CRUSHED THEIR LIVES OUT

Four Tramps Killed in a Wreck on the Burlington Near Plattsmouth.

TWO OF THEIR NAMES ARE KNOWN

Twelve Cars Loaded with Grain Demolished by the Accident, Which was Caused by the Train Breaking in Two on a Grade.

PLATTSMOUTE, Neb., July 20 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Train No. 28, one the Burlington's fast freights, was wrecked this morning about 4:40 o'clock on the long grade east of the Missouri river bridge. Four men were killed and twelve cars were scattered over the prairie. The accident was caused by the train parting twelve cars from the engine. The train was in charge of Conductor William Noland and was pulled by engine 263. At the time of the wreck the train was running at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour. The train was made up of thirty-seven cars, of which twenty-five were loaded with grain. The engineer had just taken up the slack and the jerk broke the coupling between the twelve empty cars and the twenty-five loaded ones.

The head brakeman discovered that the train was broken and yelled at the conductor. They at once started to set brakes on the detached cars, but could not stop them. Conductor Noland was in the act of setting the brake on the caboose when the crash came. He was hurled from the brake to the floor of the caboose and severely bruised.

How the Engineer Acted.

The engineer, instead of opening his engine and running away from the flying cars, re-versed and applied the air brakes. The result was his part of the train stopped, and the heavily loaded cars crashed into the rear of his section, where three trainps were riding. The rear car was literally reduced to kindling wood. Two of the tramps were almost instantly killed. Another was caught under the side almost instantly killed. Another was caught under the side and trucks of the car and his legs and the lower portion of his body so badly crushed that he died in a very short time. Superintendent Biguell of the Burlington came down from Lincoln this morning with the wrecking train and is personally super-latending the work of clearing up the wreck. He is also investigating the cause of the

This afternoon workmen took out the body of another tramp. So far but two of the men have been identified. Their names are James Murray, Leadville, Colo. and William Ryan, New York. There were-five tramps in the last car of the first section, one of whom, a small negro boy, escaped. One of the victims was literally crushed flat. Another tramp riding in a car shead of the last one escaped without injury.

Corn, wheat and flax was scattered all over the country around the wreck and the working force was kept busy for some time load-ing sound cars with the grain. Tonight the track was cleared and trains will be running regularly before morning.

The coroner's inquest was in progress this evening. The testimony of Engineer May field was to the effect that the parting of the train caused the air brakes to automatically set themselves but he also testified that the train parted back of the air brake cars. He says that he had the throttle of his engine wide open, but the brakes slipped in spite of Hodgers, the head brakeman of the wrecked train, was thrown from one of the cars and lit to a ditch by the side of the track. Two cars flew over him, but beyond being brutsed he escaped uninjured.

Beatrice Water Works Case. BEATRICE, Neb., July 20 .- (Special Telegram to The Ben |- A special meeting of the council was called this afternoon to hear the report of the water committee on the new water works situation. The report was an unsatisfactory verbal one and was simply in effect that Godfrey should be invited to return to the city and make a test of the capacity of the plant as far as order that the city may have some basis on which to remedy the existing difficulty.

Ex-Treasurer Paul's Case. HASTINGS, Neb., July 20 .- | Special Tele gram to THE BEE. |- It is reliably reported here that the papers watch " have delayed the defense in the case of the state against Charles H. Paul from taking the case to the supreme court are at last ready and it is probable that the motion for a writ of superedeas will be argued before that court in few days. Meanwhile Paul is in jail here awaiting developments.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dan Rice, the oldest circus clown alive, and probably the only one who occupies much space in the heart of the small boy, has not yet lost all desire to wear the pyramidal hat and variegated pants. The jony old soul recently attended a performance of Nellie McHenry's "A Night at the Circus" in New York, and declared that he could no longer resist the temptation to revive the good old one-ring circus of other days where people could see the show with one pair of eyes without preaking their necks. Uncle Dan said he'd have to take off his hat to Nellie McHenry. "That's something like it," said he, "that's the best show I've seen since Dan Rice quit the business." Miss McHenry and her able company will be at Boyd's Theater Next Sunday night. Sale of sents will open Saturday.

Another Brewery in Prospect. There is a prospect that an additional rewery will be located in Omaha during the present season. A well known Farnam street saloon man received a letter yesterday from a gentleman in New York who is anxious to invest his capital in a brewery somewhere in the west. The writer stated that he had been favorably impressed with Omaha by what he had read in THE BEE and would probably come out here soon to look the ground over and decide upon a loca-

AT SIXTY MILES AN HOUR.

How the Chicago-Omaha Fast Mail Train is Now Equipped. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road is remodeling all the postal curs on its fast mail run between Chicago and Omaha, Car 909, the fifth one finishing, was put out of the shops yesterday and the railway mail clerks on the Omaha run are shaking hands with themseives, for each remodeled car means increased comfort and better working facilities. Many of the improvements which are so greatly appreciated by the men who handle the mail going at the rate of forty miles an hour or more are apt to pass unnoticed by the laity, but even the unitiated can see a radical difference between car 909 and its neighbor, which has yet to be fitted with modish garments.

In the first place, the cumbersome space-filling wooden racks have been replaced by the light, strong, convenient and neat lookanywhere will fit the new racks, and the arrangement and mechanism is such that one-half the time is saved in emptying the racks. To the busy, time limited mail clerk this saving is beyond words.

In the old style arrangement all the sacks were hung on one side of the car, but in the remodeled car the rack is divided, making an aisle near the center of the car, for one line of sacks hangs on one side and four lines on the other. This rearrangement also balances the car better than the ancient manner. Over the sacks and under the roof of the car extend two rows of paper boxes, one on each side, giving the same number of boxes but of twice the size as the double box used in the old cars.

Chief Clerk P. W. Coates of the Chicago and Omaha fast mail division has secured a clear gain of seventy letter boxes by an in-genious device. It is called the swing letter case, and consists of two sections of letter cases placed on hinges so as to swing across the aisle, thus utilizing the dead space caused by the passage way. These changes give the car 570 letter boxes and accommodations for swinging 186 sacks.

The cars are equipped with large deck or say lights over the letter cases, and have the hot water heater partitioned off from the main part of the car. Chief Clerk Coates, with an eye single to the comfort of the boys, had folding wash basins fed from a roof tank put in, and by a single spring-clip device, which wedges the closed sliding door against a cushion of plush, has done away with all rathing of doors and blasts of air which burst through unguarded cracks whea the train is bowling along on a fast mail

It is these little things, the employes con-tend, which improve the efficiency of the railway mail service, and the Chicago and that goes to make up a first-class run.

Disease never successfully attacks the system with pure blood. DeWitt's Sarsaparilla makes pure, new blood and enriches blood. MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Two July Suits. Leggett & Hurlburt have brought suit against Christian & Cotner to recover $717.16. The plaintiffs allege that during the months of January and February, 1892, they sold the defendants 23,143 bushels of corn for the sum of $5,607.10, and that of that amount $717.10 remains due and unpaid. Bernard Blum would have Balthias Jetter pay him $13,325. He alleges a real estate deal made in 1891 by which Jetter was to purchase his property for the amount of money heretofore named. In pursuance of the talk the plaintiff executed a deed and turned the property over to the defendant, who refused to make the payments.

DEATH SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Supreme Court Takes Action in Cuyler Shultz's Case.

HE WILL NOT HANG THIS MONTH

Several Rulings of the Lower Cour Pleaded as Grounds for a New Trial-Other Interesting Lincoln News Notes.

Lincoln, Neb., July 20. - Special to Tun BEE. |-Cuyler Shultz, the Hall county murderer who was several months ago sentenced to be hanged on the 29th inst. for killing Hiram Farr, will have a brief respite, for the supreme court today suspended the execution of the death sentence until further notice. Petition in error was filed with the clerk of the supreme court this morning by his attorney, W. H. Harrison of Grand Island. The petition alleges that the lower court erred in referring the application for a new trial and in refusing to allow several witnesses to state their opinion as to the sanity or insanity of the defendant. Other errors are alleged and a new trial prayed for. The case is not likely to be reached on the docket until sometime in November.

Three Minor Mishaps. Lawrence Pillsbury, a teller in the Capital National bank of this city, was quite severely injured last night shortly after 11 o'clock. He was riding on the foot board of a summer car returning from Luncoln park and when a car going in the opposite direction passed he was struck in the head and knocked senseless. From the Police Court.

James Clark is under arrest at the station charged with the larceny of two pair of pants from a local clothing house. He was detected while endeavoring to dispose of them at a pawn shop.

Heury Martin, James Reed, Clarles Higgins, Frank Jones and John Tetz, a quintette of vagrants, were sentenced to sixty days cach in the county fail for not recognizing a job of work when they met it on the street.

James Angelo, who claims to be a lineal descendent from Michael, and who is under arrest for attempting to dispose of mortgaged property, succeeded in having his case con inued until August 3. Henry Snyder, the youthful forger arrested Monday, was released by Judge Waters this morning. Carl Lindsey and John Kestler were arraigned on an all around charge of drunken-ness, disorderly conduct and resistance of an officer, but they pleaded their case so well that both were discharged.

NEW LOOKS.

The series of articles on "Botany as a Recreation," by Miss Caroline A. Creevy, now appearing in Harper's Bazar, are attracting deserved attention on account of their popular and practical nature. This week's number contains an article on the "Fertilization of Plants." In the same paper Black's In the same paper Black's novel, "Wolfenberg," his latest production, is continued.

A neat edition of Longfellow's "Evangeline" is just issued from the press of John B. Alden, New York. The little volume is pro-fusely illustrated by designs from Birket Foster and Jane Benham. This is one of a series of standard poems, being presented to the public in an attractive form at a mere nominal cost by the same firm.

"The Wrecker," by Robert Louis Steven-son and Lloyd Osborn, which has appeared serially in Scribner's Mazazine during the past year, is now issued in book form. Like all of Mr. Stevenson's productions it is in-tensely interesting. But the interest is in tensely interesting. But the interest is in the evolution of the piot, not in the development of character. The scene of action changes from Europe to America and from America out into the Pacific ocean. There is enough blood shed to satisfy the average reader of the dime novel literature of days gone by. Yet Mr. Stevenson's work is of a high order of romance writing; it is the work of an artist presenting clear vivid is of a high order of romance writing; it is the work of an artist, presenting clear, vivid pictures, somewhat highly colored, as the necessities of such fictional art as that of the author of "The Master of Ballantrae" and "Treasure Island" demands, but admirable withal and retentively attractive. "The Wrecker" is remarkable for the ingenuity displayed by the author in drawing out the finely spun threads of his plot, leading them this way and that and at last bringing them together, and connecting them, so as to make a complete whole. Mr. Stevenson cannot be ranked with the man who, understanding ranked with the man who, inderstanding men and the motives of men, builds up a character consistent with the surroundings of its development, who draws a faithful picture of what happens in this everyday world of ours; at best he can but attain tha place in English literature which Jules Verne occupies in French literature.
