New Bills Introduced and Several on Second Reading Referred.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 25.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The senate convened this morning, and after roll call President Correll resumed the gavel.

Immediately after the reading of the journal of yesterday's proceedings Senator Stewart plunged the senate into an animated discussion over an attempt on his part to alter the journal. The senator from Sloux county was one of the disappointed ones yesterday when Babcock's resolution to discharge the committee on employes was adopted. He claimed that it required a two-thirds vote to discharge a standing committee. The chair vainly tried to convince the sen ator that his point of order was not well taken, but the senator from Sioux persisted He finally subsided and the regular order of business was taken up.

Kanzas Populists Vote for Judge John Martin of Topeka.

REPUBLICAN MEMBERS REFUSE TO VOTE Three Democrats Vote with the Populists, Giving Mr. Martin a Majority of the Votes in Joint Session of the Legislature.

TOPERA, Kan., Jan. 25.-Judge John Martin of Topeka today became Senator Martin of Kansas. The latter title was bestowed upon him by the joint convention of the senate and the populist house, and he will proceed at once to Washington to take Senator Perkins' seat, who was appointed by the governor a year ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Plumb, until the legislature should name a senator to serve the unexpired portion of the term.

Stole a March on the Republicans.

The populists stole a clever march on the republicans when they nominated Judge Martin in caucus last night. They figured that Mr. Martin, being a democrat, there would go into their joint convention not only enough democrats to elect him without counting the populist members who took the seats of unseated republicans, but also enough to break the republican quorum. Their figuring was correct for when roll was called in their joint convention today three democrats voted for Martin, Of course, these three cannot now go into the republican joint convention, and without them the republicans can muster only eighty-one members-two short of a joint session quorum. The republicans will, therefore, be unable to elect a senator and John Martin will, without doubt, be the only applicant for recognition before the federal senate. The republicans, of course claim that his election is illegal, inasmuch as it was participated in by a house whose organi-That question, however, will have to be settled by the United States senate when Mr. Martin appears with his credentials. When the farmers alliance developed into the pop-ulist party, Judge Martin urged the demo-crats to unite with them, not so much to secure the victory of populist principles and populist men as to beat the republicans. His counsel prevailed and the result at the last election is well known. Today he relast election is well known. Today he re ceived his reward.

Proceedings of the Joint Session.

The legislature met in joint session. The republican members of both houses declined to answer roll call! Ninety one responded to their names, eight more than a quorum. Even of these, several members of the popu-list house were given seats through contests. Without these there was no quorum. When the senate roll call was called the entire populist strength went to John Martin and populisi strength went to John Martin and O'Brien, democrat, also voted for him. The result of the joint ballot as finally announced was: Martin, 86; Coburn, 4; Hanna, 1; Snyder, 1; Case, 1. The presi-dent announced that Martin was elected United States senator. Before he had done this, however, Senator Baker, republican, demanded that the republicans he circan demanded that the republicans be given the right to vote. The president ruled that the vote having been announced no further vote could be received. The populist joint session then dissolved. Senator Baker, republican, mounting a chair in the midstof the cheering for Martin, offered a resolution declaring that ten men who voted in jointisession had no legal right to seats, and that there had been no election, and calling on the members to meet and elect a senator. Speaker Douglas was elected chairman of the republican joint session, and, after reso-lutions were adopted, an ineffectual ballot was then taken, seventy seven votes being

South Dakota Legislature PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 25.- Special Telegram to THE BEE]-Railroad men are jubilant over their victory of yesterday in the senate. They expected to win, but figured on a close vote. The majority of three to one surprised all parties. Dollard, who is posing as the champion of the people and laying wires for the governorship two years from now, made this test fight and threw all the strength of the granger element against the roads. The railroad men are now positive that no restrictive laws can pass the senate, no matter what the house may do, and they claim the house will also be with them on a owdown.

A great fight today came up in the house question of sending a committee to Chicago to investigate the needs of the World's fair exhibit. This last move was brought about by Ferguson of the Black Hills and was a shrewd atroke in the inter-ests of the commission. The proposition is to send three men who are not now in favor of an appropriation, but who are thoughtful and conservative, and let them judge. Thus, whatever report they make the house will accept and be governed accordingly. The commission has no doubt that it will be able to convince this committee that $75,000 is the least sum possible to get along with.

NO CHANCE TO FUSE.

Wyoming's Legislature Will Be Slow in Electing a Senator.

CHEVENNE, Wyo., Jan. 25.- Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The senate and house in joint session balloted for a United States senator today. The most intense interest is being manifested in this election. Neither republicans, democrats or populists appear to wish to show their hands, but continue to play a waiting game. The result of the hal-lot is: Mondell, (rep.) 17; Tidball (pop.) 5; Holiday (dem.), 5; Kuykendall (dem.), 5; New (dem.), 6; Clark (rep.), 2, and others scattering. The house resolution asking a complete investigation into the late raid into Johnson county was considered in committee of the whole and consideration thereof indefinitely postponed on the ground that it is an impossibility to get at the truth of the affair There appears to be more or less trouble in both political camps. Neither party seems able to unite on a candidate for senator. Whenever the populists indicate their prefer-ence for senator he will probably be taken up by the democrats if he be a suitable man. Further than that they have agreed to support a democrat. Nothing is known of the populists' plans. The democrats refuse to go into a caucus, and only continued ballot-ing will bring to the surface the strongest man in the party.

Action of the Republicans.

The republicans tonight prepared a statement to the effect that the populis house is an illegally constituted body; that nine of the eighty-six members who cast votes for Martin are members who took the seats of republicans who had been illegally ousted, and that Judge Martin has not been legally elected senator. To this statement was added a protest against the recognition of Judge Martin by the federal senate and then the statement and protest was telegraphed the republican senatorial steering mittee and the United States senate committee on elections.

The republicans assert that 154 legal votes were cast; of this number Martin received seventy-seven, and the rest were scattering. Consequently, they claim that this was no

Tomorrow the republicans will probably unite on some stalwart democrat and hope to get enough dissatisfied democrats and populists to meet with them to effect an election. Democrats and populists, who admit that ten of the votes cast in today's joint session were illegal, insist that Martin's election was legal because eighty-three legally elected members participated, and that number being a constitutional quorum, he re-ceived an unquestioned majority. They deny that the republicans took any part in

Judge Martin will leave for Washington in a few days to deliver the certificate of his election, which was made out and delivered to him this afternoon.

Mrs. Leese is Furious..

Mrs. Lease and Mrs. Diggs, who have been prominent in the councils of the populist porty, who took an active part in the cam-paign and whose work is recognized as hav-ing been a potent factor in the populist success, are furious over the election of Judge Martin as sensior. They thought a stalwart populist ought to be elected.

"You can say for me," said Mrs. Lease to a reporter this evening, "that the election of Judge Martin Is a death blow to the populist party in Kansas. I renounce my allegiance

Mrs. Diggs said: "When the people's party elected Judge Martin senator it com-mitted sulcide. From its ashes, however, will arise a new party, not to be dominated by political tricksters, which will carry out the will of the people."
