Nonpareils Forced to Lower Their Colors on Their Own Grounds.

CONVENTIONS TOO MUCH FOR THE CHAMPS

Neither Team Batted Well, but the South End Boys Made the Most Errors-Hot Battle Between Earnest Rivals for a Purse.

That was quite a game of ball out at Nonpareil park yesterday afternoon, wasn't it? You see it was the first collision between the champions of the south side and Tom Birmingham's newly organized Conventions, and both teams were dead beat upon winning the game, and of course made a wicked

The 'Parells pranced around upon the tender green grass in preliminary practice like a lot of heifers at play. They felt as if they had a snap and they romped about in flendish glee.

The northenders were quiet and subdued yet there was a hungry look in their eyes that boded somebody no good.

And that was David Shanahan No one dreamed that the 'Parells could lose after their recent magnificent work, that is nobody but Tom Birmingham, and he don't count. The general expectation was to see them knock out another victory big enough to work on the street.

But lightning, you know, doesn't keep on striking in the same place all summer. So the Nonpareils were beautifully, systematically and incontinently wholloped, and the Brummagem lads tonight, to a man, are filled with emotions and other truck clea up to the gunwales.

Spud Farish was selected to straighten out the intricacies of the turmoil, and as usual be did it well.

When the Wind Came Up. The southsiders were the first up, but they didn't stay long. Blue Jay Croft rapped the freshening breeze three hard smashes, and gave way to dapper little Bradford, who sent a hot one down to Kennedy, only to be thrown out to first. Mahoney lifted one out to Billy Van Arnam and the Conventions came in After two futile attempts Stoney got his club against one of Jellen's curves and the ball went whizzing out to Captain Dave, and Captain Dave made a mess of it. He fumbled and Stoney was safe.

Two successive passed balls ticketed him onto third, when he was glued. Van Arnam came within about four feet of busting the ball three times in succession, and so did Buck Adams. Then Shanahan fired Artie out at first and the danger was This summary treatment seemed to arouse Mr. Birmingham's ire, and just before that hot black boy, Lycurgus Miller, took his position at the slab, Tom pulled his kinky head down and whispered something in his ear.

From where I sat under the magnelias it A. R. sounded very much like "beer!" However, I may be mistaken, as unlikely as that is. Anyway, Lycurgus struck both Jellen and Shanahan out so quick they didn't know what hurt 'em, and McAuliffe was easily curled up at first. Then the Brummagem boys came back, but they didn't last a whit longer. Bowman sat down on a fly to Captain Dave, Bradford slammed Yapp out at first, and Kennedy, after being permitted to walk down, was extinguished trying to swipe second.

And the third and fourth went the same

It was get up and go sit down with a clock-like regularity that was rapidly be-coming monotonous, until the fifth inning. to this time not a hit had been made on either side.

Then Came the Thunder.

Then it was, however, that Champion Jack McAuliffe showed his hand, but not until Jellen and Shanahan had been igno-"There's the lad." said Captain Dave.

Mac strode proudly to the plate, "who ought to be an exhibition at the World's fair. to be an exhibition at the World's fair.
Make a hit? Well, I should murmur! He'll do more'n that he'll score. Why, that boy can do anything. He can run the bases in three seconds blindfolded. He can throw Smash! It was McAuliffe's tree, meeting one of the African's speediest. People looked up into the air, expecting to see it filled with yarn and rubber and fragments of pig skin, but there was nothing there but a few large gobs of Captain Van Arnam's breath that hung over the diamond like a The ball had gone cutting its way through the odorous clover way out in Buck Adams domain, and when the frisky Buck succeeded in getting his tapering fingers upon it, Mac was at third; but he didn't linger there He knew Buck couldn't throw over a quarter of a mile to save his life, so he just trotted on in home. Then there was tumultuous hilarity in the south end, and Tom Birmingham's face had about as much expression in it as a side of Governor Lacy closed the inning with

But there was trouble and a big storm coming and everybody was getting anxious. In their half of the sixth the northenders won the day.

There was some danger right at this critical point that Stoney would not reach first, vhen he sent an innecent little tap down to Brad, Brad juggled it and Harry landed safe. Van Arman got his base on balls, and then, after Buck had slashed several great gashes in the ethereal, Artic Creighton swatted out a two bagger and the game was his n. Harry and Billy, like jack rabbits, scam-

Manager Birmingham rolled his teeth and gnashed his eyes in wildest delirium just as if that hit wouldn't cost him at least an cight gallon keg.
Creighton, a moment later, made a dive

Creighton, a moment later, made a dive for home on Bowman's drive out toward Mahoney. He thought it was safe, but Jerry has a hand on him like a trowel and he scooped in the sphere, and when Artic slid lato the plate it was only to receive a smash in the vertebra with the ball in Gov-ernor Lacev's good right naw. ernor Lacey's good right paw.

This left Bowman on first, and on Yapp's single he ran down to second but was forced out at third by Kenneuy's grounder.

Jeliin now took his place at the plate with a look of murder in his fresh young face, but before Mr. Miller could fire the ball at him, the clouds which had gathered like flocks of evil birds above, opened their flood gates and the rain descended in sheets. Everybody ran for shelter and the game went to the Conventions as it then stood 2 up a game at the fair grounds yesterday, but eventually ten players were chosen by Mr Doyle to play for the Benedicks and another ten were selected by Mr. Cullingham as a Bachelor team. Neither side consisted en-tirely of single men, nor of married; in fact, if the Bachelors had all been bachelors, the two captains would have been found playing ogether. But though each eleven contained but ten men and the married men were

> CRICKET AT THE PAIR GROUNDS. Short Teams Put Up a Brief but Generally Interesting Game.

There was again some difficulty in getting many of them bachelors, for the time being, and several bachelors were called upon to enter the married state there was some pretty cricket, and although the winners had the game in their hands from soon after the start, it may fairly be said for the iosers that they had the worst of the luck.

It was turned 3 o'clock when Mr. C. S. Cullingham and Mr. R. W. Taylor took up their positions at the wickets for the Bachelors. Doyle took the ball and in his very first over dismissed Taylor for a cipher; and when New sent down his first ball in the second over and got Cullingham caught at second over and got Cullingnam caught at slip by Doyle, things began to look blue. Two of the best wickets were down for three runs, one of which was from a bye and another from a no ball. And the next ball all but got rid of Murray. It was a high ball, much like its predecessor, and glanced off the top of the bat almost into the wicketkeeper's hands; but he failed to hold it. Murray next hit a three, and Robb, who had come in first wicket down, followed it up with a five. Two overs, two wickets and eleven runs. A maiden over followed, and the game A manden over followed, and the game from this point lost much of its interest. In New's second over Murray attempted an almost impossible run and failed. A few more runs had been put together when Gavin was caught by Brown at mid-on, and when Robb was soon afterwards dismissed by one of Doyle's swiftest balls there was little run-making power left on the side and the innings closed for 28. Of these Robb had contributed one-fourth, made up of a five and a two.

New and Hart opened the innings of the Benedicks. In the third over Hart who had hit two two's was bowled by Robb, who in his next turn with the ball disposed of Wilson and Murray. Twelve runs for three wickets—all of which had fallen to Robb's bowling. Doyle then went to the wicket and while he and New were together the score was raised almost to the other side's total. Taylor, however, dismissed them both before the game was won, New being joined by Burwell for a few overs. Burwell and Byrne were together when the former made the final hit, the game being decided by the next ball from which two runs were scored for a bye-just as the rain which had been threatening for an hour commenced to fall in torrents.

VERY ONE SIDED.

Varsity Boys Everiastingly Smother the Y. M. C. A. Ball Team.

Messrs. Burns and Abbott, pitcher and the University of Nebraska aggregation at the ball park yesterday and were defeated by the somewhat humiliating score of 11 to Seven other young men clad in Young Men's Christian association uniforms pied conspicuous positions in the field, their presence was merely incidental and in no material way affected the result. The Omaha battery proved itself superior to that of their opponents, but the rest of the nine could be discounted by the Shamrock Juniors.

The Lincoln boys got away with four runs on one hit and a doubtful bunt in the first inning. Burns struck out Stroman, and Hopewell knocked an easy grounder to Ochiltree, which the latter considerately fumbled, and the 'Varsity boy took a base. Avery followed with a nice clean hit to right field, and Captain Barnes struck out unted a grounder to Gibson, who wild to Trail, and the batter was safe while two runs skated over the plate Pace bunted successfully, and a minute after both he and Holmes scored on Trail's wild throw. Burns saw he would have to do it himself, so he struck out the next batter and Omaha took a turn.

The Young Men's Christian Association boys scorod their only run, which was very much unearned. Burns was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and was sent around on three bases on balls following.

Neither side scored in the second inning, but in the next the Lincoln crowd look occasion to add seven tallies to their total. ing the last half of the inning the rain t to fall and saved the local team from a technical defeat. Burns struck out six of the University men in the three innings, his efforts were useless on account of his ragged support. Judge Shields umpired the game in a very satisfactory manner.

Shut Omaha Out. Lincoln, Neb., May 30.- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-In a hotly contested game of incresse at Lincoln park this afternoon, the Lincoln team achieved a signal victory over the Omaha twelve. Lincoln won three straight goals in 45, 10 and 15 minutes respectively, whereupon Omaha declined to avail herself of the remaining twenty minutes and gave up the game. A lively dispute occurred on an alleged foul and for a time it looked as if there would be transle time it looked as if there would be trouble. Fate of the Umpire. Iowa Ciry, Ia., May 30 .- Cornell college team from Mount Vernon, la., played the State university nine of this city here today. The score in the eight innings was 8 to 3 in the visitors' favor, and then the home team refused to play longer because the um-pire was a Cornell man. A crowd of town boys surrounded the umpire, followed him to his hotel, and would have mobbed him but for the intervention of older spectators and professors and students.

Bankers and Printers. HASTINGS, Neb., May 30 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE |- The printers and bankers of Hastings met on the diamond this afternoon at the first game of the sea-son. On account of rain the game was stopped, the score standing 11 to 8 in favor of the bankers. The bankers refused to play even innings, and in order to save trouble the umpire declined to give the game to either aide. game to either side.

HIS THIRD TRIAL PROVES A SUCCESS

Denver Has a Crowd in the Twenty-Five Mile Race-Lincoln Draws Twenty Starters in a Ten Mile Spurt-Other Sporting News.

CHICAGO, III., May 30.- [Special Telegram to THE BEE !- The winner of the Pullman race, M. Nelson of the Columbia club, is a drug clerk employed in a store at 736 West Division street. He is 19 years of age. He recently graduated in the junior course at the Chicago College of Pharmacy. It is three years ago since he first bestrode a wheel. Last season was his first attempt at safety work. He was entered and rode valiantly in last year's Pullman. On that occasion the handicapper was kind enough to give him him seven minutes. He finished in sixth place, having met with four smashups. He covered the course on that occasion in fifty-eight minutes. He was a strong favorite with the Columbian wheelmen, and they backed him liberally to win. This year his club mates again considered his chances favorable and were not at all surprised when he won.

Nelson is a native of Grand Island, Neb. He has done little speed work on the track, if one may apply the term to one who modestly confesses that he is not good for a mile in better time than 2:50. The wheel he rode weighed twenty-four and one-half pounds, having wooden rims. He looks a lusty youngster. He was feted in Pullman upor his victory.

There must be something in the drug business which gives a man grace to win a Pullman. The winner of the race in 1891, R. M. Barwise, was also a drug clerk. Since his win Barwise has lived in absolute retirement, and the racing world knows him not He was not over speedy, but Nelson has the right kind of stuff in him and it is not too much to expect that he will blossom out on much to expect that he will blossom out on the track as a tip-top rider.

The great annual Decoration day cycling event, known locally as the Pullman road race, is run from Mich-igan avenue and Van Buren street to the town of Pullman. It was con-tested today by some hundred bike riders, including many men whose fave is particular. including many men whose fame is national. The race is a handicap, the starters being penalized according to known performances with a view to giving everybody a fair chance to win the race. The day and weather were perfect and it was a merry spin. The winner of the race had six minutes handicap, and covered the distance in fifty-five and one-half minutes. He is the actual winner of the race, but the chief interest to cyclists centers in the time of the winner-that is the man who covered the distance in the shortest time, regardless of the handicap. To determine who this man is requires much figuring by the judges, who finally awarded the prizes as follows: First, M. Nesel of the Columbia Wheelmen's club time, 55:17. Second, M. Nelson, also winner of the race, of the Columbia wheelmen, 55:44. Third, Charles T. Kinsley of the Illi-

DENVER'S CRACK EVENT.

Great Throng of Riders Competes in the Twenty-five Mile Road Race.

DENVER, Colo., May 30.—Denver's reputation as a great "cycling" center was never more enhanced than it was this morning, when 165 crack riders started out from Sand creek to compete in the fifth annual handicap road race of the Denver Cyclists union, and over 4,000 spectators were there to cheer on the favorites and encourage the novices.

The distance was twenty-five miles, the course ending three miles north of Fort Lupton. The road, which is ordinarily an excellent one, was rather rough today because of recent rains. Besides this, the wind blew a catcher respectively of the Young Men's perfect gale in the face of the riders for the Christian Association have hall nine met entire distance, thus preventing any chances for record breaking. Wyoming, Utah and numerous points in Colorado entered their crack amateur riders, and they all showed great staying qualities

H. R. Renshaw of Denver was the first man over the tape. He had twelve minutes start of the scratch men, of whom there were three. H. M. Turk of the Hannal club Denver, was second, with a start of ten and a half minutes. W. S. Daniels of Laranne, Wyo., was third, with four minutes and forty-five seconds start. W. W. Hamilton of Pueblo, with one minute start, was fourth. He made the best time in the race, it being one hour, twenty-one minutes, twenty-five seconds. The second best time was made by O. E. Boles of Denver, a scratch man. It was one hour, twenty-three minutes, fifty-four seconds. Robert Gerwing of Pueblo and J. Collier scratch man.

of Denyer, the other two scratch men who vere handicapped fifteen minutes, came in thirty-second and fourteenth respectively The prizes amounted in all to several thousand dollars, the first one being a $750 piano, which was won by Renshaw. A half dozen bicycles and several valuable medals were also among the numerous prizes. A young burro or "Colorada canary" warded to the last man over the tape.

Lincoln's Great Road Race.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 30 .- | Special Tele gram to THE BEE.]-The cycling event of the year was the road race of the Capitol City Cycling club this afternoon, There were twenty-nine entries and twenty starters, as follows: R. R. Impey, A. S. Borgium, L. E. Holton, Harry Mulhall, Omaha; Jim and Tom Patterson, Plattsmouth; Ed E. Mockett, Walton, Small, Enlow. Barnett, Griffith, Hoagland Shader, Blake, Sullivan, Hadley, Bart-Francis and Robinson, ley, Lincolu. Two cracks from Hastings were entered, but failed to appear. Barnett of Lincoln with a five-minute start won first prize, followed by Hoagland, Sullivan, Bailey and Robinson, Jim Patterson and Francis,

The handicaps ran from scratch to seven inutes. The course was from Twenty-sec-nd and R streets to Havelock and return, a distance of ten miles. Sullivan of Lincoln won the time prize in 33:05; Mockett and Small collided, disabling the former. The event is being celebrated tonight with a "smoker." The race attracted a great crowd.

IT WAS MERCHANTS DAY AT THE COLISEUM

Many Surprised and All Enthused Over Home Patronage Something About Shirts and Chicoryeas Raised and Made in This State.

It was Merchants day at the exposition Washington, D. C., May 30.—The first day of the National Live Stock Exhibition and Blood Horse meeting at the Bennings race yesterday, and an important day it was. During the day the visiting merchants were busy in convention, but in the evening they came out 200 strong and made a most careful examination of the development of home in-Second race, six furlongs: Maid of Screen won, Capitain Hammer second, Ada Blue third. There was a fair representation of Omaha's business men, who had come out to help entertain the visitors, and the manufacturers who had exhibits were kept busy making explanations and pointing out the leading features.

To say that the visiting merchants were well pleased with the exposition would be putting it altogether too mildly. On every hand were heard exclamations of wonder and surprise at the advancement made by the manufacturers of Nebraska. The artis-tic arrangement of the exhibits and the great extent to which machinery had been introduced for the purpose of showing the ence of a large audience.

The pacing race was won by H. H. Martin with Traitor, William Snyder's Red Starsecond and G. D. Edwards' Columbus Tom third. Columbus Tom was close up in all the heats. Time: 1:22, 1:2034, 1:20. Such re marks as, "This is something to be proud of, "The best thing of the kind we ever saw," etc., were heard on all hands, "Long live the Nebraska manufacturers, and if we fail to patronize them the disgrace will be ours," exclaimed an enhusiastic merchant. Everyone appeared to be having a good time and it will doubtless be many long months before the subject of

Some of the manufacturers are preparing to see that the boys are well taken care of. An Ideal Exh bit.

"Nebraska may well be proud of this," re marked a western merchant as his eye wandered over the exhibit of M. E. Smith & Co. He might have added that Nebraska is not merely proud of the exhibit but of the firm having the enterprise to build up a great jobbing business and at the same time in manufacturing on so large a scale. The manufacturing branch of M. E. Smith & Co's, business has grown rapidly until today they have on their pay roll 225 people and the most perfect facilities for manufacturing of any factory in the country. Under the name of the "Ideal Brand" they turn out a full line of shirts, overalls, lined clothing, etc., which their traveling men carry into every western state. The same enterprise which has brought this house into the front rank among jobbers and manufacturers is manifest when there is any public undertaking on foot. Every one who has visited the exposition will bear witness to the truth of the above assertion. They have a complete shirt and overall factory in active operation at the exposition, with forty operators busily at work, showing the public the entire process of making the "Ideal Brand" of shirts, overalls, jackets, etc., that this firm is manufacturing so extensively for the western trade. They have forty of the latest improved Singer manufacturing machines in operation, as well as their near chines in operation, as well as their new power cutter. It is an interesting sight to see the foreman take a stack of cloth five or six inches thick, and with that machine cu out fifty or 100 garments at one time. there is the machine that cuts and works the button holes and another machine that sews on the buttons at a lively rate. The rapidity with which the garments are made is mar-velous. At their factory they turn out the "Ideal Brand" of goods out the "Ideal Brand" of goods at the rate of 100 dozen garments per day of nine hours work. Just think of making a shirt in twenty-four seconds. That is the way in which "Ideal Brand" shirts are made, and in spite of this rapidity M. E. Smith & Co. often find it difficult to turn out quantities sufficient to meet the require ments of the trade, and the popular demand for this brand of goods will soon compel the firm to greatly enlarge the capacity of their factory. The wide awake business men of the west who wish to see the country increase in wealth and population must bear in mind that there is only one way to secure the desired end and that is by developing the manufacturing indus-tries. They must also bear in mind that the only sure way to build up the manufacturing interests of a state is to create a market for goods manufactured, which is an easy thing to do if business men will patronize dustries, that is, give the goods made in the state the preference over all others. Chicory. Not coffee, but plain Nebraska chicory. Few people know just what chic-ory is. They hear of coffee being adulter-ated with chicory and are apt to conclude that it is come adecimally account of that it is some undesirable sort of a compound. They have a right to protest when they get chicory instead of coffee, because coffee costs 40 cents a pound and chicory can be got for about 10 cents. It is better than coffee or tea as a beverage and it has none of the deleterious effects of these articles. Visitors to the exposition are learning all about chic-ory. It is being raised in Nebraska and manufactured ready for the market by the German Chicory company of O'Neill.

This company has a $20,000 plant, with a capacity of 1,000 tons. At their booth they are giving a hot cup of chicory to all visitors, and its properties and advantages are fully explained by intelligent attendants. A government analysis shows that the product is not only pure, but that it is a medicinal beverage with tonic properties.
