Drs. Copeland and Shepard treat all diseases While they give special attention to troubles of the eye, car, throat and lungs, their work is by no means confined to these specialties. Special hospital ex-perience has fitted them in a notable degree for all nedical practice. They are successful in treating catarrhal troubles but no less successful in treating theumatism, nerv-ous diseases, skin discusens, diseases of the kidneys, affections of the heart and discribers of the brain. In nervous disenses, Bright's disense, heart disease and the special diseases of women and children, some o their most remarkable results have been accom showing the market value of such material. There was a tack of examination upon the part of the comptroller, and for this reason he thought the matter should be investigated. Comptroiler Olsen repiled that the mayor was mistaken. The highest priced lumber was at the rate of $50, and not $80 per 1,000 feet. Wakefield's contract was signed April 12, and the stakes which were charged for at the rate of $11 were bought in February. This, he said, explained Mr. Wilson's state-ment of overcharges on grading stakes.

Sixth ward had its usual weekly meeting Saturday evening at its hall, Thirty-second and Ames aveoue, and mapped out a plan of action for the coming campaign by organizing a marching club and electing W. H. Stephens captain, Several good politic speeches were delivered by members of the club, and, judging from the enthusiasm aroused, the north end republicans seem to be getting in line for the coming election. The club has decided to have a red hot meeting at its flag raising Wednesday even ing, September 7, when prominent speakers will be on hand and also lots of music to be supplied by the Second Infantry band from Fort Omaha. Every republican is cordially invited to be present at the next meeting, Saturday even Walnut Hill Republicans. The Walnut Hill Nurth Ward Republican

Mr. Olsen answered that it was not his duty to go out and get prices on each piece of lumber bought by the city. The contract covered all lumber and all grades that the departments asked nim to advertise for. He was not instructed to advertise for the lum-ber used in fencing in the Union Pacific triangle or in the repairs on the viaduet. Mr. Chaffee said that as a member of the finance committee he went over all of the Wakefield bills and recommended their pay-

Mr. Steel in speaking of the fencing of the triangle said that if the street commissioner went to the different dealers and got bids,

"But," put in Mr. Wilson. "But," put in Mr. Wilson. "Hold on," said Mr. Steel, "the committee is getting at this." The question of oak lumber and the prices were called up. The comptroller had or-dered an oak board twenty inches wide for use in the central dre station. To get that board Wakefield had been compelled to dress down two oak boards, which he had glued together.

The mayor insisted that there was a loose-ness in the running of the affairs of the comptroller's offics. There was no check on the bills to show that they had ever passed through the office.

This caused a spirited discussion between the mayor and the comptroller. The mayor said that of all departments the comptroller's should be the most free from mistakes. Things looked cloudy, and for a time i storm cloud hovered above the heads of the two officials. Both gentlemen were loud and forcible in their remarks. Ex-Sidewalk Inspector Wilson wanted to do a little questioning on his own account. He was cut off, and nursing his ire he left the room in discust. After that the com-nittee got down to business and soon learned that Wakefield had made overcharges on nearly all the lumber and ma-terial not covered by his contract.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Dilferbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straight way and got a 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy and gave it according to directions You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, 'from a deathbed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about $3, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recom-mend it with a clear conscience."

Milton Nobles is a bright and versatil writer, a close student of character and a satirical humorist of acknowledged excel-lence. As an actor he may be said to fill a sphere of his own. As a comedian and char-acter actor he enjoys national distinction by reason of his original, qualot and natural methods. A a portrayer of the very best quality of the herces of modern melodrama he has practically no rival though many imitators. He graduated from the old stock system, and for seventeen years, during which time there have been a half dozen revolutions in the matter of public taste, he has maintained his own with a steady upward tendency. He is one of the limited number of players who can fill engagements in high price and "popular price" houses in the same city during the same season and draw the best patrons of both. This is probably the highest compliment that an actor could receive in the line of his professional work. Mr. Nobles will be accompanied on work. Mr. Notes will be accompanied on his present tour by his charming and gifted young wife, for whom he has written a bright and most congenial character in the new comedy. Mr. Nobles always carries able and experienced players in his support. His latest play is entitled "For Revenue to by " and it will be seen for the first time

Mr. Nobles' reportory during his forthcoming Omaha angagement will be as follows: Friday evening, "A Son of Thespis," Saturday evening, "For Rev-ence Only," and Sunday evening, "From Sire to Son."
