The bridal party was accom-panied by the sister of the bride. Mrs. George E. Roeder, and Miss Leonora Roeder of Grand Island and Miss Stickney and S. S. Smith of Omaha. The party spent the night at the hotel and left for their respec-tive homes yesterday morning.

James Holder, formerly a cook in one of the restaurants of this city, was arrested vesterday afternoon and booked at the po-lice station with vagrancy. It is understood however, that a more serious charge awaits him. The police have been working on the sly for several days past on the Worden burglary case and claim to have evidence to show that Holder is implicated in the series of burglaries which Worden committed. He will have a hearing this morning.

Ed Maloney, a stylish looking gambler and supposed confidence man wearing patent leather shoes, was bounced out of Omaha night before last and came to this side of the river, preparatory to starting out in business. He was taken to the station for an interview with the chief of police, in the course of which he said he lived in Boston. He was dismissed upon the understanding that he would start for Boston or some other place besides Council Bluffs at once.

MARRIED AT MALVERN.

Miss Edith Evans and Judge J. R. Reed Joined in Marriage.

-MALVERN, IS., Feb. S .- [Special to The BEE. |- One of the pleasantest weddings of the season occurred here last evening. The groom, Judge Joseph R. Reed of Council Bluffs, is well known to the people of lowa and Nebraska, and is held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends and acquaintances both east and west. The bride, Miss Edith Evans, is the charming daughter of W. D. Evans, for many years a prominent banker of Malvern.

The wedding took place in the First Pres byterian church, which was elaborately and tastefully decorated with evergreen. The church was filled with invited friends, who were shown to their places by the ushers. Mr. Oscar Patrick of Glenwood, Mr. Charles Axtell of Omaha, Mr. Edgar Scott of Omaha and Mr. James Whiting of Mount Pleasant. Miss Greene, an accomplished planist of Keokuk and a warm personal friend of the bride, whiled away the moments of waiting rendering in a most artistic manner a sole and well selected musical program.

At precisely half-past 8, as the strains of the bridal march from "Lobengrin" feli upon the ear, the bridal party entered. The offici-ating eiergymen, Rev/E. W. Brown of Mal-vern, passed down the left aisle and Rev. R. C. Hughes of Tabor, down the right. Immediately following Mr. Brown were the two ushers. Mr. Scott and Mr. Whiting then came Judge Reed along, followed by the two other ushers. Mr. Patrick and Mr. Axtell. ADFANCED RATES.

Action of the Chicago and Ohio River Traffic Association.

CHICAGO, III., Feb. 8-Passenger rates in the territory of the Chicago and Ohio River Traffic association were advanced today to the basis of $7 between Chicago and Louisville, and between Chicago and Cincinnati. This is the compromise basis agreed upon by the roads in interest to remain in effect until such time when the arbittators selected for that purpose shall act. This terminates one of the longest rate wars in the history of American milroads. The war lasted nearly a year, and has been of great benefit to the traveler and scalper. At a special meeting of the Western Pas-senger association the following tribute to the memory of A. C. Dawes, late general passen-ger agent of the Hannibal & St. Joseph road was adopted :

Whereas, Notice has been received of the death of Colonei A. C. Dawes, for many years a prominent figure among the general passen-ger and ticket agents of American railroads, be it Resolved. That the general passenger and ticket agents of the railway lines, members of the Western Passenger association. In meeting assembled do hereby record an expression of their regret at the loss of an esteemed friend and valued associate, and appoint Mr. P. S. Eustis to convey to the family of the deceased some expression of our sincere sympathy with them in this, their hour of affiliction, and to attend the futural of the deceased at St. Joseph, February S, as the special representa-tive of this organization. A railway official who is in a position to A railway official who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, made the assertion today that freight rates from Chicago to Colorade and Utah points and the Pacific coast are in a worse condition than they have been for years. He declares that the competing lines are making little or no pretense of maintaining the tariff rates, but are resorting to all sorts of devices to secure busi ness, regardless of agreements or the man-dates of the law. At the same time there eems to be a disposition to keep the matter pilet for the reason, perhaps, that where all are equally guilty, none have the temerity to make charges that might possibly prove to be a boomerang.

Another complaint which is seeking satisfaction in the courts is that the company refuses to pay for the paving used by its tracks. The amount of paving thus approstars these wintry nights. priated is estimated as exceeding $30,000 When the property owners sued, the com pany solemnly averred that it has never as cepted the ordinance of 1886, and was not therefore bound by it. The city officials do not seem to have been startled into any activity by the seeming inconsistency company claiming the privileges of the or-dinance, but denying its responsibilities. The thousands of dollars of intersection paving are likewise involved. Request for payment brought no money, and the suits which were at last started seem to be drag-ging so slowly as to give little promise of any very speedy settlement of these claims The officials have been subjected to sharp criticism for their apparent tardiness and it very sick. Suit Over an Estate.

An interesting case is booked for trial this morning in the district court. The parties interested are residents of Harlan, and the dispute is over the estate of J. M. Long, who was one of the earliest settlers of Harian. He was a very wealthy man, and nearly all of the largest buildings of the place were put up by him. He died in California about four years ago, and the present action is with reference to a note for $5,000 executed by the deceased in favor of a Harlan man named Hunt. Hattie B Long, the wife of J. M. Long, died some time after the death of her husband, and the legal question now involved is how much of the necessary pre-involved is how much of the personal prop-erty of the father goes to the heirs of the mother's estate. According to the law of California the wife gets half of the personal property, while in this state one-third is the portion set apart. The heirs claim that the law of California is the law which applies, rather than the law of Iowa, where the roperty is located. Among the heirs inter-sted are Mrs. V. Keller of this city and J. V. Voorhis of Omaha.

When President McLeod captured the Boston & Maine railway he did it without consulting Drexel, Morgan & Co. Now, Pierrepont Morgan, who is the Vanderbilts' financial representative, says he strongly protested against McLeod's course, but to no avail. McLeod went right ahead, ignoring the interests of Pierrepont Morgan and secured the line just as it was about to be turned over to the New York, New Haven & Hartford, a Vanderbilt line. Then the Reading and the Vanderbilts began a battle royal in the New England states, Drexel & Co. aligning themselves on the Vander-bills side. Thus the rupture came about, the Drexel house declining to extend account modations to the Reading. McLeod looked around for a time and then entered into close financial arrangements with Speyer & Co., which house is now furnishing all the backing the Reading needs. In the mean-time the Drexels have resumed close relations with the Pennsylvania and other Vanderbilt lines.
