

LETS LIGHT INTO DARKNESS

Commander Booth Talks of the Salvation Army's Work Among the Poor.

IT IS NO LONGER MISUNDERSTOOD

Views of the Religious World and the General Public Have Been Modified and Changed—New Features Added in New York.

The first Methodist church was filled from the altar rail to the doors yesterday afternoon with people eager to hear Commander Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army.

This was not his first appearance in Omaha, and many who had heard of the distinguished warrior and his former visit were anxious to learn more of the progress made in this country by the great organization in which General Booth and his wonderful family of zealous children have been so successful.

The commander and his secretary, Mr. Hallimand, were assisted in the meeting yesterday by Major French, commander of this division, Adjutant Harris, who has charge of the Omaha garrison and fall of private belonging to the army here.

The choir, the organ and the lower platform around the pulpit were completely filled with soldiers in uniform. A large number of the warriors were women and girls who were sashes over their shoulders with significant words in large letters such as "Charity," "Love," "Faith," "Perseverance," etc., inscribed on them.

Secretary Hallimand was next introduced and read a selection of scripture from the epistle of St. James. The words to which he called attention and upon which he said Commander Booth would speak were these: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Mr. Booth thanked the audience very fervently for the evident manifestation of interest and sympathy which he beheld in the presence of so large a concourse of people. He said that it was his earnest desire to see the work in which he is interested owned and conducted by the good people all over the land.

There has probably been no mingling in the history of modern civilization," he said, "that can be compared with the work of the Salvation Army. Nothing since the days of early Methodism has approached the magnitude of the religious upheaval that has been caused by this organization. I am especially glad that the days have opened when the Salvation Army is misunderstood and misapprehended in the United States. The work in which we are engaged is now recognized and encouraged by hundreds of thousands of Christian men and women all over the land.

Mr. C. E. Bates then spoke for about half an hour, telling some of his personal experiences with liquor. He said that he drank from the time he was 16 years old until he was 21, and that he had spent nearly $40,000 on whisky and came very nearly bankrupting his parents many times.

Several young men then spoke. One said that he would like to drink a little, not because he liked it, but just to be sociable and he thought that a grog would do him good. He said the same thing because they do not have the will power to say no.

Secretary Oler told of a Scotchman whom he knew, who got on a ferry boat in Scotland and when he recovered he was in America and hadn't the slightest idea how he got here. The secretary then asked those who would promise not to drink to stand up, and about half of the young men present arose to their feet.

The Smart Young Man. He got into the cable Sunday night radiant with a new silk hat and a smile of bland delight in himself. He was proud of piloting six women to church, mother and aunt, perhaps two sisters, and two pretty girls, presumably his sisters' friends, to whom he was quite devoted, making numberless jokes.

One Hundred Dollars Reward. For the arrest of C. F. Coon, usually known as Fred Coon, our former book-keeper. Wanted for robbery.

DEATHS. Notaries of fee lines or less under this head, 25¢ each; each additional line, 10¢.

These people saw no harm, however, in the spectacle of two foot ball teams heaving and kicking each other till they staved the ground over which they contested with blood. That was high toned and all right, but the world of a Salvation Army drum in the street would have upset their sensitive nerves.

New Features of the Work. He then explained the new features of the Salvation Army work. The movement has developed what is called the "Saloon Brigade." It is the duty of this brigade to go into saloons and find out the names of habitual drunkards and endeavor to draw them away from the place of temptation and ruin.

Yesterday was a very busy day with the police, and, as a result of the vigilance of the regular patrolmen and the detectives, the city jail last night was crowded to its utmost capacity.

The celebration of the Mardi Gras carnival Feb. 14th in Mobile and New Orleans will be on a grander and more gorgeous scale than ever before. Special low rates from Omaha Feb. 8th to 12th. Now is the time to take a trip south for business or pleasure. Only 40 hours Omaha to New Orleans via the Washburn.

Charles R. Bacon, manager of Pitons' company, in "The Power of the Press," which comes to the Boyd for four nights, commencing Sunday evening next, arrived in the city yesterday. Mr. Bacon is one of the best known and best liked managers in the theatrical business, and brings encouraging reports of the success of his attraction.

Charles Dickson and his company of comedy players are coming to Boyd's theater for three nights, commencing Thursday evening next. Mr. Dickson is one of the best known and best liked managers in the theatrical business, and brings encouraging reports of the success of his attraction.

Every one of the crowd has been using the Rescue Home as a blind to cover up his crimes, and after being placed in their cells they looked about for some one to blame. The managers of the home for lodging and meals and had thus for a time evaded the police. Many of this batch of toughs have served time in prison, and are in need of the country, and their faces are to be found in dozens of rogues galleries throughout the west.

Rev. Mr. Clark of the home will no doubt be surprised to learn that Edward Dean, who for some time past has been one of the reverend gentleman's most efficient lieutenants, is none other than the most notorious and toughest and most expert burglars in the west. McGill went to the home and told his gang that he was in a haul.

Only four or five robberies have been committed the past week, the reason given by one of the gang was "that it was too blamed cold, so."

Just after these worthies had been locked up, S. A. Kalstrand, 1104 South Sixth street entered the jail to report that during the night his shoe store had been robbed. He was shown to a room where a pair of shoes was found in the house raided and identified every shoe.

Saturday afternoon the residence of Tom McGovern, 2015 Chicago street, was entered and some clothing stolen. One of the sneak thieves had on a pair of Mr. McGovern's slippers, and they were taken to the store. The Burlington also offers unequalled double daily service to Chicago, Denver and Kansas City.

Police Kept Up the Work. George P. Mack was taken into the cold and held on suspicion until today, when a complaint will be filed against him for obtaining money under false pretenses. Mack has been making a habit of selling tickets on a well known photographer and reaped quite a harvest. Saturday a man in East Omaha presented the tickets at the picture gallery, and they were at once recognized as counterfeit.

Along about 2:30 o'clock a rush call was sent in from Seventeenth and Mason streets for the patrol wagon. When the officers arrived they found that four drunken Italians were running amok and causing the streets in that locality by firing revolvers promiscuously. Upon seeing the police the Italians separated and ran. Two of them concealed themselves in a house at 1111 Seventeenth street. Detective Vizard then closed the pair and dragged them out. Another was found in a small house near by and was also loaded into the patrol wagon. They gave their names as Tom J. Decaria, Frank and Willie Laporte.

A crowd of fully 300 people were interested spectators of the capture and it was with considerable difficulty that the police managed to keep the prisoners, as some of the hotheads insisted on meeting out summary punishment then and there. It looked for all as if there was going to be a riot, but the wagon managed to get started and the prisoners were landed safely in jail. A mob of about fifty followed the wagon and swarmed into the jail, but were promptly put back. Even old ex-Sergeant Daily couldn't stand it, so he got drunk again and was locked up.
