NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Bold Attempt to Hold Up a Train Within the City Limits.

NERVE OF THE ENGINEER AND FIREMAN

They Answer the Bandits' Volley of Pistol Shots with a Stream of Boiling Water -Six Suspects Have Been Arrested

An attempt was made to hold up train No. on the Kansas City, St. Joe & Council Bluffs railway Friday night. The train left the local depot at 10:15 o'clock. As it afterward turned out, there were half a dozen or so passengers that the train crew knew nothing of, and they did not make their appearance until the train reached the Wabash crossing, a short distance south of the city. When the train stopped at the crossing several men leaped into view on the tender and commenced shooting at the engineer and fireman. Five shots were fired, but hone of them took effect. Before the last shot was fired the fireman had stezed a hose pipe connected with the hot water boiler and he forthwith sent a stream of boiling water in the direction of the attacking party that dampened their arder for human gore. They jumped headlong from the train, the engineer opened wide the throttle, and the train was soon out of reach of the robbers.

Caught Two Suspects. At Island Park, the first station south of Council Bluffs, a telegram was sent to the police station, and Marshal Templeton, his two deputies. James Anderson and Frank two deputies, James Anderson and Frank Fowler, and Officer Murphy started out for the south part of town to run down the of-fenders. When they reached the yards they divided, Anderson taking in the "Y" on the Wabash and Kansas City roads. There were twelve or fifteen cars standing on the "Y, and he proceeded to investigate their con tents. As he reached the second car he heard a sound from within. He had a gun in his hand which he calls by the name of "Black Maria." It was about a foot long, tents. and as he reached up over the top of the coal car it must have looked like a small cannon to the two men, who proved to have made the sound that had attracted the deputy's attention. He called out to them to hold up their hands, and when they saw what was staring them in the face they obeyed the in-junction with alacrity. He then made them clamber down, and put the handcuffs on. About this time Officer Murphy came along, and Anderson turned over his two captives

The party then went on further and in a short time ran across a party of four men, who were coiled up in a space about three feet square on top of a pile of lumber in a closed car. Several guns leveled in their direction caused the fellows to come off the perch, and the whole half dozen were hand-cuffed together and taken to the police station, where they gave their names as Dick Tucker, J. H. Allen, William G. Wat-son, Thomas O'Connell, L. F. Detwiler and C. B. Greenlee. Two of them answered the description of the men who had made a raid on the train, while nearly all had clothes on appearance of which strongly indicated that they had recently been treated to a shower

All Were Unarmed.

Not a gun was found in the outfit, whatever firearms they had about them having been made away with when the first pre-monition came to them that they were about to be run in. An officer went to the scene of the capture yesterday morning and made a close search through the high grass and weeds, but failed to find any shooting irons.

When the four were captured one of them, who wore a large white hat, by which his identification had been made easy, protested that he had not done any of the shooting, but admitted that he had been in the crowd when it was done. He claimed that the men who did the shooting had gone "off there," pointing in the direction of an open place to the southwest. The marshal and his men listened at the jail door after the gang had been turned loose inside and heard a few bits of conversation, which, even in the absence of any other testimony, would show that not only the right gang was in custody, but that the motive had been rol not malice, as was at first thought might be

"When I got on the train," said one, didn't know there was going to be any holding up done. Now I'm in it just as deep as any of you, and I was innocent." He then proceeded to lament his fate in words that were eagerly taken in my his audience at

Two More Arrested.

It was about 6 o'clock when the first six were deposited in the lock-up, but four hours latter two more were captured, whose names were given as William Kelley and Phii Stinger. A telegram was sent to St. Joseph yesterday by the officials of the railway company here, asking that the train crew be sent back here as soon as possible in order that they might identify, if possible, the supposed robbers. They will probably arrive this evening or tomorrow morning, when additional particulars of the affair may be obtained. Lon Kendall, yardmaster for the Milwau kee, identified five of the prisoners yester-day morning as having been loafing about the yards during the afternoon. Conductor Petrie of the Burlington freight which leaves the city about 9 p. m. had some trouble with a gang of men during the evening at almost identically the same spot, and it is thought from the description he gives that the two gangs are the same.

DON'T LIKE THEIR TREATMENT.

Council Bluffs Running Team Think They Have a Kick Coming. The Council Bluffs running team, the Veteran Firemen's association and the Drum corps, together with a few outsiders who went to Sioux City to attend the meeting of the state firemen's tournament, returned home yesterday morning. All in all, it was the sickest crowd that has come into town for some time. In the first place the running team, which it had been hoped would score first place, had failed to make better than second in any contest. This would not have been so bad, but when the contests were all over and the Bluffs team had won prizes amounting to $250, the Marshalltown team protested against the records being considered in making the final awards, on the ground that there was professional foot-racer in the team. The board of control sustained the protest, and Council Bluffs was ruled out, thus giving Marshalltown fourth place in several of the contests, and enough money in prizes to pay their expenses to the tournament.

The statement was freely made that Council Bluffs would never enter another tournament, nor send a delegation, although that statement is denied by members of the asso-ciation here who are a little less hasty than the rest. That there is dissatisfaction, how ever, extending beyond the boundaries o Council Bluffs cannot be gainsaid. With one or two exceptions every man appointed to any office for the ensuing year is a new man, all the old wheel-horses having been given the go-by. The wheel horses are naturally somewhat chagrines over this, and although they do not say much it can easily be imagined that their assistance will not be so freely given in future tournaments. Sloux City has also announced its intention of drawing out of the association on much the same grounds as Council Biuffs, one of the representatives of that place who was cutified to a price that place who was entitled to a prize, was a member of the Sioux City fire depart-ment, but was ruled out on the ground of being a professional foot-racer. Bokemper Found Guilty.

The case of the state against William Bokemper, charged with seduction by Anna Damitz, a girl who rives in Lewis township was completed and given to the jury yester day afternoon. After a short absence the jury returned with a verdict of guilty as charged. Bokemper's attorneys immedi-ately filed a motion for a new trial. Bokem-per has never denied doing anything that the prosecuting witness charged him with but several months ago he agreed to marry her and even went so far as to procure the required license. After he had done so the girl refused to marry him unless he would put up s bond of $3,000 that he would live with her at least three years after the core-mony was performed. This he refused to do, as he was afraid that she would make it so warm for him that he would have to leave, under which circumstances she would become the possessor of the $3,000. Bokemper is well connected, his mother being the owner of a large farm in Lewis

Carlton's Narrow Escape from a Lynching Party-A Young Woman Robbed Friends Who Sheltered Her-Police Court Doings - Magie City Gossip.

Louis Gotham, son of the old German who was murdered in Fremont, has moved from South Omaha to Iowa, taking with him his younger brothers and sisters. Henry Strathman accompanied the boy to Fremont, where the remains were buried. Louis says his stepmother told him that she was awful sorry that she had married Cariton. She did not know what made her do it, for she did not leve bim. She was innocent of the killing, she claims, and did not know the deed had been committed until she was called in to identify the corpse of her Stratham says that after Carlton killed the old man he carried the body from the sitting room into the kitchen and started to wipe up the blood but soon gave that job up

The packing houses in South Omaha have introduced a new feature and are now paying off their men in cash. The workmen will be glad if the new rule is kept up, as it will be a benefit all around. A great many of the workmen are foreigners who know little or nothing about banking business. When one of them presents his check at the bank he is paid. It would be impossible for the bankers to have all of them identified. In case one of them should lose his check it would not be difficult for the finder to

Only a few days ago a numor was set affoat that a certain packing company had gone to the wall, that one of their checks had been thrown out, and the rumor spread like wild fire. The fact was that the saloon keeper who had been in the habit of cashing checks for the workmen on pay day, was unable to get money at his bank, and when one of the workmen presented his pay check to him to be cashed he said he could not do it. The workmen took it for granted that the saloon man was doubtful about the check being good and the word was passed around to that effect. Had the workman been paid in cash that rumor would not have been started.

ney, the well known blacksmith, has caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Nellie Haueglewming. According to Miss Pinney's statement to Judge Fowler, Miss Nellie is a very ungrateful creature as well as dishonest. A few days ago she called at Mr. Pinnev's residence at Twenty-fourth and P streets, and claiming to be an old friend of the young lady's mother, who is dead, asked for food and shelter for a few days. The request was granted and the woman was well provided for until she could find a place of employ ment. Sometime during last night Nellie packed her clothes and disappeared, taking with her, so Miss Pinney claims, $3.50 that did not belong to her.

The police will endeavor to locate the fe male with the jawbreaker name, but it is quite likely that she has left South Omaha never to return. Will Accept Deposits.

The Cudahy Packing company has sent out the following letter to all of its employes, and so far as THE BEE reporter was able to learn last evening the proposition is looked upon favorably by the men:

SOUTH OMAHA, Neb., June 14, 1893.—Occa-sioned no doubt by the financial conditions accommodating only our employes we have decided to receive deposits in any amount, but not to exceed a total of $50,000, on which we will pay until further notice 5 per cent interest on amounts remaining in our hands thirty days or over. Interest will be credited semi-annually. Deposits will be received through the cashier.

Hugh Hansen, Christ Hughes, Ed Wells and William Mullen were fined $2.50 each in the police court for disorderly conduct. A dozen more persons were examined and discharged. Captain Austin rounded up the town last night and made twelve arrests. The most of them were idlers. Bill Harper, the colored man who was caught in the act of robbing the Yost jewelry store, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. When Harper was arraigned to be sentenced he said, "Excuse me, judge, I'll be back in a moment," and started for the door. He was stopped by an officer and took his medicine quietly.

Mr. Freeman's horse broke loose from where it was hitched in the alley back of his office last evening and, dashing up Twenty fourth street, created quite a stir for a shor The animal turned at L street and came back down the sidewalk to Glynn & Holmes' barn, where it was caught. The cart to which it was attached was wrecked.

When Otto Maurer's partender went to open up the place yesterday morning he found the door unlocked. The money drawer had been tapped. It contained about $8.
The back door was also unlocked so that the thief must have had a key or used nippers. The police are working on the case and it is quite likely that an arrest will be made.

Mr. Ticknor is certainly out of luck and considers that he has had about all the water that he cares about. During both the recent heavy rains, his basement was flooded and his household goods ruined. A few days ago he moved into the Lister block while his basement was being repaired and yesterday during the fire, what few goods he had saved from the last flood, were ruined by the water turned in by the firemen. He has no insurance.

The graders at work for Ed Phalen were paid off Friday night. Some of them claimed that they were to receive $25 a month but only received $20. A number of them drank freely and several rackets were reported to the police. Captain Austin went over in the vicinity of where the men are at work, west of the L street viaduct, and arrested Dennis Whalen and Pat Vaughn for disorderly conduct. When Whalen was placed under arrest he had a large brick bat in his sleeve and seemed to be spoiling for a fight. They were fined $3 each.

Star Chamber Session.

There was a meeting in the council chamber yesterday afternoon to which newspaper men were not invited. It was a conference of the council committees to agree upon some attorney to defend the city in the suit brought by Major Balcombe. Those present were, Wheeler, Hascall, Saunders, Steel, Parker and Back. It required just thirty minutes to agree upon Judge Wakeley as the man to look after the council's interest in the case, and Saunders and Wheeler were empowered to employ him.

The best hospital practice of this age has long since decided that "catarrh is a disease with severe, disarreable and dangerous local symptoms, as a rule involving the general constitution, and can in no case to cured except by a course of constitutional remedies, assisted by local treatment." No one remedy will apply. Any statement tast it will as as absurd as it is false, and could only be made by persons who are willing that thinking people should know them for quacks and charlatans if they can succeed in imposing upon the ignorant and credulous. There are people unserapulous enough to do this plenty of them—and they will follow it up with cheap and dangerous appliances and chemicals. The latest scient fis treatment of catarrh is paintess. Treatment?

Treatment?

Then write for the "symptom blank," which, Dra Coneland & Shepard send to those who desire to take the famous Copeland & Shepard treatment by mail. The blank is ingeniously devised, and you can find your symptoms in it just as you do in these cases. Returned to the institute, it enables Dra Copeland and Shepard to diagnose your case perfectly. Treatment is then prescribed, medicines expressed and condition required. Try the mail treatment if you cannot come to the office.

CURED BY MAIL—W. W. Davis, a respected and reliable merchant of Shenandoah, land writes: "I began your treatment over a month ago and already feel much better—h, fact like a rew man. I think I am nearly all right new, for I have none of the short breath, or tired, weak feel in: There is no clogging of the head and I feel first rate. A Notable Case Showing Permanent Re storation to Health,

Nearly one year ago Mrs. J. F. Hunt, 2544
Avenue G. Council Bluffs, wife of the welknown dairyman, was treated by Drs. Copeland and Shepard. The results have been permainent and Mrs. Hunt today testifies to the lasting and perfect benefits she realized a the hands of these physicians. Her's was formidable case and one that was a strontest of the merits of the treatment employed. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hunt invite searching in quiry by any sincere doubter into the fact given herewith. Mrs. Hunt says:

"The publicity attendin: a printed statement of my case is not entirely agreeable to me, still I feel it to be rather in the line of my duty to speak. When I appied to Drs. Copeland and shepard I feit that the worst would come unless I could find some one who thoroughly understood lung complaints and could give me local and constitut onal transment, I could searcely walk around the house or up the steps without help. My breath was short and my lungs weak and sore. I could not go into church or a crowded room without a smothering feeling. My lungs feit stopped up and it was hard to get air into them. A poor appetite, restless nights, constant hawking and spitting, with a he dache that was perfectly awful to bear, steadily consumed my flesh and brought me to a dangerous state, of nervous and physical exhaustion. A racking cough worried me night and day, and warned me of a slowly developing consumption. "The publicity attending a printed state-warned me of a slowly developing consumption.

This was my condition for three years, during which time I was treated by various doctors in Omaha and Council Bluffs, but with no benefit to speak of. I was warned that my lungs were very bul and that a slight cold even, would bring on quick consumption. In August, 1891, upon the advice of a physician I went to Colorado, hoping the mountain all would care me: but I came home with no Improvement. Almost ready to give up, I was led to test the special lung treatment of Drs Copeland and Shepard and found it a complete success. It has made me better and stronger than I have been for years. I believe it has perfectly cured me and will be of insting benefit. It has already stood the test of months. When other doctors and a change of cimate failed me bis. Copeland and Shepard restored me to perfect health. I appreciate it and am sending them all the patients I can.
