ANOTHER BOOMERS' PARADISE

Cherokee Strip Offers Few Attractions to the Honest Home Seeker.

PROSPECTS FOR ITS BEING OPENED

Bill Providing for its Purchase from the Indians Now Before the Senate - Provisions for Settlement - Physical Features of the Land.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19 .- [Special to THE BEE |-It is very likely that before President Harrison retires to private life he will, by proclamation, open another body of public lands-or what will be public lands-to settlement. A bill to throw open to homesteaders what is popularly known as the "Cherokee Strip" has been passed by the house and is now before the senate committee having jurisdiction of the subject. The opening of the Cherokee Strip depends upon favorable action by the senate, yet it is well known that the upper branch of congress is considering the proposition favor-

The bill which has passed the house upon this subject, and which will in all probability become law within a few weeks, simply ratifies the treaty with the Cherokee nation. signed in January last, serting forth certain conditions under which the Indians propose to release the lands in their strip, under which the federal govern ment will open them to settlement. When finally becomes a law the president will fix a day when the land shall be open to settlers, and it is provided that that day must be at least thirty days in advance of the opening day. Thus there can be no such thing as "snap judgment," by which those who anticipate emigration to that country will be taken by surprise. The provisions of the bill are such that, if President Harrison is permitted to open the strip to settlement, very early action must be taken by the senate.

Provisions for Settlement.

When the bill now before the senate becomes a law, the president will first appoint a commission of three persons to lay off the Cherokee Strip into counties, to be numbered 1, 2, 3 and so forth, consecutively. 20x25 miles each, the counties to be subsequently named by the legislature of Oklaboma. Then the commission will locate the county seats, the latter to be surveyed into squares, lots, streets, alleys and parks. The commission shall then appraise all blocks intended to be sold, and after giv-ing twenty days' notice shall sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, for one-third cash, the remainder on four and eight months' credit, and when all the purchase money has been paid to the secretary of the interior that officer shall issue patents to the purchasers. The money above expenses goes to the territory of Oklahoma for school fund purposes. No lot can be sold for less than appraisement.

The date of opening of the Cherokee Strip, as has been stated, is left to the pres-ident, who, as has also been stated, must ident, who, as has also been stated, must first have the surveys, sales of lots, etc., and then give settlers thirty days' notice before the day of opening. It will be seen that even at the time the bill becomes law the date of opening cannot be stated, not even by the chief executive, as everything depends upon the facility with which the surveying, etc., proceeds; but it is the understanding here that the opening day, should the bill become law say within the next three weeks, will not be earlier than the latter weeks, will not be earlier than the latter part of April, although President Harrison may issue the proclamation or do all else connected with the opening and leave the naming of the day to President Cleveland.

Offers Few Attractions.

It is hard to conceive why or how a farmer in Nebraska, Indiana, Ohie, Iowa, Illinois, or any other good state, would want to emigrate to the Cherokee Strip, unless it be upon the theory that every one must move somewhere every so often. The Cherokee Strip is not an attractive country. There are about 6,000,000 acres in it. The United States government in buying it under this treaty and paying the Indians all it is considered to be worth in cold dollars, pays but $8,595,736. It will be seen that the land, taken as a whole, is considered even by the owners to be worth but about $1.25 an acre. The act of congress now making anticipates the worthless character of much of the land. by fixing one price for one part and another orice for another part of it. Thus for about two-thirds of it, lying farthest west, but $1 an acre is to be charged to settlers, who must to settle under the homestead law, and of this land they can take 160 acres. The eastern third of the strip is considered pretty good land. It is about like southern Kansas. Of this homesteaders can take eighty acres at $2.50 an acre. The third to be disposed of at $2.50 an acre is said by those who have passed over it to be like in looks, soil, etc., the southeastern portion of Nebraska. It is very good land. The two-thirds located in the western portion of the strip is like the land adjoining Colorado and southwestern Nebraska. It is not good land. It is said to be barren, timberless, with no water courses and no good water by excavation. The land is to be paid for one-half in two years, the other half in four years; no cash payment down.

Taken as a whole the Cherokee Strip ap-pears and is like Oklahoma and southern Kansas. There are no schools, churches or other civilization marks there, of course, for the land has been uninhabited except by a few Indians. The Cherokee Strip is just north of Oklahoma and south of Kansas. It is about 200 miles north of Texas. The strip is in length about 150 miles, east and west, by sixty miles north and south. It is regarded as desirable only for grazing. It has good climate; that is about all.

North Galveston, Tex., Jan. 19.—It seems almost incredible that less than a year ago a company of men should have organized the new town of North Galveston, and by their rewitown of North Galveston, and by their capital and energy have succeeded in secur-ing such a large number of important manu-facturing industries, planted many thou-sands of valuable trees, built hotels, established communication with the outside world by new railroads, and, in short, opened up such an unusual promising future for that Suing for Sewer Pay.

Through their attorney, E. W. Simeral, Frank L. Reeves & Co. have brought mandamus proceedings against the city for the purpose of compelling the city treasurer to endorse certain city warrants that they may begin drawing interest. The writ has been granted by Judge Ogden and the case set for hearing next Saturday.

Reeves & Co. constructed a sewer under a contract entered into with the city, and among other things the contract contained a provision that 95 per cent of the contract price should be paid upon the completion of the work. On January 18 the warrants were the work. On January 18 the warrants were presented for payment, but were not paid for want of funds. The treasurer then stamped the warrants of the date of February 20, after which, if not paid, they will draw interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum. The plaintiffs contend that as the tax has been levied and is drawing 12 per cent, the warrants should draw the rate of interest which is provided for by the site charter. which is provided for by the city charter, which is 7 per cent, and that the interest should begin upon the date of their presenta-

The resolution which carried provided for the appointment of a special committee to consider the matter and report, but Vice President Akin, who presided, forgot this and an adjournment was had before the committee was named. Now President Powell, who is appropriate to the purestition, will name who is opposed to the proposition, will name a committee unfavorable to it. However, the partisans of the school have eight votes, and it only delays the consummation of their desires a few weeks.

The residence of C. H. Ford at Albright vas entirely consumed by fire at 9 o'clock esterday morning. It was a small one-story frame, not yet finished, but the family was living in the kitchen while Mr. Ford worked on the house himself. The fire caught from au overheated stove, setting the building proper on fire. No alarm was turned in, as there are no fire hydrants in that part of town, and the building was only a few minutes in burning down. The loss is about $500 on building and $250 on household goods, only a bureau drawer and an old lamp being saved. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Ford as he had no insurance and is 60 years old He has a young wife and two babies, who are staying temporarily at T. C. Duncanson's, a neighbor. Mr. Ford was not at home when his house burned.

Chief Brennan immediately sent Officer Kroeger to ascertain the condition of the family and will see that they do not suffer. Mr. Ford has nothing left but his lot, which s worth about $400. He was striving hard o make a home for his family and himself in his old age. his old age.
