A. C. Graham, T. J. They reported a very pleasant confab, Mr. Stewart stating that he was ready and willing to do whatever he could toward adjusting the matter satisfactorily to all the parties interested. When the conference was at an end, however, they were as unable to form any idea of what they would do as before they started out to get the motor company's scalp. They were somewhat encouraged at the outlook, and hope something will turn up in a few days that will give them the desired relief. An effort was also made to induce Mr. Bixby, the plaintiff in the suit which resulted in the tying up of the First street line, to come in out of the wet, but Mr. Bixby at last accounts had not been shaken in his determination to stay outside and sample the weather for a time yet. He states that he is perfectly willing to walk for five years for the satisfaction of knowing that he beat the company, and he cannot see how the rest o them can feel otherwise. He is one of only four property owners on the street who did not waive all rights to damages. The company, it is said, stands ready to pay him the $45 he demands for the paving, but he wants

$10,000 to reimburse him for the damages his property suffers by having the line run past his premises. Nearly all the other property owners on the street were willing to pay the company thousands of collars for the privilege of having a motor line in front of their property.

ROUNDING UP ANARCHISTS French Police Make a Raid on the Troublesome Reds.

BIG HAUL OF THE UNWASHED IN PARIS

Preparations of the Authorities to Prevent Rioting on May Day-More Arrests to Be Made - Recalling an Artist's Memory.

[Copyrighted 1812 by James Gurdon Bennett,1 Panis, April 21.- [New York Herald Cable-Special to Ton Ban |- The government appears to have decided to satisfy pub lie clamor, which has called for the adoption of measures to prevent possible disorder on May day. This morning at the break of day fifty-one anarchists, the best known in Paris, were arrested simultaneously.

The police, in spite of anarchist protestations, affirm that they have proof that the arrested men were organized for some kind of a movement on May 1. They will be prosecuted, as they form part of a band of agitators who have dared to give a political complexion to the anarchist movement.

Not a Bomb Was Found.

Not a bomb was found among them, but on many were found revolvers and newspapers preaching the doctrine of piliage. On one was discovered a black flag with the inscription, "Neither God nor Master. Down With the Frontier."

At the same time as these arrests were made in Paris others were made in the provinces, especially at St. Etienne and in the Department au Nord, where every one suspected of being an anarchist was arrested.

The government has given a praiseworthy proof of its energy. Other measures are in contemplation and will be put into execution before long. It is hoped that May day will pass without any trouble. All the suburbs of Paris will be occupied by troops, particularly St. Ouen, St. Denise and Le Valuers, three localities where the ararchists are most feared.

Recalling an Artist's Fame.

The opening of the exposition today re vealed to the public at large an artist of the first rank aim st forgotten by the present generation. Auguste Denis Marie Raffet was a military painter who died in 1800. There are on view 534 lithographs, designs and water colors which tell the story of the whole history of France up to the battle of Solferino. Nobody graws the soldier of the first republic and of the first empire like Raffet. In those little plates not bigger than twenty-five centimeters he puts the whole French revolution, and in them all a little Napoleon, hardly three contineters high, is yet prominent, and that is the whole secret of the attraction. The greater part of the works have been lent by the Demidoff family, Princess Matnilde and the duc D'Aumaule The exhibition will be a great success, for it has considerable that is most interesting. But one cannot prevent a feeling of sadness at the thought that Raffet never got a higher price for his greatest work than 300 francs; but times have changed, and the least of the living artists whose works we shall see next week at the salon would not think of accepting such a triffe. SILVER ECHOES.

Harmonious Meeting of Advocates of the White Metal-Washington Notes, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.- it is ascertained from talks with the members of congress who attended, by invitation, the meeting of the national silver committee last night, that it was perfectly harmonious, and that the interest and demand for silver legislation by the country shows no abatement. Indeed, the hope was expressed that an opportunity might yet be afforded during the pressent session from some action by con-gress on the Bland bill, and, if that is not possible, on some other measure for the full re monetization of silver. The proposition for an international monetary conference to consider the silver question received but little sider the silver question received but little attention from the persons who addressed the meeting. There is no confidence felt by the free comage mea in the favorable out-come of an international monetary conference, and a proposition for a conference that would not be allowed to consider the free coinage of silver woald, it is believed, be indignantly rejected by the free silver men. There were a number of public men other than those already mentioned at the meeting last night, including Senators Stewart, sanders. Powers. Daniel, Shoup and Representative Bartine.

There was no general expression on the part of the persons present that could be fairly interpreted to favor the immediate formation of a third party, as has been sug-gested. A number of strong expressions were heard, however, from men who declared they would not vote for a presidential candidate in the coming election who was against free coinage. A nimetallic league was also a topic of discussion, and the general impres-sion was that such a league should be formed. The house committee on postoffices today ordered a favorable report upon the bill consolidating the third and fourth class mail matter under the head of the third class, and fixing the rates of postage at 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. All the conditions as to wrapping, permissable printing, etc., now applicable to fourth class matter, is to apply to third class matter, in addition to the privileges now conferred upon that class. Assistant Secretary Bussey appeared before the Raum investigating committee today in answer to the assault made upon his char-acter yesterday by Witness Dugan. Mr. Bussey said that his failure in New Orleans had been brought about by the disastrous panic of 1873. He settled with his creditors for 25 cents on the dollar, but in less than a year he paid them in full. If any one could find a claim against him in Louisiana he would pay $2 for $1 for it. Mr. Bussey then press their opinions on the subject. This read endorsements of the most prominent strong 'whip' against the woman suffrage men of New Orleans, regardless of party, which he received when an applicant for the bill betokers a distinct awakening of our position of collector. The committee was so much impressed by Mr. Bussey's statements politicians of all parties to the danger of an agitation, the success of which will bring us face to face with a new order of society." that Dugan's testimony was stricken from According to private advices from Costa Belle, Queen Victoria is now in excellent the record. Hoarding Their Gold.

Some of the too cautious people residing in or near Council Bluffs have conceived the notion lately that gold is about to rise in value, probably by reason of the free silver while, probably of basic of the first structure and the structure of the s banks. It was not long, however, before the bankers discovered what w before the bankers discovered what was being done and took measures to avert the catastrophe that would result from all the gold going out of circulation. Yesterday a gentleman brought $500 worth of greenbacks to one of the city banks and asked that he be given gold in exchange for it. The bank refused to accommodate him and he got one of his friends a merchant who does numbers near friends, a merchant who does ousiness near by to try to get it for him. The merchant does business with the bank in question but that fact did not enable him to secure tho yellow stuff. Nothing serious is appreyellow stuff. Nothing serious is app bended from the actions of the would speculators excepting that the banks, for the time being at least, have been made much more unwilling to let the supply of gold leave their vaults.

The case was reported to the city marshal and a search was made for the missing property. Yesterday afternoon it was found at a resort on Vine street, and Alice Smith, an inmate of the place, and Ed Baker, who claimed to be her husband, were arrested on the charge of stealing it. The marshal claims to have evidence that will lead to the conviction of both the accused.

Getting Ready for the Convention.

The various committees appointed at previous meetings of the aemocratic county central committee and the Young Men's Democratic club met in the Board of Trade rooms last night to report and confer. The rooms were filled by a bright growd of young men, with enough of the older heads to advise and suggest, and a long and earnest neeting was held. Every committee reported the work given it to be up to date, and here was no disposition to call for more time or neglect anything that will insure the complote success of the state convention so far as success is dependent upon the ability of Council Bluffs to provide for the delegates. The committee on music reported bids from Council Bluffs, Omaha and Atlantic bands, but the bids were all so nearly alike tha here was no choice between them, and i was decided to instruct the committee to come to some arrangement with Mr. Dalbey by which the local band could make the melody necessary for democratic harmony. It was determined to make the reception committee comprise 100, fifty democrats and lifty republicans, and Chairman Wadsworth promised to complete the list today. Chair man Wadsworth of the county central committee was selected by vote to discharge the duty of welcoming the delegates in the name of the city. The question of tickets of s³ mission to the convention was discussed long, carnestly and intelligently, and the more it was discussed the more it became apparent that it was a problem puzzling enough to make gray hairs. t is certain to be the largest state conven It is certain to be the infpect state conven-tion in the history of the party, and it is apparent that the opera house will not hold one-tenth part of the crowd that will try to get in, and not one-fifth of those whom courtesy and precedent will entitie to ad-mission. In the face of this appalling situ tion the county central committee does not desire the responsibility of naming the few in addition to the 1,400 delegates and committees for whom room can be made. It was decided that the badges, as soon as printed, should be turned over to Chairman Wadsworth, and by him given to the chairman of the state central committee on the morning of the 11th, and thus let the state committee have all the responsibility of see ing that none but the delegates secured them. The ticket question will be entirely in the hands of the state central committee After an earnest discussion of the various phases of the situation the meeting adjourned o meet again at the same place one wee later.

Custody for a Time. ASHLAND, Wis., April 22.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-What promises to be a sensational sequel to the arrest and conviction of Sly, the Missouri train robber, is the arrest of his brother by Ashland officers his escape and the disclosure of circum stantial ovidence that brands him as a criminal equally as daring as his brother.

Several weeks ago a man was arrested at Phillips, a small town near Ashland, for some petty offense. He was engaged as clerk in one of the hotels there. The officers brought him to Ashland, and a preliminary aring was held in the municipal court, the outcome being that he was bound over to ap pear at the next term of the circuit court. which convenes on Monday. Bonds were placed at $300. The criminal had no trouble n procuring bondsmen. It has been rumored e that he advanced money to the latter in order to secure his release. The attention of the police officials was attracted by the manuer in which the stranger criminal took every precaution to concea his identity, and when a search was ordered nothing whatever could be found to trace him back of the time he took the position o clerk at the Phillips hotel. Within twelve hours after the bonds were signed the officers lost all trace of him. Chief of Detectives Gus Schwartz went to Phillips a few days after to further investigate the former rec ord of the criminal. In an old vest found in the bottom ot the trunk he had used were two letters from a person in Kansas City, Mo. The let-ters gave a history of the trual of a person in Missouri for the train robbery there, and disclosed the fact that she was also the disclosed the fact that she was also the mother of this hote: clerk. In the same trunk were found a Winchester rifle, a cartridge belt and a queerly shaped dirk.

Detective Schwartz believes he has other indisputable ovidence that this man is imdicated in both the train robberies commit ed by his brother in Missouri and Wiscon in, and that the bank robbery at Green Bay was engineered and planned by him. Detec-tives all over the country have been notified o look for the man who so cleverly slipped through the fingers of the Ashiand officers
