City warrants stood at 98 cents on the dollar yesterday. That is the high water mark for warrants so far. Less than six months ago they were seiling at 93 cents. The August term of the district court opens today, with Judge Macy of Harlan on the bench. There are 676 cases on the nocket for the term, of which 414 are law, 243 equity and aineteen criminal. The members of the Fifth Avenue Methodist church have decided to ask for the return of Rev. C. W. Brewer. The conference will meet September 14, and the ministers be assigned to their respective fields at that time. William Murray and W. A. Smith, two hoodlums who fought a Manawa motor conductor Sunday afternoon, were fined $23.70 in police court yesterday morning. The case of Jim Moran, who shot at some Fifth ward boys the other night, was continued.

Chief Nicholson of the fire department received a telegram yesterday from Chicago stating that the new chemical engine will be shipped tomorrow and will probably reach Council Bluffs Friday night. The Rescue engine will not be sent away until the chemical has been thoroughly tested.

There was a meeting of the members of the First Baptist church Sunday for the purpose of considering the advisability of extending a call to Rev. J. H. Davis of Milledgeville, Ill., to become the permanent paster. Mr. Davis preached at the church a week ago last Sunday and the congregation were favorably impressed. It was decided to extend a call to him and an answer is ex-pected from him before the close of the week. Come to Light.

Still at War. The natural antipathy that exists between the members of the Union Veteran legion and the Grand Army of the Republic has come to the surface once more, and this time the soldiers reunion that is to be held in Fairmount park on Wednesday and Thursday September 7 and 8, is the excuse for the ill feeling. Why these two organizations refuse to jibe is unknown to all but the membors themselves, but the fact is that neither one allows an opportunity to pass for show-ing the world that they have no use for one another. Now the Grand Army has come to the front with a resolution passed at the meeting last Saturday night, whereby they agree not to have anything to do with the reunion. The work of caring for the sol-diers while they are here has been put into the hands of committees of citizens, who are making all necessary arrangements for a good time, but the members of Abo Lincoln post want it distinctly understood that they have nothing to do with the gathering: if there is any ill feeling caused by any lapse in the arrangements they do not want to be hald responsible and if there is any held responsible, and if there is any giory they are willing the legion shall have it all.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Democrats Will Put in Nomination Judicia OFFICE: - NO. 12 PEARL STREET and Congressional Candidates.

TODAY'S ELECTION FOR AN ALDERMAN

City Officials Preparing to Remove to Their New Quarters-Old Soldiers at Outs-J. W. Curvell, a Colored Crook, Again in the Tolls.

Today promises to be unusually lively in political circles. Besides the special election n the Fourth ward there are to be two democratic district conventions, the congressional and the judicial. Considerable interest is felt in the outcome of the election, as it will decide whether or not the deadlock that has delayed or prevented so much work from being done shall be broken. If Mayne, the republican candidate, is elected the republicans will have things their own way in the future, while if Atkins, the democratic candidate, is successful the only thing that will be made certain is that there will have to be a compromise on some terms or other between the two sides. Mr. Mayne has been putting in a great deal of hard work for the past week among the voters and states that he is very much encouraged over the outlook. The ward is naturally republican by a small majority, and Atkins, while personally popular, will not be apt to gain many republican votes on account of the fact that less that four years are here they are the state of t ago he was a member of the school board, naving run and been elected on the demo-cratic ticket. The republican leaders feel confident that they will be successful if the voters will turn out and do their duty, a thing which the people in the Fourth ward sometimes forget to do on election day.

In the court house at 11 a, m. the delegates to the democratic congressional convention of the Ninth district will meet for the purpose of putting in nomination a candidate of the purpose of putting in nomination a candidate of the purpose of putting in nomination as an experience of the purpose of putting in nomination as an experience of the purpose of putting in nomination as an experience of the purpose of putting in nomination as an experience of the purpose of putting in nomination as an experience of the purpose of putting in nomination as an experience of the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes are provided to the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the purpose of putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the putting in the fourth ward sometimes for the didate for congress to run against A. L. Hagar. L. T. Genung of Hastings, Mills county, has been putting in considerable time laying his plans to capture this convention, and it is stated on good authority that there is but little doubt of his success. The democratic judicial convention will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the rooms of the Pottawattemie Democratic association on Pearl street. The local demo-cratic leaders claim to have not the slightest ldoa as to who will be the lucky man; in fact, they are not quite willing to admit that the nominee will be a lucky man at all. The district is strongly republican, and even a weak republican candidate would have a arge share of the chances on his side. But Judge Macy has already had one term and has been renominated by the republicans for a second. He is popular throughout the district with both republicans and democrats and it will have to be something extraordinary to knock him out of the ring. A num-ber of democrats have been offered a chance to run against him, but they have declined with thanks. The party leaders are consequently all at sea, and cannot tell what they will do until the convention meets.

About two months ago J. W. Curvell, a colored man, was arrested for stealing a pair of trousers from Hughes' store on South Main street, and was given a thirty days' term in the county jail for the offence. When he had partially served out his time he met with an accident, being caught in the doorway to his cell and pinched badly between the iron bars and 'the cylinder framework, He was pronounced to be in a terrible condition, and he was ordered taken to the Woman's Christian Association hospital for treatment. On the way to the hospital Curvell diagnosed his own case and came to the conclusion that he was not so sick as he was cracked up to be. When the driver was not looking he jumped out and took to his heels Nothing more was seen of him from that time until yesterday morning, when Officer Murphy ran across him in an upper Broad-way pawn shop, where he was trying to pawn a pair of shoes. He ran the fellow in on the charge of vagrancy. At the station be gave his name as William Cooper, but he pleaded guilty to being the same darkey who had gotten away from the driver of the wagon that was supposed to take him to the hospital.

Although he was apparently as strong as anyone of his size when he got to the jail he had not been behind the bars half an hour before he commenced to complain of his in-juries that he had received by being pinched in the county jail cylinder. He claimed that the pressure had caused a rupture, which a physician in Omaha told him would disable him for life. He also claimed to have con-sulted an attorney, who told him that he would have a good case against the county someone else for damages.
When he was asked about his experience on the morning of his escape he told a story that was rather interesting, even though it should not be true. He stated that word was sent over to Terwilliger's stable that a rig was wanted to take him to the hospital Terwilliger himself came and drove the rig. When they had gotten a couple of blocks away from the jail Terwilliger said to him: "You don't want to go to the hospital, you want to leave town." He had no money and he told the driver so. The driver did not stop at the hospital, however, but drove past it once or twice, all the time repeating his suggestion that Curvell leave town. At last Curvell told him that if he would furnish him the necessary money he would go to Omaha. Terwilliger agreed to this, and took him to Broadway, where he gave him some money, just how much Curvell could not remember, and told him to go to Omaha. He took the next motor for the other side of the river, and has been there ever since, until Sunday, when he was draph and got to Council Sunday. when he was drunk and got to Council Bluffs in some way or other. He claimed to have bought the shoes he was trying to dispose of, and gave them to a girl he knew, but the girl refused to take them. He then tried to sell

Getting Ready to Move. The work on the new city building is being pushed rapidly, and is now almost completed. The furniture is in all the offices, and nothing remains but a few finishing touches. The rooms now occupied by the city officials in the Sapp building and eisewhere will be piven up Wednesday evening, and the work of moving out will probably be commenced today. When it is ones commenced it will not take long to finish it, as the officials never settled down very hard. The council chamber is not quite finished, and none of the furniture has been gotten into position yet. It will be all ready, however, for the regular mostbly meeting of the city council next onthly meeting of the city council next

THE NEW CLUB HOUSE. The Directors of the Omaha Ciub are Considering Architects' Plans. The directors of the Omaha club on Saturday considered the competitive plans for the proposed club house at Douglas and Twentieth street. When the club called for plans and speotfications four firms of architects responded, Van Brunt & Howe of Kansas City, John Latensor, Fisher & Lawrie and Charles Beindorff of Omaha. There was no uniformity in the plans, Romanesque, Italian rennaissance, Queen Anne and early English giving the directors and members of the club object lessons in the various styles.

Three of the plans showed a four-story building. Latenser's suggested a three-story structure with an L for antenno purposes. This suggestion met the poard's apposes. This suggestion met the board's approval, although not within the terms upon which plans were invited, and the directors decided to readvertise with additional conditions. That the building should be Italian remaissance in style, three stories in height built upon a plat of ground 55x80 feet. That the billiard room should be in the basement and that elevators were not to be taken into consideration. The architects are considered superior to those of the Kanare considered superior to those of the Kan-sas City gentlemen.

It was upon the choice of one of the plans submitted that the board of directors held a prolonged session on Saturday, seventeen ballots being taken the board finally ad-Journing until 10 o'clock today when the con-troversy is to be renewed. While the re-sult of the ballots could not be learned, it is thought by those who have followed closely the opinions of the board expressed during club hours, that Fisher & Lawrie were in the lead when the board adjourned. But all this may be changed. According to a resolution of the board, seven out of the nine votes in the directory are necessary to a choice, and that practically means an unanimous agreement, be taken into consideration. The architects mentioned above submitted a second series of plans and the Omaha architects plans

"But is there any need of such a club house at this time," said a well known club man as a representative of The Bee was looking over the plans. "I have great faith in the ability of the men who are at the head of the ciub. Yet I think that they have neglected to consider all phases of the question. In a ciub house, such as this is designed to be, there will be three times as much outlay as now. There will be taxes to pay, coal, water, rent, engineers, firemen, janitor, besides interest on the amount of money necessary to be raised. If they keep the dining room open, as now proposed, until 12 o'clock midnight there will be an extra $100 for a cook. And these things must be taken into ability of the men who are at the head of the cook And these things must be taken into consideration. In our present quarters the luncheon hour brings together the largest number of men. They play, billiards and take a glass of wine, but there will be no luncheon hour at Twentieth and Douglas streets. Men will not go there for their midday lunch and the income derived from that source will be lost. Then, too, times are dull; we are more conservative than we used to be about money matters and I seriously question whether we are doing the proper thing in building at this time."

ROBBED OF HIS WIFE.

Nathan Chamberiain Wants Damages from His Wife's Father. The charge of stealing Nathan Chamberlain's wife is laid at the door of Claud Potter, and the courts of Douglas county have been asked to step in, hear the testimony and then award the said Nathan Chamberlain the sum of $20,000 damages.

The story as told by the petition in he cese is that on March 18, 1886, Nathan Chamberlain married Elizabeth Potter at Papillion, Sarpy county, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Potter. They ived as husband and wife until April, 1892, During these years three children blessed the union and the parents of the wife moved to Omaha to become city people. Farm life became a drudgery from which

Mrs. Chamberlain was anxious to escape. Aided and abetted by her parents she aban Aided and abotted by her parents she abandoned her Sarpy county home and came to Omaha. Then the husband tried to care for his little ones, but found it an uphili business, as they needed a mother's attention. Hoping to induce the wife of his bosom to return to her rural home, last May, with the children in the farm wagon, Mr. Chamberlain visited the home of the Potters in this city, where his wife had taken up her permanent abode. He was let into the house, but refused a hearing. When he got ready to go he was shot out into the street and the children were prevented from accompanying children were prevented from accompanying him to his home on the Jarm. Now the busband and father alleges that his wife was stolen, his home broken up and his children taught to hate their father by the Potters, and more especially by the defendant, who is known as a spiritualist and a philosopher. On account of all of this trouble Chamberlain alleges that the meas-ure of damages should be full.
