WORDS FROM STEVENSON

His Address at a Political Demonstration at Bloomington, Iil.

LOOKS BACK OVER THE BATTLEGROUND

He Sympathizes with President Harrison in His Bereavement and Pays Republican Nominees a Compament-What They Will Do with the Tariff.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 14,-At a political demonstration Vice President-elect Stevenson said: "While as democrats we rejoice over the great victory we have achieved, we should not forget that we are all Americans. Democrats and republicans alike, we have one country, one destiny. The glory which attaches to the American name and American achievements belongs exclusively to no party or section, but is the inheritance of all our country men. Nor should we lorget that we are equally interested in having wise legislation and nonest methods in govern-

.,I may be pardoued for saying that the campaign just closed has been singularly free from personal villifications; this should be a matter of rejoicing to all men who place a high estimate upon personal character and who value the good name of those to whom are confided important public trusts.

Compliments His Opponents.

"I take pleasure in bearing testimony, as I did while the contest was as yet undetermined, to the ability and high personal character of the gentlemen who were candi-dates for the offices on the republican ticket. In his great domestic bereavement, the pres ident of the United States has the heart foil sympathy of all his countrymen. It has been truly said that the late campaign recalled the era of good feeling which marked the admin-istration of President Monroe. May we not hope that the great political struggle of 1892 between two emment citizens - Harrison and Cleveland-the chosen representatives of the two great parties, will inaugurate a new era in American politics, and that calm discussion and respectful consideration discussion and respectful consideration for the spinions of our opponents will characterize the presidential contests of the future. While this con est has been waged upon a high plane, the issues involved have been some the less clearly and distinctly defined. We firmly believe that the welfare of our country and of its humblest citizen, are bound up in the success of the great. are bound up in the success of the great air toric party of which we are members. We favor a large measure of commercial freedom. to the end that employment be given our own skilled labor and that the United Siates be the successful competitor in the markets of the world; we favor the free admission of raw material. It is a part of our political creed that the tariff is a tax, and the tax is paid by the consumer. We carnestly favor the reduction to a midimum of tariff taxes upon the necessaries of life. We believe the power to tax is limited by is limited by the public necessities, to the end that we may have stable government in the states, avoid race disturbances, and secure to all sections of our country the prosperity and happiness which springs from good government.

Opposed to the Force Bill.

"We are unalterably epocsed to the pas-sage of the force bill. We favor the strict-est economy in the expenditures of the publie money. The verdict of the people has been pronounced against a prohibitory tariff. But et no apprehension be felt that business will be imperiled. The reduction of the tariff within safe lines will conserve, not destroy, the business interests of the country.

"For the first time in almost the third of a century the democratic party will control all great power will come grave responsibilities. u have wisely selected for the nighest office known to our constitution, a statesman whose administration has stood a critical test, as a guaranty of what is to fellow. Rest assured that with Grover Cleveland as president and with the senate and house con-trolled by men of his political faith, the government will be safely administered and legislation will be in the interest of all the people."

In North Dakota.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 14.—The political battle of 1892 is over in North Da sota and from the reports now in, and careful estimates upon those yet to come, it is evident that the entire republican licket has been snowed under with the exception of congressman and secretary of state. The candi dates for these two offices of the republican ticket were both Scandinavians. A question has been raised as to the eligibility of Mrs. Eisenbuth to qualify as superintendent of public instruction. She evidently had the most votes, but it is probable that a fierce contest will be wared against her taking the office on the ground that she does no. fill the Imperial Federation. TOHONTO, Ont., Nov. 14.-A special cable dispatch from London to the Globe says; the special committee appointed by the council of the Imperial Federation league to consider definite proposals for a federation of the self-governing bodies of the British empire has made an exhaustive and very important report. The committee suggested that the imperial council should fix the numper of delegates to be appointed from each self-governing colony, together with the British representation. The method of retiring funds at the outset should be left to the choice of the self-governing states, but a uniform policy should oe found and substituted. It is proposed that an imperial conference be summoned to consider the question of the conference, if it is deemed necessary, to be Much Municipal Business Transacted at an Adjourned Council Session.

WHY ONE FRANCHISE WAS REFUSED

Interests of the City to Be Protected by Requiring Changes to Be Made in Some Lines-Notes and Personals.

The council met last evening in adjourned session. The ordinance granting a franchise to the Union Electric Light and Power company was blought to the attention of the conneil by Chairman Bulla of the ordinance committee, who sain several changes in the franchise were necessary and the committee was not prepared to make any recommendations. Mr. Wyman thought the franchise too valuable to be given away without the city's interests were protected in every particular and there was no chance for speculation. There is nothing in the franchise to show when the company will commence operations, and there should also be a provision that the plant will be located in the city and operated here. The ordinance was referred back to the committee without any Mr. Haley's motion that an electric light be placed at Eighteenth and Milroy streets was carried. Two ordinances were passed ordering sidewalks laid upon several streets in the High Murphy called the council's attention to the fact that the 5 per cent reserve on the paying of Q street from the viaduct to Thirty-third street, amounting to $1,259.63, will be due December 30, and asked that the amount be included in the appropriation sheet. Referred to Treasurer Property owners petitioned for a sidewalk on the west side of Thirty-second street, from J to L streets. The attorney was in-structed to propare an ordinance ordering the sidewalk laid.

But one bid was received for removing several years' accumulation of dirt from the stone navement on Railroad avenue from N street to Q street. Dan Hannon was a bidder, and offered to do the job for $4.0. This was considered excessive and the bid was rejucted. Arr. Haley considered that the clearing of the pavement would provemore of a benefit to the Swift Packing company and the Union Pacific Railway company than to the citizens generally. A meaning the part of the part of the packing company than to the citizens generally. several years' accumulation of dirt from the pany and the Union Facine Ranway com-pany than to the citizens generally. A mo-tion provailed, and Haiey, Switt and Wyman were appointed a committee to wait upon those companies and ascortain if they will In a communication to the Boord of Fire not meet the expense of cleaning the street.

Mayor Waiters refused to sign a number and Police Commissioners, which was read of warrants and in writing gave his reasons for so doing. Dusen for $50 rent for five months. The the city jail and police court room expires mayor gave his reason for this that in the past but. $5 per month has been paid for office rent for the attorney.

The mayor's veto of the Smith bill was not sustained by the council. The claim of Attorney Van Dusen w s also passed over the mayor's voto.

Mayor Walters also votoed the bill of Fred

Beliet for four days rent of building for registration and election, amounting to $25, and the reto was su tained. Mayor Walters declared the office of street ommissioner vacant. He aid so because of the fact that winter is approaching, and there will be no work for Street Commissioner Tobias until spring. The inayor's at-tention was called to the law governing the powers of removal, and he stated he would delay the matter for one week, pending an investigation of his powers in removing an appointive officer. The committee on public buildings was in structed to secure bids for removing cells in city jail from their present location to the new quarters in the Prvonka block. The attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance ordering fire hydrants piaced at Twentieth and Q streets, Twenty-first and inent the flume is easily put out. nd Twentieth and R streets. Mr. Haley suggested that the county should pay the expense of registration of the late election. Attorney Van Dusen gave it as his opinion, without investigation, that as long as the registration was under the supervision of the city, the city would have to meet the expense. Mr. Haley moved that the clerk forward to the county clerk a statement of the expense of registration. There was no second to the motion and it was not The council adjourned until next Monday

ANTIQUITY OF WOODEN LEGS.

Curious Facts from Mythology About Artificial Limbs.

Who first invented wooden legs? Vulcan was a cripple, and in consequence of his difficulty in walking he is said to have made himself an artificial support of gold, but, as Mr. Thomas pointed out long ago, gold is not for every crippie, and every myth is backed by a .e.

ality. Again, the devil, as represented in the drawings and engravings of the middle ages, says All the Year Round, is a compound of Pluto and Vulcan. The latter was ejected from Olympus, the devil was cast out of Heaven. Vulcan was frequently figured with a beard and pointed cap. In the edition of Tyndale's new testament, printed by Jugge in 1552, there is a woodcut representing the devil sowing tares and wearing not only the Vulcanian beard and pointed cap, but also a wooden leg.

Another medieval representation of the devil with a wooden leg may be found in one of the paintings on the pane's of the pulpit in the ancient little church of Helgoland. It is only fair, however, to point out that the artificial support in the Tyndale woodcut resembles more a clumsy, one-legged stool, upon which the lame leg appears to be doubled up at the knee, than a substituted wooden limb.

After all, this identification, so far as regards costume and lameness, of the mediaeval devil and the ancient Vulcan, although it opens up a curious field of speculation to those who are learned in matters of comparative mythology, vet throws no certain light on the question as to when the wooden leg, as we kno it—a complete artificial substitute for w ost limb-was first invented.

EXPLOSIONS OF OIL LAMPS.

Little Danger Results if People Will Only Keep Cool. Even the explosive quality of the modern oil lamp is now a subject of doubt. An English experimenter says that he has tried every way known to him to make a kerosene lamp explode and has not succeeded in doing so. His theory is that the various so-called explosions have merely been the igniting of spilled oil caused by the upsetting or breaking of lamps. He, moreover, goes on to assert that the best quality of oil is slow to ignite, and it smothered an olden gar. a piece of carpet or some woolen gar. The chief thing necessary in such a case says the New York Tribune is presence of mind. If the lamp upsets it must be picked upa t once and set right, so it shall not have time to ignite the spilled oil. A metal lamp which cannot e broken is much less liable to danger than a glass or porcelain lamp unless such a lamp has a metal font. If people remain cool-headed, neither open a door o create a draught, as they usually do. nor rush out of the room to leave the lamp to work its destruction, there is ery little danger from a metal lamp. But it requires presence of mind and coolness of judgment to pick it up instantly and smother the flames on the carpet or rug. It is just the same courage that is needed in many events in everyday household rife. Half the tragedies in the world are caused by panicky people who lose their presence of mind at the very time that they need t most. If oil ignites on the kitchen floor a pan of common flour or a box of sand or common earth will smother it as quickly as anything else.
