing but the best of feelings toward all here. I thank Mayor Sloane for his kind remarks and I sinverely hope that his good wishes will be realized."

After Mr. O'Rourke had given the new council a few friendly admonitions the old council adjourned sine die, Mayor Miller then called the new body to order and an ad-journment was taken until this evening.

Charged With Highway Robbery. Charles Reidy and James Murphy were arrested by Chief Brennan last night for bighway robbery. The complainant is Joseph Mahoney, a hatter, who arrived in the city yesterday from Chicago.

Mahoney's story is that he went to Swift's packing house yesterday afternoon to find a friend who was working there. On his return he stopped at a saloon near Twenty-sixth and Q streets, where he mot Reidy and Murphy. The pair offered to take him out and show him the beauties of the stockyards and after a few potations the party started. Instead of going to the yards he was led down the railroad track toward Albright. Finally Reidy threw him down by the side of the track and the pair took $65 in bills from his pockets.

The case will be ventilated before Judge Fowler this morning.

Thrown from His Buggy.

Dr. T. A. Berwick was thrown from his buggy and narrowly escaped serious injury in Omaha Sunday afternoon. He was driving down Leavenworth street when another rig drove into him, upsetting his buggy and throwing him out on the pavement. He was momentarily stunned and was taken to a neighboring drug store where he soon refew scratches and bruises. The horse was found near Hanscom park after the buggy had been demolished.

MISSOURI PACIFIC SHORT CUT.

The Line is Ready But the Depot Facilities
Are Wanting—Railroad Notes. The Missouri Pacific people have been counting on running their passenger trains into the Tenth street union depot, but the situation in Union Pacific affairs threatens that desirable arrangement. "We expected to run over our short line into Omaha by January 1," said a Missouri Pacific man, "but that was based on an understanding that we were to cross the Platte river on the B. & M. bridge. When that agreement fell through we began a bridge of our own, which will be ready for use in three or four weeks. Our line is constructed both south and north of the bridge, making a connection with the Union Pacific near Gilmore, and the crossing of the river is the only thing that stands in the way of operating it between Omaha and Plattsmouth.

"We have been counting on running over "We have been counting on running over the Union Pacific from Gilmore to the Tenth street depot early next month, but it now looks as though the scheme might be frus-trated. Jay Gould, having control of both the railways concerned, went ahead with our short line without a definite contract with the Union Pacific, confident that he could dictate a desirable contract whenever ready dictate a desirable contract whenever ready to operate the new line. The terms of such a compact have been discussed, but the contract has not teen signed. If the Vanderbilts gain control of the Union Pacific as foreshadowed by New York dispatches, they will not favor Mr. Gould, particularly in matters pertaining to a competing road like the Missouri Pacific, and they may impose onerous conditions which Mr. Gould, cannot accept conditions which Mr. Gould cannot accept. There is considerable danger, therefore, that the Missouri Pacific may be prevented from using the Tenth street depot. In that event our company might build from Gilmore to a connection with the Belt Life, but the plans do not contemplate such an extension."

Home Industry Locomotives. A new locomotive, No. 831, was turned out of the Union Pacific shops Saturday. This is the second of a lot of five ordered some time ago. They are constructed for speed and durapility and are intended for the fast mail service. They are said to cost 50 per cent more than the price charged by eastern locomotive works, but Master Mechanic McConneil is confident that that difference will be more than made up by increased serviceableness. Every piece of material used in the construc-tion is tested, and the possession of the orig-inal drawings will greatly facilitate the making of repairs.

Notes and Personals. Fred Matthews of the B. & M. passenger department has returned from an outing in the Black Hills. A railroad man, just arrived from Iowa, says that construction work on the Santa Fe's Omaha line has reached Ottumwa and that independent terminals have been secured in Des Moines.

of Venner. The latest news relating to the fight be tween the warring factions of the American Water Works company is that the supreme court of New York has decided in favor of C. H. Venner & Co. the two suits brought last fail by the Denver faction against that firm. The first of these suits was brought to prevent Venuer & Co. from disposing of $2,500,000 stock in the company and $100,000 notes and an account of $10,000 against the company (the notes and account being for company (the notes and account being for money advanced by Venner & Co. to the Omana works) and for an accounting. County Commissioners Decide to Modify the Nebraska Central Proposition.

CONTROL OF THE BRIDGE PROVIDED FOR

All Differences Regarding Rates and Switching Charges to Be Submitted to a Board of City and County Officials for Arbitration.

The county commissioners, together with the county attorney, met in secret session yesterday afternoon to consider the proposition of the Nebraska Central Railway company relative to the construction of a bridge across the river at the foot of Cass street. The meeting was a harmonious one, but final action was not taken. The attorney was instructed to draft some amendments to the original proposition. If these are accepted the commissioners will call an election to allow the voters to have an opportunity to cast their ballots upon the question of the issuance of $500,000 of Douglas county

The board of arbitration will consist of the chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, the president of the city council and one of the district judges. The company will be required to pay all of the expenses of holding the election, and in addition thereto will be asked to accept 4 instead of 5 per cent bonds. The new proposition will come before the board this afternoon, and if accepted by Vice President Dumont an election will be called

NO SHOW FOR COMPROMISE.

Warring Democratic Factions Will Carry the Fight to the State Convention. The first two engagements in the democratic war have been decided and the clans are preparing for a final struggle, which will come Wednesday in the state convention.

There appears to be no inclination on the part of either faction to compromise the difficulty. Both wings of the party are very busy preparing to defeat the plans of the Speaking of the situation yesterday Charles Offut said: "There were some descriers in the convention last Saturday but the regular army is now in excellent order." "Will the Martin men give the Boyd delegation trouble in the state convention?" "I do not see how they can, because they simply got up and left the convention with no just cause for the statement that they were not being fairly treated. A number of Martin men stayed with us right through, so they were left with a minority. I don't believe that a mihority will have much of a show in the state convention, especially since that minority has been plainly in the wrong. They did not give us a chance to show whether we were going to treat them fairly or not. I would rather have lost my right arm than to have treated a Martin

"How about the statement made by Mahoney charging Elsusser with stealing the credentials of the Second ward proxies!" don't believe that there is a word of truth in the statement. Mr. Mahoney propa-bly thought that he was stating a fact, but I think he was mistaken."

Speaking of the possibility of sending un-instructed delegates to the national convention, Mr. Offut said: "I am in favor of ap-pointing a representative democratic delega-tion and trusting to their judgment after they reach the national convention. I would not object to the passage of a resolution expressing the preference of the party in the state, but I shall oppose instructing the dele gation. There is one remarkable thing about the cause of the Martin deserters," contin-ued Mr. Offut. "Many of the delegates they appointed are now declaring that they will not attend the convention as Martin delegates. Some of the men they appointed are not in the city and know nothing at all about the fight and would not take part in it is they were here."

Mr. Montgomery was seen by a Bee re-porter and in response to the question as to whether there was any chance for a compromise, he said: "So far as I am concerned I am always in favor of doing that which is fair and honorable, but I know of no steps that are being taken to compromise the difficulty. We had a straight majority in that convention, and that fact we shall be able to prove. I am not in favor of permitting any faction to carry things with high handed fraud. So far as the instructions to the state delegation is concerned, I shall be in favor of sending the Nebraska delegation with instructions for Cleveland."

Mr. Elsasser was seen with regard to the charge made by Mahoney touching his con-nection with the proxies from the Second ward. "I handed those credentials for the Second "I handed those credentials for the Second ward proxies to the secretary of the convention and he told me to keep them until the committee on credentials had been appointed and hand them to the committee," said Mr. Elsasser. "I then put the credentials of the proxies in my pocket. Mahoney saw me do it, I suppose, and thought I intended to keep them the support of the convention. I he them through the entire convention. I be-lieve I did the proper thing for those proxies had no right to a vote in the convention until the committee had passed upon their right to vote. I want to say further that three of those proxies were bought by the Martin men. The Second ward elected a solid Boyd delegation, but the Martin men got hold of three of the delegates and pought them off and filled their places with their men. We can prove this and will do so if it comes to r show down."

Judge Shields said that Elsasser was right about the purchase of the proxies by the Martin men. 'The very moment they at-tempt to show that we stole those proxies," said the judge, "we will show that they stole them in the first place. If they want

Mr. Martin was very busy yesterday, but he ook time enough to say to a Bee reporter that he was in favor of sending a delegation to the national convention instructed for Grover Cleveland.

With reference to the struggle of last Sat-urday Mr. Martin said: "We went into that convention with a majority of the delegates and the Boyd men knew it. Pretty Mrs. Willoughby's Answer to the Charge of Shoplifting. The employes of the police station were reated to a novel exhibition yesterday. Mrs. Jessie Willoughby who had occupied a cell over Sunday waiting for a hearing on the charge of shoplifting, was the principal actress. A large Saratoga trunk had been brought down from her room at 1915 Izard street and, surrounded by an interested circle of policemen, detectives, reporters and dry goods men, she knelt down on the floor of the station house to go through its contents.

Mrs. Willoughby is a tall, graceful woman with a pretty, refined face and luxuriant brown hair which she knows how to arrange to the best advantage. She dresses well, and as far as appearances go is every such a lady.

The trunk was packed to the brim with stolen goods, the accumulation of months of systematic shoplifting, and the woman went through the task of unpacking mechanically, and without the least apparent emotion, arranging the goods in half a dozen different piles, smoothing the creases out of the costly fabrics with shapely hands, and deftly arranging the ribbons and feathers of the trimmed hats. She worked quickly, but it took her nearly half an hour to go through the trunk. When she had finished she stood up with an impassive face, folded her hands and waited for the next move.

The detectives had taken the goods which included costly silks and laces, hats, shawls, draperies, shoes of all sizes, umbrellas, etc., and labeled them with the names of the owners as given by the woman: Morse, Stonenill, Falconer, Boston Store, etc.

When taken before the judge and charged with stealing two slig umbrollas she said calmiy "I am guilty," but when questioned as to her 3-year-old child she broke down and was taken to her seat sobbing. She is a widow and apparently not much over 2) years old. She was fined $50 and costs. Merchants can form no idea of how extensive the practice of shoplifting has been carried on. Mr. Stonehill says he has figured $2,000 a year in his expenses to cover losses from stolen goods but when he found the item running up to $5,000 he thought it time to do something and this series of arrests was

After Years of Unsuccessful Search for Cure, Martin Anderson Gets Relieffron the Chiness Doctor - A Voluntary Test

To whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that I have been a constant sufferer for many years with catarch, asthma and bronchial affecions of the throat, and tried all the patent medicines and remedies I ever heard of, but with no success. I treated with doctors in various parts of the country, but none of them could do me any good further than giving me shor temperary relief. I suffered night an day, and continued to grow worse not withstanding all the medicine I had taken. I had almost given up my case as hopeless when I was informed by a friend of Dr. C. Gee Wo, the Chinese doctor, and advised to go and see him in the hope of getting relief at least, if not a permanent cure for my trouble. I was slow in making up my mind to make such a radical change in my treatment, as I knew a trial with the Chinese doctor would bring me, but I finally con cluded to give him a trial, so I called at his office with that intention. I found the doctor a clever, entertaining gentle man, thoroughly posted on my condition, and it took only a very short time to convince me that he was the party was so long in search of. He told ma my case was curable, and that he could cure me, and prepared me a special treatment to suit my condition, and ir two weeks I was so much better that I had the fullest confidence in the doctor's ability and committed my case to his treatment. I continued to grow batter rapidly and am now entirely well, I not ashamed to admit it. I advise all who want relief from their troubles to call on Dr. C. Gee Wo, and they will be cured.
