Abe Snyder Terribly Injured in an Elevator

HIS RIGHT ARM TORN FROM ITS SOCKET

Why Sheriff Hazen Thinks He Has a Large and Constantly Growing Grievance Against Marshal Templeton -Other Local News.

Abe Snyder, who commonly goes by the name of Ed Snyder, met with a horrible accident yesterday morning. He was employed at the Deer-Wells implement ware house on lower Main street. Shortly after the place was opened vesterday morning be was working with a number of other employes about the freight elevator, which had been caught in some way while on the third floor of the building, and could not be loosened. The steel cable which passes over a "drum" placed just beneath the ceiling of the first floor, and from which the carriage of the cievator is suspended, became slack by the revolving of the "dram" after the elevator had ceased to move, and bung down within a foot of the floor. Just as the elevator was disengaged from the place where it had been held Snyder stepped up to the side of the shaft and went to pull the cord, so as to start the elevator if possible.
While doing this his right arm bung over the loose cable. The heavy carriage instantly fell with a crash to the bottom of the shaft, the cable tightened and in a second Snyder was jerked to the ceiling. The drum revolved, the cable broke and the body of the unfortunate man dropped to the floor The patrol wagon was soon called and the injured man was taken to the Women's Christian association hospital, where he was given surgical attention. It was found that siven surgical attention. It was sometime his right arm has been literally torn from its socket, and was held to the body only by a shred of flesh. The member was horribly mutilated, and the sufferings of the injuved man were indescribable. In addition to the loss of his arm he had received a fearful cash four increasing on the left side of the gash four inches long on the left side of the head. After an examination his physician stated that his chances for recovery were very small.

Shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon, after seven hours of terriole suffering, the end came. The remains were taken to Estep's undertaking rooms. The coroner was notified of the death and he empaneled a jury and will hold an inquest this morning at 9:30 o'clock at the undertaking rooms. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow alternoon at the Broadway Methodist church, although arrangements have not yet been completed. Breaking Up Hazen's Family. Sheriff Hazen has a large and constantly growing grievance against Marshal Templeton because of a suspicion that Templeton or somebody else has entered his domestic circle and robbed him of the society of certain people who, if it was not for their interfer ence, would have been members of his family for a brief season. As stated in vesterday's BEE, three small boys were found guilty in police court of breaking into a fruit store on lower Broadway and stealing a quantity of fruit and were sentenced to a term of seven whether to blame Templeton or Judge McGee, but he proposes to make an objection in a very decided manner, and let any one bear the blame that deserves it. He claims that no judge has the right to sentence a criminal to a term in the city jati for an offence against the laws of the state. He gets fifty cents a day for each prisoner he feeds, so that when he loses two or three of his family for a week it makes something of a difference in the size of his income. Moreover, the citizens of Council Binfs have to stand the expense of poarding the prisoners in the city jail, while if they were sent to the county jail the expense would be divided up among all the residents of the county. It must be confessed, however, that this feature of the case does ot cause the sheriff so many heart pe.gs as

A good many remarks have been made as to the propriety of letting small boys off with so slight punishment as the three just referred to received. There is a gang of small boys in Council Bluffs that has been guilty of all sorts of depreciations lately, and the three who are now in the city jail are memners of the gang. They are brought up in police court repeatedly, given light punishments and discharged until the next time. The present was as clear a case of burgiary as could have been made, and yet they were found guilty of petit lar-ceny and given a few days' shelter from the cold at the expense of the city, as a reward for committing a crime that would have sent men five years older to the penitentiary.

CALIFORNIA GOLD DISCOVERY. hade by Three Men Who Were Burying the Body of a Fourth.

Gold was discovered in California in 1848 and in Colorado in 1858. The discovery was accidental in both cases, and the fact created the impression that mines were "lying around loose." Adventurers drifted about in hope of "stumbling upon a mine." Mr. Theyer in his "Marvels of the New West," mentions several instances of lucky "stumbling." Three men, while looking for gold in California, discovered the dead body of a man who evidently had been "prospecting." "Poor fellow! said one of the trio, "he has passed in his checks!" "Let's give him a decent burial," said another, wife or mother will be glad if ever she knows it." They began to dig a grave. Three feet below the surface they discovered signs of gold. The stranger was buried in another place and where they had located a grave they opened a

He went out and shot a deer, which, in its dying agonies, kicked up the dirt and disclosed the signs of The poor man staked out a gold. The poor man staked out a "claim" and opened one of the most profitable mines ever worked in Leadville. "Dead Man Claim," the name given to another rich mine in Lendville, was discovered by a broken down miner while digging a A miner died when there were several feet of snow on the ground. His comrades laid his body in a snowbank and hired a man for $20 to dig a grave. The gravedigger, after three days' absence, was found digging a mine instead of a grave. While excavating he had struck gold. Forgetting the corpse and his bargain, he thought only of the fact that he had "struck it rich." But these "stumblings" are exceptions to the rule that mines are found by painstaking, intelligent prospectors. They spend wearisome months in ex-pioring mountains and gulches. They are mineralogists, geologists and, above all, practical explorers, who can tell from a "twist" in the grain of the rock or from the color of a spar seam whether 'paying gold" can be mined in the

A Comprehensive Project Outlined by the Trustees.

It is now predicted that the Tilden ibrary will yet be founded upon a grander scale than the late Samuel J. Tilden projected when he bequeathed the bulk of his $8,000,000 estate for that

The trustees of the Tilden trust, says the New York Herald, have under consideration a plan for the consolidation of nearly all the large libraries in the city with the Tilden library. The $2,000,000 or $2,500,000 obtained by compromise with the contesting relatives would not establish such a library as Mr. Tilden contemplated, but under the plan of consolidation the trustees hope o provide one of the greatest and most complete libraries in the world.

In the plans is embraced a system of Existing libraries which are likely to consolidate with the Tilden library are the Vanderbilt, Lends, Cooper Institute, Brace, American Institute, Merchants', Ottendorfer, Society, Columbia, University of the City of New York and the New York Society. The Astorlibrary will probably not go into the cheme, atthough its trustees have not declared themselves, positively against

The board is therefore requested to erect a suitable home for the filden library. The matter was referred to Comptroller

The trustees of the Tilden estate have reached a final settlement with the relatives of the dead statesman, and most of the money has been paid over to the heirs. Mrs. Hazard, only daughter of Mrs. Pelton, the sister of Mr. Tilden, was awarded one-half of the estate, the remainder going to the children of her brother, Moses J. Tilden. Mrs. Hazard, under an agreement made with the trustees before her uncle's will was broken, surrenders one-third of the entire estate from her portion to found the Trustee Andrew H. Green informed me that the project to consolidate other libraries in the Tilden library had been discussed at meetings of the trustees, who thought so well of it that he drew up a permissive bill, which was passed at the last session of the legislature.

"We need a great library in this city," said Mr. Green, "and I hope we will have one. Most of the trustees of the large libraries of this city, excepting those of the Astor, have as indiiduals expressed themselves in favor f consolidation. It it is done we will erect one large central building and establish branches in different portions of the city. As at present planned 1 think eight branches would be sufficient. We could either build these branches or nt them.

'A rapid means of distributing the books from the main library to the branches will probably be adopted. They could be sent by pneumatic tube or electric tupe service or by distributing wagons, whichever the trustees may consider best. Of course all the books would not be put in circulation. There would be a library for costly books which are to be used merely for reference. A person could enter a branch library at the Battery and file his appli-cation for a book. The librarian could telephone to the central library and the book wanted could be sent to the branch by tube or by other means."
Mr. Green added that all the prominent scientists in the city and many professors favored the consolidation plan. It would give this city, he said, what it had long needed, a library for the people, and also one where all sorts of delvers after knowledge could consult the books needed without going abroad to the libraries in Europe for informa-

The-Hbrary would need, he said, an entire city block, 200 feet square. He favored building it at a cost of $1,000,000 or more. It would probably be six stories high, be composed of brick and stone, on a four dation capable of sustaining additional stories should the growth of the library warrant it.

DYING OF THIRST AT SEA.

Miles in an Open Boat. On August 2 the Campbell, which was aden with lumber, left Port Townsend, Wash., for Queenstown. Three weeks after her departure she met a northwest gale, in which, after laboring heavily for twelve hours, she sprang a leak The water increased so much faster than the pumps could clear it that in a short time the captain, Haverer name, gave orders to get out the life-boats and abandon her. The two large lifeboats were filled with stores, and the first carried Captain Havener, his wife and child, the first mate, boatswam, carpenter, cook and eight of the crew. The second mate took charge of the other boat, which contained cabin boy and the rest of the crew. When day broke the bark had disappeared and the two boats were out of sight of each other. It had been agreed that they should make for Hilo, in the Hawaiian islands, which was the nearest land. This news, with its sequel, has just arrived in England from Honolulu and is recounted by the Pall Mall Budget. On September 20 a native fisherman of Nanawalla, Hawaii, saw out at sea what he supposed to be a drifting log, but, on approaching it, found it to be a ship's lifeboat. Lying in the bottom were twelve men so weak as to be unable to speak, with their tongues swollen and black protruding from their mouths. Their eyes were sunken and glassy and they all, though conscious, seemed as if demented. They were unable to move or give any account of themselves until brought to shore by the natives. story of their voyage, as told by the mate, is one of horrible suffering. He said that when they left the scene of the wreck he calculated that Hilo was about 2,300 miles away and that with care and short rations they could make the land safely. All went well for a time, the lifeboat making, according to distribution which will enable persons his estimate, about 100 miles for each in all parts of the city to get the books twenty-four hours. The water gave out, found and the scene became a terrible one. He and one of the sailors alone retained their senses. The rest became madmen and at the last were fighting, shricking, tearing their hair and clothes and raving generally. He and the sailor managed, however, to keep them from either jumping overboard or drinking the salt water until they became too weak to do so. Finally he and the sailor also gave out and for two days and nights the boat drifted in a calm sea without any effort to guide or propel her. A friendly current carried thom inshore or they would have a l died in the boat. Nothing has been heard of Captain Havener's boat part it is hoped and believed that the mid-were rescued by a passing vessel.

A Grent Mind. Mr. Cushing, on being appointed to the bench, prepared himself by reading in nineteen days the fifty-seven volumes of Massachusetts reports. When Web-ster's unabridged dictionary appeared he read it through, word for word, and corrected some mistakes. Mr. Cush-ing excelled as a linguist and was said to be able to converse with all the foreign ministers at Washington in their own tongue. It is also stated that as our commissioner in China he negotiated the first treaty without the aid of an interpreter.

Some ingenious contrivances are used by thieves. The latest looks like an ordinary walking stick, but is so are ranged that by pressing a spring at the handle the ferrule will spread apart and form a sort of spring clip that will take hold of anything that is within reach. The thing is called "the continental lifting stick," and is used to take things from behind counters when the shopman's back is turned.

Capable of Misconstruction.

A WONDERFUL MEDICINE. Sagwa Cured When All Hope Had Fled.

NEWARK, N. J., Ang. 15, 1872.

I owe a debt of gratitude for the great beasefit derived from the use of that noble remeely, "Kickapoo Indian Sagwa." I suffered untold tortures from Gastritis, or catarrh of the stomach, in its worst form, and frequently would have to abstain from eating altogether for days at a time, and at all times my diet required the most careful selection, and I was forced to deprive myself of all the luxuries of the table. I spent hundreds of dollars in consulting the west physicians without receiving any help, whatever, and life had lost all charms for me.

In this condition and when I was in despair I heard hout "kickapoo Indian Sagwa," and was nduced by a friend to try it. I confess that I had no faith and little hope. In three days after getting this reweigh I felt relief, and after using the first bottle was better than I had been for years. I continued its use, and after taking six bottles I was a well man. It not only cured me of the gastritls, but it gave me new life, new hope, new courage, and I felt like my old self.
