Stock Yards Bill Goes Through the House With Votes to Spare.

SECOND ISSUE OF RAILROAD ARGUMENTS

House Committee Hears the Visiting Officials-Senate Sits Down on Harris' Anti-Pass Resolution and Quarrels Over Darner's No-Pass Bill.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 1 .- [Special Tele gram to THE BER]-Bills on third reading was the order in the house this morning. Several bills were passed. Among them were the stock yards bill, Rhodes' bribery bill and McKesson's bill setting apart a por tion of Wyuka cemetery for the burnal of old soldiers. Horst's repudiation of debt bill was knocked out and Kessler's municipal suffrage bill was recommended for amendment. Howe's bill providing for the resubmission of the school fundamendment defeated at the last election was also passed.

The stock yards bill arried overwhelmingly, the votestanding 68 for to 23 against. The house adjourned until 4 o'clock, as the earlier part of afternoon was set apart for the submission of information by the railroad officials, the same as was given in the senate yesterday evening. The meeting for that purpose wasset for 1:30 o'clock.

Heard the Railroad Song. The house was enlightened on railroad matters this afternoon, after the order practiced in the senate yesterday.

The same crowd of railway officials was present and they rehearsed the same speeches with slight variations as submitted for the edification of the senators. The meeting was ostensibly a session of the railroad committee of the house, but it was one to all members and cutation, contains open to all members and outside : ectators, and not only the floor and lobt , but galleries as well, were well filled.

Chairman Porter of the railroad com-mittee occupied the speaker's chair, and ac other members of the and ne other members of the committee were seated directly in front of the desk of the reading clerk. The meeting was called to order at 1:30, and no time was lost until the time had expired, and the house reconvened at 7 o'clock. The speakers were Messrs. Orr of the Missouri Pacific, Marquette and Holdrege of the B. & M., Hawley and Burt of the Elkhorn, Tiddemore of the Pacific Short Line, Drew of the St. Joe & Grand Island, Dickinson and Kelly of the Union Pacific, and Knodell, Day and Golden of the Railway Employes association. Several questions were asked by Stevens, Newberry and a few other members, but the other side carried altogether too many guns for them, and the anti-railroaders were com-pletely silenced by the eloquence and figures that were turned loose against them. At the expiration of the time allotted for committee work the house reconvened and resumed the consideration of bills on third reading.

Other Bills on Passage.

No. 209, Burns' cruelty to animals bill, was defeated, lacking one of the number neces-sary to pass. It was opposed not because the members were not in favor of action on that point, but because it was so drawn as to confer too much power on persons not duly elected as officers, and would allow them to make a good thing out of the un-called for or malicious prosecution of cases. No. 307, Howe's bill, providing for the ap-pointment of a committee to revise the con-stitution of the state, was defeated.

No. 805, Nelson's bill, appropriating $2,000 for the relief of George Maurer for disabilities contracted during the Wounded Knee campaign as a member of Nebraska National guard, was passed with emergency clause. No. 165, Howe's bill, relating to the matric ulation fees of the State Normal school, was passed, and the house then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

IN THE SENATE.

Harris' Anti-Pass Resolution Deliberately Choked to Death.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 1 .- [Special to THE Bre.]-The fortieth day of the senatorial of the legislature commenced a little late this morning, but the business of the day was pushed with an unwonted vigor. The general order was taken up and reports from standing committees were received as From the committee on municipal affairs

The committee on highways, bridges and ferries recommended the passage of senate file No. 135. This is Correll's bill providing for the improvement of Nebraska roads.

The committee on labor recommended the passage of its substitute for Lobeck's bill, No. 42, providing for a state board of arbitration.

Anti-Pass Resolution Sat Upon.

Senator Harris called up his anti-pass res-olution and insisted upon its consideration. He offered the resolution early in the session, He offered the resolution early in the session, but on motion of Eggleston its consideration was postponed for over a month, it being made a special order for February 25. On that day the author could not be present and at his earnest solicitation it was made a special order for yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m. The senate was not in session yesterday afternoon, however, and Mr. Harris presumed that when the senate met, this morning it that when the senate met this morning it would commence where it left off yesterday forenoon. He reckoned without his host, as Scnator Tefft raised the point of order that not having been considered yesterday after-noon the resolution could not be taken up

Not Properly Suggested. Senator Campbell introduced a resolution Senator Campbell introduced a resolution directing the senate to draw vouchers for the payment of the expenses in the Douglas and Clay county contests. The following parties were entitled to the amounts set opposite their names under the provision of the resolution: C. O. Lobeck, $300; C. H. Clarke, $300; Max Meyer, $300; J. C. Brennan, $300; L. L. Johnson, $300; S. W. Christy, $300; H. M. Waring, stemographer, $254.10.

The lieutenant governor held that inasmuch as the resolution contained an appropriation it could not properly originate in priation it could not properly originate in the senate. He therefore ruled it out of order, but suggested that the matter could be attached to the general appropriation bill as an amendment.

Short Executive Session.

The senate went into executive session im-mediately after reassembling at 3 o'clock to consider executive appointments. When the doors were opened the senate went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the bills on general file. Senat file No. 112 was, after a very brief discus sion, recommended for passage. The bil sion, recommended for passage. The bill was introduced by Moore and provides for the incorporation of universities under cer-tain circumstances. It is intended primardy to benefit the Christian college at Lincola. AMUSEMENTS.

The Boyd was filled to the limit of both its standing and seating capacity last evening, and the audience was representative of the city's beauty and brains. The Nordica concert was an unqualified success. The program was a trying one, each number calling for the highest artistic attainments in conception and expression. It contained only the works of the recognized masters, and most of the numbers were the masterpieces of these masters. It was catholic too-Meyerbeer and Bizett, Rossini and Ambroise Thomas, Gounod and Mascagni. The sudden sickness of Mr. Fischer caused some changes in the published program. Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise. No. 6, with Mr. Luckstone at the plano as interpreter, opened the program. In response to encore Mr. Luckstone played a quite clever gavotte of his own composi-. Miss Louise Engel sang Tito Mattei's tria," and then the world-famous contralto, Mme. Scalchi, made her first appearance before an Omaha audience. He was quite a critic, who, six or seven years ago. after listening to Scalchi's rendering of the Flower song from Faust, said her delivery was like unto a dialogue between an oboe and a trombone. But Mme. Scalchi's dual voice is very effective, and last evening her audience evidently could not have too much of it. Her first number was the "Nobil Signor" from "Les Huguenots," and in response to the encore she sang the ga-votte from "Mignon" with a breezy chie that was captivating. Then came Del Puente, the perennial, and his rendering of Figure's song was beautiful.

Mme. Nordica has proven herself an artist of the very highest rank among sopranos. She sang the famous polacea from "Mignon" She sang the famous polacea from "Mignon" with a grace and power beyond praise, and when the audience demanded more she gave a dainty little song, "When Love is Kind," the work of a young lady in England, which carried the hearers away, and for the third time the prima donna had to respond, and this time she melted the hearts of all with an unspeakably exquisite rendering of "'Way Down de Swanee Riber."

FATE OF THE MAN WHO IS DOWNED

All Sorts of Derogatory Epithets Are Heaped on the Pagilist Who Has a Sprained Ankle-Talk Concerning the Great Fiasco.

New Orleans, La, March 1.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Tommy Ryan is receiving such an exceriation here this mornas a fighter never received before, and the unfortunate accident which has caused his meeting with Dawson tonight to be called off has had a most derogatory effect upon the entire carnival and there is no end of unfavorable comment. The fact that Ryan had once before disappointed a large gathering of sporting men this city-his tonsilitis flunk a year ago-goes greatly to his discredit, and hundreds this morning emphatically assert that he is shamming, and too chickenhearted to meet the plucky Australian. This is all wrong, however. Ryan's ankle four times its normal size, and while he is able stand, he cannot and is confined to his bed, He has taken on twelve pounds since the accident befell him and now weighs 153 pounds. Although the club has announced that the fight has only been postponed until March 9, this is only to allay the discontent and excitement among the visitors here, for the match will not come off, then or at any other time. Ryan is helpless this morning and three prominent physicians are in constant attendance upon him, and everything is being done to square him with the people that can be done. Even should he be gotten into condition to resume training by Sunday next, it would be a physical impossibility for him to again get down to weight by the 9th, and the boy's friends might as well make up their minds that he is delegated with the outside class from this on, so far as the New Orleans clubs are concerned.

Want All the Stuff. Louis Houseman told me a few minutes ago that it was not in Ryan's sparring bout with Henry Baker Sunday that he received his injury, but while making a sprint Monday morning along the shell road. Mr. Humphreys, Dawson's backer, and Dawson himself came in from Bay St. Louis this morning. They will be at the Olympic club at noon when Dawson will present himself to be weighed in, after which formality Humphreys will claim the $500 forfeit posted Humphreys will claim the $500 forfeit posted by Houseman for Ryan's appearance at this time. Houseman declares that he will not give up the money, and has already enjoined the cinb from paying it over, but as Humphreys' claim is perfectly legitimate he will doubtless surrender in good time. Humphreys is the man who forfeited the $1,000 to Ryan a year ago. This sum he and Houseman had up as a clincher for a $5,000 side bet, and as the Californian failed to come to time at 12 o'cleck on the day of the expected fight he forfeited gracefully, President Noel handing the money over to the Chicago sporting editor. Immediately after this transaction, so Humphreys claims, Tommy was seized with a violent attack of tonsilitis

Dawson has quietly acquiesced in the inevitable, but his backer and immediate followers are very wrathy. Billy Madden was incl.ned to sneer at the Chicago fighter though he had not much to say.

"Goddard," said he, "would never have stopped for a little thing like that and it looks to me as though there were very slim chances of ever bringing off this fight, because this man Ryan will hardly be ready cause this man Ryan will hardly be ready to meet Dawson by the 9th of March even should the backers of Dawson consent to have the match postponed until March 9, for if he is telling the truth and really has a sprained ankle it is not probable that it will be so far restored as to enable him to fight by that time; while if he is only afraid to meet Dawson, he will not feel any braver a week hence."

Joe Goddard's Forecast.

Goddard is making a prediction as to the general result of the coming contests, which may prove interesting in the light of after developments. First of all, he says with confident modesty that he will nimself win, as the wish is father to the thought he naturally predicts the suc-cess of his fellow countryman and running mate. Dawson. Globons, he says. will win. He also predicts the success of Fitzsimmons, though he says the Fitzsimmons-Hall contest will be a great fight. God-dard was present when Hall and Fitzsimmons fought in Australia and Goddard says that Fitzsimmons' account of this much talked of affair is true. In the Corbett-Mitchell fight Goddard says the Englishman will be defeated. After the fight with Smith, if Goddard whips Smith, he will seek a fight with Corbett and will do everything in his power to sustain it. Of Sullivan's threat to whip him on sight, he says that so far as a street brawl is concerned, he will give that no more attention than it deserves, but if Sullivan desires a regulation set to he (Goddard) will fight him anywhere, any time, under any circumstances, for $10 up, and Goddard talks and acts like he meant business.

One More Entertainment,

The Crescent City club has decided to add another event to its series of puglistic attrac-tions besides the Hall-Fitzsimmons fight on the night of the 8th, and the Daly-Gibbons contest on the 7th of March. The club has determined on giving a preliminary bout be-tween Solly Smith and a well known bantam from the east, whose name as yet has not been announced.

There is no use hiding the fact that, in comparison with last September, the crowd in attendance here today amounts to little more than a handful. Of course there is an army of the 'fancy" here, but a notable absence of the representative throngs that gravitated here representative throngs that gravitated here six months ago. It turns out that the bulk of the strangers here Monday were delegates to a planters convention. Still there is a large number of northern and eastern visitors here, and while the prospects for the clubs pulling out ahead are exceedingly slim there is a chance for them to at least break even.

Layout for Tonight. There is to be a varied program in the Olympic's arena tomorrow night, both boxing and wrestling. As a preludatory attraction, Billy McMillan of Washington, D. C. and Billy Hines of Providence, R. L. C. and Billy Hines of Providence, R. I., welterweights, will battle to a finish for a $1.000 purse. While the event is apt to be an interesting one, there is little speculation on the result, as the men are fifth-raters and almost entirely unknown, if McMillan did give Tommy Ryan the worst punch he ever received. McMillan has had a more extensive ring experience, but what Hines lacks in this respect he makes up in stockl-ness and determination. He is fairly clever, and should win.

Immediately following the fight comes a gladiatorial struggle for the supremacy of wrestling in Greco-Roman and catch-as-catch-can styles, between Ernst Roeber, the catch-can styles, between Ernst Roeber, the German Hercules of New York, and Evan Lewis of Barneyville, Wis. It promises to be one of the most thrilling combats of modern times. According to the arrangment the rival giants are to wrestle, best three in five falls, two falls to catch-ascatch-can, and two falls Græco-Roman. Should the struggle remain undecided after these four falls, the decisive bout is to be these four falls. the decisive bout is to be Craco-Roman if Roeber gains a fall in less time than Lewis, and catch-as-catch-can if Lewis throws his man in the briefest time. The match is for a $2,000 purse, $500 to go to Parson Davies is Lewis' backer and manager and will act as his time-keeper and general counsellor, while Billy Muldoon, the old champion, will esquire Roeber, giving him valuable advice as well as holding the ticker. It is expected to be a great struggle. About the Men.

Evan Lewis, commonly known as the "Strangler," in my opinion is the best wrestler in the world at catch-as-catch-can, and I doubt whether the man lives who can defeat nim if the famous, or infamous, as you like, lock, known as the "strangle hold," is allowed. Davie him claims that Lewis is just as scientific and just as formidable at the Græco-Roman game as he is at the former. If this is so, the match tomorrow night will assuredly be a tremendous one, as Roeber is certainly an adversary worthy of any champion's muscle, courage and endurance.

'Ernst is recognized as the Graco-Roman champion, as he has conquered the best men champion, as he has esequered the best men from all quarters of the globe at this style. His conquests of Robinet and Apollon, the big French champion, alone proves him a wonder. His training has been personally supervised by Muldoon, whom some people think the best trainer living. Roebel-will weigh about 190 pounds. He possesses the strength of an ox, and can endure as severe a strain as any man who ever stepped on the mat. He knows every hold, every trick, tangle and artifice in the Grace-Roman style, and will have a large following. His German brethren call him the Demon and will go broke that he downs the heretofore invincioke that he downs the heretofore invinci-e Wisconsinner, whose fame extends over both hemispheres. MISSION SERVICES.

History of the Song of Solomon and its As the Episcopal mission draws toward its close the interest seems to be deepening. and on all sides regrets are heard that the missioner's stay is to be so short. At the morning service yesterday the subject of sacrifice was again considered in which it was shown that the holy communion had in it all the elements of the sacrifices of the ancient Jewish worship.

At noon the large room in the New York Life building was well filled, and again Mr. Crapsey held the men in close atten-tion by his earnest eloquence. He took for his subject the fact took for his subject the that men assert that Christianity not work nowadays, and showed the fallacy of this idea. Mr. Crapsey is always at his best at these noon services, and as Saturday will be the last day those who have not heard this preacher, of whom Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix of New York City said that he was the most eloquent preacher in the city, had better do so at once.

The subject at the service for women at 4

p. m. was "The Duties of the Housekeeper," the address on which was brimful of good advice and happy illustration.

At the evening service the cathedral was again full. The text taken was from the Song of Solomon, chapter ii., verse 16: "My beloved is mine, and I am his," from which was preached a most powerful sermon on the ove of God to the soul, and the love of the soul to God.

The missioner began by explaining how this Song of Solomon originated. Solomon had been on a journey, ito Shulam, when he saw a beautiful shepherdess. On his return home he sent for her and had her arrayed in nome he sent for her and had her arrayed in royal robes and brought into his magnificent chamber with its roof of azure, its walls of gold, its couch of ivory and its floors of tapestry, and then asked her to become one of his wives. She had already plighted her troth to a shepherd in Shulam and persistently refused to become Solomon's wife. At last she made her escape from the patrice and went hunting around the streets of Jerusalem for her lover, who had followed her. Solomon, then seeing that she was fully determined to stand by her first his sent her home, and then wrote his beautiful song.

The preacher they howed how God loves man, and in one of the finest sermons he has yet preached he exported his hearers to a more earnest love for God. As usual the meditation at the end of the sermon was one magnificent collection of word pictures, covroyal robes and brought into his magnifinagnificent collection of word pictures, covering what had been said in the sermon.

Mr. Crapsey issued the following call last night:

"In the name of God, amen. The missioner calls all who have been interested and helped by the mission to meet him at the cathedral on Sunday morning next at 8 o'clock, communicants to worship and receive noncommunicants to worship and preceive noncommunicants to worship and preo'clock, communicants to worship and receive, noncommunicants to worship and prepare for reception. Let the clergy come and bring their people. The missioner calls the children to meet him in the cathedral at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He calls the men to meet him in the Young Men's Christian association rooms at 4 o'clock. The women
he calls to meet him at the cathedral at 5 o'clock. And all the men women and chilo'clock. And all the men, women and chil-dren to meet him for the closing service in the cathedral at 8 o'clock. Let all come and cry to the Lord for a blessing."

E. C. McFarland, the ex-minister of finance to the dethroned queen, and Dr. Mott Smith, the present Hawaiin minister to this country, went down the bay on the revenue cutter Chandler to meet the young princess. They boarded the ship immediately after she left the health officer's boarding station. There was quite an army of curiosity seekers on the pier to get a glimpse at the princess. A suite of rooms had been engaged for the party at the Brevoort house and they were driven there immediately after coming off the steamship The princess is 18 years old. She is a tall, beautiful young woman, with a sweet face and slender figure. She has the soft brown eyes and dark complexion that mark Hawaiian beauty. She had come to the United States, she said, more for the purpose of states, she said, more for the purpose of learning and observing for herself the nature of the people who had been asked to take control of her country than to make formal petition for her crown.

"That," she said, "is rightfully mine, and if the Americans are the noble minded people I have learned to regard them as, they will not be a party to the outrage by which I have lost my birthright."

To THE AMERICAN PEOPLE: Unbidden I tand upon your shores today, where I hought so soon to receive a royal welcome on my way to my own kingdom. Leone unaton my way to my own kingdom. I come unat-tended, except by the loving hearts that have ome with me over the wintry sens. I hear that commissioners from my land have been for many days asking this great nation to take away my little vineyard. They speak no word to me and leave me to find out as I can from the rumors of the air, that they would leave me without a home or a name or a na-tion.

Seventy years ago Christian America sent over Christian men and women to give religion and civilization to Hawaii. They gave us the gospel, they made us a nation and we learned to love and trust America. Today three of the sons of those missionaries are at your capital asking you to undo their fathers work. Who sent them? Who gave them authority to break the constitution which they swore they would uphold?

Today, I, a poor weak girl, with not one of my own people near me, and all these Hawaiian statesmen against me, have strength to stand up for the rights of my people. Even now I can hear the wail in my heart and it gives me strength and courage, and I am strong in the faith of God; strong in the knowledge that I am right; strong in the strength of 70,000,000 of people who, in this free land, will hear my cry and will refuse to let their flag cover dishonor to mine.

Statement of Mr. Davies.

"After the revolution of 1887 Mr. Thurston ame into power and enjoyed very generally the confidence of natives and foreigners. At that time the Princess Kaiaulani, heiress pre-sumptive to the the throne, was 11 years of age, and it was felt to be very important that she should be sent entirely away from the surroundings and influences of Hawalian court life, in order that she might be trained in the quiet home atmosphere which would enable her more fitly to take up her future

"Mr. Thurston repeatedly urged that the young princess should be sent to England. With this object in view, and in 1889, when she was 13 years of age, the plan was carried out and Princess Kaiaulani was sent to England in charge of a lady who was about to spend a year in Europe and who undertook to place her at a suitable school, which had already been selected.

"At the end of the first year the result was deemed so satisfactory that Kalakaua was persuaded to consent to a continuance of the young princess stay in England, and as the lady who had been her chaperon had to return to Honolulu a request was made by the father of the princess with the written concurrence of the king and the then Prin-cess Liliuokalani that Mr. Davies and myself would act as guardians during the princess' stay in England, "Princess Kaiaulani thus has been entirely as one of our children and had spent all her holidays with us. Her one idea, and our one idea, has been to prepare her for the re-turn to her own land during the present year, when she attains her majority of the last acts of the Hawaiinn legislature, which four of the five commissioners now at Washington remember, was to vote a sum of $4.000 for the expenses of the return tour of the heiress apparent. Arrangements were in progress for her reception by the queen of England during the coming spring, and then she was to make a prolonged visit at Washington, New York, Chicago, Boston and other American cities, finally reaching Honolulu in October or November for her coming of age.

when the news reached me by capte of the revolution in Hawaii I wrote to the min-ister, pointing out what appeared to me to be the grave difficulties in the way of the carrying out by the commissioners of the oposal for annexation. "I stated that in my opinion no amount of reasoning and no amount of bribery would ever gain the pure Hawaiian vote and that without that vote annexation could neither be completed nor carried out hereafter. then urged that a convention of all classes of voters should be called, a carefully revised constitution presented to them, that the queen should be requested to abdicate and that the Princess Kaiulani should be pro-

"February 14 I received this cablegram from Washington: "Islands transferred; princess provided for."
"Whether this cablegram was to be con-sidered an official communication I did not know, but it is the only communication that has reached me, and absolutely none has reached the princess. The most striking fact of this cablegram, next to its apparent heartlessness, is the fact that its accuracy is not confirmed by any telegrams that have been published in England. Why it was sent, or who sent it, I do not know, but as loyal guardians and faithful friends, there was only one thing for us to do; to stand here beside the princess in the presence of those representatives of Hawaii who would transfer her birthright without the civilty, the humanity of one word to her in explana-tion, or even of sympathy.

"We come here with no official status and with no official information, but with the conviction that the government and people of the United States will not lend their counte nance to the disinheritance, for no fault alleged against her or her nation, of a royal lady who has, with singular grace and cour age, endeavored to fit herself for her high station and has shrunk from neither duty nor sacrifice in the effort. Sympathizes with the Commissioners.

commissioners, who must find themselves in a position of great embarrassment. Several of them were concerned in the preparation of the Hawaiian constitution of 1887, which they compelled the king to accept, and since to maintain. At least four of the commissioners have taken the oath to the same constitution and it has been adopted by the nation. When Liliuokalani ascended the throne she took the usual oath, and by that constitution Princess Kanulani was proclaimed heiress to the throne. The queen appears to have violated her constitutional oath and to have laid herself open to deposition, but that cannot effect the constitu-

There is no pretense that the Hawaiian electorate ever knew of the revo-lution at the date of the commissioners' departure on their present mission, and it is difficult to see how they can so sufficiently define their present position as to enable them to write to the heiress apparent and announce to her the circumstances of their

'I do not for a moment believe that any of them would be guilty of intentional cruelty, or even discourtesy to the princess, and the inconceivable treatment which their silence toward her has betrayed them into must arise from the difficulty they find in recon-ciling their present attitude with the knowl-edge that their oath to sustain the Hawaiian constitution binds them to the succession of constitution binds them to the said releases the heiress, unless the nation itself releases them from that oath."

News That Pleased the Party. Mr. Davies was delighted to learn that the question of the agreement of Hawaii had aken a turn in the senate, and that practically it was laid over for the consideration of the next administration.

"We do not mean to get a hearing with President Cleveland in any official capacity," said he, "but simply as private individuals. What his decision will be will scarcely be What his decision will be will scarcely be affected by our visit. The princess felt that in view of the threatened annexation of Hawaii by the United States she ought to come here where she could learn directly what was the true sentiment of the people. I will remain in New York until Friday, then we will go to Boston, where we will remain until after March 4: from there we will proceed to Washington, where we expect to proceed to Washington, where we expect to see Mr. Cleveland."

Mackay's Condition.

San Francisco, Cal., March 1.-John W. Mackay's condition was not so favorable today. The doctors decided that the wound was healing too rapidly, so it was reopened. There was found in the wound the begin-ning of a pus sack, which might have caused mood poisoning, if undisturbed. The object of reopening the wound was to allow it to granulate from the inside to the outward.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood: but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which untrincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equaled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."-H. L.
