METHODISTS throughout the country may be assured that the reports of the proceedings of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to be published in THE BEE will be accurate, fair and interesting.

INSTRUCTIONS are all right in their place, but a sincere supporter unpledged is more desirable than an unwilling supporter, even if he is pledged on oath over a stack of bibles.

WHAT other object can the street car company have in giving an annual pass to an assessor than to influence his action? Is not the acceptance of such a gift tantamount to taking a bribe when the man who accepts it cannot possibly return value for value unless he does so in the negligent or dishonest discharge of his sworn duty?

THE fact reflects no credit upon the country precincts, but it does prove that the South Omaha demagogue and his railroad running mate, Paul Vandervoort, made an independent stumping tour along the line of the Union Pacific railway to some purpose.

THE Union Pacific has generously tendered a palace car to take Webster's delegation to Kearney. The Union Pacific always has been generous with delegates to conventions which the railroads expect to manipulate.

Now that spring has really come to stay it is pertinent to ask why the mayor and city council don't enforce the ordinance to require the street railway company to replace all the wooden poles on the motor line with iron posts of improved pattern.

THE capture of Henderson, the Omaha forger, in Chester, Pa., illustrates the difficulty of escaping from the hands of the law in these days of newspapers, telegraph, photography and facilities for travel from one end of the country to another.

Now that spring has really come to stay it is pertinent to ask why the mayor and city council don't enforce the ordinance to require the street railway company to replace all the wooden poles on the motor line with iron posts of improved pattern.

THE small-bore newspapers at Lincoln whose special business it is to say ugly things about Omaha, find another cause for making an exhibition of their provincial meanness in the fact that two Omaha men have been honored with places on the World's Fair commission.

UNPROFESSIONAL PRACTICES. There is a code of unwritten ethics which no honorable member of the legal or medical profession should violate.

A flagrant abuse of popular confidence, if not a downright imposture, has, however, been tolerated at the hands of professional men in this city, which tends to lower the professions in the estimate of all honest, thinking people.

THE REAL DANGER

The friends of Benjamin Harrison should not be lulled to sleep by the apparent unanimity with which he has been endorsed by nearly every state and district convention.

There is great significance in the bitter speeches recently made by the two Colorado senators and the threat that the Rocky mountain states would pool issues on free silver and cast their votes for a third party candidate if Harrison is renominated.

A similar and equally indefensible practice has grown up among attorneys. Every capable lawyer whose advice and services are in demand is entitled to receive liberal pay for his time and skill.

THE OMAHA REAL ESTATE

There can be no question now about Omaha's future. She is sure to become a great city, unless the indifference of her citizens shall allow the natural conditions to be changed and trade to be diverted from its legitimate course.

These years of depression have not been years of retrogression. Quite the contrary, for while speculation has not been active, legitimate enterprises have prospered.

Contributing in large measure to the promise of a renewed activity in this field of adventure are the extensive public and private improvements either already partly under way or about to be begun.

For the early future investors and owners look to the advantages certain to accrue from the Nebraska Central railway enterprise, the extension of the railway line to Yankton, the probable resumption of work upon the union depot, good crops and the removal of discriminating rates now operating to the disadvantage of our jobbing trade.

On Wednesday next, April 27, the seventieth anniversary of the birthday of General Grant, the corner stone of the monument to the illustrious soldier at Riverside park, New York city, will be laid.

The laying of the corner stone of the Grant monument will be a memorable occasion. The president of the United States, members of the cabinet and of congress, and distinguished citizens from all parts of the country will participate in the ceremonies.

The long delay in carrying out their promise to the family of the great soldier and to the country—a promise which prevented the erection of a monument in the capital of the nation—is not creditable to the generosity, the public spirit, or the patriotism of the people of New York.

The Douglas county republican who has swallowed every dose offered him by the political doctors of this county must have a digestive apparatus made of cast iron.

THE tin soldiers of Rock Springs and Green River are very much offended because United States troops were called upon to assist in suppressing the troubles in Johnston county, and the officers have resigned.

O'FERRALL of Virginia is a man who has won the respect of the country by sinking his democratic partisanship in the interest of an honest election.

How to get down easy has been the most harassing problem of the several favorite sons who have striven for presidential delegations in states where the Cleveland flood has been kept perpetually at high tide.

The old guard of Washington county want Judge Crouse nominated for governor, but Crouse positively declines to have his name mentioned.

A Foul Slander. New York Commercial. Out in Kansas they are saying that Jerry Simpson wants congress to appropriate $1,000,000 to bring about a cross between bees and lightning bugs so that the bees can work at night.

The Grant Monument. New York Tribune. Under the sagacious, skillful and energetic direction of General Horace Porter the work of the Grant Monument association is going forward with every prospect of swift and complete success.

Latest Facts for Inflationists. Globe Democrat. The latest statement of loanable funds in the banks and trust companies of the country shows an aggregate of $4,134,000,000.

A Terror to Rogues. Kansas City Star. Journalism was highly complimented by Herr Most when he expressed a desire to sweep all reporters from the face of the earth.

THE GRANT MONUMENT

On my return from Europe last October I was taken by surprise over the prominence which a broken-winded political hack who had played himself out completely at Council Bluffs years ago had acquired in Omaha during my absence abroad.

Ordinarily I seldom have occasion to revise my first impressions, but I was persuaded by Mr. Liningner that I had struck a rough diamond.
