John E. Johnson of South Lincoln in Trouble

RESULT OF SPECULATION IN WHISKY

John Bonwis Sued by a Cincinnati Commis aion House-Simmons Divorce Suit Concluded-Gossip at the State Rouse - Other Lincoln News.

Law of S. Neb., Nov. 17 .- [Special to Tun BEE. John E. Johnson, a young man who has for some time past made his residence at South Lincoln, is under arrest here for the selling of morigaged property. In August, 1891, Johnson went to A. W. Jensen, a money loaner in this city, and porrowed $150, giving as security a chattel mortgage on a team of horses and a wagon, together with about 100 tons of hay. The note was not paid when it became due and some time ago Jensen learned that Johnson had disposed of the property without saying anything about it to him. Johnson has borne a favorable reputation and those who are acquainted with him were surprised at the news of his arrest. He was taken before Judge Borgeit and will be trice next Monday. In the meantime be is at liberty on his personal recognizance.

Sold the Whisky Twice. A case of considerable interest was tried before County Judge Lausing this forescon. It was entitled Biles & Co. against John Bonwit and grew out of the sale of a quan-tity of whisey which the defendant had bought for speculative purposes. Bonwit bought the whisky something like a year ago, and last March placed it in the hands of Biles & Co., commission merchants of Cin-cincati, for sale. The sale was made, and when the bill of charges was presented Bon-wit flatly refused to pay it. He then sup-posed the sale was off and proceeded to seli to a Unicago party. Biles & Co, were under contract to deliver the liquor to their cus-tomer, and, as a result, they were say about $200, the price of whisky having advanced a point or two during the controversy over the payment of the charges. They now sue Bonwit for that amount, together with their commission on the original sale, amounting

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA.

Good Showing for the Second Week of the Winter Packing Season. The second week of the winter packing season, which properly began November 1, shows up well for South Omaha. The first week's packing of nogs showed an increase of 4,000 head over the same period of last year, and a large decrease at the three other arge packing centers.

The second week's packing shows up even petter than the first and is a straw showing the direction of the wind. During the second week South Omaha nackers slaughtered 46,000 bogs, against 40,000 one year ago, or an increase of 6,000 head. Chicago falls short of one year ago 95,000, Kansas City is behind 58,000 and St. Louis loses 10,000. South Omaha is the only packing center in the country showing a rain thus far in the regular winter packing season, the others falling behind several thousand the record failing behind several thousand the record of 1891 and previous years. It is a settled fact that while the other packing centers may fail short some weeks in the packing over last year. South Omaha will not have a week during the season which will show a decrease from 1891, and most of the week's packings will show very large increases. The local packers are slaughtering liberally, but we not done are slaughtering liberally, but are not doing near what they expect to when hog receipts fucrease and prices go down a few cents. They are not doing much beyond supplying present demands for their products, and not very materially increasing the stocks of pro-visions in the storage rooms. South Omaha will make a record during the present packing season that will be a source of pride to the citizen who has any of thet commodity in his makeup and will convince envious rivais that this city is going after second place in a manner that betokens the prize will be captured.

Fast Running Trains

Immediately following an accident talk of regulating the running of railway trains brough the city is indulged in to a very arge extent by the citizens. It all ends with corbstone agitation, however, and matters assume their every day ways and the trains go tearing through the city at any speed which bappens to be scheduled. In September, 1888, an ordinance was passed by the city council regulating the running of trains and the beauty of it lies in the fact that it has been a dead letter ever since, no attempt being made to enforce its provisions. The ordinance provides that railway trains shall not run through the city limits at a speed of to exceed ten miles per hour. A majority of the citizens have not been aware that such an ordinance was in existence and talk will probably now be as to way the pro-visions of the ordinance are not enforced, instead of why the city administration does not pass such an ordinance.
