There will be a "mothers' meeting" at Miss Baldwin's, 530 Willow avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All mothers who desire to get clearer idens as to the scope and methods of kinderstarten work are cos and methods of sindergation work are to dially invited to be present. The kinder-garten conducted by Mrs. Hardman and Miss Baldwin is doing a grand work, and this can be increased by the intelligent co-operation of the mothers in the home. Hence this meeting, which may be followed by others of a similar nature if those who should be most concerned show their interest by attending.

The committee on arrangements appointed by the Veteran Firemen's association to take charge of the ball which is to be given at the Masonic temple on the evening of May 1, are trying to make the event surpass all former balls given by this organization. It has always been the custom to present the May queen with a wreath of flowers, but this year a different idea has been adopted and she will receive instead a spring hat of the latest Parisian style. This association is organized for the purpose of taking care of the veteran fremen who are sick or disabled from any cause, and deserves the hearty patronage of the public.

The First Christian church people are rapidly crystalizing their plans for a new church building. L. M. Stubert, Z. T. Cole and G. W. Battles have been selected as trustees, and will have charge of the active work of raising money and pushing the en-terprise. The new church will be located on the corner of Mynster and Sixth streets, and will have a scatting capacity about equal to the Masonic hall, where the meetings are now held. The meetings will commence about May 10. At the start the big tent will be pitched on the church site, but will be subsequently moved to various parts of the city. The young organization continues to grow with remarkable rapidity, seven ac-

Captain W. A. Hayes Has a Narrow Call from an Exploding Pistol.

QUEER STORY OF HIS PRIOR ACTIONS

He is Said to Have Persistently Attempted Sulcide by Inhaling Gas at the Ogden Hotel During the Atternoon.

A combination of an unsteady hand and a loaded revolver almost made a six-foot-two angel out of Captain W. A. Hayes Sunday at his residence on North First street.

He was standing in the front hall with the gun in his hand when it exploded accidentally. The buildt went crashing through the wall about six feet from where he stood, grazing his face in its passage, while the powder flew in his face and left a number of black spots which will remind him of his experience for a good many days. His chillien were standing around him and might easily have been killed had the bullet gone in a little different direction. That is his story as he tells it, but later developments throw a rather different light on the affair. He has been drinking heavily for some time past and when he went to the Ogden house during the aftern on he showed. the effects of his long curousal. He called for a room and was given room 68. He went upstairs saying he would take a nap. Shortly after some of the other guests of the house noticed a smell of gas. An investigation was from room 68. The bell boy hammered on Haves, who grumbled considerably at the boy's disregard of a guest's comfort. Upon entering the room the gas jet was found to be turned fully on and the gas was escaping into the room, it was turned off, the window was opened and Hayes went back to bed. The bell boy went down stairs but kept watch of the room during the rest of the afternoon. The smell was not noticed again and upon opening the door it was discovered that the gas had been turned on again and the window lowered. As soon as things had been put right once more and the boy was safely out of sight Hayes turned on the gas a third time, out after the boy had olled him in his third attempt to climb the golden stair he became disgusted and left the house, evidently having come to the conclusion that golden stairs were not fit for ach as he. Hayes' determined and repeated efforts to commit suicide are thought to have been the result of the prolonged spree which he has seen enjoying. He is a well known figure Early yesterday morning Hayes called at Devol's hardware store and wanted to buy a revolver for the purpose, he said, of killing a dog. He wanted it charged, but something in his manner convinced Mr. Devol that he wanted it for some other purpose and he refused to let him have it.

Grand Army Men Swear Off Soliciting from

the Citizens. At the last meeting of Abe Lincoln post there was a somewhat excited discussion on the subject of celebrating Decoration day, and at the conclusion it was decided that the post should do its own celebrating this year and invite no one but old soldiers and sailors to help them. From remarks that have been let fall since the meeting was held it is learned that the old soldiers, and especially those who are numbered in the ranks of the Grand Army, are somewhat sore over the treatment they have received, or think they have received, from the citizens in the past. It has always been the custom to circulate It has always been the custom to circulate a subscription list among the citizens before Decoration day each year, and in this way to secure the necessary funds for hiring speakers, music, flowers and carriages for the celebration. The old soldiers this year have in some way conceived the idea that these subscriptions were not given with a very good grace, and they claim to have heard remarks to the effect that the soldiers

Everything Perceful. The Boat club held a meeting last evening at the Grand hotel parlors, in accordance with the call of the vice president, for the purpose of settling the difficulties that cuiminated in the resignation of Commodore

Haas, President Buckman, Treasurer Wake field, Secretary Fenion and Director Palmer. The meeting was largely attended and concessions were made by both sides. The principal difference, it seems, was caused by the action of the board of directors in passing an amendment to the by-laws giving the commodore the right to make any purchases he might think proper, without the consent of any of the directors, while the rule heretofore has been that the bills must all be run with the consent of the board of directors and properly audited be-fore payment. It was this amendment that caused the rupture, rather than any personal feeling against Commodore Haas, and when it was brought up in the meeting last even-ing for final adoption it was lost. Buckman, Wakefield, Fenion and Palmer were then requested to withdraw their resignations, which they did, and a committee was apcointed to wait upon Haas and ask him to do he same thing. The meeting was harmonious and the club is now in better shape financially than ever before. The indebtedness has been reduced $200 this season and the directors hope to have it wiped out by the middle of June It is their intention to give parties at the lake every week during the boating season.

FIVE-CENT FARE.

Omaha and Council Bluffs Join Hands in the Move.

For some little time past but little progress has been made, so far as the public could see, in the direction of securing a 5-cent fare between the two cities, but the work has been going on steadily and quietly. The first meeting of the business men of the two cities is to be held in the Board of Trade rooms in Omaha this evening, when sentive committee of the Commercial club of that place will meet the committee ap-pointed by the citizens some time ago for a discussion of the ways and means of arriv-ing at the desired end. The Council Bluffs delegation will leave for Omaha on the motor that leaves the corner of Pearl street and Broadway at 7 p. m.

PARTY POLITICS PUTS ITS FOOT IN

Our Own Mr. Bryan Wrote a Letter-Colonel Frank Irish stood Up for the Administration and Congress Adjourned, Oopen, U. T., April 24 .- The Transmississippi Commercial congress opened in the Grand opera house today. Previous to the meeting reception committees gathered at the union depot, a great procession was formed and they marched to the various headquarters of delegations. The stars and stripes floated from every building. Bunting and streamers in profusion decorated business and private houses; in fact, the whole city was in gaia dress. The weather was eniny but dry.

people. I have in mind just now the ethno-logical display. Extensive explorations were made of the region which the cliff dwelfers once inhabited. We shall have on exhibi-tion many curious tools and much pottery and jewelry which was used by this extinct race. There will also be ears of corn shown, which were found in a good state of preser-outer. Governor Prince of New Mexico called the meeting to order, and after prayer congratulated the congress on the magnificent representation, not only in numbers but in the character of the delegations. He spoke of the work outlined for the congress, refervation. The most curious things, however, will be a number of nummies which were ring to the subject of arid lands, irrigation, harbor improvements and free sliver. The "The ornithological, the mineral, the agri-cultural, hocticultural and other displays reference to free silver brought a storm of applause from every part of the convention, making it evident that silver would occupy the greater part of the convention's time. Governor Thomas of Utah being delayed by a raircoad accident, Colonel W. H. Har-vey of Ogden made the andress of welcome, and was followed by Mayor R. C. Landy, in behalf of the city of Ogden.

In appointing a committee on credentials t was found that all of the twenty-two transmississippi states were represented, except Minnesota and Louisiana, whose dele-gates had not yet arrived The congress then took a recess.

At the afternoon session, pending the re-port of committee on credentials, a delegate becomes depressed we can immediately take becomes depressed we can immediately take up another. Doesn't Want to Pay,

The United States Mutual Accident association of New York is fighting the payment of the $5,000 policy on the life of W. M. Jones, which is hold by C. C. Jones, a relative of the deceased. Jones, it will be remembered, was shot and killed a year ago on Upper Broadway. The answer of the com-pany was filed yesterday, in which it is alleged that the death of Jones was not ac-cidental, but took place while he was under the influence of liquor, and the company also the market, all houses are occupied and many new ones are going up. Among various attractions at Boise are the hot water artesian wells in the suburbs of town. Two wells have thus far been bored and yield a supply more than ample for all purposes. A large bath house has been built and a favor-ite resort established. The water from these wells contains a large percentage of iron and wens contains a large percentage of iron and is bottled and carried away by many persons for drinking purposes. Its temperature in one well is 160°, in the other 173° Fahr, affording sufficient heat for warming houses. Many of Boise's citizens are now heating their houses with water conducted in pipes from these wells, and it is probable that all will do the same in the course of time. The electric car line has lately been extended another mile west and the city has good prospects of obtaining a transcontinental line of railway in the near future. "Pocatelic has of late shown much energy.

"Pocatello has of late shown much energy. The reservation surrounding it is soon to be parceled out among the Indiaus and the residue, of which probably an area of 1,000,000 acres is tillable, will be thrown open to the public. The government is now surveying the reservation with this purpose in view. Moscow is situated in an excellent farm-ing region and is now and will continue to be ing region and is how and will continue to be the largest town in northern idado. It claims now a population of 4,500. The Northern Pacific has a line nearly graded from Moscow down to Lewiston and will probably lay the iron this summer. Lewiston subscribed $$9,000 to this enterprise or about $80 to each inhabitant. "Salmon City,my home, has a population of only 600 people, but is now, and has been ever since I went there in 1866, an excellent every since i went in refer in 1905, an excendent supply point for a gold mining region. This town I laid out myself, and naturally feel much attached to it. When I was first elected to the I daho legislature, which was prior to the advent of the Oregon Short Line railway, I had to travel, in order to get to the canital about 1 00 miles going first to the capital about 1,100 miles, going first eastward, then south to Corinne, Utah, then west on the Central Pacific, and then north to Boise. As it is now, I travel the same route to reach the capital with the exception that I go south only as far as Poca-tello. We have no direct route to the capital, and it will probably be some years befor one is built, owing to the high range of mountains intervening. The matters in which we are now mainly interested in our state are the silver and ir-rigation questions. We want favorable legislation by congress upon both. Several of our largest mines in the Cour d'Alene region have suspended operations, simply because of the low price of load and sliver. This great industry must not be allowed to lan-guish, for it not only proves detrimental to is and the mining states, but to the whole country as well.

"In regard to irrigation, we hope to have congress either appropriate enough money directly to construct large canals or to do-nate to the state lands from which we may derive, by sale, a fund sufficient for the purpose. There are immense areas in our state, which are now virtually a descri, that can be made to produce in abundance. The day will come when the whole route of the Orewill come when the whole route of the Ore-gon Short Line railway will be transformed from a sage brush waste to a land teeming with fruits and cerents. The task can and will be performed, even if the government gives no aid, but not, of course, for many years to come." Senator Shoup then recounted some of the Senator Shoup then recounted some of the very interesting episodes of his pioneer life in the west, how he first prospected around Gold Hill, Cole. in 1859, drifting thence over in the South Park and Blue river countries, how he emisted at the breaking out of the war and defended the border between the north and the south in New Mexico, how he participated in the historic Sand creek fight against the Indians, and later was elected to Colorado's first constitutional convention, then emigrating and going to Idaho in 1866.
