FOUR MEN FOR TWO JOBS

Omaha Blessed with Duplicate Commissioners of Streets and Sewers.

CHARTER DOESN'T SUIT THE COUNCIL

Attempt by the Mayor to Put the New Bill of Rights Into Effect Starts a Deuce of a Row-Will Hold it Over.

An effort was made at the council meeting last night to put into immediate effect the provisions of the new city charter which provides that one member of the Board of Public Works shall be street commissioner and another sewer commissioner, and which a effect, if not in express terms legislates he present street commissioner, sewer inspector and sistewalk inspector out of office. When the charter was passed it was found that the two members of the Board of Public Works, besides the chairman, had suffered an increase of salary from $1,000 per annum. to $2,000 per annum, with the enlarged duties of street and sewer commissioner. It was neld by City Attorney Connell at the time that the salary provision of the charter was void under the constitutional provision which states that the salary of no officer shall be increased during his term of office. This position was found, however, to be incorrect and Douglas county furnished the case upon which the state supreme court ruled on the point in question.

Had Established the Rule.

Several years ago, when the late George Timme was a member of the Board of County Commissioners, the legislature passed a faw increasing the salary of the members of that body from $3 per day to $1.800 per aunum. The county refused, under the constitutional The county refused, under the constitutional provision, to pay Mr. Timme the increase, as he was in office at the time the law was passed. He brought suit in the district court and Judge Doane decided the case in his favor. The matter was taken to the supreme court and a decision rendered sustaining the decision of Judge Doane.

The court held that the constitutional provision applied only to those officers whose offices were created by the constitution. The syllabus of the court was as follows:

1. In the absence of any constitutional prohibition or affirmative provision fixing the term of the office of any officer or his compensation the legislature may change such term or compensation, and such change of term or compensation will apply as well to the officers then in office as to those to be thereafter elected.

elected.

2. Where an office is created by the constitution the compensation of the officer can neither be increased nor diminished during his

The amended charter was signed by the The amended charter was signed by the governor and became a law on April 8, and since that time Major St. A. D. Balcombe and Major John B. Furay, the two members of the board affected by the change, have been entitled to a salary of $2,000 per aunum each. Mayor Bemis was of the opinion that the increased duties should go with the in-crease of salary and last night he sent the following communication to the council:

Mayor Bemis' Recommendation.

TO THE HONORABLE THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ONSHA: Gentlemen—Under the recent amendments to section 104 the Board of Public Works is comprised of the chairman and two other members to be known as street commissioner and sewer commissioner. The chairman of the board is to have general supervision of public works, and the member known as the street commissioner is to supervise work done upon the surface of streets, and the member known as the sewer commissioner is to supervise work done upon the surface of streets, and the member known as the sewer commissioner is to supervise all as the sewer commissioner is to supervise all sewer work and other work under the surface of the streets. The effect of this amendment, as I am advised, is to abolish the offices of street commissioner, sidewalk inspec-tor and sewer inspector as heretofore existing. While the charter provision as now While the charter provision as now existing does not expressly authorize the mayor to designate the office each member shall fill until the time of making an appointment in July, it would seem desirable and proper that such designation should be made ment in July, it would seem acceptable and proper that such designation should be made at once for the time intervening between the present and the date of appointing a new member. Unless this is done, confusion and uncertainty will exist as to which member shall perform the duties of street commissioner and which member the duties of sever commissioner. I therefore, in the interest of public service, designate the office each commissioner shall fill until the first Tuesday in Iduy, 1893, as follows:

I designate St. A. D. Balcombe, a member of said Board of Public Works, as street commissioner until the first Tuesday in July, 1893;
I designate John B. Furay, a member of said Board of Public Works, as sever commissioner until the first Tuesday in July, 1893.

For the information of your honorable body I would further state that I am advised ly the city attorney that under section 104, as amended, each member of the Board of Public Works, other than the chairman, will be entitled to receive a salary at the rate of $2,000 per annum from the date of the passage of the amendments. It appears that the provision of the constitution to the effect that the compensation of a public officer canno, be lacreased nor diminished during the term of his office, has been considered by our supreme court to apply alone to those officers whose offices were created by the constitution. In the case of Douglas County vs. Timme this was so expressly decided, and it was expressly declared that the legislature may change the term of office or compensation, and that such change or compensation apply as well to the officers then in office as to those to be thereafter elected or appointed. Respectfully submitted,

George P. Bemis, Mayor.

Would Not Concur.

There was a row on in an instant. Mr. Hascall wanted the communication spread upon the records and Mr. Munroe wanted it laid upon the table.

Mr. Wheeler thought the communication was ill-timed and illegal. He said that the charter provided that the mayor should designate one of the members of the board to be street commissioner and one to be sewer commissioner, when he designated the enair man of the board to serve for one year Further he claimed that the street commis sioner had no existence under the charter but that his office was created by ordinance and under the plan proposed by the mayor the city would have two street commisoners. The city attorney replied that the charter provision would take preference over the ordinance, and that as the new charter was already in force there would be confusion if something was not done along the line pro-posed by the mayor in his message to the

Mr. Munro demanded that his motion be put, and the communication went to the table by the following vote: Yeas—Back, Bruner, Jacobson, McAndrews, Saunders, Specht, Thomas and drews. Saunders, Specht, Thomas and Wheeler—10.

Nays—Edwards, Elsasser, Hascalf, Howell, Prince, Steel and Bechel—7.

Mr. Wheeler made a request that the members of the judiciary committee take the matter up and report to the council at the next meeting as to what action if any the council about the rest meeting as to what action if any the council should take in the case.

Whatever is done by the council Majors Balcombe and Furay will draw their salaries from April 8 at the rate of $2,000 per annum whether the council increases their duties

ANUSEMENTS.

"The Upper Hand" at Wonderland. Ralph Cummings and Lisle Leigh, the new leading people of the Bijou stock company are scoring a big hit at Wonderland and Bijou theater this week in Oliver Doud Byron's successful play, "The Upper Hand." As Jack Lamar Mr. Cummings is at his best, and Miss Leigh puts up an admirable piece of acting as Maud Lamar, the persecuted wife of Jack. John D'Ormond, Agnes Fuller, W. J. Holton, Jack Rall and in fact all the members of the company are worthy of men tion for their excellent playing of their respective parts. "The Upper Hand" is a sensational melodrama, abounding with comedy and startling climaxes, especially so the finale of the third act, where Jack catches a team of infuriated horses which dash madly down to the footlights. No orio program is given, but instead excellent specialties are introduced by Jack Rall and William Smyth of the company and Lattle Sara, the phenom-enal child dancer, who is especially engaged as a feature of the program. #### COMMERCIAL CLUB PROSPECTS On Thursday afternoon of this week

Plans Discussed for the Arrangement of Their New Quarters.

INCLUDE ALL CONVENIENCES

All the Luxuries of a First-Class Club Will Be at the Command of the Members and Their Friends Under the Arrangements.

The executive committee of the Commercial club met last evening at the Board of Frade rooms and discussed matters relating o the changes of the top floor of the Chamber of Commerce building for club purposes W. A. L. Gibbon presided and George H. Payne acted as secretary.

During the afternoon the directors of the Board of Trade had met and appointed a committee of five, consisting of Joseph A. Connor, F. C. Ayer, C. H. Fowler, E. E. Bruce and H. F. Cady to negotiate with a committee appointed by the club and consisting of George H. Payne, A. P. Tukey and Dan Farrell, concerning a lease to the club of the top floor and to decide upon the improvements desired. All the members of both committees were present last evening, but owing to the absence of the architect definite arrangements were postponed until today. The evening was passed largely in discussing in a general passed largely in discussing in a general way various plans which were suggested.

One drawing had oeen submitted and was carefully scanned. It provided for a kitchen, cafe, private cafe, freight commissioner's room, a business office, reception room and necessary closets, hallways, etc. The kitchen will probably be built out from one of the walls, in order to give good ventilation in summer from the south and to prevent its odors from entering the club rooms. The reception room is 35x34 feet in size and will be in the very northeast corner, from which an excellent view can be obtained east and west on Farnam and north and south on Sixteenth street. No oilliard room is provided for, but it is thought that in the course of a short time the L-shaped plan of the fifth floor will be made rectangular to conform with the plan of the lower floors, in which event more om will be secured.

To make these vepairs the Board of Trade committee is authorized to expend $6,000, a sum which is considered ample. The club is anxious to begin immediately, and from aresent indications the work will be started in ent indications the work will be started di-side of two or three days.

Since Saturday night twenty-five new members have joined and the list in the next few days will probably be augmented considerably.

Mr. Gibson announced that his business called him to New York to be absent two weeks. He would leave tomorrow and it would be necessary to select a chairman protem. The general sentiment seemed to be in tem. The general sentiment seemed to be in favor of George H. Payne, the "stem winder," as Chairman Gibbon called him, but Mr. Payne emphatically declined in favor of some older and more conservative person. Chris Hartman and Mr. Brady were also suggested, but declined, owing to a pressure of private business, and A. P. Turkey was chosen.

The committee chosen to select a freight tom nissioner asked for further time, saying they desired to proceed cautiously and make they desired to proceed cautiously and make no mistake. The matter was progressing nicely, however.

This is Omaha's day. A few minutes after 4 o'clock this afternoon Ignace Jan Paderewski will arrive at the Union depot, and a few minutes after 8 in the evening the greatest planist of his generation will step on the Boyd stage and make his first bow to an Omaha audience; then he will sit down at his Steinway and carry his hearers to deeper depths, higher heights and innermore re-cesses of the soul of music than they have ever imagined the piano capable of guiding them to. All the world says this, and awaits Omaha's endorsement of its superlative laudation of this man's playing.

In his treatment of the usually unrespon-sive instrument of wood and wires Pader ewski is unique. His touch is peculiarly original; his treatment of hackneyed passage work is so distinctive as to spiritualize the most mechanical feature in piano playing. He is the most lyrical artist, in the true sense of the word of his generation. He draws from the piano a pure, prolonged volume of tone, which he molds sculptorwise into the loveliest of images; for Paderewski is one of those artists to whom the Beautiful is concrete, a thing to be felt and heard, and all ugliness abhorrent. Paderewski feels deeply and his hearers feel with him, but his feeling is suave, serene; even his brilliancy is never metallic or unlovely. The playing, then, of this man is eargerly listened to, simply because he soothes, softens, makes sweet even adversity. The great heart in his bosom is for humanity. Ah, there is the word, he is human; it is a human being, not a clanking technical machine, that sits at the piano. This is the secret of his sway over the multitude, not his marvelous facility nor yet is golden halo.

Few who care to hear this marvelous pianist need miss the pleasure. There may be some seats obtainable even at 8 this evening, and a place in the gallery is almost as good as a parquet stall for enjoyment of Paderewski and his playing. Any seat in the Boyd is sufficient for hearing anything, and the golden-haired genius can be seen from any seat.
