Robert and Charles Linerick were each fined $100 for their part in the case yesterday morning on the charge of larceny. The prospects are that that will not be the end of their troubles for the marshal is out on several other features of the case which may develop into something more serious than anything that has so far been sprung upon them.

Jacob Koch filed an information against Leader & Bohring, who keep the saloon on Broadway known as the "Office," charging them with keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold. A security warrant was issued by Justice Field and Constable Joe Spaulding served it. He only succeeded in sending the defendants to jail for a few days which will be outbought at the leisure of the court.

In the superior court yesterday the case of William Wright against H. B. Walker, marshal of Omaha, was heard. It is a case which has been pending some time, and in which about $20,000 worth of property, west of Crescent, on the banks of the Missouri river, is in dispute, owing to a difference in the way the plaintiff and defendant have in looking at the "law of accretions."

The case is a very interesting one, and is being argued by Marshall, and the other on the east side, owned by Siegfried. In due time the river will be changed in current, and left both pieces on the east side. Each now claims all of the land that was thus transferred to the east bank of the river.

The Board of Health has accordingly passed a resolution notifying all parties cutting ice at Manawa that they will not be allowed to dispose of it for any purpose excepting the cold storage or for cooling food or beverages where they do not come into contact with the ice. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Very Singular Situation That Confronts the Park Commissioners at Present.

ASKED TO PAY SOME ATTORNEYS' FEES

Wright & Baldwin Willing to Drop the Fairmount Park Suit if They Can Get Their Pay—Will Ask for a Special Levy.

The city just now finds itself in a peculiar situation with reference to the case of Jason Walker against the city of Council Bluffs, better known as the Fairmount park case. This case has been pending in the United States court for several years past, the firm of Wright & Baldwin having succeeded in throwing a cloud on the title of the city to the park land, which has already resulted in a great deal of expense to the city. At the last term of the supreme court a couple of decisions were handed down in similar cases, which were brought by other claimants, in favor of the city, and at that time it was given out by the attorneys who represented the city that their case in the Walker litigation was so much better than the suits already decided, that the action of the supreme court practically decided the Walker case as well, and that the city might now rest on its laurels and expect no more litigation.

The first witness testified that he was in Laney's pharmacy at about 11 o'clock on the morning of the 10th inst., and that he saw the defendant, H. B. Walker, in the store, and that he saw him take a glass of brandy out of a cabinet in the store, and that he saw him pour the liquor into a glass and drink it. The witness testified that he saw the defendant take a glass of brandy out of a cabinet in the store, and that he saw him pour the liquor into a glass and drink it.

Will Ask a Special Levy. The suggestion that the city pay the attorneys for the prosecution of this case is a shock to an ordinary citizen, but if it ever shocked the members of the finance committee, it has not done so since the case was issued by Justice Field and Constable Joe Spaulding served it.

Not a Popular Plan. There is to be a meeting of the city council next Monday evening, and it is expected that the matter of the special levy will be brought up and acted upon.

Older News Periodicals. The trustees of the Young Men's Christian association held a meeting Tuesday night at their rooms. All the members of the board were present, and a supper was laid before them to eat and drink and be merry.

Coal and wood; best and cheapest Missouri hard wood in the city; prompt delivery. H. A. Cox, No. 4 Main.

Veterans Install Officers. The United States Legion, company No. 8, and the Ladies' auxiliary installed their officers last evening. The hall doors were open to a number of invited guests, and after the ceremonies of the order were gone through with some of them delivered addresses. Among the speakers were Captain B. W. Hight, who acted as master of ceremonies, Colonel E. I. Davis of Omaha, Rev. Patrick Smith, pastor, St. Xavier's Catholic church, Rev. G. W. Snyder, Rev. J. H. Davis and L. W. Ross. Miss Colby and the boys of the legion furnished excellent music, and a number of songs were sung by the veterans in their usual enthusiastic way.

Crown and other plans. At Bourcier's, 118 Stutsman street.

Huntington—Allen. Charles L. Huntington is married today to Miss Mary Allen of Orange, N. J., at the home of the bride's uncle, J. K. Romine, Rev. Dickinson of the Baptist church of that place officiating. The groom is the son of E. Huntington, of this city, and is well known here, he having made Council Bluffs his home all his life until about three years ago, when he left for Orange, N. J., to take a position with the Wells-Fargo Express company. He has been with this company ever since, and repeated promises of marriage success he is reaping. His many friends extend congratulations.

ENDEAVORING TO GET DELINQUENT TAXES

Dismissal of an Old Injunction Suit Opens the Way for Action by the City—Prompt Steps Taken to Secure the Claim.

Protested License Cases. The Board of Fire and Police Commissioners met last evening to consider the protested license cases. A considerable amount of time was wasted before the license will begin operations. The defense pursued its usual shifting, evasive tactics and was unwilling to come to a direct issue on any but two of the contested cases.

Levied on Two Coaches. Yesterday he called in consultant City Attorney Connel and the ground was thoroughly gone over, and everything done up in legal shape. The necessary papers were prepared, it having been decided to attach some of the rolling stock of the Pullman company. Treasurer Bolln issued a distress warrant, and in company attached two cars belonging to the company. The cars were in the Union, Pacific repair shops, and no difficulty was experienced in locating them. When the treasurer departed he left as a memento of his visit the following note, written upon a sheet of paper which he fastened on the car: This car has been attached by the city treasurer of Omaha, Neb., for the delinquent city taxes.

One Million Involved. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Jan. 11.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The indications now are that the famous Bever contest will be settled out of court. Some time ago S. C. Bever, the pioneer banker of this city, died, leaving an estate worth $1,000,000. The bulk of which went to three sons. The two daughters brought suit to break the will, alleging that their father was of unsound mind when he made his will, and that he was unduly influenced in making it by his sons. The case came up in district court yesterday, and this forenoon was taken up in the securing of a jury to try the case. The case is expected to be argued by the attorneys on the one side and the contestants on the other side.

What the Pullman Company Owes. The Pullman company has neglected and refused to pay any personal tax levied by the city since January 1, 1892. The city has a restraining order issued that year has prevented any of the city treasurers from attempting to collect the taxes since that date. The existence of the injunction, however, has not prevented the assessors from making returns and the Pullman company has had taxes paid regularly each year. The district court issued by Treasurer Bolln shows that the following sums are due for years named:

Total, $16,674.84. No notice is taken of the taxes of 1890-91 and '92, and they are not included in the amounts the treasurer is seeking to recover. The existence of the injunction, however, has not prevented the assessors from making returns and the Pullman company has had taxes paid regularly each year.

NAVIGATION STOPPED. Eastern Rivers Frozen Solid—Death and Suffering from the Cold.

New York, Jan. 11.—No such jam of floating ice has been seen in this harbor since the great blizzard of 1885. Ferryboats are unable to get to their piers at many points, and the ferries are unable to run. The ice is in the bay and will be unable to get out till the tide turns this afternoon, carrying the ice toward the Narrows. Then many of them are likely to be smashed or driven ashore.

Flushing lay is frozen over to the East river, for the first time in many years. A number of fishermen are fast in floes further up the sound.

In the Mohawk valley the weather continued to improve. At 7 o'clock the thermometer registered 14° below zero in Amsterdam and 12° below in the valley. At 6 o'clock this evening it registered at zero.

It was the coldest day in central New Jersey for years, the thermometer falling to zero.

The Delaware river was frozen solid between Lambertville, N. J., and New Hope, Pa., and teams and pedestrians are crossing the bridge in places where the ice is thin.

From Pennsylvania come reports of continued cold. The passenger train on the Downingtown and Lancaster, which left at 5:20 yesterday, did not run into a drift of ice feet deep just east of that place. This place is only sixteen miles from Lancaster, but the train did not arrive until 2 o'clock tonight. The passengers suffered severely from the cold.

At Philadelphia as far as can be seen in both up and down the river, the ice is in the city of the city, the river is packed with it. Navigation, as far as seagoing and coastwise vessels are concerned, is at a standstill. Few vessels have left the port.

Boose, Mich., Jan. 11.—James C. Reed, agent of the American Express company at this place, was frozen to death one mile west of Lawrence on the Michigan Central railroad track this morning. He had been driving during the afternoon and took the train for Lawrence from where he took a horse-drawn train for Albion and fell off or started back on foot.

Caught in an Ice Floe. HAMBURG, Jan. 11.—Ten steamships were sighted off Cuxhaven today as they drifted eastward in the midst of enormous ice floes. All had steam up, but were apparently helpless. Only the German tank steamship Paula, Captain Hinch, was recognized.

Motorman Frozen in Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 11.—Last night was the coldest for six years, the thermometer registering 25 below zero. The signal office at 6 o'clock reported that the river was frozen from bank to bank. All the rivers are frozen solid from bank to bank for the first time in fifteen years.

Beautiful Feature of Prohibition. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Jan. 11.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The figures given out by Deputy Internal Revenue Collector How of the northern district of Iowa, do not indicate that the prohibition law is enforced. For the year ending June 30, 1892, there were issued in the northern district 4,706 licenses to sell liquor. These include licenses to druggists, bootleggers and all others engaged in retailing liquor. This number is much larger than in 1890, when the number was 3,975, and in 1889, when there were but 2,758 licenses issued.

Candidates for Spots. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Jan. 11.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The names of the candidates for the office of Register of Deeds at Washington under the Cleveland administration. This is the position so long held by Fred Douglas and at the present time by ex-Senator B. K.

Trains Abandoned in Pennsylvania. JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 11.—The worst storm in many years has been raging for about twenty hours in the mountains near Johnstown. Last night the passengers on the Ebensburg branch train which was drifted in were there nearly all night in the open country and many of them nearly perished in the cold. The train got stuck in drift at Keokyle, where the Hastings road branches off. The drifts had covered the engine and smothered the drafts so that the fires went out and the machine was useless. The engineer was disabled and taken to the coach and given the best treatment possible under the circumstances. Passengers procured food with much difficulty. The storm raged all night, and with the thermometer at almost 25° below zero it was a trying time for all. Today the engines were removed to the nearest farm-house, and tonight he reported to be in a dangerous condition. The train had to be abandoned and the passengers managed to reach the main line during the day.
