Sudden Death.

Mrs. Julia Hurdin, wife of J. M. Hardin, carpenter living at the corner of Avenue C and Fifteenth street, aied Wednesday night under peculiarly sad circumstances. A day or two ago she complained of a pain in the region of her heart, but it was not thought to be snything serious. All day Wednesday Mr. Hardin was away from home and did not return until yesterday. In the morn-ing Mrs. Hardin did not get up and one of her children went to the bed-room to call her. When he reached her he found her lying in bed, cold and stiff, and her babe at her breast, where it had been lying all night. Coroner Seybert was summoned to the house. After making an examination be decided that as inquest was not necessary, and pronounced her death the result of heart disease. He thought that death must have occurred about 10 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Hardin was 38 years of age. She was born in Jefferson county, Kansas, and came to this city with her husband in 1885. She leaves nine children, the oldest of whom is 18 years of age and the youngest only few months. The Juneral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late

OFFICE: - NO. 12 PEARL STREET. | Two Strangers, Believed to Be Confidence Men, Placed Under Arrest.

THEY GAVE THE OFFICERS A LIVELY CHASE

Interrupted in the Act of "skipping" a Granger They Make a Break for Omaha-Supposed to Be Old Offenders.

A couple of men, who bear all the outward symptoms of being clever conflience men, are occupying cells in the city jail as the resuit of some hard running done by the police yesterday forenoon. Mr. Chamberlin of the Union Pacific was riding on the Kansas City passenger train from the transfer to the local depot when he happened to notice the suspicious actions of a couple of strangers in the car. They had buttonholed a remarkably seedy looking granger and were evidratly about to "work" him for his roll, when they happened to notice that they were watched. Chambertin waited his chance, and when it came warned the old granger to look out for his money. The two supposed confidence men, however, sniffed the danger that was in the air, and without waiting for the train to stop at the local depot they slid off the train in the yards.

At the depot Mr. Chamberlin notified Chief Scanlan of what he had seen, and the chief immediately started in pursuit. The two men know just as well what he was after us he did himself, and they led him a lively chase around the streets and alievs, always minaging to avoid him. At the corner of Sixteenth street Chief Scanian was standing talking with Officers Civrr and Kemp, when he happened to look up at a motor that was just starting for Omaha at that instant. At the same time the two men saw him. At first Scanlan thought he would let them go, but as the speed of the train increased one of the men, thinking all the danger was past, lifted his lingers to his nose and made an expressive gesture toward the three officers. "Grab them," shouted Scanlan. And Kemp and Clarr made a run for the car, and in less than two minutes the two men were off the train and on their way to the station. They apologized to Scanlan and claimed not to have suspected that he was an officer, but although the apology was taken in the spirit in which it was given, the two men are still in durance vile They gave their names as James Countrs and P. A. Walton,
It is believed that the two men now in custody are the ones who have been turning confidence tricks on the different roads for a couple of weeks past. One of them came to Council Bluffs at the time when the circus was here, and tainking It was a fertile held for the exercise of his genus has been here ever since. Several robberies of the kind that was undoubtedly intended yesterday have been committed in the last few days. A clergyman who happened to have $10 in his pocket was induced by a tale o woe to give it up on the Wabash, and a pus-senger on the Kansas City road lost $35. Besides these, one of the ratiroad officials on the Northwestern a few nights ago was al-most knocked down while standing on the catform of the local depot by a man who ushed out of the car with his hand full f bills. Society at Cut-Off. William Worthy, who runs a launitry on Locust street, Cut-Off, was in the city yes terday morning with a number of freshly hand-painted decorations scattered about promiscuously on his face and a large tile of woe to unfold from the depths of his heart, According to the story he fold, a bar-tender at Peter Bonney's saloon, whos; nam; he did not know, was the cause of his fractured happiness. A quarrel arose in the saloon on subject of a laundry bill he presented to the par ten-for payment. From words they came to blows, but in the handling of 1sts Worthy did not seem to be in it to any great extent. At any rate, his face was badly peeled up and his handgerchief soaked with warm, red gore, while the bartender emerged from the conflict smiling. Worthy called on the city clerk and swore out an information n which he charged the oartender with assault with intent to kill. In addition to the statement, which he made to a reporter as above given, he claimed that the bartender drew a large knife and slashed the atmos phere vigorously in the neighborhood of his cars, at the same time uttering the most theod-curdling threats.

The GasCo. puts 'em in ut cost. Smith is the Man.

For several days past a man named Nick smith has been missing from his home in Omaha, and his friends were very much agitated over his disappearance. Instead of reading the papers and finding out there that Smith was taking a vacation in Council Bruffs, they hauled an unknown floater out of the Missouri and pronounced it to be the body of their dear departed. An inquest was held on the remains yesterday, but be-fore the coroner's jury readered its verdict some one called the attention of Coroner Nick Smith was examined by the Council Bluffs commissioners of insanity several days ago and ordered confined in the Pottawattamie county jail for a few days, until he should sober up from a large and gorgeous spree in which he had been indulging. Mr. Man: came to this side of the river and at once identified Smith as the missing war. Smith is not yet in his right mind, but he will probably be taken to his home by his relatives as soon as the commissioners of in-sanity can go through with the necessary

Grading, Paving and Other Works of Im sprovement Carried Out. Although there was but a small sum of money in the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year a large amount of grading has been done in South Omaha during the pre sent sessor, and nearly $40,000 has been expended in this branch of public improvements. Daring the next year more streets will be graded than have been this year, and yet there is propably not a city of South Omaha's class in the west that has expended $40,000 in grading within the same period of time, and it was a very poor year for street grading in the Magic City, too.

The streets graded and upon which the work has been completed are Twentieth street, from G to J streets, at a cost of $4,500; Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, from Missouri avenue to M street, and M street from Twentieth two and one-ball blocks east, $4,260; R street, from Twenty seventh to Thirty-second streets, $1,560 Twenty-third street, from J to L streets, $2,740; alley between M and N streets, from Twenty-first to Twenty-second streets, $247. In addition to these streets the con-tract has just been awarded by the council for grading O street from Fourteenth to Twentieth street, the estimated cost being $3.722. Also M street from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth streets, Twenty-third street from L to N streets, and Twenty-second street from M to N streets. This work will cost $10,600. In addition to the grading some paving will be done before the year closes. L street from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-seventh streets will be payed with vitrified brick and the alley from M to N streets, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets, with

The public improvements are very large The public improvements are very large considering the scarcity of funds. The water works company has extended its pipe service, and the Union Stock Yards company alone expended $40,000 in extending the sewer, owned jointly by the city and that company. Altogether the year is a very prosperous one in public improvements, and while not so large as in former years, wha has been done was necessary and resulted in much good.

Needs a New Hook and Ladder Truck. Chief Smith is urging the council to pur chase a new hook and ladder truck for the use of the fire department. At the present time the usefulness of the department is greatly impaired owing to the fact that the city does not possess any ladders or hooks. Otherwise the department is well equipped for lighting fire and can handle a small blaze very well. Should a fire break out and gain headway in any of the large buildings in the city the fire boys would be compelled to labor at a great disadvantage, and many thousand dollars worth of property would be destroyed Chief Smith estimates the cost of a suitable truck to be about $1,500, and the additional expense would be slight. One addiman would have to be employed and another team secured. The council in mak-ing up the appopriation for the cusuing year made allowance for the purchase of a truck and will do so at an early date.

Daring Daylight Robbery.

A daring daylight robbery was committed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the alley south of the electric light company's power house on Twenty-seventh street. John Hilliker, an aged gentleman who hails from an lowa town, was the victim, and is $30 by reason of picking up a stranger and dis-playing his roil. Hilliker met a young man on the street and an acquaintance being picked up they went into the Delmonico bar and indulged rather freely at the expense of the old man. The two then started for a packing bouse, and the strange young man acted as guide. He took Hilliker down the alley, kocked him down and robbed him of the money he had.

Into the Wrong Room. Near midnight Wednesday night a woman in the Lee hotel screamed "murder," at the top of her voice and an officer hastened to where she was. He found the scream came from one of the servants in the house, who was greatly frightened and said a man had come into her room, knocked her down and then attempted to outrage her. When she cried out the unknown man made his escape in a hurry and the police were un able to find him. Landlord Blake says he investigated and found that the man who got into the girl's room was a beloted boarder and had entered er apartment by mistake.

Dr. W. P. Murray of Reynoldsville, Pa. who has been visiting Dr. W. J. Bell, has re-turned to his home. The saloon men will make an effort to get together Wednesday evening at Burke's hand ball court on Q street to perfect an organization. The members of the First Christian church gave a picule vesterday at Spring Lake park The attendance was large and the results satisfactory. The deputy sheriff of Washington count was in the city last evening looking for Arthur Springer, who is badly wanted in The republican club will meet Saturday evening. All members are requested to be present. The club will meet at C. C. Stan-ley's office, on N street near Twenty-fifth street. A driver who has been in the employ of N Johnson, the drayman, for a short time past made collections amounting to 87 and has disappeared. Mr. Johnson knew him by no other name than "Red."

William Hausfuss fell down a steep em bankment east of Germania ball on Twenty-third street Wednesday night and broke his leg. He managed to crawf to George Dure's house on the opposite side of the street and awakened that gentleman, who secured assistance and removed the injured man to his Hansfus is a threman at the Cudah Packing company and boards at Thirty-ninth and L streets.

The coroner's jury held an inquest yester-day merning over the remains of the unknown man found in the Missouri river last Sunday and returned a verdict that the unknown came to his death by drowning, and his identity was not proven. Mrs. Spillard of 3724 Sherman avenue was present and thought perhaps that the drowned one was Nick Smith, a boarder of hers who has disap-peared, but her description did not tally with that of the dead man.

LORD MANDEVILLE DEAD.

Summons of the Grim Reaper Answered by the Duke of Manchester. [Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett.]

London, Aug. 18 .- [New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BES. |- The marriage of the new duchess of Devonshire this week occurred just in time to avoid another irksome delay, for her son, the duke of Manchester, died at Tanderage castle, county Armagb, today. The duke, who was better known to Americans as Lord Mandeville, and still better in certain quarters as Uncle Kim, had been seriously ill for months, and it was known for some time that his reckless manner of living and many excesses had so shaken his constitution that his recovery was not believed possible.

It was Mandelville's weakness rather than any other inherent vice that led him into those disgraceful Bow street incidents which made his name a byword in London. Probably the best day's work he ever accomplished was that on which he married Miss Yznaga. The duchess of Manchester held her own in society against almost overwhelming odds. Recently the duke's health, together with a tardy sense of propriety, caused him to lead a quiet life, but the shadow of his former escapades followed him, even to death's door, for it is only a few weeks ago that his name was bandled about the police courts in connection with Bessie Bellewood, a variety actress who succeeded in procuring for her self an annuity of £100 out of the duke's ex chequer.

The new duke, 15 wears old, and at present at Eaton, succeeds to the valuable estates, which, by the will of his grandfather, were protected from any acts of folly which the late duke might take it into his head to

ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Officer Ryan Locks Up an Old Man and Young Girl. An old man, who gave his name as J. M. McCiellan, was arrested last night and temporarity enarged with being a suspicious character. Today the police expect to file a more serious charge against him. McClelian operates an employment agency and the police claim that last night he tried to induce a girl named Kate Miller to enter a disreputable resort. The girl said she applied to McClellan for a position and he as sured her of steady work as companion to an old lady. He then started out to show her the place and fortunately before reaching the resort was halted by Officer Ryan, t whom the whole story was told, and Me Clellan's arrest followed.

Miss Miller is a 16-year-old country girl and came to Omana recently to look for work in a private family. Her parents live a few miles west of the city and are fairly well-to-Jo and respectable people. The young lady was cared for by the matro

The first event was a three-round go be tween Jim McCoy and Arlie Shay, which was a standoff. Wiley Evans and Aaron Sherroy followed. They gave a ratting exhibition, in which some stiff blows were exchanged. Arthur Rothery and Mike exchanged. Arthur Rothery and Mike Boden gave an interesting exhibition, and then 'came the windup between Ryan, the beneficiary, and Paddy Brennan, the Gotham heavyweight. It was clever and exhilerating, Ryan demonstrating again that he is one of the cleverest puglists in the world and a man liable to strip anyone in his class. Brennan made a fine display of the art, but Tommy was more than a match for him.

Shoop Got the Star. At a meeting of the picuic committee of the Police Relief association held last even ing Officer Shoop was awarded the gold star offered to the patrolman wno sold the largest number of tickets. The association cleared over $1,500 by the sale of tickets and the officers are greatly pleased at the result.

Pears' Soap

Why is Pears' Soap-the best in the world, the soap with no free alkali in itsold for 15 cents a cake?

It was made for a hospital soap in the first place, made by request; the doctors wanted a soap that would wash as sharp as any and do no harm to the skin.

That means a soap all soap, with no free alkali in it, nothing but soap; there is nothing mysterious in it. Cost depends on quantity; quantity comes of quality.

All sorts of stores sell it, especially druggists; all sorts of people, use it, especially those that know what's what.
