SAVED THE SCHOOL LANDS

Commissioner Humphrey's Work Worth Thousands to Nebraska.

INTERPRETATION OF THE LAW

Indientions That it is Sufficiently Correct to Cause the Department to Consider the Subject Fully-Other Lincoin News Notes.

Lincoln, Neb., April 22,- | Special to THE BEE.]-One of the principal errands of State Land Commissioner Humphrey on his recent visit to the national capital was to consult with the officials of the general land office in regard to the selection of indemnity lands to take the place of school sections 16 and 36 in the Ponca Indian reservation, recently thrown open to settlement. These sections were not exempted from homestead entry when the reservation was thrown open to settlement as the law expressly stated that they were not reserved for school pur-poses. The school sections in Boyd county outside of the Ponca reservation, however, are not open to homestead entry, according to Commissioner Humphrey's interpretation of the law, and he is endeavor-ing to convince the land departmentth at his view of the case is the correct one.

The land officials at the O'Neill land office have been permitting homestead entries on these sections and desisted only when the emphatic protests of Commissioner Humphrey reached the department at Washington. For the present at least these sections will not be entered. Commissione Humphrey is backed in his position by a let-ter received from ex-Commissioner G-off, written while that gentleman was still in office, in which it is stated that while sections 16 and 36 in the Ponca reservation are not exempt from homestead entry, the corresponding sections in Boyd county, outside of the Ponca reservation, are expressly reserved for the state of Nebraska for school purposes. The present commissioner of the general land office is investigating the matgeneral land office is investigating the mat-ter at the request of Commissioner Hum-phrey and there are good reasons for believ-ing that he will confirm the opinion of ex-Commissioner Groff. The prompt and cener-getic measures taken by Commissioner Hum-phrey will save to the state of Nebraska a good many thousand acres of school lands which would have been lost had he sat quietly by nd made no protest.

Concerning the Warehouse Law. "A popular error exists in regard to the workings of the new warehouse law, especially with reference to the grain inspection and weighing departments," said a member of the State Board of Transportation this morning. "The chief grain inspector and weighmaster are paid from the fees they collect. They have no stated salary beyond the lect. They have no stated salary beyond the fact that if the fees collected amount to a sufficient sum each month the chiefs of each department may reserve the sum of $166 for his salary. If the fees amount to a less sum the loss falls upon the official and not upon the state. The grain department is exactly upon the same basis with reference to the state treasury as the oil in-spection department. It must sustain itself. The law fixes the maximum of fees that may be retained as salaries in each department. Any excess of fees collected must be turned into the state treasury. Any deficiency will not be made up from the state, but must fall upon the officials. The oil inspection law has been in force since 1885. There have been nonths when the fees did not pay expenses and yet never in a single instance has the state been asked to make up the deficiency.
On the contrary, there have been years in which the oil inspection department has turned a considerable sum into the treasury.
"It cannot be dealed that when the law first went into operation the several departments were organized upon a scale entirely too magnificent. All this, however, has been changed. The inspection department is now run at a third of the former expense. The State Board of Transportation has emphasized the fact all along that the chiefs of the departments cannot hope to be remunerated for the dediciency in the amount of fees col-not a single member of the board who will vote to recommend a deficiency appropriation." Mrs. Sheedy in Court Again. The Sheedy estate is in court again after a disappearance of several months. C. O. Whedon, Mrs. Sheedy's attorney, recently called upon Administrator Aiken for the monthly allowance, which had been awarded

Later, however, Alken discovered that the first year's allowance, which had have drawn in bulk, carried Mrs. Sheedy up to March 19. Consequently when Mr. Wheden appeared to Consequently when Mr. Whedon appeared to collect another month's allowance he was met with a refusal, the administrator claiming that the allowance had been paid up to April 19. Mr. Whedon threatens to have the administrator arrested for contempt of court. And now the attorney for the brothers and sisters of the deceased come into court and asks that the order granting Mrs. Sheedy an annual allowance be set aside. Sheedy an annual allowance be set aside.

Martin's Death Unavoidable. The inquest over the body of Joseph Martin, who was killed by a Union Pacific train last Tuesday night, was held this forenoon. The testimony showed that Martin was an old man partially deaf; that he was seen to step out from behind a shanty near the track on the approach of the train and that when the locomotive was within about ten feet of him he walked directly in front of it and was thrown under the wheels. The jury found a verdict to the effect that Martin came to his death by being struck by a train, but exonerating the railroad company from

Sons of Veterans Dramatic Company's Picasing Entertainment. A large audience was entertained by the drama, "Forced to the War," in Blum's hall last night. The cast was composed of members of the Sons of Veterans Dramatic club, who acquitted themselves exceptionally well for an amateur organization. The drama afforded opportunities for considerable dramatic effect, which, with a few exceptions, were well improved. The safe-blowing scene in the second act was presented in a manner which would have done credit to many professional companies. Miss Cherrio Tyler was cast in the leading feminine role and achieved a brilliant panies. Miss Cherrio Tyler was cast in the leading feminine role and achieved a brilliant success. Her acting was remarkably natural and effective and fully deserved the applause which it received. Her solo in the first act displayed a soprano voice of remarkable sweetness. Miss Docio Carpenter personated an irrascible old lady. Her interpretation of the character was animated and pleasing. Miss Jessie Supplee was a pert and piduant young woman whose romantic ideas did not meet with maternal favor. Miss Supplee was barely able to be out after a severe illness, but acquitted her self with credit.

The leading male parts were sustained by Frank E. Hart, Joe Hill and Fred Etter. The minor characters were personated by William Bennett, E. E. Cole, William Slater, Fred McDougal, Fred Griffith, Cal Cooper, William Griffith and Lou Etter. A number of pleasing specialties were introduced and well received.

Work of Bold Thieves. A bold daylight robbery was committed at the residence of T. D. Perrine, at Twenty fourth and I streets, just before noon yes terday. The thieves entered the house by the front way and made their war to Mr. Perrine's bedroom, where they purloined a ladies' gold watch, a diamond ring set with cleven stones, and a pocketbook containing $5 in change. Mrs. Perrins was engaged in the back part of the house and was not dis-turbed by the operations of the thieves. Two or three suspicious characters are known to have been in the city yesterday, and it is supposed that they are the guilty parties. No arrests have been made. Favorable for the Farmer.

John Scheve, an extensive farmer of Gage county, Nebraska, was in the city yesterday He regards the conditions as remarkably favorable for a good season for farmers. Winter wheat is looking the best it has at this time for several years. Seeding is some-what backward on account of the continued wet weather. The soil is soaked with moisture to a good depth and good crops are expected.

Ice Effects at Niagara Falls. A conspicuous feature of Frank Leslie's Weekly of March 31 is a line halfonge illustration of Luna island, Niagara ralls, in winter garb, showing the wonderful ice formations and beautiful spray-coated foliage that have so excited the wonder and admiration of throngs of visitors during the cold season, now drawing to a close. The picture is re-produced from a photograph by W. H. Jackson, the noted scenic photographer ture for a deficiency appropriation they will do so upon their own responsibility and against the protests of the board. There is of Denver, Colo., and is published by permission of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad. Mr. George H. A Female Tramp.

Matilda Madsen was one of the gang at the police court yesterday morning. She is a professional tramp of the old school. Ragged, dirty and disreputable, she plods her way through the world exactly like her masculine friends of the same persuasion. She rides in cattle cars, sleeps in hay stacks and cats what she can beg. Neither snow nor rain, wind nor mud have any ter rers for her and a pedestrian rip through the mud to the next town is always preferable to an hour's work.

Another Paxton Hotel Suit. Large sized law suits continue to hover about the Paxton hotel. Yesterday the proprietors sued the lessors and in turn the lessors sucd the lessees. Now John Rowe & Co. have brought suit against the lessees, Eastman & Miller, to recover on a bill of $3,150, which a petition states is the amount of a plumbing bill that is due and unpaid.

More Men for Street Work.

The chairman of the Board of Public Works employed twenty-five additional men and five teams yesterday morning and put them to work cleaning up the paved streets.

HENDERSON'S HOME COMING

Head of a Defunct Loan Company Will Return to Omaha.

HIS VISIT NOT OF HIS OWN CHOOSING

He Will Be Accompanied by a Detective and One of His Many Victims-Charges to Which He Must Answer.

H. H. Henderson, the head of the Hender son Mortgage and Investment company that went to the wall a few months ago is about to return to Omaha.

It will be remembered that Henderson did a large business and was considered wealthy. He flew high and lived in a fine residence on Georgia avenue. When the crash came, Henderson skipped, leaving his creditors nothing but an empty iron safe and a quantity of office furniture.

In addition to wrecking the loan company, of which he was the president, he forged checks to the amount of nearly $40,000 on various banks in the city. Henderson's return is not voluntary, as he will be accompanied by a detective who has been on the trail for the past six months.

For months the detective nunted high and Henderson was working for the Interstate Trust company of Philadelphia. As he was leaving the office he was recognized and was at once placed under arrest, W. L. McCague, who happened to be in Philadelphia, and who was one of Henderson's victims to a small extent, furnished the information that his bank, the American National, would like to interview Mr. Henderson in this city. Henderson acknowledged that he was wanted in Omaha and agreed to accompany the detective.

At the Cass school the raising of a flag pole was one of the features of the day, and a brand new twelve foot flag was thrown to the Arbor day breeze shortly before noon.
