MONEY AND STOCKS.

Discount Rates Dropped During the Past Week Very Materially.

Lospon, Jan. 8.-Discount rates dropped during the past week to 114 per cent for three months and % per cent for shorts, at which it is believed they have reached bottom. The supplies in the market are abundant in spite of the repayment of loans to the Bank of England, but as revenue payments, which begin this month, will sweep about £5,000,000 off of the market and as a considerable influx of gold will probably take place shortly, the present rates are not likely to change until a general rise sets in. Business on the Stock exchange during the week expanded somewhat, but the movemonts in prices were isregular. The recent events in France have had a disquieting ef-fect here. The public is timid and holds aloof from speculative stocks, its attention being almost solely directed to sound investment securities.

British funds were largely bought during the week. English corporation and colonial stocks were also benefited. Rupee paper was dull in sympathy with the weakness of silver. Foreign securities were the chief sufferers during the week. The depression which prevailed in Paris was reflected here and there was a general decline. Spanish closed  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent lower. French rentes are  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent lower and Italians were  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent lower. The rise in the Buenos Ayres gold premium weakened Argentine securities and affected other South Americans. Ar gentine's funding loan receded % per cent and Argentine loan of 1886 fell 214 per cent.

Railway securities were active. The chief feature was heavy buying of Brighton deferred, which, after a long season of depression, rose 41/2 per cent, a good dividend being expected. Northeastern closed 2 per cent higher, the improvement being due to a revival in business. American railroads were inactive and dull. There was a bad feeling in the market over what was termed a stock jobbing trick in the announcement of the dividend on Denver & Rio Grande preferred. It was supposed that the dividend was for a half year, and the announcement caused heavy sales, the price falling to 334, at which a New York house snapped up 5,000 shares. When the announcement came that it was a quarterly dividend the price immediately rose to 34%. Reading railroad was depressed owing to ig fears that there will be no cash dividend on income bonds. The week's variations in the prices of American railroad securities include the following: Increases—Union Pacific, 14 per cent: Louisville & Nashville, 1 per cent Denver & Rio Grande, 3/2 per cent. De-creases-Northern Pacific preferred, 11/2 per cent; Atchison mortgage and Wabash mort-gage, 15 per cent each. Grand Trunk rail-way of Carada averaged 115 per cent lower heavily owing to the rise in the gold premium. Buenos Ayres Great Southern fell 5 per cent; Buenos Ayres and Rosario 3 per cent, and Central Armathics in

Wyoming's Senatorial Straggle Attracting Attention of All Party Leaders. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 8 .- The political pot beginning to boil most vigorously. A large majority of the members of the legislature which will assemble on Tuesday are already here looking over the ground. In addition to the legislators there are numberless candi-dates for every office, nor are the candidates

A deal is much talked of between populists and republicans to elect De Forrest Richards, a republican, to the senate. An other combination claimed to have been

During the night both drank considerably, but probably not more than they were in the habit of doing.

Along about 5 o'clock Harvey told the woman that he had been out sleigh riding with some one, and at once excited her curiosity. She begged Harvey to tell her who he had been out with, but, to tease her, he refused.

Without saving a word the woman, who was in bed, opened a drawer in her dressing case which was within reach, and took from it a revolver. Quick as a flash she placed the muzzle of the weapon to her left temple (she was left handed) and fired the shot which ended her life.

Harvey was sitting in a chair near the bed at the time, so he claims, but was not near enough to prevent the shooting. He at once called to the women in the next room, and one of the iumates went for an officer. After summoning the coroner Officers Vanous and Brady took Harvey in charge and sent him to the jail, where he was held on suspicion,

Captain Cormick's Funeral.

Arrangements for the funeral of Captain James S. Cormick of Truck No. 2, who died Saturday night, were completed last eve ning. Yesterday the body was removed to the residence of Mrs. Fleming, 1515 Califor nia street, a sister of the deceased, and pre-pared for burial. Chief Galligan ordered two men to remain with the body until it is buried or sent to relatives in the east. Captain Cormick had been a member the fire department for about five years and, starting as a pipeman, rose to the position he occupied when he died. He was well liked by his superior officers and by the men under him. For some time the captain had suffered with lung trouble, and at the Orchard fire he took a severe cold which re-

What the Basy Young Man from Wyoming Has Accomplished. HE REPRESENTS HIS HOME PEOPLE

WORK

His Efforts Are First for His State and Then for the West at Large - Measures He is Now Pashing Forward.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.- [Special Corespondence of THE BEE. |-If the people of the new state of Wyoming know when they are well off, they will see to it that no change in their representation is made thus early, in its career as a state. It is a wellestablished fact that the people who leave their representatives, when they are good ones, undisturbed for a long time, hold the advantage. All the best committees go to the old members. This is especially true in the senate, where the shadow of "senatorial precedence" broods over all. The venerable Justin S. Morrill, at the head of the committee on finance, has been in continuous service, first in the house and afterward's in the senate, since 1856, and Senator William B. Allison, chairman of the appropriation committee, was sent by his people to represent their interests in the lower house in 1863, and he has been in continuous service ever since. It is the same way in the house, no matter which party predominates, all the important places are given to men of long experience, as they should be

Now and then a new member who is pecu-liarly fitted for one of the better places, like the junior senator from Wyoming, Francis E. Warren, who is now before his people for the re-election that he so richly deserves, steps into some pretty good things to begin with, but it is really in a second term that a man is able to show what he can do for his people. Mr. Warren had no committee appointments in the Fifty-first congress, but in make up of this was made chairman of the committees on irrigation and reelamation of the arid lands, and a member of the com-mittees on agriculture. mines and mining, engrossed bills and woman suffrage. Five important committees for a bran-new sen-ator, with the chairmanship of one of them.

His Work for the West.

That his qualifications for a place on these committees, so directly in the interest of the west, have not been overrated. He was not slow to demonstrate. During the first session of the Fifty-first congress he introduce a bill for irrigation and reclamation of arilands, for the protection of forests und utili-zation of pasturage, and for other purposes conducive to toe welfare of the west. July 21 he delivered a most comprehensive speech upon the subject, which has been printed and is being widely circulated, numerous requests coming from all parts of the country for copies of it. People are becoming interested in this question which grows in im-portance as our more valuable lands become caree. Mr. Warren takes the ground that the government, having appropriated $10,-000,000 to $20,000,000 per annum for rivers and harbors, which in no direct way benefits the arid section, this arid region so long neglected deserves recognition through liberal appropriation by the government to re-claim the lands, or failing in this, that the states themselves may be given the land within their respective borders so that they may proceed to the necessary reclamation. The bill has been reported favorably from the committee and is on the calendar. Senator Warren has notified his committee, and friends of the bill generally, that he is de-sirous of obtaining all further information that can be procured, because it is his wish to amend the bill if it can be improved. Other bills introduced by him are: A bill to re-enact the pre-emption law repealed dur-ing the Fifty-first congress, so that settlers upon public lands may again have pre-emption privileges. A bill for the sale of stone lands, etc.,

Against Him at Topeka. TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. S.-A sensational interview took place in the lobby of one of the leading hotels last evening between Jerry Simpson, congressman from the Seventh district, who wants to be senator, and A. J. Streator, the third party leader from Illinois, who does not want him to be. At that session of the legislature of Illinois at which Senator Palmer was elected senator and in which the third party members held the balance of power, Mr. Streator was a formidable candidate for senator. Jerry Simpson, although a fellow third party man, took sides against Mr. Streator and in favor of Senator Palmer. He not only wrote letters to the third party members advis-ing them to vote for Palmer, but even went to Springfield and la-bored industriously against Mr. Streator The latter naturally treasured up the action against the Kansas statesman and now that Simpson is a candidate for senator before the the third party legislature of Kansas, he has come to Topeka to labor against him. Simpson asked why he was taking such action. Streator ex-plained. Simpson said it was untrue that he advised the third party men to vote for Palmer and defied Streator to prove it. Streator drew from his pocket a telegram isonod 'Learn' Simpson '' stating that is his Simpson declared that the telegram was a forgery, whereupon Streator ex-claimed that that statement was not true and that Simpson knew it. Simpson grew white with rage and a personal encounter between the two men seemed imminent, when friends intervened.

Streator is not working for any particular candidate, but announces that the election of some middle of the road populist will best subserve the interests of the people of the third party. Simpson, he says, is a democrat.

City Engineer Clarke denied vehemently this evening that any conspiracy had ex-isted to allow the crib to freeze up. He told a reporter several times that nothing of the kind had been thought of. In the midst of his denials his assistant, Mr. Coghlan, walked in, and Clarke ordered him to tell the reporter that there was no danger of the cribs being allowed to freeze, and his assist ant promptly informed him that there had been a conspiracy to that effect and that it had been nipped in the bud. "I let McKee go for his lack of discipline," said Mr. Clarke, "and I guess I did better than I thought I did."

Mrs. George Alleman and Mrs. Cora VanHar-ger, wives of well-to-do farmers were instantly killed by a passenger train at Sunfield, Mich. At Chicago Peter Dell and W. Lehigh fell forty feet from a scaffold at the World's fair ground. Dell was instantly killed and Lehigh will probably die. A third workman cut a rope that held the scaffold, not noticing that anybody was on it.

Foreign. The boiler of a public boat at Elschichek, Russia, in the province of Wilna, exploded and six persons were instantly killed and fifteen mortally injured.

The steamer Urbino, bound for Baltimore, has put into the Type after being buffeted about for eight days in a storm. All boats on board were carried away and she was badly damaged.

The strike on the Clyde prevented the Allen steamer Norwegian from sailing Saturday. The Norwegian succeeded in obtaining hands yesterday and proceeded. The Manitoba for Philadelphia is at Greenock awaiting a crew. At Vienna the police-made a raid upon the jockey club. The card rooms were crowded at the time with the elite of the aristocratic and diplomatic circles and large suns of money were at stake. The police seized 450,000 florins.

The returns issued by the London Board of Trade show that during the month of Decem-ber the imports decreased 5.380,000 pounds and that the exports decreased 540,000 pounds as compared with those of the corresponding month of 1591.

him away to jail. A doctor was called and examined and dressed the few scratches on the body of the patient and then muffs were placed on his hands to prevent another at-tempt at self-destruction.

During the evening a telephone message was received from Lincoln saying that the parents of the deringed young man would arrive today to take him in charge. Erskin, who is a gold cure "graduate," has been drinking very hard lately and usually came to Omaha to have his sprees. He was arrested only last Friday for being drunk and disorderly and has been in tall served and disorderly and has been in jail several times before on the same charge.

WANTED TO LEAVE TOWN.

Fatal Attempt of William J. Brady to Board the Rock Island Flyer.

Yesterday afternoon William J. Brady, a young man who lived at 1123 Castellar street, attempted to board the west-bound Rock Island flyer as it passed under the Thirteenth street viaduct, and in making the attempt he lost his life.

Brady was in company with a friend named Cox. Both had been drinking some during the day, when they took a notion to get out of town. As the Rock Island flyer was the first train which came along the two made an effort to catch the hand rails of the chair car. Brady took the front end and missed his hold, he fell under the trucks and both legs were cut off, one above and one be ow the knee. When picked up he was still alive and was carried into a switch shanty under the Eleventh street viaduct. Doctors were sent for, but it was deemed dangerous to attempt o move the patient and he died at 5 p. m. Coroner Maul took charge of the remains and impaneled a jury at once. An adjourn-ment was taken until 2 p.m. Tuesday be-cause the crew of the fiyer will not return until then. Isaac Duprels was the engineer and W. S. Wilkins was the conductor in charge of the train. The father of the dead boy called at the morgue last evening and looked at the remains. He will be present at the inquest on Tuesday.

Used a Beer Bottle.

Karly Sunday morning Charles Wilson alias Reddy Sawhill, was arrested and locked up in the city jail for assault with intent to kill. It seems that the prisoner went to a low resort on Eighth street and picked : fuss with Mary Erickson, one of the inmates A fight followed and Wilson beat the woman over the head with a beer bottle, cutting her severely. Wilson is one of the fellows who cannot stand prosperity. Only last week he was released from the penitentiary, having been pardoned, and he came straight to Omaha looking for trouble. He found it. Some time ago Wilson or 'Sawhill, he is known better in Omaha under the latter name, was better in Omaha under the latter name, was sentenced to two years for burglarizing a clothing store at Twenty-fourth and Leaven-worth streets. Fourteen months of his time was served, but upon the representation that he was dangerously ill he was pardoned. De-tectives Savage and Dempsey made the arrest, and it is probable that Wilson will go back behind the bars for some months as he is a well known character with a bad repuis a well known character with a bad repu the senate.

In the announcement of our Annual Clear ing Sale in the Sunday Bee an error was made in stating the discount given on all Fail and Winter Goods. On these goods a discount of 20 per cent. will be given for the next three weeks, and not 25 per cent. as printed in a portion of the announcement. It was also stated that no discount would be given on dress trimmings. This was also a mistake, as the notice was intended to say, "No discount would be given on dress linings." Dress trimmings are included in this discount sale.
