Not for Merely One Day or an Hour or Two, but for a Week or Longer if We Have the Goods in Stock.

WHY are goods offered at low prices for just a little while? THAT'S AN EASY question to answer-and the public generally can, and nave answered it many times. It is done merely as a draw to get you into the store, but LOOK OUT for prices on other goods not quoted. You may pay dearly for the "SO-CALLED" bargains you have bought.

Why is it that if you happen to be 5 minutes late that the prices JUMP UP from 25 to 50 per cent. Why is it that you are limited as to the quantity you want?.

THINK OVER these questions. You can answer them. They reasy.

SOUNDING FOR ROCK.

Interstate Bridge. The interstate bridge enterprise at East Omaha shows decided signs of awakening life. During the past week three parties of men were at work on preparations prelimmary to the construction of the new highway across the Missouri. One party had a large flat poat bearing a structure like an oil well derrick and its duty was to make soundings in the river for rock bottom, If Frank Moores, who a hole in the bottom of sea long has sought and mourned because he found it not, will be satisfied with the bottom of the river instead, he can acquire everlasting satisfaction by applying at East Omaha. In their search for a rocky foundation for piers the men in that flatboat have bored a number of holes through the flowing mid of the Misseyri into that which is the mud of the Missouri into that which is tem porarily stationary. One of these went down 149 feet, and that ought to satisfy even so deep and persistent a longing as that of Mr.

A party of carpenters was busy erecting cheap temporary buildings for the accommo-dation of the workmen to be employed on the bridge. One of these, about 29x83 feet in size, will serve as a dining hall. Another of about the same dimensions will furnish lodgings, and a smaller one will be used as a kitchen. From which it may be inferred that quite a force is to be employed, and it is given out that a week from tomorrow at least 150 men will be at work on the bridge. The carpenters also constructed a number of flat Plattsmouth. Near that city a third party was busy cutting timbers to be used for pil-ing and for cofferdams. The loaded boats will be hauled up the river by a tug.

The river bank on the site of the Nebraska approach to the bridge has plausible evi-dences of an intention to push the enterprise. Several stakes bear white flags, which flutter neighborly recognition to sumilar streamers on the lowa side and mari possible terminables for the bridge. Near by is a score of reels, each wound with from 2,000 to 4,000 feet of wire cable, which is to be used in binding small timbers into an un breakable mattress for use in the construction of the cofferdams. A stationary engine tool houses, great timbers and parts of a pildriver strewed about as they were taker from the cars on a railroad switch running conveniently along the river bank, are further corroborative evidences or a determination to get the new enterprise actively under way at once. COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The statutes were pro-duced and Mr. Paddeck, who had precipi tated the discussion, acknowledged that he had been mistaken, and the leased land is exempt.
